Title 3—

Executive Order 12714 of May 3, 1990

The President

Establishing an Emergency Board To Investigate Disputes Between Certain Railroads Represented by the National Carriers' Conference Committee of the National Railway Labor Conference and Their Employees Represented by Certain Labor Organizations

Disputes exist between certain railroads represented by the National Carriers' Conference Committee of the National Railway Labor Conference and their employees represented by certain labor organizations. The railroads and labor organizations involved in these disputes are designated on the attached lists, which are made a part of this order.

These disputes have not been adjusted under the provisions of the Railway Labor Act, as amended; 45 U.S.C. 151-188 ("the Act").

In the judgment of the National Mediation Board, the disputes threaten substantially to interrupt interstate commerce to a degree that would deprive various sections of the country of essential transportation service.

NOW, THEREFORE, by the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the United States, including section 10 of the Act, it is hereby ordered as follows:

Section 1. *Creation of Emergency Board. There is created, effective May 5, 1990, a board of three members to be appointed by the President to investigate the disputes. No member shall be pecuniarily or otherwise interested in any organization of railroad employees or any railroad carrier. The board shall perform its functions subject to the availability of funds.

Sec. 2. *Report. The board shall report to the President with respect to these disputes.

Sec. 3. *Maintaining Conditions. From the date of the creation of the board and for 30 days after the board has made its report with respect to these disputes to the President, no change, except by agreement of the parties, shall be made by the railroads or the employees in the conditions out of which the disputes arose.

Sec. 4. *Expiration. The board shall terminate upon the submission of the report referred to in sections 2 and 3 of this order.

May 3, 1990.

SUMMARY: This final rule revises the regulations in 7 CFR part 1478 for the 1989 Tree Assistance Program (TAP) which were published at 54 FR 47669 on November 16, 1989. The revised regulations, as provided for in Public Law 101-220, add coverage of 1989 tree losses due to an earthquake or related condition. Subject to limitations that apply to TAP payments for 1989 losses related to drought and freeze conditions, the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) will: (1) Reimburse approved eligible persons who produce annual crops from trees for commercial purposes for part of the eligible costs of planting seedlings to offset losses of trees planted in any year that were lost due to an earthquake or related condition in 1989; and, (2) reimburse approved eligible persons who have planted trees for harvest as trees for commercial purposes for part of the eligible costs of replanting seedlings planted for commercial purposes in 1988 or 1989 that were lost due to an earthquake or related condition in 1989.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 8, 1990.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: James R. McMullen, Director, Conservation and Environmental Protection Division, ASCS, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, DC 20013 (Tel. (202) 447-6221).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This notice has been reviewed under USDA procedures established in accordance with Executive Order 12291 and Departmental Regulation 1512-1 and has been classified as "not major." The provisions of this notice will not result in: (1) An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more, (2) a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local governments, or geographic regions, or (3) significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, the environment, or the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

It has been determined that the Regulatory Flexibility Act is not applicable to this rule since the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) is not required by 5 U.S.C. 553 or any other provision of law to publish a notice of proposed rulemaking with respect to the subject matter of this rule.

It has been determined by an environmental evaluation that this action will have no significant adverse impact on the quality of the human environment. Therefore, neither an environmental assessment nor an environmental impact statement is needed. Copies of the environmental evaluation are available upon written request. The titles and numbers of the Federal Assistance Program to which this rule applies are: Title: Tree Assistance Program; Number 10.TAP, as found in the catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

This program/activity is not subject to the provisions of Executive Order 12372 which requires intergovernmental consultation with State and local officials. See Notice related to 7 CFR part 3015, subpart V, published at 48 FR 29115 (June 24, 1983).

Subtitle B of title I of the Disaster Assistance Act of 1989 (Pub. L. 100-82) ("the 1989 Act") provided that, subject to certain limitations, the Secretary of Agriculture would make assistance available to eligible orchardists who planted trees for commercial purposes but lost such trees as a result of freeze, or related condition in 1989, as determined by the Secretary. To be an eligible orchardist, a person must produce annual crops from trees for commercial purposes and own 500 acres or less of such trees. Subtitle B of the 1989 Act provided that eligible orchardists could receive reimbursement of 65 percent of the eligible costs of replanting trees lost due to freeze or related condition in 1989 in excess of 45 percent mortality (adjusted for normal mortality). Public Law 101-220 added earthquakes and related conditions as conditions for which losses could be reimbursed under subtitle B.

Also, Public Law 101-220 added earthquake-related losses to the coverage of subtitle C of title I of the 1989 Act. That subtitle of the 1989 Act, as now amended by Public Law 101-220, provides that, subject to certain limitations, the Secretary of Agriculture shall provide assistance to eligible tree farmers that planted tree seedlings in 1988 or 1989 to produce trees to be harvested for commercial purposes but lost such seedlings as a result of drought, earthquake, or related condition in 1989, as determined by the Secretary. Under subtitle C, to be an "eligible tree farmer" the applicant must be a person who grows trees for harvest for commercial purposes and owns 1,000 acres or less of such trees. Under subtitle C, an eligible person may receive reimbursement of 65 percent of the cost of replanting seedlings to replace seedlings that were planted in 1988 or 1989 for commercial purposes but were lost due to drought, earthquake, or related condition in 1989 in excess of 45 percent mortality (adjusted for normal mortality).

Prior to 101-220, subtitle B applied only to freeze or related condition, and subtitle C applied only to drought or related condition. Regulations providing for 1989 TAP freeze and drought assistance, pursuant to the provisions of subtitles B and C, were published at 54 FR 47669, November 16, 1989. Pursuant to 101-220, the 1989 TAP regulations are revised in this rule to add earthquake coverage for both subtitle B and subtitle C type purposes under the same conditions as apply to freeze and drought assistance.

There are separate payment limitations of $25,000 per "person," as defined in the regulations, for subtitle B and subtitle C relief. Also, pursuant to section 151 of the 1989 Act, no person is eligible to receive TAP assistance if that person's "qualifying gross revenues" are in excess of $2 million annually as determined by the Secretary under rules and definitions provided for in the program regulations published on November 16, 1989.

Applications and information for TAP assistance of the kind provided for in this rule will be available from local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices. Among other limitations that will apply to earthquake losses, as with freeze or drought losses, are the following: (1) The application for assistance must be filed by June 30, 1990; (2) only certain costs related to the replacement of trees, as specified in § 1478.6 as published on November 16, 1989, are eligible for cost-share assistance (e.g., irrigation costs are not covered); (3) eligible costs do not include those costs incurred prior to filing an application for participation in the program unless specifically otherwise approved by the Deputy Administrator for State and County Operations (DASCO); (4) County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committees can not approve cost-shares in excess of certain amounts without the concurrence of the State ASC Committee or DASCO; and (5) losses and replacement costs must be documented.

Section 155 of the 1989 Act provides that with respect to the issuance of regulations for the implementation of subtitles B and C, such rules be issued as soon as practicable and without regard to the requirements for notice and public participation in rule making prescribed in section 553 of the United States Code, or in any directive of the Secretary. Accordingly, and to avoid unnecessary delay in the availability of relief, this rule is issued as a final rule without prior comment.

Brucellosis in Cattle; State and Area Classifications

AGENCY: Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, USDA.

ACTION: Affirmation of interim rule.

SUMMARY: We are affirming without change an interim rule that amended the brucellosis regulations concerning the interstate movement of cattle by changing the classification of Kentucky from Class B to Class A. We have determined that Kentucky now meets the standards for Class A status.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 7, 1990.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Dr. Jan Huber, Senior Staff Veterinarian, Cattle Diseases and Surveillance Staff, VS, APHIS, USDA, Room 731, Federal Building, 6505 Belcrest Road, Hyattsville, MD 20782, 301-436-5533.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

In an interim rule effective June 8, 1989, and published in the Federal Register on June 14, 1989 (54 FR 25227-25228, Docket Number 89-099), we amended the brucellosis regulations in 9 CFR part 78 governing the interstate movement of cattle by removing Kentucky from the list of Class B States in § 78.41(c) and adding it to the list of Class A States in § 78.41(b).

Comments on the interim rule were required to be received on or before August 14, 1989. We did not receive any comments. The facts presented in the interim rule still provide a basis for this rule.

Executive Order 12291 and Regulatory Flexibility Act

We are issuing this rule in conformance with Executive Order 12291, and we have determined that it is not a "major rule." Based on information compiled by the Department, we have determined that this rule will have an effect on the economy of less than $100 million; will not cause a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions; and will not cause a significant adverse effect on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

For this action, the Office of Management and Budget has waived its review process required by Executive Order 12291.

Cattle moved interstate are moved for slaughter, for use as breeding stock, or for feeding. Changing the status of Kentucky from Class B to Class A reduces certain testing, permit and branding requirements governing the interstate movement of cattle from Kentucky. However, cattle from certified brucellosis-free herds moving interstate are not affected by this change.

The principal group affected would be owners in Kentucky who seek to sell cattle from noncertified herds not known to be affected with brucellosis.

There are an estimated 60,000 herds in Kentucky, most of which are owned by small entities that potentially would be affected by this rule. During fiscal year 1988 Kentucky tested 286,184 eligible cattle at saleyards. We estimate that approximately 15 percent of this testing was done to qualify cattle for interstate movement for purposes other than slaughter. This testing costs approximately $3 per head. Since herd sizes vary, larger herds will accumulate more savings than smaller herds. Also, not all herd owners will choose to market their cattle in a way that accrues these cost savings. The overall effect of this rule on small entities should be to provide very small economic benefit.

Therefore, we believe that changing Kentucky's brucellosis status will not significantly affect market patterns, and will not have a significant economic impact on the small entities affected by this interim rule.

Under these circumstances, the Administrator of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service has determined that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

[Docket No. 083CE, Special Condition 23-ACE-54]

Special Conditions; Beech Models 200, A200, and B200 Series Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final special conditions.

SUMMARY: These special conditions are being issued to become part of the type certification basis for the Beech Models 200, A200, and B200 Series airplanes. These airplanes will have novel and unusual design features when compared to the state of technology envisaged in the airworthiness standards for normal, utility, acrobatic, and commuter category airplanes. These novel and unusual design features include the installation of electronic displays for which the applicable regulations do not contain adequate or appropriate airworthiness standards. These special conditions contain the additional safety standards which the Administrator considers necessary to establish a level of safety equivalent to that provided by the applicable airworthiness standards.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 8, 1990.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION*Background

On November 17, 1989, Elliott Flying Service, P.O. Box 100, Quad City Airport, Moline, IL 61265, made an application to the FAA for supplemental type certificate (STC) approval of the Models 200, A200, and B200 Series airplanes to include the installation of electronic displays. This airplane is a pressurized, twin-engine turboprop, of conventional metal material, with a maximum altitude of 35,000 feet. The installation may incorporate an electronic attitude director indicator (EADI) and an electronic horizontal situation indicator (EHSI) instead of the traditional mechanical or electromechanical displays providing similar information to the flight crew. The High Energy Radiated Electromagnetic Fields (HERF) requirements are not being included in these special conditions, since the HERF requirements are not applicable for STC application prior to December 5, 1989. However, FAA is planning a post certification reassessment to assure safe operation in the HERF environment of critical electrical and electronic systems that are installed after January 1, 1982.

Type Certification Basis

The type certification basis for the Beech Models 200, A200, and B200 Series airplanes are as follows: Part 23 of the FAR, effective February 1, 1965, including amendments 23-1 through 23-9; amendment 11; §§ 23.175, 23.143(a), 23.145(d), 23.153, 23.161(c)(3), and 23.173(a) as amended by amendment 23-14; § 23.951(c) and § 23.997(d) as amended by amendment 23-15 (A200CT, B200 Series only); § 23.1545(a) as amended by amendment 23-23; § 23.1325(e) as amended by amendment 23-20 (B200 Series only); § 23.1305(n) as amended by amendment 23-26; special conditions 23-47-CE-5, including amendments 1 and 2, dated January 12, 1979; part 25 of the FAR, §§ 25.929 and 25.1419 as amended by amendments 25-

34, § 25.831(d) as amended by amendment 25-41. SFAR 27, effective February 1, 1974, as amended by amendments 27-2 through 27-4; part 36, effective December 1, 1969, as amended by amendments 36-1 through amendment 36-10; exemptions, if any; and the special conditions adopted herein.

Discussion

Special conditions may be issued and amended, as necessary, as part of the type certification basis if the Administrator finds that the airworthiness standards designated in accordance with § 21.101 do not contain adequate or appropriate safety standards because of novel or unusual design features of an airplane or installation. Special conditions, as appropriate, are issued in accordance with § 11.49 after public notice, as required by §§ 11.28 and 11.29(b), effective October 14, 1980, and will become a part of the type certification basis, as provided by § 21.101(b)(2).

The proposed type design of the Beech Models 200, A200, and B200 Series airplanes contain a number of novel and unusual design features not envisaged by the applicable airworthiness standards. Special conditions are considered necessary because the applicable airworthiness standards do not contain adequate or appropriate safety standards for the novel or unusual design features of the Beech Models 200, A200, and B200 Series airplanes. These special conditions will also be applicable to all Beech Models 200, A200, and B200 Series airplanes, including the installation of similar EFIS, without further amendment of the special conditions.

Electronic Flight Instrument System (EFIS)

The proposed cathode-ray tube (CRT) electronic display units will contain primary attitude, heading, and navigation cockpit displays. The cockpit instrument panel configuration would feature two displays, an EADI and an EHSI on the pilot side of the instrument panels. All other displays, i.e., airspeed, altitude, vertical speed, etc., will be conventional electromechanical instruments. On some later installations, another EADI and EHSI may be installed on the copilot side.

Emissive color on a CRT display will inevitably appear different than reflective colors on conventional electromechanical displays. Different intensities and color temperatures of ambient illumination will also affect the perceived colors. Therefore, display legibility must be adequate for all cockpit lighting conditions, including direct sunlight.

Features of this system are novel and unusual relative to the applicable airworthiness standards. Current small airplane airworthiness standards are based on "single-fault" or "fail-safe" concepts and, when promulgated, the FAA did not envision use of complex, safety-critical systems in small airplanes. The current small airplane airworthiness standards envisioned instruments that were single function; i.e., a failure would cause loss of only one instrument function, although several instrument functions may have been housed in a common case.

Flight instruments for the pilot are required to be grouped in front of the pilot so deviation from looking forward along the airplane flight path is minimized when the pilot shifts from viewing the flight path to viewing the flight instruments.

For instrument flight, the airplane must be equipped with the minimum flight instruments listed in the operating rules. This minimum listing of instruments includes all instruments that have long been accepted as the minimum for continued safe flight. When the current airworthiness standards of part 23 were written, only mechanical or electromechanical instruments that functioned independently for each parameter were envisioned. The requirements intended that airspeed, altitude, and magnetic compass information remain available to the pilot after total failure of the airplane's electrical power. Standby instruments for mechanical or electromechanical flight instruments are not required by the small airplane airworthiness standards because the FAA has long accepted that the small airplane could be flown safely by using partial panel techniques following a single instrument failure. The basic airman certification program for an instrument flight rules (IFR) rating has long included requirements for the pilot to demonstrate the ability to fly the airplane safely following failure of any one of the previously cited instruments.

The potential for increased clarity in data display and the concentration of data displays in a single indicator increases the potential criticality of failures. It is anticipated that pilots using these new instrument systems will become increasingly dependent on the use of them because of the tasks they perform for the pilot. After a period of time, where these electronic indicators are located in the primary instrument panel locations, it is anticipated that pilots will find it more difficult to transition to back-up or secondary indicators when failure occurs, such as reverting to use of needle-ball and airspeed for airplane attitude control when the artificial horizon instrument system fails.

The electronic indicators are expected to have significantly different modes of failure, that is, they may rapidly change from perfect performance to total failure. In contrast, the mechanical and electromechanical indicators typically deteriorated in performance over a period of time such that they were replaced before a total failure that prevented them from providing useful information to the pilot.

The electronic instrument systems can readily provide digital indication of exact numbers, moving pointer on a scale, and various other formats and combinations of them all. The FAA is especially concerned that pilots be provided adequate sensory cues as to whether numbers displayed are increasing or decreasing and how fast they are changing. Also of concern is that the digital indication may not show the normal operating range cues to direction or rate of change or operational limits.

The special conditions will provide appropriate requirements for installation of electronic displays featuring design characteristics where a single malfunction or failure could affect more than one primary instrument, display, or system. The special conditions will also provide requirements to assure adequate reliability of system design functions that are determined to be essential for continued safe flight and landing of the airplane. For installations where electronic displays take the place of traditional instruments, the reliability must not be less than that of the traditional instruments. This concerns the collective reliability of the traditional instruments rather than the reliability of a single traditional instrument. For this reason, the special conditions include requirements needed for their certification.

Electronic indicator systems will have great potential for inhibiting information to maximize the effect of other information in various phases of flight. Attitude, airspeed, and altitude are information the FAA has concluded that must be displayed during all normal modes of operation and, therefore, may not be inhibited during normal modes of operation for electronic display indicators. Information that is considered essential to continued safe flight must remain available on indicators usable by the pilot after any single failure or combination of probable failures without need for immediate crew action. At a minimum, without considering specific characteristics of an airplane's design, attitude, airspeed, and altitude must remain available without any crew action after such a failure, whereas a failure that would remove other essential information from displays, without resulting in an immediate hazard, would be acceptable provided the essential information could be returned to a usable indicator in a safe elapsed time.

The special conditions will also require a detailed examination of each item of equipment/component of the electronic display system, and installation of the system, to determine if the airplane is dependent upon its function for continued safe flight and landing or if its failure would significantly reduce the capability of the airplane or the ability of the crew to cope with these adverse operating conditions. Each component of the installation identified by such an examination as being critical to the safe operation of the airplane would be required to meet the special conditions.

The existing § 23.1309, which was incorporated into part 23 by amendment 23-14, dated December 20, 1973, has been used as a means of evaluating systems for those airplanes that include § 23.1309 in their type certification basis. The "no-single-fault" or "fail-safe" concept of § 23.1309, along with experience based on service-proven designs and good engineering judgment, have been used to successfully evaluate most airplane systems and equipment. The type certification basis for this airplane does not include § 23.1309; however, the "single fault" concept does not provide an adequate means for determining and evaluating the effect of certain failure conditions that may exist in complex systems such as an EFIS installation. Therefore, the FAA considers it necessary to include the additional system analysis requirements in the certification basis. This will also allow the use of the "rational method" of safety analysis of the systems to assure a level of safety intended in the applicable requirements.

The development of rational methods for safety assessment of systems is based on the premise that an inverse relationship exists between the probability of a failure condition and its effect on the airplane. That is, the more serious the effect, the lower the probability must be that the related failure condition will occur. Rational methods for showing compliance for safety assessment of systems may be shown by the use of numerical analysis, but it is not mandatory. In many cases, adequate data is not available for preparing a stand-alone numerical analysis for showing compliance. Therefore, in small airplane certification, a rational analysis based on identification of failure modes and their consequences is frequently a more acceptable substantiation of compliance with the various required levels of system reliability than a numerical analysis alone.

If it is determined that the airplane includes systems that perform critical functions, it will be necessary to show that those systems meet more stringent requirements. These systems would be required to establish either that there will be no failures of that system or that a failure is extremely improbable. Critical functions means those functions whose failure would contribute to or cause a failure condition that would prevent the continued safe flight and landing of the airplane. These special conditions provide reliability requirements that are based on the criticality of the system's function and provide the airworthiness standards needed for certification of complex safety-critical systems being proposed for installation.

The special conditions also require that the occurrence of system(s) failures that would significantly reduce the airplane's capability or the ability of the crew to cope with adverse operating conditions, and thereby be potentially catastrophic, be improbable. It is recognized that any system(s) failure will reduce the airplane's or crew's capability by some degree, but that reduction may not be of the degree leading to potentially catastrophic results.

Conclusion

In review of the design features discussed for the installation in the Beech Models 200, A200, and B200 Series airplanes, the following special conditions are issued to provide a level of safety equivalent to that intended by the referenced airworthiness standards. This action is not a rule of general applicability and affects only the model/series of airplanes identified in these special conditions.

The substance of these special conditions has been subject to the notice and public comment procedure in several prior instances (51 FR 28525; August 8, 1986), (51 FR 36998; October 17, 1986), (51 FR 37711; October 24, 1986), and (53 FR 14782; April 26, 1988). Also, special conditions with similar requirements have been promulgated without public procedures because the FAA has determined that good cause existed for immediate adoption (55 FR 270; January 4, 1990) and (54 FR 51870; December 19, 1989). For this reason, and because a delay would significantly affect the applicant's installation of the system and the certification of the airplane, which is imminent, the FAA has determined that good cause exists for adopting these special conditions without further notice. Therefore, special conditions are being issued without substantive change for this airplane and made effective 30 days from the date of publication.

The authority citation for these special conditions is as follows:

Authority: Secs. 313(a), 601, and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958; as amended (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423); 49 U.S.C. 106(g) (Revised Pub. L. 97-449, January 12, 1983); 14 CFR 21.16 and 21.101; and 14 CFR 11.28 and 11.49.

Adoption of Special Conditions

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration, the following special conditions are issued as part of the type certification basis for the Beech Models 200, A200, and B200 Series airplanes that incorporate an electronic flight instrument system (EFIS).

Electronic Flight Instrument Displays

In addition to, and instead of, the applicable airworthiness standards of part 23 and requirements to the contrary, for instruments, systems, and installations whose design incorporates electronic displays that feature design characteristics where a single malfunction or failure could affect more than one primary instrument display or system, and/or system design functions that are determined to be essential for continued safe flight and landing of the airplane, the following special condition applies:

(a) Systems and associated components must be examined separately and in relation to other airplane systems to determine whether the airplane is dependent upon its function for continued safe flight and landing and whether its failure would significantly reduce the capability of the airplane or the ability of the crew to cope with adverse operating conditions. Each system and each component identified by this examination upon which the airplane is dependent for proper functioning to ensure continued safe flight and landing, or whose failure would significantly reduce the capability of the airplane or the ability of the crew to cope with adverse operating conditions, must be designed and examined to comply with the following requirements:

(1) It must be shown that there will be no single failure or probable combination of failures under any foreseeable operating condition that would prevent the continued safe flight and landing of the airplane, or it must be shown that such failures are extremely improbable.

(2) It must be shown that there will be no single failure or probable combination of failures under any foreseeable operating condition that would significantly reduce the capability of the airplane or the ability of the crew to cope with adverse operating conditions, or it must be shown that such failures are improbable.

(3) Warning information must be provided to alert the crew to unsafe system operating conditions and to enable them to take appropriate corrective action. Systems, controls, and associated monitoring and warning means must be designed to minimize initiation of crew action that would create additional hazards.

(4) Compliance with the requirements of this special condition may be shown by analysis and, where necessary, by appropriate ground, flight, or simulator tests. The analysis must consider:

(i) Modes of failure, including malfunction and damage from foreseeable sources;

(ii) The probability of multiple failures, and undetected faults;

(iii) The resulting effects on the airplane and occupants, considering the state of flight and operating conditions; and

(iv) The crew warning cues, corrective action required, and the capability of detecting faults.

(5) Numerical analysis may be used to support the engineering examination.

(b) Electronic display indicators, including those incorporating more than one function, may be installed instead of mechanical or electromechanical instruments if:

(1) The electronic display indicators:

(i) Are easily legible under all lighting conditions encountered in the cockpit, including direct sunlight;

(ii) In any normal mode of operation, do not inhibit the primary display of attitude; and

(iii) Incorporate sensory cues for the pilot that are equivalent to those in the instrument being replaced by the electronic display units.

(2) The electronic display indicators, including their systems and installations, must be designed so that one display of information essential to safety and successful completion of the flight will remain available to the pilot, without need for immediate action by any crewmember for continued safe operation, after any single failure or probable combination of failures that is not shown to comply with paragraph (a)(1) of this section.

Airworthiness Directives; Avions Marcel Dassault-Breguet Aviation (AMD-BA) Model Mystere Falcon 900 Series Airplanes

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new airworthiness directive (AD), applicable to all Avions Marcel Dassault-Breguet Aviation (AMD-BA) Model Mystere Falcon 900 series airplanes, which requires replacement of the thrust reverser synchronizing bell crank with a new bell crank. This amendment is prompted by fatigue testing of the thrust reverser synchronizing bell crank which revealed that these bell cranks have a limited service life and must be replaced prior to the accumulation of 3,000 landings. This condition, if not corrected, could lead to failure of the thrust reverser linkage.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 15, 1990.

ADDRESSES: The applicable service information may be obtained from Falcon Jet Corporation, Customer Support Department, Teterboro Airport, Teterboro, New Jersey 07608. This information may be examined at the FAA, Northwest Mountain Region, Transport Airplane Directorate, 17900 Pacific Highway South, Seattle, Washington, or the Standardization Branch, 9010 East Marginal Way South, Seattle, Washington.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Greg Holt, Standardization Branch, ANM-113; telephone (206) 431-1918. Mailing address: FAA, Northwest Mountain Region, 17900 Pacific Highway South, C-68966, Seattle, Washington 98168.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A proposal to amend part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations to include a new airworthiness directive, applicable to all Avions Marcel Dassault-Breguet Aviation (AMD-BA) Model Mystere Falcon 900 series airplanes, which requires replacement of the thrust reverser synchronizing bell crank with a new bell crank, was published in the Federal Register on February 8, 1990 (55 FR 4432).

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this amendment. Due consideration has been given to the single comment received.

The commenter questioned the need for the rule since the Falcon 900 Maintenance Manual Chapter 5-40-00, as currently written, requires the removal of the synchronizing bell crank, Part Number (P/N) F900HD3200240A2, prior to the accumulation of 3,000 landings. The FAA does not concur that the AD is unnecessary. The procedures contained in the manufacturer's maintenance manual are not mandatory for operators. For this reason, the final rule is issued to ensure that the bell crank will be removed and replaced prior to the accumulation of 3,000 landings.

The commenter further stated that if the FAA elects to issue the rule, then "Part Numbers F900HD3200240A1 and F900HD3200240A3 should be cited, in addition to P/N F900HD3200240A2 which is referenced in the proposed rule. The Falcon 900 Maintenance Manual will be updated to incorporate all three of the affected part numbers. The FAA partially concurs. The present maintenance manual identifies P/N F900HD3200240A2 as needing replacement prior to the accumulation of 3,000 landings. The AD mandates this replacement at this interval. Once the maintenance manual is revised, the FAA may consider additional rulemaking to address additional part numbers.

After careful review of the available data, including the comments noted above, the FAA has determined that air safety and the public interest require the adoption of the rule as proposed.

It is estimated that 40 airplanes of U.S. registry will be affected by this AD, that it will take approximately 3.5 manhours per airplane to accomplish the required actions, and that the average labor cost will be $40 per manhour. The cost for parts is estimated to be $12,500 per airplane. Based on these figures, the total cost impact of the AD on U.S. operators is estimated to be $505,600.

The regulations adopted herein will not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12812, it is determined that this final rule does not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify that this action (1) is not a "major rule" under Executive Order 12291; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) will not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. A final evaluation has been prepared for this action and is contained in the regulatory docket. A copy of it may be obtained from the Rules Docket.

Adoption of the Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, the Federal Aviation Administration amends 14 CFR part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations as follows:

PART 39—[AMENDED]

1. The authority citation for part 39 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421 and 1423; 49 U.S.C. 106(g) (Revised Pub. L. 97-449, January 12, 1983); and 14 CFR 11.89.

§ 39.13 [Amended]

2. Section 39.13 is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

Avions Marcel Dassault-Breguet Aviation (AMD-BA): Applies to all Model Mystere Falcon 900 series airplanes equipped with thrust reverser synchronizing bell crank, part number F900HD3200240A2, certificated in any category. Compliance is required as indicated, unless previously accomplished.

To prevent failure of the thrust reverser door actuating system, accomplish the following:

A. Prior to the accumulation of 3,000 landings on the thrust reverser synchronizing bell crank, part number F900HD3200240A2, or within the next 250 landings after the effective date of this AD, whichever occurs later, and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 3,000 landings, replace the bell crank, which is life limited to 3,000 landings, in accordance with the manufacturer's maintenance manual.

B. An alternate means of compliance or adjustment of the compliance time, which provides an acceptable level of safety, may be used when approved by the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113, FAA, Northwest Mountain Region.

Note: The request should be forwarded through an FAA Principal Maintenance Inspector (PMI), who will either concur or comment and then send it to the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113.

C. Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with FAR 21.197 and 21.199 to operate airplanes to a base in order to comply with the requirements of this AD.

All persons affected by this directive who have not already received the appropriate service documents from the manufacturer may obtain copies upon request to Falcon Jet Corporation, Customer Support Department, Teterboro Airport, Teterboro, New Jersey 07608. These documents may be examined at the FAA, Northwest Mountain Region, Transport Airplane Directorate, 17900 Pacific Highway South, Seattle, Washington, or the Standardization Branch, 9010 East Marginal Way South, Seattle, Washington.

This amendment becomes effective June 15, 1990.

Airworthiness Directives; British Aerospace Model BH.125-600A, HS.125-700A, and BAe 125-800A Series Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This action publishes in the Federal Register and makes effective as to all persons an amendment adopting Airworthiness Directive (AD) 90-08-07, which was previously made effective as to all known U.S. owners and operators of British Aerospace Model BH.125-600A, HS.125-700A, and BAe 125-800A series airplanes by individual letters. This AD requires draining water from and deactivating the aft lavatory water system. This action is prompted by a report of an aft lavatory water system leak which caused the aileron control system to jam due to the resulting ice formation on the aileron control cables and fairleads. This condition, if not corrected, could result in loss of aileron control.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 29, 1990, as to all persons except those persons to whom it was made immediately effective by priority letter AD 90-08-07, issued April 10, 1990, which contained this amendment.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Joe L. Condo, Special Programs Office, ASW-190; telephone (817) 624-5193. Mailing address: FAA, Southwest Region, Fort Worth, Texas 76193-0190.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On April 10, 1989, the FAA issued priority letter AD 90-08-07, applicable to British Aerospace Model BH.125-600A, HS.125-700A, and BAe 125-800A series airplanes, equipped with a cabin interior and aft lavatory water system installed in accordance with Supplemental Type Certificate (STC) SA2271SW, which requires draining water from and deactivating the lavatory water system. That action was prompted by a report of an aft lavatory water system leak which caused the aileron control system to jam due to the resulting ice formation on the aileron control cables and fairleads. This condition, if not corrected, could result in loss of aileron control.

This airplane model is manufactured in the United Kingdom and type certificated in the United States under the provisions of § 21.29 of the Federal Aviation Regulations and the applicable bilateral airworthiness agreement.

Since this condition is likely to exist or develop on other airplanes of the same type design, equipped with a cabin interior and aft lavatory water system installed in accordance with STC SA2271SW, registered in the United States, this AD requires draining water from and deactivating the aft lavatory water system.

Since it was found that immediate corrective action was required, notice and public procedure thereon were impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and good cause existed to make the AD effective immediately by individual letters issued on April 10, 1990, to all known U.S. owners and operators of British Aerospace Model BH.125-600A, HS.125-700A, and BAe 125-800A series airplanes, equipped with a cabin interior and aft lavatory water system installed in accordance with STC SA2271SW. These conditions still exist, and the AD is hereby published in the Federal Register as an amendment to § 39.13 of part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (FAR) to make it effective as to all persons.

The regulations adopted herein will not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12612, it is determined that this final rule does not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this regulation is an emergency regulation and that it is not considered to be major under Executive Order 12291. It is impracticable for the agency to follow the procedures of Order 12291 with respect to this rule since the rule must be issued immediately to correct an unsafe condition in aircraft. It has been further determined that this document involves an emergency regulation under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979). If it is determined that this emergency regulation otherwise would be significant under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures, a final regulatory evaluation will be prepared and placed in the regulatory docket (otherwise, an evaluation is not required). A copy of it, if filed, may be obtained from the Rules Docket.

1. The authority citation for part 39 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421 and 1423; 49 U.S.C. 106(g) [Revised Pub. L. 97-449, January 12, 1983]; and 14 CFR 11.89.

§ 39.13 [Amended]

2. Section 39.13 is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

British Aerospace: Applies to Model BH.125-600A, HS.125-700A, and BAe 125-800A series airplanes, equipped with a cabin interior and aft lavatory water system installed in accordance with STC SA2271SW, certificated in any category. Compliance is required prior to further flight, unless previously accomplished.

To prevent loss of aileron control, accomplish the following:

A. Drain all water from the aft lavatory water system reservoir, deactivate the water system pressure pump by pulling the circuit breaker located beneath the vanity in the aft lavatory, and install a tie wrap on the circuit breaker to prevent it from being reset.

B. 1. The aft lavatory water system pressure pump may be reactivated upon accomplishment of a modification which has been approved by the Manager, Special Programs Office, ASW-190, FAA, Southwest Region.

2. An alternate means of compliance or adjustment of the compliance time, which provides an acceptable level of safety, may be used when approved by the Manager, Special Programs Office, ASW-190, FAA, Southwest Region.

Note: The request should be forwarded through an FAA Principal Maintenance Inspector (PMI), who will either concur or comment and then send it to the Manager, Special Programs Office, ASW-190.

C. Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with FAR 21.197 and 21.199 to operate airplanes to a base in order to comply with the requirements of this AD.

This amendment becomes effective May 29, 1990, as to all persons, except those persons to whom it was made immediately effective by priority letter AD 90-08-07, issued April 10, 1990, which contained this amendment.

Airworthiness Directives; Israel Aircraft Industries (IAI) Model 1125 Westwind Astra Series Airplanes

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new airworthiness directive (AD), applicable to all Israel Aircraft Industries (IAI) Model 1125 Westwind Astra series airplanes which requires repetitive visual inspections to detect cracks in the outer lugs of the horizontal stabilizer hinge fittings, and replacement of any cracked fittings. This amendment is prompted by a damage tolerance analysis that revealed cracks may develop in the horizontal stabilizer hinge fitting lugs. This condition, if not corrected, could result in reduced structural integrity of the horizontal stabilizer assembly.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 15, 1990.

ADDRESSES: The applicable service information may be obtained from Astra Jet Corporation, Technical Publications, P.O. Box 10086, Wilmington, Delaware 19850. This information may be examined at the FAA, Northwest Mountain Region, Transport Airplane Directorate, 17900 Pacific Highway South, Seattle, Washington, or the Standardization Branch, 9010 East Marginal Way South, Seattle, Washington.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Robert Huhn, Standardization Branch, ANM-113; telephone (206) 431-1950. Mailing address: FAA, Northwest Mountain Region, 17900 Pacific Highway South, C-68966, Seattle, Washington 98168.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A proposal to amend part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations to include a new airworthiness directive, applicable to all Israel Aircraft Industries (IAI) Model 1125 Westwind Astra series airplanes, which requires repetitive visual inspections to detect cracks in the outer lugs of the horizontal stabilizer hinge fittings, and replacement of any cracked fittings, was published in the Federal Register on February 8, 1990 (55 FR 4431).

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this amendment. Due consideration has been given to the comments received.

The commenters questioned the need for the rule since all U.S. registered airplanes have been inspected, and the repetitive inspections have been incorporated in the manufacturer's maintenance manual with a temporary revision. One commenter further stated that since all operators have accomplished the initial inspection and the maintenance manual has been revised, to issue an AD is redundant. The FAA does not concur. Even though the FAA has received documentation which indicates that the initial inspection has been accomplished on all airplanes and the maintenance manual has been revised, the inclusion of the repetitive inspections in the manufacturer's maintenance manual does not automatically make the repetitive inspections mandatory for operators. Therefore, the FAA has determined that this AD is necessary to ensure the accomplishment of the repetitive inspections on all affected airplanes.

After careful review of the available data, including the comments noted above, the FAA has determined that air safety and the public interest require the adoption of the rule as proposed.

It is estimated that 28 airplanes of U.S. registry will be affected by this AD, that it will take approximately one-half manhour per airplane to accomplish the required actions, and that the average labor cost will be $40 per manhour. Based on these figures, the total cost impact of the AD on U.S. operators is estimated to be $560.

The regulations adopted herein will not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12612, it is determined that this final rule does not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify that this action (1) is not a "major rule" under Executive Order 12291; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) will not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. A final evaluation has been prepared for this action and is contained in the regulatory docket. A copy of it may be obtained from the Rules Docket.

2. Section 39.13 is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

Israel Aircraft Industries (IAI) Ltd.: Applies to all Model 1125 Westwind Astra series airplanes, certificated in any category. Compliance is required as indicated, unless previously accomplished.

To detect cracks in the outer lugs of the horizontal stabilizer hinge fitting, accomplish the following:

A. Within the next 50 hours time-in-service after the effective date of this AD, unless previously accomplished within the last 150 hours time-in-service, perform a visual inspection of the outer lugs of the horizontal stabilizer hinge fitting, in accordance with Westwind Astra Service Bulletin 1125-55-017, dated October 16, 1989.

B. If no cracks are found, repeat the inspection required by paragraph A., above, at intervals not to exceed 200 hours time-in-service.

C. If cracks are found, prior to further flight, replace the hinge fitting, in accordance with Westwind Astra Service Bulletin 1125-55-017. Repeat the inspection required by paragraph A., above, at intervals not to exceed 200 hours time-in-service.

D. An alternate means of compliance or adjustment of the compliance time, which provides an acceptable level of safety, may be used when approved by the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113, FAA, Northwest Mountain Region.

Note: The request should be forwarded through an FAA Principal Maintenance

E. Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with FAR 21.197 and 21.199 to operate airplanes to a base in order to comply with the requirements of this AD.

Airworthiness Directives; Certain Bell Helicopter Textron, Inc., (BHTI) Models UH-1A, 1B, 1E, 1F, 1H, 1L, and TH-1L Helicopters, Manufactured Under Military Contract

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new airworthiness directive (AD) which requires the removal and replacement of certain tail rotor gearbox duplex bearing sets used on Model UH-1A, UH-1B, UH-1E, UH-1F, UH-1H, UH-1L, and TH-1L helicopters manufactured by Bell Helicopter Textron, Inc., under military contract. The AD is needed to prevent failure of the duplex bearing which could result in loss of tail rotor control and subsequent loss of the helicopter.

DATES: Effective date: June 5, 1990.

Compliance: As indicated in the body of the AD.

ADDRESSES: The applicable AD-related material may be examined in the Regional Rules Docket, Office of the Assistant Chief Counsel, FAA, 4400 Blue Mound Road, room 158, Building 3B, Fort Worth, Texas.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Tyrone D. Millard, FAA, Rotorcraft

Certification Office, ASW-170, Fort Worth, Texas 76193-0170, telephone (817) 624-5177.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The FAA has determined that insufficient heat treatment during the manufacturing of certain tail rotor gearbox duplex bearing sets, part number (P/N) 204-040-424-001, could result in premature wear and subsequent failure of the duplex bearing. Failure of the duplex bearing could result in loss of tail rotor control and subsequent loss of the helicopter. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop on other helicopters of the same type design, an AD is being issued which requires the removal and replacement of these tail rotor gearbox duplex bearing sets used on Model UH-1A, UH-1B, UH-1E, UH-1F, UH-1H, UH-1L, and TH-1L helicopters manufactured by Bell Helicopter Textron, Inc., under military contract.

Since a situation exists that requires the immediate adoption of this regulation, it is found that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable, and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

The regulations adopted herein will not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12612, it is determined that this final rule does not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

The FAA has determined that this regulation is an emergency regulation and that it is not considered to be major under Executive Order 12291. It is impracticable for the agency to follow the procedures of Executive Order 12291 with respect to this rule since the rule must be issued immediately to correct an unsafe condition in aircraft. It has been further determined that this action involves an emergency regulation under DOT Regulatory Policies and procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979). If it is determined that this emergency regulation otherwise would be significant under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures, a final regulatory evaluation will be prepared and placed in the Regional Rules Docket (otherwise, an evaluation is not required). A copy of it, if filed, may be obtained from the Regional Rules Docket.

Adoption of the Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, the Federal Aviation Administration amends part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) as follows:

PART 39—[AMENDED]

1. The authority citation for part 39 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421 and 1423; 49 U.S.C. 106(g) (Revised Pub. L. 97-449, January 12, 1983); and 14 CFR 11.89.

§ 39.13 [Amended]

2. Section 39.13 is amended by adding the following new AD:

California Department of Forestry; Garlick Helicopters; Hawkins and Powers Aviation, Inc.; Hercules; International Helicopters, Inc.; Offshore Construction; Oregon Helicopters; Pilot Personnel International, Inc.; Smith Helicopters; Southern Aero Corporation; Southwest Florida Aviation; and West Coast Fabrications (these helicopters were manufactured by Bell Helicopter Textron, Inc., under military contract); Applies to Model UH-1A, UH-1B, UH-1E, UH-1F, UH-1H, UH-1L, and TH-1L helicopters, certificated in any category.

(Docket No. 89-ASW-52)

Compliance is required as indicated, unless already accomplished.

To prevent failure of the tail rotor duplex bearing which could result in loss of tail rotor control and subsequent loss of the helicopter, accomplish the following:

(a) Within the next 100 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, determine if the tail rotor gearbox duplex bearing sets, P/N 204-040-424-001, having the following serial numbers are installed in the tail rotor gearbox output quill, P/N 204-040-012-009:

Serial Numbers

MB183 thru	MB549
MB382	MB551

MB524	MB744
MB530	MB760 thru
MB531	MB769
MB544	MB927 thru
MB545	MB936

If a part with any of the listed serial numbers is installed, replace with a serviceable part before further flight.

(b) In accordance with FAR §§ 21.197 and 21.199, the helicopter may be flown to a base where the requirements of this AD may be accomplished.

(c) An alternate method of compliance or adjustment of the compliance time that provides an equivalent level of safety may be used when approved by the Manager, Rotorcraft Certification Office, ASW-170, Rotorcraft Directorate, FAA, Southwest Region, Fort Worth, Texas.

This amendment becomes effective June 5, 1990.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Office of the Attorney General

28 CFR Part 0

Judgments, Fines, Penalties, and Forfeitures

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This document assigns to the United States Attorneys responsibility for the enforcement of judgments, fines, penalties, and forfeitures imposed in their respective districts and assigns to the Executive Office for United States Attorneys (EOUSA) the responsibility for developing and implementing Department of Justice policy and procedures for the collection of criminal fines. The responsibility for collecting monetary penalties is now divided between the Department's litigating divisions and the United States Attorneys. However, the United States Attorneys are responsible for the collection of almost all judgments, fines, penalties, and forfeitures imposed in federal courts, including those imposed in cases prosecuted by the Department's litigating divisions. Because the United States Attorneys play the major role in actually collecting such monetary penalties, this amendment assigns to the United States Attorneys responsibility for the enforcement of judgments, fines, penalties, and forfeitures imposed in their respective districts as well as certain ministerial functions regarding the collection of unpaid criminal fines.

Historically, the Criminal Division established policy and procedures concerning the satisfaction, collection or recovery of criminal fines. However, because the United States Attorneys are responsible for the collection of almost all criminal fines imposed in federal court, this amendment assigns responsibility for establishing policy and procedures regarding the collection of criminal fines to EOUSA.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 8, 1990.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Laurence E. Fann, Acting Associate Director, Financial Litigation Staff, Executive Office for United States Attorneys, (202) 272-4017.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Judgments, fines (including special assessments, interest, restitution, and court costs), penalties, and forfeitures (including bail bond forfeitures) are imposed in connection with prosecutions conducted by the various litigating divisions of the Department and the United States Attorneys.

Section 0.171 of title 28 CFR provides that each Assistant Attorney General is responsible for the satisfaction, collection or recovery of judgments, fines, penalties, and forfeitures (including bail bond forfeitures) arising in connection with cases under his jurisdiction and also that each United States Attorney is responsible for carrying out those collection activities.

Collection activities are handled primarily in the United States Attorneys' offices for a number of reasons, and the Department desires to amend the regulatory language to conform to actual practice. For example, each United States Attorney's office contains a Financial Litigation Unit where employees with collection expertise and familiarity with local procedures perform collection tasks on a regular basis. Furthermore, state law applies to the collection of federal judgments. Thus, § 0.171(a) is amended to assign responsibility for the enforcement of judgments, fines, penalties, and forfeitures to the United States Attorneys unless the Assistant Attorney General for a litigating division specifically notifies the United States Attorney that the litigating division will assume such enforcement responsibilities.

Historically, the Criminal Division has been responsible for establishing policy and procedures concerning the collection of criminal fines as well as policy regarding the imposition of criminal fines. However, the United States Attorneys conduct the majority of criminal prosecutions handled by the Department and enforce the unpaid criminal fines arising out of those prosecutions. Furthermore, the Department's litigating divisions refer uncollected criminal fines to the United States Attorneys for collections.

The Department has acknowledged a growing inventory of unpaid fines in the United States Attorney's offices and has determined that a centralized fine collection system should be developed to address that situation. To that end, it has decided that the function of establishing policy and procedures pertaining to the collection of criminal fines should be assigned to EOUSA. (Responsibility for establishing policy concerning the imposition of criminal fines would remain in the Criminal Division.) Thus, § 0.22 of title 28 CFR is amended by adding a new paragraph (e) to reflect the additional functions assigned to EOUSA.

In addition, EOUSA is directed to establish Department policy and procedures, including regulations for issuance by the Attorney General, pertaining to the application of tax lien provisions to criminal fines. Section 3613 of title 18 U.S.C. provides that a fine is a lien in favor of the United States upon all property belonging to the person fined and that certain provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and of section 513 of the Act of October 17, 1940, Pub. L. 76-861, apply to a fine and to the lien imposed by 18 U.S.C. 3613 as if the liability of the person fined were for an internal revenue tax assessment, except to the extent that the application of such statutes is modified to account for differences between the nature of the liability to pay a tax and the liability to pay a fine.

New § 0.171(c) assigns to the Director of EOUSA the responsibility for establishing policy and procedures, including the preparation of regulations pertaining to the application of tax lien provisions to criminal fines, to facilitate the collection of criminal fines.

In order to promote the efficient and effective collection of criminal fines, § 0.171 is amended by adding new paragraphs (d), (e), (f) and (g) which delegate to the United States Attorneys ministerial functions assigned to the Attorney General by (1) 18 U.S.C. 3612 regarding the collection of unpaid fines, including the waiver of interest and penalties where collection is unlikely; (2) 18 U.S.C. 3663(f)(4) and 3579(f)(4) (repealed with respect to offenses committed on or after November 1, 1987, but applicable to offenses committed prior to that date) regarding the receiving of restitution from a convicted defendant for transfer to the victim; (3) 18 U.S.C. 3565 (repealed with respect to offenses committed on or after November 1, 1987, but applicable to offenses committed after December 31, 1984, and prior to November 1, 1987) regarding the collection and payment of fines; and (4) 18 U.S.C. 3569 (repealed with respect to offenses committed on or after November 1, 1987, but applicable to offenses committed prior to that date) regarding the discharge from prison of an indigent prisoner with a committed fine.

This rule relates to internal agency management. Therefore, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553, notice of proposed rule making and opportunity for comments are not required, and this rule may be made effective less than 30 days after publication in the Federal Register. This regulation is not a major rule within the meaning of Executive Order 12291. Therefore, a regulatory impact analysis has not been prepared. Finally, this regulation does not have an impact on small entities and, therefore, is not subject to the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

40 CFR Part 52

[FRL-3763-9]

Approval and Promulgation of Implementation Plans; Michigan

AGENCY: United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA).

ACTION: Final rulemaking.

SUMMARY: USEPA is disapproving a revision to the Michigan State Implementation Plan (SIP) for the Ford Motor Company's Mt. Clemens vinyl plant located in Macomb County, Michigan. USEPA is disapproving the revision because it would relax the SIP for a source located in an area which lacks a federally approved 1982 Ozone SIP.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This final rulemaking becomes effective on June 7, 1990.

ADDRESSES: Copies of this revision to the Michigan SIP are available for inspection at the following address: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Air and Radiation Branch (5AR-26), 230 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois 60604.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Anne E. Tenner, (312) 353-3849.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Ford Motor Company's Mt. Clemens vinyl plant SIP revision request is in the form of a Stipulation of Entry of Consent Order and Final Order SIP No. 1-1985 (submitted on March 6, 1985) and supplement (submitted on April 29, 1986). The submittals requested a relaxation of volatile organic compound (VOC) emission limitations for the vinyl coating operations at the facility.

On July 20, 1988 (53 FR 27363), USEPA proposed to disapprove the Mt. Clemens SIP revision and supplemental requests because the source is located in an area which lacks a federally approved 1982 Ozone SIP, and the State of Michigan had not submitted all the required elements to the Ozone SIP.

Only Ford Motor Company submitted comments on the proposal. A summary of Ford's comments and USEPA's responses are provided below:

1. Comment: USEPA failed to act on this SIP revision and supplement within the 4 month period prescribed by section 110 of the Clean Air Act. This principle has been verified in several court decisions resulting in dismissal of enforcement actions including: American Cyanamid Co. v. EPA, 25 ERC 1585 (5th Cir. 1987); United States v. Alcan Foil Products, et al. (W.D. Ky., 1988); United States v. GM Corp., 27 ERC 13657 (1988). As a result of an enforcement action taken by USEPA and subsequent litigation, Ford closed down all vinyl coating lines in question, on or before July 25, 1988. At this juncture, USEPA's proposed disapproval appears completely meaningless.

Response: USEPA notes that, although several courts have now held that a 4 month requirement is applicable to revisions to a SIP, the issue remains unsettled. Furthermore, it is irrelevant to the question of whether USEPA should continue to process Michigan's SIP revision. USEPA is obligated to process a proposed SIP revision unless it has been formally withdrawn by the State, and Michigan has not withdrawn the Ford revision. USEPA must therefore take final action on the Ford Mt. Clemens SIP revision.

2. Comment: Nonetheless, if USEPA feels compelled to take action, Ford believes the SIP revision and supplement should be approved without reference to the remaining SIP package. Ford demonstrated a reduction in VOC emissions from approximately 3,800 tons per year (tpy) to 440 in the proposed SIP revision as a result of a combination of actions including the permanent shutdown of uncontrolled coating lines, process modifications and controlling coating line Nos. 7, 8, and 11.

Ford has demonstrated that the VOC emission limit for vinyl coating operations contained in the Michigan SIP is technically unachievable for its facility. These limits were based on USEPA's Control Technology Guidelines Document (May 11, 1977) which contained limited test data and did not include testing at a vinyl coating facility that produced vinyl coating products exclusively for automobile passenger vehicles (as does the Ford plant). Ford's product quality standards preclude reformulation to aqueous or high-solids based coatings.

Ford installed the Airco inert gas/solvent recovery system (Airco System) on coating line Nos. 7 and 8 in 1982. Subsequent testing showed that the system failed to achieve anticipated VOC control levels because of capture efficiency and solvent carry-out in the vinyl sheet leaving the oven.

Response: Michigan's proposed revision for Ford Mt. Clemens consists of less stringent emission limitations for lines 7 and 8 than are contained in its SIP and, therefore, constitutes a relaxation. Under USEPA's policy, as indicated in a July 29, 1983, memorandum from Sheldon E. Meyers, former Director of the Office of Air Quality Planning and Standards, USEPA cannot approve a SIP revision allowing relaxed emission standards in a nonattainment area, unless the State demonstrates that the SIP as a whole, as revised, will result in attainment by the applicable date. This requirement has not been met here. Macomb County, Michigan, is an ozone nonattainment area and, as such, must be subject to an USEPA approved SIP demonstrating attainment as expeditiously as practicable, but no later than the end of 1987.

Conclusion:

USEPA is today disapproving the Ford Mt. Clemens SIP revision because it would constitute a SIP relaxation in an area that lacks an approved 1982 ozone SIP. It should be noted that USEPA notified the Governor of Michigan, in May 1988, that its ozone SIP for the Detroit area is substantially inadequate to attain and maintain the National Ambient Air Quality Standard for ozone and that Michigan must revise the plan.

Nothing in this action should be construed as permitting or allowing or establishing a precedent for any future request to revise any SIP. Each request for revision to the SIP shall be considered separately in light of specific technical, economic, and environmental factors and in relation to relevant statutory and regulatory requirements.

This action has been classified as a Table Three action by the Regional Administrator under the procedures published in the Federal Register on January 19, 1989 (54 FR 2214-2225). On January 6, 1989, the Office of Management and Budget waived Table Two and Three SIP revisions (54 FR 222) from the requirements of section 3 of Executive Order 12291 for a period of 2 years.

Under section 307(b)(1) of the Act, petitions for judicial review of this action must be filed in the United States Court of Appeals for the appropriate circuit by July 9, 1990. This action may not be challenged later in proceedings to enforce its requirements. (See 307(b)(2).)

Approval and Promulgation of Implementation Plans; Tennessee: Revisions to the Chattanooga-Hamilton County Portion of the SIP

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: On July 20, 1989, the State of Tennessee submitted revisions to the Chattanooga-Hamilton County portion of the State Implementation Plan (SIP).

The revisions included regulations for the City of Chattanooga, Hamilton County and the municipalities of: Collegedale, East Ridge, Lakesite, Lookout Mountain, Red Bank, Ridgeside, Signal Mountain, Soddy-Daisy and Walden. Regulations for Hamilton County, Chattanooga and the 9 municipalities were originally approved by EPA in 1972 as an appendix to the SIP. Since that time the regulations have been revised several times and today EPA is approving the regulations that are equivalent to or not less stringent than the federally approved State regulations, disapproving the regulations that are not approvable, and taking no action on the remaining regulations.

DATES: This action will be effective on July 9, 1990. Unless notice is received by June 7, 1990 that someone wishes to submit adverse or critical comments. If the effective date is delayed, timely notice will be published in the Federal Register.

Branch, EPA Region IV, at the above

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On May 31, 1972 (37 FR 10842 at 10894), EPA approved the State Implementation Plan (SIP) for Tennessee, which recognized the Chattanooga-Hamilton County Air Pollution Control Bureau (CHCAPCB) as the local agency and included a control strategy demonstration based on the CHCAPCB activity. Since that time, the CHCAPCB has revised its regulations to reflect the changes that have occurred at the national and state level.

The new regulations were submitted to EPA by the State of Tennessee as a SIP revision (Board Order 05-89) on July 20, 1989. EPA determined that the previous control strategy demonstrations were adequate in protecting the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS). EPA, then decided to approve the Chattanooga-Hamilton County and the 9 municipalities regulations as a transfer of enforcement authority from the state to the local. The following conditions and conclusions were used to arrive at this decision:

1. The local regulations must be equivalent to the corresponding federally approved State regulations.
2. The local regulations cannot be treated as a separable from the SIP, which the State submits and implements, but must be considered part of it.

3. Tennessee state law requires that the local regulations be equivalent to or not less stringent than the corresponding state regulations; therefore, Tennessee must certify to EPA that each regulation has been reviewed by the State and found to meet this requirement.

4. Tennessee must retain overall authority and responsibility for developing and implementing, including enforcing, the SIP.

Chattanooga, Hamilton County, and the 9 municipalities in Hamilton County have the same regulations for air pollution control except for codification. For convenience, in this notice all eleven sets of regulations will be referred to as the Hamilton County regulations and the Hamilton County codification will be used. In 1972, the following sections were approved:

- Section 1..... Declaration of policy and purpose: title.
- Section 2..... Air Pollution Control Board; Bureau of Air Pollution Control; persons required to comply with regulation.
- Section 3..... Powers and duties of the Board: Delegation.
- Section 4..... Enforcement of regulation: procedures for adjudicatory hearings.
- Section 5..... Variances.
- Section 6..... Emergencies.
- Section 7..... Hearings and judicial review.
- Section 8..... Confidentiality of certain records.
- Section 9..... Rules, Regulations, Criteria and Limitations.
  - Rule 1—Title.
  - Rule 2—Regulation of Nitrogen Oxides.
  - Rule 3—Visible Emission Regulations.
  - Rule 4—Regulation of the Importation, Sale, Transportation Use of consumption of Certain Fuels.
  - Rule 5—Prohibition of Hand-Fired Fuel Burning Equipment.

- Rule 6—Prohibition of Open Burning.
- Rule 7—Incinerator Regulation.
- Rule 8—Fuel Burning Equipment Regulations.
- Rule 9—Regulation of Visible Emissions from Internal Combustion Engines.
- Rule 10—Process Emissions Regulations.
- Rule 11—Regulation of Transporting and Material Handling in Open Air.
- Rule 12—Regulation of Odors in Ambient Air.
- Rule 13—Regulation of Sulfur Oxides.
- Rule 14—Nuisances.
- Rule 15—Asbestos.
- Rule 16—Beryllium.

- Section 10..... Installation permit, temporary operating permit, certificate of operation.
- Section 11..... Charges for technical reports.
- Section 12..... Records.
- Section 13..... Entry and Search Warrants.
- Section 14..... General Requirements.
- Section 15..... Purpose.
- Section 16..... Definitions.
- Section 17..... Invalidation of Dual Standards.
- Section 18..... Right to File Abatement Suits.
- Section 19..... Penalties.
- Section 20..... Limitation.
- Section 21..... Severability.

Since 1972, several sections have been added and/or revised. Sections 1, 2, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9 (Rules 1, 2, 9, 12, 14), 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, and 16 are essentially the same as when they were originally approved. Section 9, Rules 21 and 25.4 were approved in 1983. Rule 26 of section 9 is only contained in the Chattanooga regulations. These Reasonably Available Control Technology regulations (RACT) were approved as part of the redesignation from nonattainment to attainment of the primary total suspended particulate (TSP) standard in 1984. Rules 15 and 16 have been changed and are now New Source Performance Standards and National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants. These rules are not part of the SIP and no action will be taken on them. Otherwise, the aforementioned Section and rules are reapprovable.

The revisions to sections 3, 5, 10-22, and 23 are equivalent to or more stringent than the federally approved state regulations and are approvable.

Section 9, Rules 3, 4-8, 10, 11, 13, 17, 18 (except 18.2(q)) and 25 (except 25.21) are approvable because they are equivalent to the federally approved State regulations. Section 9, Rule 18.2(q), the innovative control technology provision, paragraph (2), is disapproved because it is equivalent to the disapproved State regulation 1200-3-9-.01 (4)(o)(2). The State regulation was disapproved because it required consultation with the Governor(s) of affected states when an innovative control technology waiver is granted instead of requiring the Governor(s) consent as required by EPA. Section 9, Rule 25.21 is disapproved because it is less stringent than the federally approved State regulation 1200-3-18-.21.

Final Action: Since the Hamilton County, the City of Chattanooga and the nine other Hamilton County municipalities' regulations (Board Order 05-89) are consistent with EPA policy and requirements, they are hereby approved except for Hamilton County, Section 9, Rules 18.2(q)(2) and 25.21; Chattanooga Section 4-41, Rule 18.2(o)(2) and 25.21; Collegedale Section 8-541, Rules 18.2(o)(2) and 25.21; East Ridge Section 8-741, Rules 18.2(o)(2) and 25.21; Signal Mountain Section 41, Rules 18.2(o)(2) and 25.21; Ridgeside Section 41, Rules 18.2(o)(2) and 25.21; Red Bank Section 8-341, Rules 18.2(o)(2) and 25.21; Lookout Mountain Section 41, Rules 18.2(o)(2) and 25.21; Lakesite Section 41, Rules 18.2(o)(2) and 25.21; and Soddy Daisy Section 8-141, Rules 18.2(o)(2) and 25.21. No action will be taken on Hamilton County Section 9, Rules 15 and 16; Chattanooga Section 4-41, Rules 15 and 16; Collegedale Section 8-541, Rules 15 and 16; Ridgeside Section 41, Rules 15 and 16; Lookout Mountain Section 41, Rules 15 and 16; Lakesite Section 41, Rules 15 and 16; Walden Section 41, Rules 15 and 16; and Soddy-Daisy Section 8-141, Rules 15 and 16 because Rules 15 and 16 are not SIP regulations.

For further information on EPA's analysis, the reader may consult a Technical Support Document which contains a detailed review of the materials submitted. This is available at the EPA address given above.

The public should be advised that this action will be effective July 9, 1990 publication in the Federal Register. However, if notice is received by June 7, 1990 that someone wishes to submit adverse or critical comments, this action will be withdrawn and two subsequent notices will be published before the effective date. One notice will withdraw the final action and another will begin a new rulemaking by announcing a proposal of the action and establishing a comment period.

Under section 307(b)(1) of the Act, petitions for judicial review of this action must be filed in the United States Court of Appeals for the appropriate circuit by July 9, 1990. This action may not be challenged in later proceedings to enforce its requirements. (See 307(b)(2).)

Regulatory Process

Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 605(b)), EPA must assess the impact of proposed rules on small entities. These rules are equivalent to the federally approved State regulations and maintain the status quo. Sources have not been adversely affected by the State regulations; therefore the conclusion can be drawn that small sources in Hamilton County will not be adversely affected by this decision.

This action has been classified as a Table 3 action by the Regional Administrator under the procedures published in the Federal Register on January 6, 1989. The Office of Management and Budget waived Table 2 and 3 SIP revisions (54 FR 2222) from the requirements of section 3 of Executive Order 12291 for a period of two years.

Nothing in this section should be construed as permitting or allowing or establishing a precedent for any future request for revision to any state implementation plan. Each request for revision to the state implementation plan shall be considered separately in light of specific technical, economic, and environmental factors and in relation to relevant statutory and regulatory requirements.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs

Rules of Practice for Administrative Proceedings to Enforce Equal Opportunity Under Executive Order 11246

AGENCY: Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, Labor.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This final rule amends the Office of Federal Contracts Compliance Programs' (OFCCP) hearing rules at 41 CFR part 60-30 to require application of the Department of Labor Office of Administrative Law Judges' (ALJ) Rules of Practice and Procedure, at 29 CFR part 18, in all administrative enforcement proceedings against Government contractors and subcontractors. The effect of this rule is to ensure that the ALJ's uniform rules of evidence, designed to provide a stable and coherent framework for resolving evidentiary issues, will be applied in all such proceedings.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 9, 1990.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Annie A. Blackwell, Director, Division of Policy, Planning, and Review, Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue NW., room C3325, Washington, DC 20210, Telephone (202) 523-9426 (VOICE) or 523-9430 (TTY).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On April 9, 1990, OFCCP published a final rule to repeal the evidentiary regulation at 41 CFR 60-30.18, which proscribed the application of formal rules of evidence in OFCCP administrative enforcement proceedings. The purpose of the repeal was to ensure that the new ALJ rules of evidence, designed to provide a stable and coherent framework for resolving evidentiary issues, would be applied in all such proceedings, pending and commencing on and after the effective date of the ALJ final rule. However, in order to accommodate concerns regarding the admissibility of administrative investigatory files in other Department of Labor proceedings, the ALJ rules are to be implemented on a staggered basis (see 55 FR 13219 (April 9, 1990)) based on whether the agency investigation was commenced prior to or after the effective date of the rule. Such result is contrary to the result OFCCP contemplated in promulgating the repeal. As explained in the repeal rulemaking, the objective in publishing the repeal in tandem with the ALJ rules was to ensure the immediate applicability of the ALJ uniform rules of evidence to OFCCP administrative proceedings. See 55 FR 13137, SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION.

Accordingly, in order to ensure that the new ALJ Rules of Evidence will be applied to all OFCCP administrative proceedings, the OFCCP is today publishing a new final rule at 41 CFR 60-30.18 that expressly states that the ALJ Rules of Evidence at 29 CFR part 18, subpart B shall be applied. The new regulation supersedes, as of its effective date, the repeal of this provision published at 55 FR 13137, and is applicable to all administrative hearings pending or commencing on the effective date that are conducted under Executive Order 11246, as amended (Executive Order) and, pursuant to 41 CFR 60-250.29(b) and 60-741.29(b), to administrative hearings conducted, respectively, under the Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974, 38 U.S.C. 2012, as amended, and section 503 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended (section 503).

Waiver of Proposed Rulemaking

Because this rule is procedural in nature, it is exempt from the notice and comment requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. 551 et seq. (see, 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(A)). In order to avoid the necessity of having to stay any pending proceedings, we find good cause to dispense with the 30-day delayed effective date requirement in 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3). Accordingly, this rule will take effect simultaneously with the repeal of the 60-30.18 provision effective on the same day.

Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Secretary has determined that this rule is not a major rule within the meaning of Executive Order 12291 (46 FR 13193, February 19, 1981) and, therefore, a regulatory impact analysis is not required. The Department further certifies that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on small entities. Accordingly, a regulatory flexibility analysis pursuant to the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) is not required for this rulemaking.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This rule does not contain information collection requirements and therefore is not subject to approval by the Office of Management and Budget pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Lists of Subjects in 41 CFR Part 60-30

Administrative practice and procedure, Civil Rights, Discrimination, Employment, Equal Employment Opportunity, Equal Opportunity, Government contracts, Government procurement, hearings, and nondiscrimination.

Signed at Washington, DC., this 3d day of May, 1990.

Elizabeth Dole,

Secretary of Labor.

William C. Brooks,

Assistant Secretary, Employment Standards Administration.

Carl M. Dominguez,

Director, Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs.

Accordingly, title 41, chapter 60, part 60-30 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as set forth below.

PART 60-30 [AMENDED]

1. The authority citation for part 60-30 is revised to read as follows:

Authority: Executive Order 11246, as amended, 30 FR 12319; 32 FR 14303 as amended by E.O. 12086; 29 U.S.C. 793, as amended, and 38 U.S.C. 2012.

§ 60-30.18 [Amended]

2. Part 60-30 is amended by adding § 60-30.18 to read as follows:

§ 60-30.18. Rules of evidence.

In any hearing, decision, or administrative review conducted pursuant to this part, all evidentiary matters shall be governed by Office of Administrative Law Judges' Rules of evidence at 29 CFR part 18, subpart B. Provided however, That the provision at 29 CFR 18.1104 which delays the effective date of the rule with respect to certain investigations does not apply.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Determination to Issue Interim Rules

A determination has been made under authority of the Secretary of Defense to issue the regulations in Items IX, X, and XI of DAC 88-14 as interim rules. Compelling reasons exist to promulgate these interim rules without prior opportunity for public comment. However, pursuant to Pub. L. 98-577 and FAR 1.501, public comments received in response to these interim rules will be considered in formulating the final rules.

B. Background

The DoD FAR Supplement is codified in chapter 2 title 48 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

The October 1, 1989 revision of the CFR is the most recent edition of that title. It includes amendments to the 1988 edition of the DoD FAR Supplement made by Defense Acquisition Circulars 88-1 through 88-12.

DAC 88-14, Item IX, Section 207 of the Business Opportunity Development Reform Act of 1988 (Act), Pub. L. 100-656, added Native Hawaiian Organizations to the list of groups presumed to be socially disadvantaged. Public Law 99-272 added similar coverage for Indian tribes. Amendments to accommodate these changes have been made in 219.001, 219.301-70(b)(2), and 252.219-7005.

DAC 88-14, Item X, Section 201(a) of the Act requires establishment within the Small Business Administration (SBA) of a Division of Program Certification and Eligibility and assigns the division responsibility for deciding protests regarding the status of a concern as a disadvantaged concern for purposes of any program conducted under the authority of section 8(d) of the Small Business Act. The SBA finalized its rules governing such protests on March 1, 1989 (54 FR 10271). Amendments have been made in 219.301-70(b)(3), 219.302(S-70)(3), and 252.219-7005.

DAC #88-14, Item XI. Section 405 of the Act provides specific penalties for misrepresentation of status as small business or small disadvantaged business for the purpose of obtaining a contract or subcontract under one of the small or small disadvantaged business preference programs authorized by sections 8(a), 8(d), 9, or 15 of the Small Business Act. Notice of the penalty has been included in 252.219-7005.

C. Public Comments

DAC 88-14, Items IX, X, and XI

These items are published as Interim rules. Public comment is invited.

DAC 88-14, Items I, V, XIV, XV, and XVI

These items are for informational purposes and do not contain revisions to the DFARS.

DAC 88-14, Items II, III, IV, VI, VIII, XII, XIII, XVII, XIX, XXIII, and XXV

Public comments were not solicited for these revisions because the revisions do not alter the substantive meaning of any coverage in the DFARS having a significant impact on contractors or offerors, or do not have a significant effect beyond agency internal operating procedures.

DAC 88-14, Items VII, XVIII, XX, XXII, and XXIV

These rules were published for public comment. The comments that were received were considered in development of the final rule:

Item VII. On May 23, 1989, a proposed rule was published in the Federal Register (54 FR 22337). The rule was revised June 6, 1989 (54 FR 24248) and June 22, 1989 (54 FR 26225).

Item XII. On July 18, 1989, a proposed rule was published in the Federal Register (54 FR 30101).

Item XVIII. On March 22, 1989, a proposed rule was published in the Federal Register (54 FR 11764).

Item XX. On June 30, 1989, a proposed rule was published in the Federal Register (54 FR 27655).

Item XXII. On December 6, 1989, a proposed rule was published in the Federal Register (53 FR 49212).

Item XXIV. On July 18, 1988, a proposed rule was published in the Federal Register (53 FR 27055).

DAC 88-14, Item XXI

An interim rule with request for comment was published in the Federal Register on April 21, 1989 (54 FR 16112). Revisions were made based on the public comments and a final rule was published in DAC 88-13, appearing in the Federal Register on December 29, 1988 (54 FR 53612). These further revisions are based on the paperwork burden analysis and the Defense Management Review of unnecessarily burdensome requirements. The revisions do not have a significant cost or administrative impact on contractors or offerors.

D. Regulatory Flexibility Act

DAC 88-14, Items II, III, IV, VI, VIII, XII, XIII, XVII, XIX, XXI, XXIII, and XXV

The Regulatory Flexibility Act does not apply because these rules are not significant revisions within the meaning of Public Law 98-577. However, comments from small entities concerning the affected DoD FAR Supplement subparts will be considered in accordance with section 610 of the Act. Such comments must be submitted separately. Please cite DAR Case 90-610 in correspondence.

DAC 88-14, Item VII

The Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq. applies to this final rule. A Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis has been performed. A copy of the analysis may be obtained from the address above. Please cite DAR Case 89-23.

DAC 88-14, Items IX and XI

The requirements of the Act were addressed by the Small Business Administration in development of its regulations implementing the Business Opportunity Development Reform Act of 1988, Pub. L. 100-656, published in the Federal Register on March 23, 1989 (54 FR 12054).

DAC 88-14, Item X

The requirements of the Act were addressed by the Small Business Administration in development of its regulations implementing the Business Opportunity Development Reform Act of 1988, Pub. L. 100-656, published in the Federal Register on March 13, 1989 (54 FR 10271).

DAC 88-14, Item XVIII

This final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities within the meaning of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., because it will affect only 190 contractors.

DAC 88-14, Item XX

This final rule will not have a significant economic impact upon a substantial number of small entities, within the meaning of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., because it applies only to contracts for the production of a weapon system with a unit weapon system cost of $100,000 or for which the eventual total procurement cost is in excess of $10,000,000. These types of contracts are usually not awarded to small entities. An Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis was performed. Comments from small entities were solicited by Federal Register notice of June 30, 1989 (54 FR 27655). No comments were received that addressed the Regulatory Flexibility Act statement.

DAC 88-14, Item XXIV

This final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., because most small entities do not have contractual requirements to provide end items as government-furnished property to other contractors.

DAC 88-14, Item XXII

This final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities within the meaning of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., because the revision merely emphasizes a requirement in the current rule.

E. Paperwork Reduction Act

DAC 88-14, Items II, III, IV, VI, VII, VIII, IX, X, XI, XII, XIII, XVII, XIX, XX, XXII, XXIII, XXIV, XXV

DAC 88-14, Item XVII

This rule imposes information collection requirements within the meaning of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. OMB approved the requirement on July 10, 1989 for 182 hours.

Government procurement.

Linda E. Greene,

Deputy Director, Defense Acquisition Regulatory Council.

[Defense Acquisition Circular No. 88-14]
April 16, 1990.

All DoD FAR Supplement and other directive material contained in this circular is effective April 16, 1990, unless otherwise specified in the Item summary. Material effective April 16, 1990, is to be used upon receipt. Solicitations issued before receipt of the circular do not have to be amended to include the new or revised clauses or forms. See the guidance in DoD FAR Supplement 201.301(S-70)(4).

Defense Acquisition Circular (DAC) 14 amends the Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement (DFARS) 1988 edition, prescribes procedures to be followed, and provides informational interest items. The following summarizes the amendments, procedures, and information.

Item I—Rewrite of the Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement (DFARS)

The Secretary of Defense's July 1989 Defense Management Report (DMR) to the President concluded that much of the stifling burden of our DoD regulatory guidance, including DFARS, is self-imposed.

To correct this situation, the DoD formed a Regulatory Relief Task Force to review, in addition to other regulations, the DFARS and lower level supplements, and recommend revisions. The DoD also asked industry for its recommendations.

The Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Procurement then charged the Defense Acquisition Regulatory (DAR) System, composed of the DAR Council, DAR Staff, and DAR Committees, to analyze all of the recommendations and totally rewrite the DFARS. The action plan calls for the DAR System to publish a proposed DFARS for public comment by August 1990, and a final DFARS by February 1991.

Our objective is to create a streamlined, well-written DFARS, with minimal supplementation below the DFARS level. To do this, we are:

- Getting rid of text and clauses that are unnecessary, are duplicative, inhibit good business practices, or do not add value;
- Consolidating lower level supplementation into DFARS;
- Reviewing thresholds, certifications, approval levels, and other regulatory burdens on contracting officers and contractors;

- Asking for maximum government and industry participation during the public comment period; and
- Rewriting the DFARS to put it in plain English. Some of the Items in this circular are a product of the DMR effort.

Item II—HCA Authority—CINCSOC

The Commander in Chief, United States Special Operations Command (CINCSOC) is added in the "Head of Agency" definition in 202.101. The CINCSOC shall have authority to exercise the functions of the Head of the Agency under chapter 137 of Title 10, United States Code.

Item III—Contract Reporting

DFARS Subpart 204.6 and subsections 247.573-1 and 252.204-7007 are revised to conform to recent changes in the Federal Acquisition Regulation. The only major change in the DD Form 350 reporting instructions is a change in the use of Item C4, which had been used for reporting competitive characteristics but now will be used to report sea transportation information. These revisions are effective on October 1, 1990 and shall not be used before that date. Revised DD Form 350 will be distributed prior to the October 1, 1990 effective date of the change.

Item IV—Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) Number Reporting

The provision at 252.204-7004, Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) Number Reporting, has been deleted as a similar provision has been added to FAR part 52.

Item V—Taxpayer Identification Number

FAR subpart 4.9, Information Reporting to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), addresses requirements for reporting contractors' Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN). The source of the requirement is the Tax Reform Act of 1988, which added section 6050M to the Internal Revenue Code. The IRS published final regulations implementing section 6050M in the Federal Register on December 6, 1989, to be effective January 1, 1989. The final regulations contain a requirement which is not currently in the FAR or DFARS.

Effective April 1, 1990, contracting officers must obtain a TIN as required by FAR subpart 4.9 for contract modifications if—

- The contract was awarded before January 1, 1989; the modification was or will be entered into on or after April 1, 1990;

- A Justification and Approval is required by part 6; and
- The contract amount is increased by $50,000 or more.

Item VI—Justification and Approval

DFARS 206.302-4 and 206.304 are added to implement sections 817 and 818 of the Fiscal Year 1990 Defense Authorization Act. Section 817 amends 10 U.S.C. 2304(f) to allow for certain exceptions to the requirements for written justification and approval (J&A) for other than full and open competitive procedures, when the basis for other than full and open competition is international agreement. Section 818 amends the J&A approval level requirements for proposed contract actions over $10,000,000. For proposed contracts between $10,000,000 and $50,000,000, senior procurement executives will be allowed to redelegate their authority to certain flag rank or GS-16 level officials. For proposed contracts over $50,000,000, the only official allowed to redelegate approval authority is the Under Secretary of Defense (Acquisition) when acting as the senior procurement executive for DoD.

Item VII—Implementation of 5% Goal for Small Disadvantaged Businesses, Historically Black Colleges and Universities, and Minority Institutions

DFARS subparts 215.6, 217.4, 219.5, 219.7, 232.5, 244.3, and part 252 are revised to further enhance the opportunity for participation of small disadvantaged businesses (SDBs), Historically Black Colleges and Universities and Minority Institutions (HBCU/MIs) in Department of Defense acquisitions. These revisions require consideration of SDBs in leader company contracting, make the use of SDBs and HBCU/MIs an evaluation factor in source selections, revise the incentive and provide for an award fee for contractors who exceed SDB/HBCU/MI subcontracting goals, establish a progress payment rate of 90 percent for SDBs, make progress payments available to SDBs on contracts of $50,000 or more, establish a repetitive SDB set-aside procedure, and authorize prime contractors to restrict competition to SDBs in award of subcontracts.

Item VIII—Extension of 5% Goal for Small Disadvantaged Businesses, Historically Black Colleges and Universities, and Minority Institutions

extended the objectives and authorities of section 1207, Pub. L. 99-861, through fiscal year 1993. Parts 219 and 226 are revised to reflect this extension.

Item IX—Presumptive Eligibility of Native Hawaiian Organizations

Section 207 of the Business Opportunity Development Reform Act of 1988 added Hawaiian Organizations to the list of groups presumed to be socially disadvantaged. Public Law 99-272 added similar coverage for Indian tribes. DFARS 219.001, 219.301-70(b)(2), and 252.219-7005 are revised to accommodate these changes.

Item X—Disadvantaged Business Status Protests

Section 201(a) of the Business Opportunity Development Reform Act of 1988 requires establishment within the Small Business Administration (SBA) of a Division of Program Certification and Eligibility and assigns the Division the responsibility for deciding protests regarding the status of a concern as a disadvantaged concern for purposes of any program conducted under the authority of section 8(d) of the Small Business Act. The SBA finalized its rules governing such protests on March 13, 1989, (54 FR 10271). DFARS 219.301-70(b)(3), 219.302(S-70), and 252.219-7005 are revised to reflect these changes.

Item XI—Misrepresentation of Small Business Status

Section 405 of the Business Opportunity Development Reform Act of 1988 provides specific penalties for misrepresentation of status as small business or small disadvantaged business for the purpose of obtaining a contract or subcontract under one of the small or small disadvantaged business preference programs authorized by section 8(a), 8(d), 9 or 15 of the Small Business Act. DFARS 252.219-7005 is revised to include the notice of penalty.

Item XII—Section 8(a) Competitive Thresholds

DFARS 219.8 is revised to conform arrangement of the text and numbering to FAR revisions made in FAC 84-52.

Item XIII—Systems Safety Program

DFARS subpart 223.74, Systems Safety Program, has been deleted as a result of the Defense Management Review effort. DoDI 5000.36, System Safety Engineering and Management, continues in effect until cancelled or superseded.

Item XIV—Restriction on Acquisition of Multibeam Sonar Mapping Systems and Night Vision Image Intensifier Tubes and Devices

The Fiscal Year 1990 Appropriations Act provides that no fiscal year 1990 funds may be used for: (a) The acquisition of Multibeam Sonar Mapping Systems which are not manufactured in the United States (section 9073 of the Act); and (b) procurement from sources outside the United States of second or third generation night vision image intensifier tubes and devices (section 9069 of the Act); except when adequate domestic supplies of (a) or (b) are not available to meet DoD needs on a timely basis, the Secretary of the Service concerned, or a designee, may waive this restriction on a case-by-case basis by certifying in writing to the Committees on Appropriation of the House of Representatives and the Senate that such an acquisition must be made in order to acquire capability for national security purposes. This item is effective for any acquisition using Fiscal 1990 funds. If these restrictions appear in the Fiscal Year 1991 Appropriations Act, this item will be converted to coverage in DFARS subpart 225.70.

Item XV—Restriction on Acquisition of Supercomputers

Section 9045 of the Fiscal Year 1990 Defense Appropriations Act (Pub. L. 101-165) prohibits the use of Fiscal Year 1990 funds for the purchase of any supercomputer which is not manufactured in the United States, unless the Secretary of Defense certifies to the Armed Services and Appropriations Committees of the Senate, and House of Representatives that such an acquisition must be made in order to acquire capability for national security purposes that is not available from United States manufacturers. This item is effective for any acquisition using Fiscal 1990 funds. If this restriction appears in the Fiscal Year 1991 Appropriations Act, this item will be converted to coverage in DFARS subpart 225.70.

Item XVI—Excess Foreign Currencies (DFARS Subpart 225.76)

OMB Bulletin 90-04, dated December 28, 1989, is enclosed. It designates the Burmese kyat as excess for Fiscal Years 1990 and 1991 and the Sudanese pound as near-excess for Fiscal Year 1990.

Item XVII—Appropriations Acts Restrictions—Food, Clothing, Fabrics, Specialty Metals

Restrictions in DFARS subpart 225.70 and in the clause at 252.225-7009 on the acquisition of food, clothing, fabrics, and specialty metals are revised based on changes in the last two DoD Appropriations Acts.

Item XVIII—Reporting Inventions

A clause has been added at 252.227-7039 for use in requiring contractors to periodically report subject inventions under contracts which contain the clause at FAR 52.227-11, Patent Rights-Retention by the Contractor (Short Form). The prescription for use of the clause has been added as DFARS 227.303(a)(70).

Item XIX—Cost or Pricing Data for Communication Service Contracts

DFARS 237.7407(b) is revised to prohibit requiring certified cost or pricing data on communication service contracts of $25,000 or less.

Item XX—Warranties

DFARS 246.770-2(c) and 246.770-10(b) are added to address a recommendation made in GAO Report NSIAD-87-122, "DoD Warranties: Improvement Needed in Implementation of Warranty Legislation", and to prescribe procedures governing redesign as a contract remedy under major weapon system warranties.

Item XXI—Cargo Preference

The definition of supplies in DFARS subpart 247.5 has been revised to clarify the standard for identifying such items. The example of a reference to a military specification as a clear identifier of military use or ownership is inappropriate and has been deleted. In addition, two requirements for contractor submissions have been deleted—

- The requirement for submission of ocean-bills-of-lading with each invoice; and
- The requirement for submission of a certification as to the accuracy of information provided in support of a request for use of other than U.S.-flag vessels.

Item XXII—Certification of Claims

The clause at 252.233-7000, Certification of Requests for Adjustment or Relief Exceeding $100,000, has been expanded to include certification that a claim for equitable adjustment under a completed or substantially completed contract does not include costs which already have been reimbursed or separately claimed and that it includes only its allocable share of indirect costs.

Item XXIII—Deletion of DFARS Appendix H, Military Standard Requisitioning and Issue Procedure (MILSTRIP)

As a result of the Defense Management Review effort, Appendix H, Military Standard Requisitioning and Issue Procedure (MILSTRIP), is deleted. Appendix H duplicated the MILSTRIP Manual, DoD 4000.25-1-M. Government personnel can obtain the manual through normal publications distribution channels. Contractors can obtain the manual at a current price of $20.22 from the Defense Logistics Agency, ATTN: DLA-XPD, Bldg. 6, Dr. 21, Cameron Station, Alexandria, VA 22304-6100. Revisions have been made in DFARS 208.7008-1, 245.302-2, and 251.102 to conform to deletion of the appendix.

Item XXIV—Appendix I, Material Inspection and Receiving Report

Instructions for completion of Block 19 of the DD Form 250, Material Inspection and Receiving Report, have been revised to correct an inadvertent error published in DAC #88-5. DFARS Appendix I-301, Block 19, paragraph (b) is deleted and paragraphs (c), (d), (e) are renumbered.

204.671-2 Purpose.

The DD Form 350, including automated facsimiles and electronic equivalents, is used to report individual contract actions and consolidated actions as set forth in 204.671-3.

15. Section 204.671-3 is revised to read as follows:

204.671-3 Applicability and coverage.

(a) Structure. DD Form 350 consists of 6 parts. Part A identifies the report and the reporting activity. Part B identifies the transaction: contract number, contractor, dollars, product, etc. Part C gathers data concerning contracting procedures, labor statute requirements, and contracting methodology. Part D gathers data relating to the various socioeconomic programs which apply to DoD acquisitions. Part E is set aside for departmental or higher authority use. Part F identifies the cognizant reporting official.

(b) Responsibilities. (1) Contracting offices shall prepare a DD Form 350 for all contracting actions which obligate or deobligate more than $25,000, including actions accomplished by a contract administration office on behalf of a contracting office, except for the following:

(i) Transactions which cite nonappropriated funds, such as funds belonging to the Army and Air Force Exchange Service. Funds held in trust accounts for foreign governments shall be treated as appropriated funds.

(ii) Transactions for purchase of land, or rental or lease of real property where the contracting action was executed by GSA.

(iii) Orders from GSA Stock and the GSA Consolidated Purchase Program.

(iv) Transactions which involve Government bills of lading or transportation requests.

(v) Grants for basic research with educational institutions and other nonprofit organizations.

(vi) Orders placed by ordering activities against indefinite delivery contracts entered into by the Military Sealift Command or orders against indefinite delivery contracts for petroleum and petroleum products entered into by the Defense Fuel Supply Center or the Defense General Supply Center. The estimated value of the orders to be placed in each fiscal year against each Military Sealift Command contract shall be reported by the Military Sealift Command on a separate DD Form 350 in the appropriate fiscal year. The total estimated value of the orders to be placed against each Defense Fuel Supply Center contract and each Defense General Supply Center contract for petroleum and petroleum products, shall be reported by the contracting activity at the time of contract award.

(2) Contract administration offices accomplishing actions subject to DD Form 350 reporting shall transmit to the contracting office on whose behalf the actions were taken, a copy of the contractual instrument clearly annotated in the heading in large block letters "DD FORM 350 REPORTING COPY" within one working day after the action date.

(c) Type of report. The contracting office shall prepare DD 350 Forms as described below:

(1) A single DD 350 shall be prepared for each covered action except as described in paragraphs (c)(2) and (c)(3) of this subsection.

(2) Consolidated reports shall be prepared for:

(i) Awards to individuals in support of dependent schools, e.g., principals and teachers. These transactions shall be consolidated monthly and the cumulative dollar amount reported on a single DD Form 350.

(ii) Military Airlift Command awards for international airlift services. These actions shall be reported at the end of each operating month by the issuance of one master DD Form 350 for each airlift contract.

(iii) Orders placed by the Services for resale items in excess of $25,000 against brand name contracts entered into by the Defense Logistics Agency and published in Supply Bulletin Series 10-500. Orders under each such contract shall be consolidated monthly by the Services and cumulative dollar amounts reported on a single DD Form 350 in accordance with departmental regulations. DLA activities shall submit individual rather than consolidated reports.

These transactions shall be consolidated monthly and the cumulative dollar amount reported on a separate DD Form 350 in accordance with departmental regulations.

(3) Multiple reports are required for a single action under certain circumstances. Any reportable portion with a dollar value of $25,000 or less shall be reported on the DD Form 1057. These procedures will permit accurate reporting of set-asides and other actions which would either not be reported or reported with an incorrect dollar value if reported as a single action. Multiple reports are required when:

(i) Both the Foreign Military Sales Program and other programs are involved (see 204.671-5(b) Item B9);

(ii) More than one type of contract is involved and any nonpredominant portion exceeds $500,000 (see 204.671-5(c) Item C5(ii)).

(d) Classification. DD Forms 350 shall be submitted as unclassified documents. Should modification of coding of items on DD Form 350 be deemed necessary for security, the appropriate departmental data collection points identified in 204.671-4(b) shall be contacted for special instructions.

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains notices to the public of the proposed issuance of rules and regulations. The purpose of these notices is to give interested persons an opportunity to participate in the rule making prior to the adoption of the final rules.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Federal Aviation Administration

14 CFR Part 39

[Docket No. 90-NM-68-AD]

Airworthiness Directives; Aerospatiale Model ATR42-300 and ATR42-320 Series Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM).

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to supersede an existing airworthiness directive (AD), applicable to certain Aerospatiale Model ATR42 series airplanes, which currently requires the addition of a relay to the propeller brake control unit to maintain the electrical power supply, and replacement of the push button switch with a two-position mechanical switch. This action would also require the installation of a new brake and modification of the propeller brake control system. Additionally, this action would clarify the applicability to specify that the Model ATR42-300 and ATR42-320 series airplanes are the models affected. This proposal is prompted by reports of electrical problems causing the brake to engage prior to command. This condition, if not corrected, could lead to overheating of the propeller brake and damage to the engine.

DATES: Comments must be received no later than July 2, 1990.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposal in duplicate to Federal Aviation Administration, Northwest Mountain Region, Transport Airplane Directorate, ANM-103, Attention: Airworthiness Rules Docket No. 90-NM-68-AD, 17900 Pacific Highway South, C-68966, Seattle, Washington 98168. The applicable service information may be obtained from Aerospatiale, 316 Route de Bayonne, 31060 Toulouse, Cedex 03, France. This information may be examined at the FAA, Northwest

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Robert Huhn, Standardization Branch, ANM-113; telephone (206) 431-1950. Mailing address: FAA, Northwest Mountain Region, 17900 Pacific Highway South, C-68966, Seattle, Washington 98168.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the regulatory docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the address specified above. All communications received on or before the closing date for comments specified above will be considered by the Administrator before taking action on the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this Notice may be changed in light of the comments received.

Comments are specifically invited on the overall regulatory, economic, environmental, and energy aspects of the proposed rule. All comments submitted will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons. A report summarizing each FAA/public contact, concerned with the substance of this proposal, will be filed in the Rules Docket.

Commenters wishing the FAA to acknowledge receipt of their comments submitted in response to this Notice must submit a self-addressed, stamped post card on which the following statement is made: "Comments to Docket Number 90-NM-68-AD." The post card will be date/time stamped and returned to the commenter.

Discussion

On April 17, 1989, the FAA issued AD 88-14-06 R1, Amendment 39-6202 (54 FR 18274; April 28, 1989), to require the addition of a relay to the propeller brake control unit to maintain the electrical power supply, and replacement of the push button switch with a two-position mechanical switch. That action was prompted by reports of electrical interference causing the brake to engage prior to command, incomplete brake locking due to interruption of the power supply, and unlocking of the propeller brake due to non-latching of the push button switch. This condition, if not corrected, could lead to overheating of the propeller brake and damage to the engine.

Since issuance of that AD, there have been additional reports of the propeller engaging prior to command on several airplanes modified in accordance with the existing AD, and, in one case, a fire occurred after engine shutdown. In light of these reports, it is apparent that the original modifications did not correct all the electrical problems associated with the propeller brake.

Aerospatiale has issued Service Bulletin ATR42-61-0022, Revision 1, dated September 25, 1989, which describes procedures to remove the existing propeller brake and install a newly developed, modified propeller brake. Aerospatiale has also issued Service Bulletin ATR42-62-0005, Revision 2, dated January 2, 1990, which describes procedures to replace the propeller brake control unit, modify the control logic of the propeller brake, and replace the hydraulic fuse with an electrovalve. Aerospatiale has also issued Service Bulletin ATR42-61-0023, Revision 1, dated December 1, 1989, which describes procedures to modify the propeller brake indicating logic so that the electrovalve remains open for 120 seconds after the hydraulic pumps have shut down. The Direction Generale de L'Aviation Civile, which is the airworthiness authority of France, has classified these service bulletins as mandatory, and has issued Airworthiness Directive 90-030-028(B) addressing this subject.

This airplane model is manufactured in France and type certificated in the United States under the provisions of § 21.29 of the Federal Aviation Regulations and the applicable bilateral airworthiness agreement.

Since this condition is likely to exist or develop on other airplanes of the same type design registered in the United States, an AD is proposed which would supersede AD 88-14-06 R1 with a new airworthiness directive that would require installation of a new propeller brake control unit and modification of the propeller brake and propeller brake indicating logic, in accordance with the service bulletins previously described.

Additionally, this action would clarify the applicability to specify that Model ATR42-300 and ATR42-320 series airplanes are the models affected.

It is estimated that 56 airplanes of U.S. registry would be affected by this AD, that it would take approximately 238 manhours per airplane to accomplish the required actions, and that the average labor cost would be $40 per manhour. The required modification kits will be supplied to the operators at no cost. Based on these figures, the total cost impact of the AD on U.S. operators is estimated to be $533,120.

The regulations proposed herein would not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12612, it is determined that this proposal would not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify that this proposed regulation (1) is not a "major rule" under Executive Order 12291; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) if promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. A copy of the draft evaluation prepared for this action is contained in the regulatory docket. A copy of it may be obtained from the Rules Docket.

2. Section 39.13 is amended by superseding Amendment 39-6202 (54 FR 18274; April 28, 1989), AD 88-14-06 R1, with the following new airworthiness directive:

Aerospatiale: Applies to all Model ATR42-300 and ATR42-320 series airplanes, certificated in any category. Compliance is required as indicated, unless previously accomplished.

To prevent the propeller brake from overheating and causing damage to the engine, accomplish the following:

A. Within 100 hours time-in-service after May 29, 1989 (the effective date of AD 88-14-06 R1) for airplanes listed in Aerospatiale Service Bulletin ATR42-61-0013, Revision 1, dated December 8, 1987, modify the propeller brake electronic control wiring, in accordance with this service bulletin.

B. Within 100 hours time-in-service after May 29, 1989 (the effective date of AD 88-14-06 R1), for the airplanes listed in Aerospatiale Service Bulletin ATR42-61-0014, Revision 2, dated November 15, 1988, modify the propeller brake control unit, in accordance with this service bulletin.

C. Within 100 hours time-in-service after May 29, 1989 (the effective date of AD 88-14-06 R1), for the airplanes listed in Aerospatiale Service Bulletin ATR42-61-0010, Revision 3, dated December 19, 1988, replace the pushbutton switch with a two-position mechanical switch, in accordance with this service bulletin.

E. Within 180 days after the effective date of this AD, install a modified propeller brake in accordance with Aerospatiale Service Bulletin ATR42-61-0022, Revision 1, dated September 25, 1989.

F. Within 180 days after the effective date of this AD, modify the propeller brake indicating logic, in accordance with Aerospatiale Service Bulletin ATR42-61-0023, Revision 1, dated December 1, 1989.

G. As an alternative to paragraphs A through F, above, operators may remove the propeller brake from the airplane in accordance with Aerospatiale Service Bulletin ATR42-61-0016, Revision 1, dated September 1, 1988.

H. An alternate means of compliance or adjustment of the compliance time, which provides an acceptable level of safety, may be used when approved by the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113, FAA, Northwest Mountain Region.

Note: The request should be forwarded through an FAA Principal Maintenance Inspector (PMI), who will either concur or comment and then send it to the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113.

1. Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with FAR 21.197 and 21.199 to operate airplanes to a base in order to comply with the requirements of this AD.

All persons affected by this directive who have not already received the appropriate service documents from the manufacturer may obtain copies upon request to Aerospatiale, 316 Route de Bayonne, 31060 Toulouse, Cedex 03, France. These documents may be examined at the FAA, Northwest

Mountain Region, Transport Airplane Directorate, 17900 Pacific Highway South, Seattle, Washington, or the Standardization Branch, 9010 East Marginal Way South, Seattle, Washington.

Issued in Seattle, Washington, on May 1, 1990.

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM).

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to adopt a new airworthiness directive (AD), applicable to certain de Havilland Model DHC-8-100 series airplanes, which would require modification of the cowl door latch arrangement and installation of pressure relief features on both engine cowlings. This proposal is prompted by reports of two in-flight engine fires wherein the engine cowl doors came open or came off, rendering the engine fire extinguishing system ineffective. This condition, if not corrected, could result in loss of engine fire extinguishing capability, and subsequent fire damage to the structure and the hydraulic system.

DATES: Comments must be received no later than July 2, 1990.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposal in duplicate to the Federal Aviation Administration, Northwest Mountain Region, Transport Airplane Directorate, ANM-103, Attention: Airworthiness Rules Docket No. 90-NM-69-AD, 17900 Pacific Highway South, C-68966, Seattle, Washington 98168. The applicable service information may be obtained from Boeing of Canada, Ltd., de Havilland Division, Garratt Boulevard, Downsview, Ontario M3K 1Y5, Canada. Discussion

Transport Canada, which is the airworthiness authority of Canada, in accordance with existing provisions of a bilateral airworthiness agreement, has notified the FAA of an unsafe condition which may exist on certain de Havilland Model DHC-8-100 series airplanes. The FAA has determined that the propulsion system fire protection system can be rendered ineffective if an engine compartment explosion occurs. Overpressure from an explosion can cause deformation and/or loss of the engine cowl, in which case the fire extinguishant is not contained in the compartment long enough to be effective. Two in-flight incidents have occurred wherein fuel leaked into the engine compartment and led to explosions, causing cowl damage/loss and an uncontrolled fire. This condition, if not corrected, could result in loss of engine fire extinguishing capability, and subsequent fire damage to the structure and the hydraulic system.

Boeing of Canada, Ltd., de Havilland Division, has issued Service Bulletin No. 8-71-13, Revision C, dated January 12, 1990, which describes procedures to modify the cowl door retention latch arrangement and install pressure relief features on both engine cowlings. This modification would improve the overpressure retention capability of the engine forward side cowl doors. Additional protection would be provided by the spring loaded pressure relief feature and additional door retention hooks introduced by this proposed modification. The door retention hooks are specifically designed to function only when the door is distorted by the overpressure forces and would act to maintain the normal latching provisions. Transport Canada has classified the service bulletin as mandatory, and has issued Airworthiness Directive No. CF-89-15 addressing this subject.

This airplane model is manufactured in Canada and type certificated in the United States under the provisions of § 21.29 of the Federal Aviation Regulations and the applicable bilateral airworthiness agreement.

Since this condition is likely to exist or develop on other airplanes of the same type design registered in the United States, an AD is proposed which would require modification of the cowl door retention latch arrangement and installation of pressure relief features on both engine cowlings in accordance with the service bulletin previously described.

It is estimated that 35 airplanes of U.S. registry would be affected by this AD, that it would take approximately 120 manhours per airplane to accomplish the required actions, and that the average labor cost would be $40 per manhour. The required modification kit will be supplied to the operators at no cost. Based on these figures, the total cost impact of the AD on U.S. operators is estimated to be $168,000.

The regulations proposed herein would not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12612, it is determined that this proposal would not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify that this proposed regulation (1)

Is not a "major rule" under Executive Order 12291; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) if promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. A copy of the draft evaluation prepared for this action is contained in the regulatory docket. A copy of it may be obtained from the Rules Docket.

The Proposed Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend 14 CFR part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations as follows:

PART 39—[AMENDED]

1. The authority citation for part 39 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421 and 1423; 49 U.S.C. 106(g) (Revised Pub. L. 97-449, January 12, 1983); and 14 CFR 11.89.

§ 39.13 [Amended]

2. Section 39.13 is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

Boeing of Canada Ltd., de Havilland Division:

Applies to de Havilland Model DHC-8-100 series airplanes, Serial Numbers 1 through 156 and 158 through 193, certificated in any category. Compliance is required within 180 days after the effective date of this AD, unless previously accomplished.

To prevent deformation or loss of the engine forward side cowl doors due to compartment overpressurization, and subsequent loss of fire extinguishing capability, accomplish the following:

A. Modify the cowl door retention latch arrangement and install pressure relief features on both engine cowlings, in accordance with the Accomplishment Instructions in de Havilland Service Bulletin No. 8-71-13, Revision C, dated January 12, 1990.

B. An alternate means of compliance or adjustment of the compliance time, which provides an acceptable level of safety, may be used when approved by the Manager, New York Aircraft Certification Office, ANE-170, FAA, New England Region.

Note: The request should be forwarded through an FAA Principal Maintenance Inspector (PMI), who will either concur or comment and then send it to the Manager, New York Aircraft Certification Office, ANE-170.

C. Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with FAR 21.197 and 21.199 to operate airplanes to a base in order to comply with the requirements of this AD.

All persons affected by this directive who have not already received the appropriate service documents from the manufacturer may obtain copies upon request to Boeing of Canada, Ltd., de Havilland Division, Carratt Boulevard, Downsview, Ontario M3K 1Y5, Canada. These documents may be examined at the FAA, Northwest Mountain Region, Transport Airplane Directorate, 17900 Pacific Highway South, Seattle, Washington, or at the FAA, New England Region, New York Aircraft Certification Office, 181 South Franklin Avenue, room 202, Valley Stream, New York.

Issued in Seattle, Washington, on May 1, 1990.

Leroy A. Keith,

Manager, Transport Airplane Directorate, Aircraft Certification Service.

Airworthiness Directives; Fokker Model F-27 Series Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM).

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to adopt a new airworthiness directive (AD), applicable to certain Fokker Model F-27 series airplanes, which would require a one-time high frequency eddy current (HFEC) inspection to detect cracks in the fork-end fittings of the wing upper skin stringers at the outboard side of the Wing Station 4155 joint, and repair or replacement, if necessary. This proposal is prompted by reports of cracking of the fork-ends on the outboard side of the joint due to stress corrosion. This condition, if not corrected, could result in reduced structural integrity of the wing.

DATES: Comments must be received no later than July 2, 1990.

examined at the FAA, Northwest Mountain Region, Transport Airplane Directorate, 17900 Pacific Highway South, Seattle, Washington, or the Standardization Branch, 9010 East Marginal Way South, Seattle, Washington.

The post card will be date/time stamped and returned to the commenter.

Discussion

The Rijksluchtvaartdienst (RLD), which is the airworthiness authority of the Netherlands, in accordance with existing provisions of a bilateral airworthiness agreement, has notified the FAA of an unsafe condition which may exist on certain Fokker Model F-27 series airplanes. There has been a recent report of cracking in the fork-ends on the outboard side of the joint due to stress corrosion. Installation stresses could have been introduced when the half-inch bolts at the coupling rods were tightened. These stresses, together with the stress corrosion-sensitive material, 7079-T6, from which the coupling rods are made, can lead to cracking of the fork-ends at the outboard side of the Wing Station 4155 joint. This condition, if not corrected, could result in reduced structural integrity of the wing.

Fokker has issued Service Bulletin F27/57-64, Revision 1, dated March 28, 1990, which describes procedures for a one-time high frequency eddy current (HFEC) inspection to detect cracks in the fork-end fittings of the wing upper skin stringers at the outboard side of the Wing Station 4155 joint, and repair or replacement of coupling rods, if necessary. The RLD has classified this service bulletin as mandatory, and has issued Airworthiness Directive BLA No. 89-148.

This airplane model is manufactured in the Netherlands and type certificated in the United States under the provisions of § 21.29 of the Federal Aviation Regulations and the applicable bilateral airworthiness agreement.

Since this condition is likely to exist or develop on other airplanes of the same type design registered in the United States, an AD is proposed which would require a one-time inspection to detect cracks in the fork-end fittings of the wing upper skin stringers at the outboard side of the Wing Station 4155 joint, and repair or replacement, if necessary, in accordance with the service bulletin previously described.

This is considered to be interim action. The manufacturer is currently attempting to determine the extent and nature of the addressed damage, and is developing an appropriate repetitive inspection schedule and/or modification that will preclude the need for repetitive inspections. Once these are developed, the FAA may consider further rulemaking to revise this AD to require additional action.

It is estimated that 44 airplanes of U.S. registry would be affected by this AD, that it would take approximately 10 manhours per airplane to accomplish the required actions, and that the average labor cost would be $40 per manhour. Based on these figures, the total cost impact of the AD on U.S. operators is estimated to be $17,600.

The regulations proposed herein would not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12612, it is determined that this proposal would not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify that this proposed regulation (1) is not a "major rule" under Executive Order 12291; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) if promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. A copy of the draft evaluation prepared for this action is contained in the regulatory docket. A copy of it may be obtained from the Rules Docket.

The Proposed Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend 14 CFR part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations as follows:

PART 39—[AMENDED]

The authority citation for part 39 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421 and 1423; 49 U.S.C. 106(g) (Revised Pub. L. 97-449, January 12, 1983); and 14 CFR 11.89.

§ 39.13 [Amended]

2. Section 39.13 is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

Fokker: Applies to Model F-27 series airplanes, Serial Numbers 10102 and 10105 through 10624, inclusive, certificated in any category. Compliance is required as indicated, unless previously accomplished.

To prevent reduced structural integrity of the wing, accomplish the following:

A. Within 180 days after the effective date of this AD, perform a high frequency eddy current (HFEC) inspection of the fork-end fittings of the wing upper skin stringers at the outboard side of the Wing Station 4155 joint, in accordance with Fokker Service Bulletin F27/57-64, Revision 1, dated March 28, 1990.

B. If cracks are found in the lower part of the fillet radius, prior to further flight, blend until there is no crack indication, but do not exceed a maximum depth of 2.5 mm, in accordance with Fokker Service Bulletin F27/57-64, Revision 1, dated March 28, 1990. If the crack is still present after maximum blending, the affected coupling rods must be replaced prior to further flight.

C. If cracks are found in the upper part of the fillet radius, replace the affected coupling rods, prior to further flight, in accordance with Fokker Service Bulletin F27/57-64, Revision 1, dated March 28, 1990.

D. An alternate means of compliance or adjustment of the compliance time, which provides an acceptable level of safety, may be used when approved by the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113, FAA, Northwest Mountain Region.

Note: The request should be forwarded through an FAA Principal Maintenance Inspector (PMI), who will either concur or comment and then send it to the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113.

E. Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with FAR 21.197 and 21.199 to operate airplanes to a base in order to comply with the requirements of this AD.

All persons affected by this directive who have not already received the appropriate service documents from the manufacturer may obtain copies upon request to Fokker Aircraft USA, Inc., 1199 N. Fairfax Street, Alexandria, Virginia 22314. These documents may be examined at the FAA, Northwest Mountain Region, Transport Airplane Directorate, 17900 Pacific Highway South, Seattle, Washington, or the Standardization Branch, 9010 East Marginal Way South, Seattle, Washington.

Issued in Seattle, Washington, on May 1, 1990.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background on the Indiana Program

The Secretary of the Interior conditionally approved the Indiana program, effective July 29, 1982. Information pertinent to the general background on the Indiana program, including the Secretary's findings, the disposition of comments, and a detailed explanation of the conditions of approval of the Indiana program can be found in the July 26, 1982 Federal Register (47 FR 32107). Subsequent actions concerning the conditions of approval and program amendments are identified at 30 CFR 914.10, 914.15, and 914.16.

II. Discussion of Amendments

The Indiana Department of Natural Resources (IDNR) submitted proposed amendments to the Indiana program at 310 Indiana Administrative Code (IAC) 12-5-29 and 310 IAC 12-5-94 (Administrative Record No. IND-0683). The proposed changes are briefly summarized below:

The amendment to 310 IAC 12-5-29 adds the words "pursuant to a lawful order of an agency or court order under IC 13-2-2.5 or another state water rights law" to the first sentence which requires replacement of water rights. The words "within a reasonable time" are deleted from the first sentence following the word "replace". A new sentence is added to the rule which states: Water replacement rights are not determined by this article. The proposed amendments to 310 IAC 12-5-94 are identical to the proposed changes to 310 IAC 12-5-29 discussed above. Other changes to 310 IAC 12-5-29 and 310 IAC 12-5-94 are stylistic. The Director is reopening the comment period for thirty days to provide additional opportunity for public comments on the proposed water rights and replacement amendment.

III. Public Comment Procedures

In accordance with the provisions of 30 CFR 732.17(h), OSM is now seeking comment on whether the amendments proposed by IDNR satisfy the requirements of 30 CFR 732.15 for the approval of State program amendments. If the amendments are deemed adequate, they will become part of the Indiana program.

Written Comments

Written Comments should be specific, pertain only to the issues proposed in this rulemaking, and include explanations in support of the commenter's recommendations. Comments received after the time indicated under "DATES" or at locations other than the Indianapolis Field Office will not necessarily be considered in the final rulemaking or included in the Administrative Record.

Public Hearing

Persons wishing to comment at the public hearing should contact the person listed under "FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT" by the close of business on May 23, 1990. If no one requests an opportunity to comment at a public hearing, the hearing will not be held.

Filing of a written statement at the time of the hearing is requested as it will greatly assist the transcriber.

Submission of written statements in advance of the hearing will allow OSM officials to prepare adequate responses and appropriate questions.

The public hearing will continue on the specified date until all persons scheduled to comment have been heard. Persons in the audience who have not been scheduled to comment and who wish to do so will be heard following those scheduled. The hearing will end after all persons scheduled to comment and persons present in the audience who wish to comment have been heard.

Public Meeting

If only one person requests an opportunity to comment at a hearing, a public meeting, rather than a public hearing, may be held. Persons wishing to meet with OSM representatives to discuss the proposed amendment may request a meeting at the Indianapolis Field Office by contacting the person listed under "FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT." All such meetings will be open to the public and, if possible, notices of meetings will be posted at the locations listed under "ADDRESSES." A written summary of each meeting will be included in the Administrative Record.

DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS

38 CFR Part 3

RIN 2900-AE22

Adjudication; Pensions, Compensation, Dependency: New and Material Evidence; Standard Definition

AGENCY: Department of Veterans Affairs.

ACTION: Proposed Rule

SUMMARY: The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) is proposing to amend its adjudication regulations to define the term "new and material evidence." This amendment is necessary to clarify the meaning of the term as it is used in the adjudication process. The intended effect of this amendment is to provide a standard definition of the term to guide the deliberations of VA decisionmakers and appellate reviewers.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before June 7, 1990. This change is proposed to be effective thirty days after the publication of the final rule. Comments will be available for inspection until June 18, 1990.

ADDRESSES: Interested persons are invited to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections regarding this change to the Secretary of Veterans Affairs (271A), Department of Veterans Affairs, 810 Vermont Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20420. All written comments received will be available for public inspection only in the Veterans Services Unit, room 132, at the above address and only between the hours of 8 am and 4:30 pm Monday through Friday (except holidays) until June 18, 1990.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Don England, Consultant, Regulations Staff, Compensation and Pension Service, Veterans Benefits Administration (202), Department of Veterans Affairs, 810 Vermont Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20420 (202) 233-3005.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: VA regulations provide that an original VA decision is binding upon the Department and is not subject to revision based on the same evidence, except by the proper appellate authorities, unless the decision is determined to be clearly and unmistakably erroneous or it gives rise to a difference of opinion among adjudicative agencies (38 CFR 3.104(a)). When notifying claimants that a prior decision remains in effect, we often advise them that the claim may be reopened only upon submission of "new and material evidence." That term has appeared in title 38, Code of Federal Regulations for many years without a formal definition.

Section 103 of Public Law 100-687 added new section 3008, dealing with reopened claims, to title 38, United States Code. Since that new section contains the term "new and material evidence" we are proposing a formal regulatory definition. The definition will be added at 38 CFR 3.156(a) and current paragraphs (a) and (b) of that section will be redesignated as paragraphs (b) and (c) respectively.

In order to qualify as "new" under the proposed definition, evidence, whether documentary, testimonial or in some other form, must be submitted to agency decisionmakers for the first time. For example, a veteran injured while on duty may not have realized immediately that the condition required medical attention and may have sought treatment later that evening from a private physician. A compensation claim might later be denied if the service medical records contain no mention of treatment for the condition. Should the claimant subsequently submit proof of treatment by the civilian physician, that information would constitute new evidence on which the claim could be reopened. On the other hand, a photocopy or other duplication of information already contained in the VA claims folder does not constitute new evidence since it was previously considered; neither does information confirming a point already established, such as a statement from a physician verifying the existence of a condition which has already been diagnosed and reported by another physician. Even though such a medical evaluation is from a different doctor, it offers no new basis on which the claim might be reopened unless it contains new information, such as evidence that the condition first manifested itself earlier than previously established.

In order to be considered "material" under the proposed definition, the additional information must also bear directly and substantially upon the specific matter under consideration. If, for example, VA has previously determined that a back condition claimed by a World War II veteran is not service-connected, evidence that the claimant received treatment shortly after release from active duty might be considered new and material if VA had previously been unaware of that treatment. However, information addressing only the current severity of the condition submitted now, over 40 years after service, would have no bearing on the issue of whether the condition was incurred or aggravated during military service and would not warrant reopening the prior claim. Likewise, statements and affidavits attesting to the claimant's good character since his or her release from active duty would be irrelevant if the issue were the character of the claimant's military service, but any new information offering mitigating circumstances for an action which resulted in an "other than honorable" discharge would address the specific issue under consideration and warrant reopening the claim.

A determination by VA that information constitutes "new and material evidence" means that the new information is significant enough, either by itself or in connection with evidence already of record, that it must be considered in order to fairly decide the merits of the claim. It does not mean as a matter of course that the evidence warrants a revision of a prior determination.

The Secretary hereby certifies that this regulatory amendment will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as they are defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA), 5 U.S.C. 601-612. The reason for this certification is that this amendment would not directly affect any small entities. Only VA beneficiaries could be directly affected. Therefore, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 605(b), this amendment is exempt from the initial and final regulatory flexibility analysis requirements of sections 603 and 604.

In accordance with Executive Order 12291, Federal Regulation, the Secretary has determined that this regulatory amendment is non-major for the following reasons:

- (1) It will not have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more.
- (2) It will not cause a major increase in costs or prices.
- (3) It will not have significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance program numbers are 64.100, 64.101, 64.104, 64.105, 64.108, 64.109 and 64.110.

PART 3—[AMENDED]

In § 3.156 existing paragraphs (a) and (b) are redesignated as paragraphs (b) and (c) and new paragraph (a) is added to read as follows:

§ 3.156 New and material evidence.

(a) "New and material evidence" means evidence not previously submitted to agency decisionmakers which bears directly and substantially upon the specific matter under consideration, which is neither cumulative nor redundant, and which by itself or in connection with evidence previously assembled is so significant that it must be considered in order to fairly decide the merits of the claim.

Foreign-Trade Zones Board

[Order No. 473]

Temporary Extension of Authority for Subzones 22C, 22D, and 22E, Chicago, IL

Pursuant to its authority under the Foreign-Trade Zones (FTZ) Act of June 18, 1934, as amended (19 U.S.C. 81a-81u), the Foreign-Trade Zones Board (the Board) adopts the following Order:

Whereas, on March 23, 1987, the Board conditionally approved an application submitted by the Illinois International Port District (IIPD), grantee of FTZ 22, for foreign-trade subzone status (SZ's 22C, D, and E) at the food products manufacturing plants of Power Packaging, Inc. (PPI), in Carol Stream (SZ 22C), West Chicago (SZ 22D), and

St. Charles (SZ 22E), Illinois (Board Order 347, 52 FR 10246);

Whereas, approval was subject to a 2-year time restriction (ending on 6/29/89), and a condition that limits the use of zone procedures to the manufacture of products that are subject to sugar-containing product quotas;

Whereas, on April 6, 1989, IIPD made application to the Board (FTZ Docket 4-89, 54 FR 15480) for a 2-year extension of authority;

Melamine From Japan; Determination Not To Revoke Antidumping Finding

AGENCY: International Trade Administration/Import Administration Department of Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of determination not to revoke antidumping finding.

SUMMARY: The Department of Commerce has determined not to revoke the antidumping finding on melamine from Japan because it continues to be of interest to interested parties.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 8, 1990.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Dennis Askey or John Kugelman, Office of Antidumping Compliance, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 377-3601.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On February 1, 1990, the Department of Commerce (the Department) published in the Federal Register (55 FR 3433) its intent to revoke the antidumping finding on melamine from Japan (42 FR 23683, February 2, 1977).

Additionally, as required by 19 CFR 353.25(d)(4)(ii), the Department served written notice of its intent to revoke this finding on each interested party listed on the service list. Interested parties who objected to the revocation were provided the opportunity to submit their comments no later than thirty days from the date of publication.

Scope of Finding

The United States, under the auspices of the Customs Cooperation Council, has developed a system of tariff classification based on the international harmonized system of customs nomenclature. On January 1, 1989, the United States fully converted to the Harmonized Tariff Schedule (HTS), as provided for in section 1201 et seq. of the Omnibus Trade and Competitiveness Act of 1988. All merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after that date is now classified solely according to the appropriate HTS item number(s).

Imports covered by this finding are shipments of melamine in crystal form, a fine white crystalline powder used to manufacture melamine formaldehyde resins. Through 1988 such merchandise was classifiable under item number 452.1020 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated. This merchandise is currently classifiable under HTS item number 2933.61.00. The HTS item number is provided for convenience and Customs purposes. The written description remains dispositive.

Determination Not To Revoke

The Department may revoke a finding if the Secretary of Commerce concludes that a finding is no longer of interest to interested parties. We received objections to our intent to revoke the antidumping finding on melamine from Japan.

Based on those objections by an interested party, the Department has concluded that the finding continues to be of interest to interested parties. Therefore, we are not revoking the antidumping finding on melamine from Japan in accordance with 19 CFR 353.25(d)(4)(iii).

This notice is in accordance with 19 CFR 353.25(d)(4)(iii).

Dated: April 30, 1990.

Amendment to Final Results of Antidumping Duty Administrative Review: Certain Valves and Connections, of Brass, for Use in Fire Protection Systems From Italy

AGENCY: International Trade Administration, Import Administration, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of amendment to final results of antidumping duty administrative review.

SUMMARY: On March 9, 1990, the Department of Commerce published the final results of its administrative review of the antidumping duty order on certain valves and connections, of brass, for use in fire protection systems from Italy. The review covers the period from March 1, 1988 through February 28, 1989.

After publication of our final results of antidumping duty administrative review, we received comments from Rubinetteria A. Giacomini, S.p.A. ("Giacomini") alleging ministerial errors. We have reviewed Giacomini's comments and agree that there were two ministerial errors in the final results. We have corrected the ministerial errors and have amended the final results.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 8, 1990.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mark Wells or Bradford Ward, Office of Antidumping Investigations, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 377-3798 or (202) 377-5288, respectively.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On March 9, 1990, the Department published in the Federal Register (55 FR 8972) the final results of its administrative review of the antidumping duty order on certain valves and connections, of brass, for use in fire protection systems from Italy.

After publication of our final results of antidumping duty administrative review, we received comments from Giacomini alleging ministerial errors. Pursuant to § 353.28 of the Commerce Department regulations published in the Federal Register on March 9, 1990 (55 FR 9046) (to be codified at 19 CFR 353.28), petitioner had the opportunity to submit comments in response to Giacomini's allegations within business five days. We received no comments from petitioner.

Section 1333(b) of the Omnibus Trade and Competitiveness Act of 1988, which amended section 751 of the Tariff Act of 1930 ("the Act"), authorizes Commerce to establish procedures for the correction of ministerial errors in the final determinations issued by the Department. The law defines the term "ministerial error" to include errors in addition, subtraction, or other arithmetic functions, or clerical errors resulting from inaccurate copying, duplication, or the like, and any other type of unintentional error which the administering authority considers ministerial. In accordance with section 751(e) of the Act, we have reviewed Giacomini's comments and agree that there were two ministerial errors in the final results. Accordingly, we have corrected the ministerial errors and have amended the final results of administrative review for Giacomini for the period March 1, 1988 through February 28, 1989.

Ministerial Errors

We have corrected the following ministerial errors in our margin calculations for Giacomini for the period March 1, 1988 through February 28, 1989:

1. The weighted-average cost of manufacturing information and the weighted-average unit sales value information were not based on comparable products, which resulted in incorrect profit percentage calculations. Additionally, the unit sales values included models for which the Department did not have cost of manufacturing information. As a result, the Department was unable to determine a profit amount for those sales. Accordingly, the profit figures used in calculating the constructed value amounts were revised to include only model types sold in the third country which were comparable to the products sold in the United States and for which the Department had cost of manufacturing information. For purposes of calculating the constructed value of these third country models, we revised the weighted-average unit sales values, inland freight, imputed credit and direct selling expenses to include only those models for which we had cost of manufacturing information.

Additionally, the costs of manufacturing amounts for these models were revised to include the verified 1988-1989 weighted-average costs instead of the 1988 cost data originally submitted by Giacomini for each of the model types.

2. One third country model was inadvertently used in the calculation of the weighted-average foreign market value for one U.S. sale. This model was not comparable to the other models used to calculate the foreign market value for the product in question, and should not have been used in the calculation of foreign market value. We removed this model from the third country sales listing and used the appropriate remaining third country sales to calculate the weighted-average foreign market value for the U.S. sale in question.

Amended Final Results of Review

We have amended the final results of review as follows:

Manufacturer/exporter	Time period	Previous margin (%)	Amended margin (%)
Rubinetten A. Giacomini, S.p.A.	03/01/88-02/28/89	4.51	3.08

The cost of performance for the first 12 months is $165,000 in Federal funds and a minimum of $29,118 in non-Federal contributions for the budget period October 1, 1990 to September 30, 1991. Cost-sharing contributions may be in the form of cash contributions, client fees for services, in-kind contributions, or combinations thereof. The MBDC will operate in the Salinas, California geographic service area.

The I.D. Number for this project will be 09-10-90006-01.

The funding instrument for the MBDC will be a cooperative agreement.

Competition is open to individuals, non-profit and for-profit organizations, state and local governments, American Indian tribes and educational institutions.

The MBDC program is designed to provide business development services to the minority business community for the establishment and operation of viable minority businesses. To this end, MBDA funds organizations that can coordinate and broker public and private resources on behalf of minority individuals and firms; offer a full range of management and technical assistance; and serve as a conduit of information and assistance regarding minority business.

Applications will be evaluated on the following criteria: the experience and capabilities of the firm and its staff in addressing the needs of the business community in general and, specifically, the special needs of minority businesses, individuals and organizations (50 points); the resources available to the firm in providing business development services (10 points); the firm's approach (techniques and methodology) to performing the work requirements including in the application (20 points); and the firm's estimated cost for providing such assistance (20 points). An application must receive at least 70% of the points assigned to any one evaluation criteria category to be considered programmatically acceptable and responsive.

MBDCs shall be required to contribute at least 15% of the total project cost through non-Federal contributions. Client fees for billable management and technical assistance (M&TA) rendered must be charged by MBDCs. Based on a standard rate of $50 per hour, MBDCs will charge client fees at 20% of the total cost for firms with gross sales of $500,000 or less and 35% of the total cost for firms with gross sales of over $500,000.

The MBDC may continue to operate, after the initial competitive year, for up to 2 additional budget periods. Periodic reviews culminating in year-to-date quantitative and qualitative evaluations will be conducted to determine if funding for the project should continue. Continued funding will be at the discretion of MBDA based on such factors as an MBDC's satisfactory performance, the availability of funds and Agency priorities.

CLOSING DATE: The closing date for applications is June 15, 1990. Applications must be postmarked on or before June 15, 1990.

Endangered Species; Application for Permit; Steven P. Cramer (P465)

Notice is hereby given that the Applicant has applied in due form for a Permit to take endangered species as authorized by the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. 1531-1543) and the National Marine Fisheries Service regulations governing endangered fish and wildlife permits (50 CFR part 217-222).

1. Applicant:

Steven P. Cramer, Fisheries Consultant, 1140 NW Walnut Blvd., Corvallis, OR 97330.

2. Type of Permit: Scientific purposes.

3. Name and Number of Species:

Chinook salmon (Oncorhynchus tshawytscha) up to 32,800.

4. Type of Take: The applicant proposes to conduct mark-recapture studies of juvenile winter chinook salmon to determine the factors influencing their survival as they pass the Glenn-Colusa Irrigation District (GCID) screened diversion on the Sacramento River near Hamilton City. The study plan calls for capture, cold branding, and release of up to 12.8K juvenile winter chinook. This sample size is the calculated optimum for determining loss rate through the oxbow channel at two different flows. It is unlikely that the applicant will capture enough fish to reach this ideal sample size. The application expects that 10% to 20% of these fish will be recaptured once after being marked and released. Additionally, 500 to 20K juveniles will be captured, examined for marks and released. Some fish will be recaptured and re-released.

5. Location and Duration of Activity: Winter chinook will be sampled when they begin emerging from the gravel in mid-July and continue through October. The rotary screw trap will be fished at a fixed location at the lower end of the oxbow channel from which GCID diverts water from the Sacramento River.

Written data or views, or requests for a public hearing on this application should be submitted to the Assistant Administrator for Fisheries, National Marine Fisheries Service, U.S. Department of Commerce, 1335 East West Hwy., room 7324, Silver Spring, Maryland 20910, within 30 days of the publication of this notice. Those individuals requesting a hearing should set forth the specific reasons why a hearing on this particular application would be appropriate. The holding of such hearing is at the discretion of the Assistant Administrator for Fisheries. All statements and opinions contained in this application are summaries of those of the Applicant and do not necessarily reflect the views of the National Marine Fisheries Service.

Type of Take: The Red Bluff biologists propose to take up to 5000 juvenile Sacramento River winter-run chinook salmon by seining, fykenetting, trawling and push-netting in the course of fishery monitoring and studies. The salmon will be examined for biological growth data, smoltification and health; up to 50 adult chinook salmon will be taken by electrofishing, drift gill-netting and by use of the upstream migrant fish trap. These adult salmon will be fitted with an externally attached radio telemetry transmitter; and up to 6,000 fertilized winter-run salmon eggs will be taken in equal proportions from each of five one male-to one-female matings (i.e., about 1200 eggs from each female) to be spawned at Coleman National Fish Hatchery near Anderson, CA during the months of May through August. All fish will be released at the capture site immediately after data is collected.

The Stockton Office biologists propose to take up to 100 juvenile chinook salmon by seining and trawling in the course of fishery monitoring. These salmon will be counted, measured and examined in the field, for biological data on growth, smoltification and fish health. Immediately after data is collected the fish will be returned alive to the river at site of capture.

5. Location and Duration of Activity:

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Idaho Operations Office; Grant and Cooperative Agreement Awards; University of California, San Diego

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

SUMMARY:

Research and Development of Superconducting Gravimeter for Geothermal Technology

The Department of Energy, Idaho Operations Office, intends to award a grant noncompetitively to the University of California, San Diego, for the continued development of a superconducting gravimeter which will have sufficient sensitivity to model fluid movement within geothermal reservoirs. The award will be for approximately $85,000. The project is expected to be completed by October 30, 1992. The statutory authority for the proposed award is the Geothermal Research, Development, and Demonstration Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-40). The proposed highly specialized work is a continuation of previous development sponsored by DOE. Understanding movement of fluids within a reservoir is vital to the prediction of reservoir productivity and lifetime and is needed in order to properly manage geothermal fields. These activities will further advance the knowledge, and ultimately encourage the utilization of an environmentally benign renewable energy source that will help reduce dependence upon foreign energy sources and help to reduce atmospheric pollution. The renewal of this noncompetitive assistance is justified under subparagraph (A) of criteria listed in 10 CFR part 600, § 600.7, as follows: (A) The activity to be funded is necessary to the satisfactory competition of, or is a continuation or renewal of, an activity presently being funded by DOE or another Federal agency, and for which competition for support would have a significant adverse effect on continuity or completion of the activity.

Truckline Gas Co., et al., Natural Gas Certificate Filings

May 1, 1990.

Take notice that the following filings have been made with the Commission:

[Docket No. CP90-1246-000]

Take notice that on April 25, 1990, Truckline Gas Company (Truckline), P.O. Box 1642 Houston, Texas 77251-1642, filed in Docket No. CP90-1246-000 a request pursuant to §§ 157.205 and 284.223 of the Commission's Regulations under the Natural Gas Act for authorization to transport natural gas under its blanket certificate issued in Docket No. CP86-585-000 pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, all as more fully set forth in the request on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Truckline proposes to transport natural gas for PSI, Inc. (PSI). Truckline explains that service initially commenced October 1, 1987, under § 284.106 of the Commission's Regulations, as reported in Docket No. ST89-524. Truckline explains that PSI has requested that such transportation service be performed under section 284.223. Truckline states other than this change, there would be no change in the service performed for PSI.

Truckline further explains that the peak day quantity would be 250,000 dekatherms, the average daily quantity would be 100,000 dekatherms, and that the annual quantity would be 45,625,000 dekatherms. Truckline explains that it would receive natural gas for PSI's account at existing points of receipt in the states of Illinois, Louisiana, Tennessee, and Texas, from the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company receipt in Douglas County, Illinois, and from the areas of Offshore Louisiana and Texas. Truckline states that it would transport and redeliver the natural gas to Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation in Beauregard Parish, Louisiana. Truckline states that service under Section 284.223 commenced on February 1, 1990, as reported in Docket No. ST90-2000.

Comment date: June 15, 1990, in accordance with Standard Paragraph G at the end of this notice.

Take notice that on April 25, 1990, Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation (Tetco), One Houston Center, Houston, Texas 77010-2070, and United Gas Pipe Line Company (United), 600 Travis Street, Houston, Texas 77002, jointly referred as Applicants, filed a joint application in Docket No. CP90-1248-000, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, to implement a service agreement dated April 12, 1990, between the Applicants which modifies the sales service from United to Tetco covered under a previous service agreement, as amended, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicants state that United was authorized to sell to Tetco up to a maximum daily quantity (MDQ) of 600,000 Mcf pursuant to the Commission's order issued September 30, 1985, in Docket No. CP85-368-000. It is stated that the service agreement implementing the authorization provided for three primary delivery points and six secondary delivery points. Applicants also state that the service agreement provides that Tetco is contractually entitled to reduce the MDQ by up to 100,000 Mcf each November 1 upon given appropriate notice.

It is then stated that on July 6, 1988, the Commission issued an order authorizing a reduced certificated level of 400,000 Mcf per day and a reduced D-1 billing determinant to 400,000 Mcf per day. It is then indicated that since that time disputes have occurred between United and Tetco involving, inter alia, the currently effective service agreement.

Applicants state that they have now executed a service agreement dated April 12, 1990, which resolves these disputes. Under the new agreement, Applicants have agreed to the following: (1) Establishes effective November 1, 1989, a new service level of 300,000 Mcf per day, along with reductions in the maximum daily delivery obligations at each of the three primary delivery points; (2) establishes a November 1, 1991, termination date of the new service agreement; (3) resolves all disputes and renders moot and filings pertaining to the existing service agreement; (4) requires the withdrawal of Texas Eastern's filing in Docket No. CP89-1572-000 subject to execution by the parties and any necessary regulatory approval of the revised service agreement; (5) requires the withdrawal of United's lawsuit against Texas Eastern in the District Court of Harris County, Texas, Cause No. 89-13297; and (6) requires United to file the required tariff sheet to implement the change in Tetco's MDQ.

To implement the April 12, 1990, service agreement, Applicants request authorization to reduce Tetco's MDQ from 400,000 Mcf to 300,000 Mcf and to modify Tetco's Maximum daily delivery obligations as detailed in the service agreement and to abandon the revised service agreement effective November 1, 1990. No abandonment of facilities is proposed.

Centers for Disease Control

National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health; Health and Safety Programs for Construction Work

Introduction

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC), National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), solicits cooperative agreement applications for health and safety programs for construction work that involve evaluation of work-related injuries and diseases, data management and analysis, and intervention activities.

Authority

The legislative authority for this program is contained in section 20 of the Occupational Safety and Health Act (29 U.S.C. 669(a)(1)).

Eligible Applicants

Eligible applicants include non-profit and for-profit organizations and State and local governments. Applicants must have ongoing activities related to construction workers and be either organizations with joint labor-management agreements, occupational medicine clinics with established linkages with labor/management organizations, or State or local health departments with established linkages with labor/management organizations. One or more organizations may be subcontractors to the applicant organization in order to address certain "Recipient Activities" under Program Requirements for which the applicant organization does not have expertise or resources. Collaboration between the above different types of organizations to submit a joint application is strongly encouraged.

Available of funds

It is anticipated that $500,000 will be available for the first year of this program to support 5-7 cooperative agreement awards. The average award will be $85,000. Project periods may be up to 5 years, depending on availability of funds, with budget periods of 12 months. The award sizes will decrease in each succeeding year.

Purpose

The purpose is to address the hazards that construction workers face on the job. The program is intended to provide coordination and targeting, at locations of the country where construction work is a major activity, of efforts to identify, evaluate, and control work-related risks that otherwise would cause adverse effects among the exposed workers.

Program Requirements

1. Recipient Activities: Build a capability in locations of the country where construction work is a major activity to accomplish the following:

a. Demonstrate the ability to perform clinical evaluations of workers employed in the construction industry for suspect occupational diseases or injuries.

b. Create systematic, confidential computer reporting systems that provide (1) Consistent documentation of specific occupational diseases and injuries of workers employed in the construction industry, (2) medical and occupational histories for individual workers who report to the clinic, and (3) continuous reporting of findings to the appropriate State government and to NIOSH.

c. Perform on-site evaluations of factors that are potentially responsible for the illness or injury. (To demonstrate to NIOSH the applicant's ability to gain access to the worksites to perform such evaluations, a written statement must be provided in the applications demonstrating unimpeded access to worksites as a result of existing State or local regulations or labor-management agreements.)

d. Provide technical consultation, education material, and training to workers and employers on the exposure situations that are observed to be potentially hazardous, and follow-up at appropriate times to determine what actions have been taken to prevent future occurrences.

e. Either directly or by interaction with qualified persons, including NIOSH staff, design and conduct demonstration projects of intervention approaches to determine the effectiveness of the interventions and show the general utility of the approaches in other similar settings (e.g., fall protection, hearing conservation, motor vehicle safety, and respiratory protection).

f. Analyze data collected and disseminate summary information semiannually to workers, employers, and primary care providers in the area.

2. NIOSH Activities: a. Provide consultation and technical assistance in all phases of development, implementation and evaluation of these programs.

b. Provide guidance on the occupational conditions appropriate for reporting and intervention.

c. Provide technical assistance in defining survey instruments for evaluation of work histories, the work site, and the overall program itself. Also assist in defining the computer data bases that will be used to record, analyze, and transfer data. (Projects funded through a Cooperative Agreement that involve collection of information from 10 or more individuals will be subject to review under the Paperwork Reduction Act.)

d. Provide information and guidance for intervention activities that are developed in response to situations that arise.

e. Provide technical assistance in formulating plans for information dissemination.

Evaluation Criteria

Applications will be reviewed and evaluated by a dual review process. The initial review will be for scientific merit and conducted by an appropriate ad hoc peer review group. The secondary review for programmatic relevance will be made by an internal NIOSH committee.

Factors considered to be important for review include scientific significance of the project, adequacy of the methodology proposed to carry out the research, competence of the proposed staff in relation to the type of project involved, feasibility of the project, likelihood of its producing meaningful results, appropriateness of the proposed project period, adequacy of the applicant's resources available for the project, appropriateness of the budget request, availability of subject population(s) when applicable, and evidence of willingness to work cooperatively with appropriate federal staff.

Applicants must agree to finance an increasing share of the project cost from their own resources for each succeeding year.

Applicants must also give evidence of the existence of collaborative agreements among labor and management organizations to accomplish the objectives of the proposals.

Funding Priorities

It is anticipated that at least one award will be made to each of the types of organizations listed under Eligible Applicants, contingent on the receipt of meritorious applications.

Executive Order 12372 Review

Applications are not subject to review as governed by Executive Order 12372, Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs.

Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance Number

The Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance number is 13.262.

Implementation of Occupational Safety and Health Prevention Strategies; National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health

Introduction

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC), National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), solicits cooperative agreement applications for implementation of the "Proposed National Strategies for the Prevention of Leading Work-Related Diseases and Injuries." The purpose of the strategies is to provide guidance for a national initiative to reduce or eliminate problems associated with the workplace including the generation of knowledge about the risks and solutions to the HIV/AIDS hazard among certain worker groups. This initiative involves all parties interested in occupational safety and health matters, including government, academia, industry, labor, insurance companies, and the legal system. NIOSH proposes to stimulate cooperation with outside organizations that can contribute to the initiative.

Authority: The legislative authority for this program is contained in section 20 of the Occupational Safety and Health Act (29 U.S.C. 669(a)(1)) and section 501(e) of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Amendments Act of 1977 (30 U.S.C. 951).

Eligible Applicants

Eligible applicants include non-profit and for-profit organizations which have an established network of health and safety professions that cover the spectrum of scientific disciplines and occupational concerns reflected in the "Proposed National Strategies." (Information on this report may be obtained from the individuals listed under "Where to Obtain Additional Information" section.) Eligible applicants may enter into contracts, including consortia agreements (as described in PHS Grants Policy Statement), as necessary to meet the requirements of this program and to strengthen the overall application.

Availability of Funds

Approximately $200,000 is available in this Fiscal year to fund one Cooperative Agreement. It is anticipated that between four to six component projects will be funded under this one agreement. Of the total $200,000 available, $100,000 will be for projects specifically related to HIV infection. The award will be made with 12 month budget periods within a project period of up to 5 years. Continuation awards within the project period are made on the basis of satisfactory progress and the availability of funds.

Program Requirements

1. Recipient—From among the following types of activities, applicants should propose to address those areas that are within the interests and strengths of their organizations:

- Develop surveillance methods to identify and report problems that are not well defined at present. Seek information on new technologies and new occupations to predict hazards that may be associated with them. Profile changes that are occurring in industry and occupational safety and health. Evaluate the effectiveness of surveillance methods in directing the optimum prevention measures and in measuring the impact of prevention.
- Develop knowledge through scientific research that is needed to accomplish the prevention steps defined in the "Proposed National Strategies" and to address the HIV/AIDS concerns. Conduct research on sampling and analysis of hazardous agents in the workplace, characterizing exposures, determining relationships between exposures and effects, understanding the mechanisms of disease, defining early stages of diseases, and developing controls or substitutes for hazardous agents.

c. Define and demonstrate good work practices to eliminate exposure to hazards. Develop communication models for informing management and labor of the nature of the work hazards and for modifying attitudes and behavior.

d. Meet annually with NIOSH representatives in Atlanta, Georgia, to discuss progress, exchange information, and to seek means of resolving problems which have arisen. Applicants should include travel funds in the proposal for this annual meeting.

e. Publish results of research in the appropriate scientific literature. (Projects funded through a Cooperative Agreement that involve collection of information from 10 or more individuals will be subject to review under the Paperwork Reduction Act.)

2. NIOSH—Representatives from NIOSH will assist, advise, and interact with the successful applicant in the following ways:

a. Provide consultation and technical assistance in planning, conducting, and evaluating prevention-related activities.

b. Provide scientific information related to the proposed research topics.

c. Meet annually with recipient in Atlanta, Georgia, to discuss progress, exchange information, and seek means of resolving problems which have arisen.

d. Collaborate in the development of surveillance methods for discovering and documenting problems that are not yet well defined.

e. Assist in predicting hazards that may be associated with new technologies and new occupations and characterize changes that are occurring in industry and occupation safety and health.

f. Assist in determining the effectiveness of surveillance methods in directing the optimum prevention measures and in measuring the impact of prevention.

g. Provide technical assistance in conducting scientific research.

h. Assist in the dissemination of information about good work practices to eliminate exposure to hazards.

i. Assist in encouraging schools of business and engineering to address more definitively the training of students in the recognition of work hazards and the need for prevention.

Evaluation Criteria

Applications will be reviewed and evaluated by a dual review process. The initial review will be for scientific merit and conducted by an appropriate ad hoc peer review group. The second review for programmatic relevance will be made by an internal NIOSH committee.

Factors considered to be important for review include scientific significance of the project, adequacy of the methodology proposed to carry out the research, competence of the proposed staff in relation to the type of project involved, feasibility of the project, likelihood of its producing meaningful results, appropriateness of the proposed project period, adequacy of the applicant's resources available for the project, appropriateness of the budget request, availability of subject population(s) when applicable, and evidence of willingness to work cooperatively with appropriate federal staff.

Applicants must also give evidence of the existence of a network of health and safety professionals within the organization who can address the range of issues covered in the "Proposed National Strategies."

Funding Priorities

Preference will be given to applications that are written to address broadly-based, multidisciplinary, research programs which have specific major objectives or basic themes. Each program should be directed toward a range of problems having a central focus, in contrast to independent unrelated projects.

Executive Order 12372 Review

Fish and Wildlife Service

Availability of Draft Environmental Assessment and Land Protection Plan; Proposed Dahomey National Wildlife Refuge, Bolivar County, MS

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Notice of availability of the draft environmental assessment and land protection plan for the proposed establishment of Dahomey National Wildlife Refuge.

SUMMARY: This Notice advises the public that the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Southeast Region, proposes to establish a national wildlife refuge in Bolivar County, Mississippi. The purpose of the proposal is to provide protection and management for wintering waterfowl and other wildlife on approximately 12,000 acres of wetlands and associated habitats in the area. A Draft Environmental Assessment and Land Protection Plan has been developed by Service biologists in coordination with representatives from the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks; Ducks Unlimited; and the Mississippi Chapter of The Nature Conservancy, to consider the biological, environmental, and socioeconomic effects of acquiring 12,000 acres of waterfowl habitat in the area and establishing a national wildlife refuge. In the assessment, three alternatives and their potential impacts upon the environment are evaluated. Written comments or recommendations concerning the proposal are welcomed, and should be sent to the address below.

DATES: Land acquisition planning for the project is currently underway. The draft assessment and land protection plan will be available to the public on May 14, 1990. Written comments must be received no later than June 30, 1990, to be considered.

ADDRESSES: Comments and requests for copies of the assessment and further information should be addressed to: Mr. Charles Danner, Chief, Project Development Branch, Office of Refuges and Wildlife, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 75 Spring Street, SW., room 1240, Atlanta, Georgia 30303.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Dahomey Plantation has been identified as one of the top four acquisition sites in Mississippi needed to help meet the goals of the North American Water Management Program (NAWMP). The Mississippi Delta has experienced wide scale habitat destruction and Dahomey Plantation represents the last remaining woodlands of any significance in the northern delta. The proposed refuge lands provide excellent waterfowl management potential through greentree reservoir development and retention of water in agricultural fields. The area would be a natural stop off for Canada geese traveling between refuges to the north and Yazoo National Wildlife Refuge. Since the area is in close proximity to the Mississippi River, migratory waterfowl should immediately begin to utilize the refuge as management commences.

The 8,500 acres of bottomland hardwood habitat within the proposed acquisition boundary also support a large deer herd and other game species including turkey, squirrel, and rabbit. Bobcat, coyote, mink, beaver, raccoon, and otter are the primary furbearers. The Dahomey woods, which are the largest in this part of the delta, serve as both a temporary home during migration and a permanent home for many species of passerine birds. The adjoining rice and bean fields offer similar habitat to many species of shore birds, wading birds, and waterfowl.

Dated: April 24, 1990.

James W. Pulliam, Jr.,
Regional Director.

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET*Federal Procurement Policy Office*Federal Construction Contractors; Private Bonding Markets; Access Improvement

AGENCY: Office of Federal Procurement Policy (OFPP).

ACTION: Solicitation of public comments on OFPP Task Group Report on Surety Bond Associations.

SUMMARY: Over the past several months, various Congressional and private sector interests have encouraged OFPP to consider alternatives to present bonding practices associated with Federal construction contracts. One of the main alternatives recommended was to allow individuals to form associations and have the associations issue bonds.

In response to that proposal, OFPP convened a small interagency task group to specifically consider the "surety association concept". The task group report is printed below for your review and comment.

It should be noted that the comment period on OFPP's February 8, 1990 solicitation of public comments and suggestions to improve access to private bonding markets for Federal construction contractors, has recently closed. Those comments are in the process of evaluation.

COMMENT DATE: Comments must be received on or before July 9, 1990.

ADDRESS AND INFORMATION CONTACT: Comments should be sent to Carol Dennis, Deputy Associate Administrator, Office of Federal Procurement Policy, Office of Management and Budget, Room 9001, New Executive Office Building, Washington, DC 20503. Information or questions may be addressed to Ms. Dennis on (202) 395-3300, 395-6810.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION*Background

Surety bonds (performance and payment bonds) are required by the Miller Act (40 U.S.C. 270a-270d) prior to the award of any Federal construction contract in excess of $25,000. The performance bond protects the United States in the event the prime contractor defaults. The payment bond protects suppliers and subcontractors by assuring that they will be paid for labor and materials furnished for the contract. Surety bonds are provided by corporations (generally insurance companies) and by individuals. Most states regulate corporations writing surety bonds under insurance statutes. The states generally do not regulate individuals who write surety bonds.

The Federal Procurement Data System (FPDS) shows for FY 88 that over $8.5 billion were obligated via some 15,200 separate actions for construction contracts requiring bonds. Contracts of $5 million or less comprised 60 percent of the dollars obligated and over 95 percent of the contract actions.

Small contractors, particularly small minority contractors, have traditionally had difficulty in obtaining corporate surety bonds. This problem has worsened in the last several years as corporate insurers have tightened eligibility criteria for bonds and for liability insurance in general. As a result, more and more small businesses are using individual sureties in lieu of corporate sureties.

However, only limited data are available on who uses individual sureties, the extent of their usage, and the amount of losses that have resulted from their use. A recent General Accounting Office (GAO) study which reported data from only two agencies, General Services Administration and the Department of Veterans Affairs, found individual surety usage in the ranges of 1.5 percent to 13.1 percent, with increases apparent between 1987 and 1988.

Prior to February 26, 1990, the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) provisions did not provide adequate guidance to assist contracting officers in determining the acceptability of bonds secured by individuals. This resulted in several instances where some contractors and suppliers (in situations where the prime contractor had defaulted) were not able to collect money owed to them because the assets pledged by individual sureties were improperly valued, nonexistent, or not liquid. Revised FAR provisions, which became effective on February 26, 1990, were developed to correct these problems.

The revised FAR provisions will ensure that individual surety bonds, accepted by the Government on future contracts, are sound. It is expected, however, that the revised provisions will reduce the number of individuals interested in serving as individual sureties. Accordingly, the difficulties small businesses have in obtaining bonding may increase. Although these difficulties may be lessened by the Preferred Surety Bond Guarantee Program for small businesses, established by title II of Public Law 100-950, various Congressional and private sector interests have encouraged OFPP to consider bonds, backed by associations.

Report on Surety Associations

A surety bond association task group was established by OFPP in December 1989. Agencies and departments participating in the group were Treasury, Navy, Small Business Administration, and General Services Administration.

The purpose of the task group was to review and develop the "surety association concept" recommended by the various Congressional and private sector interests. Elements of the association concept considered by the task group are provided below.

The following views relative to the association concept reflect the opinion of the task group as to the minimum requirements for testing the association concept through a pilot program, if it is to be tested. Not all members of the task group, however, share the view that the concept should be tested.

Philosophy

The working philosophy underlying the task group approach was to be responsive to private sector and Congressional requests to try the association concept. However, the group wanted to ensure that sufficient financial reserves were available to both protect the Government from risk of default, and provide protection to subcontractors, suppliers, and others who might have to rely upon bonds provided by associations.

The philosophy of the task force was to allow the market and the private sector as much freedom as possible in structuring associations, as long as medium financial and other criteria were met.

Federal Executive Agent (FEA)

The association pilot test would require the appointment of a Federal executive agent (FEA) to write implementation procedures and to conduct the test. The procedures would comply with the policies outlined herein:

The FEA should solicit participation in the pilot program by:

(1) Publishing an announcement of the program and its procedures in the Federal Register;

(2) Contacting industry groups that have shown interest in bonding issues; and

(3) Familiarizing agency contracting officials and officers with the proposal.

The FEA would approve associations for the purpose of issuing Miller Act bonds, would maintain a list of approved associations, and be responsible for the audit, review, and evaluation of the surety associations. The FEA would review the written by-laws, rules, and procedures of all associations prior to approving them. It is anticipated that the FEA would ask other Federal agencies to participate in the review of the financial information provided by the associations.

The FEA in approving an association would retain the same flexibility and broad discretion as does the Treasury Department in deciding whether to place firms on its list of approved corporate sureties. The review of an association would go not only to the association as an entity but also to its members. Misrepresentations as to financial worth, failure to honor past obligations, evidence of a lack of integrity (including indictment), etc., are all reasons to deny approval. Similar to the Treasury list, the U.S. Government would assume no liability for the obligations of an approved association.

An approved association would immediately lose its approved status and be withdrawn from the approved list for the duration of the pilot program upon a written finding by the FEA that cause exists. The cause for withdrawal could be the same basis as would have initially precluded approval had the issue surfaced earlier. The FEA would have broad discretion, but cannot act arbitrarily and capriciously, to deny or withdraw approval. Removal from the approved list would be automatic and require no written finding if certain financial requirements were abrogated (see financial requirements below).

The FEA would administer the pilot program for a period of two years from the effective date of the implementing procedures, with an option for a one-year extension. The OFPP would have the option of terminating the program at any time if it determines such action appropriate or in the best interest of the public.

Association Financial Requirements

Initial Capitalization

A proposed association would require an initial funding of $2 million. The $2 million or "Capital Fund" (CF) would be in cash, cash equivalents, or readily marketable securities acceptable to the FEA, and would be placed in an escrow account with a federally insured financial institution in the name of the FEA. The existence of a CF at a minimum level of $2 million would be a condition precedent to an association being on the approved list. If at any time the CF would fall below $2 million, the association would be automatically removed from the approved list and would be unable to transact any new business. Previously incurred obligations, duties, and liabilities of the association would remain.

Individual Financial Requirements

There would be a minimum net worth requirement for membership in an association. A member would designate assets to be included in the calculation of the member's net worth for association purposes. Fifty thousand dollars is the minimum net worth amount required to be designated by each member. Any designated asset must meet the asset acceptability guidelines as established by the FAR for individual sureties.

Membership agreements would clearly inform each individual of the Federal criminal penalties chargeable against an individual for providing false financial information.

Loss Reserves

A "Reserve Fund" (RF) would be established as a reserve for losses. A separate "fund" would be established for each "open" calendar year. Fifty percent of the gross written premiums (before agent commissions) would be deposited into this reserve fund. The remaining 50 percent of the gross written premiums would be retained by the association for their use and disposition.

At six month intervals after the end of the first calendar year, an actuary acceptable to the FEA would determine the reserves necessary to cover losses on the calendar year business. Amounts in the fund, in excess of the required reserves, would be distributed back to the association.

If an actuary determines the RF is underfunded, the association would be responsible for immediately funding the shortfall.

Should an actuary be unable to satisfactorily determine the necessary level of reserves, due to a lack of historical experience or other reasons, the RF would remain open and no funds distributed until such time as an acceptable actuarial opinion was obtained.

Association's net worth

An association's net worth would be defined as the central fund (CF) plus 50 percent of the members' combined designated net worth. The association's net worth shall be updated and certified quarterly, unless an individual member's designated net worth changed so dramatically as to require an immediate update and re-certification.

Bonding Limit

An association would be limited to writing individual risks not to exceed 10 percent of the association's net worth. Additionally, only contracts $5 million and under would be eligible to be bonded.

Exposure Limit

The association's total exposure limit would be six times (6x) the association's net worth. Exposure is defined as total penal amount outstanding (without diminution).

Bond Forms

For purposes of any pilot program, an association would use SF 24, 25, 25(a), 1414, and 1415; the appropriate association data would be inserted into the blanks now used for corporations.

Data Requirements

The following data would be provided by an association to the FEA. Some of the data would be required for the application process, other data would be submitted on a quarterly or annual basis for the FEA to review and evaluate.

Application Data

- (1) Certification of compliance with applicable state laws for surety bonding.
- (2) Copy of Charter or articles of association, by-laws, and other operating procedures.
- (3) Name of association members.
- (4) Financial data.
- (5) Any other such information as the FEA may require.

Quarterly Reporting Data

- (1) List of bonds issued—to include principal, surety, obligee, amount, duration, and contract or solicitation number.
- (2) Minutes of business meetings and any changes to charters, etc.
- (3) Schedule of rates charged for bonds, i.e., the range of rates.
- (4) List of trouble notices, defaults, claim payments, contract completions and bonds in force.
- (5) Internal quarterly financial statement and certification as to association and member net worth.
- (6) Other program information as required by the FEA (for instance data on minority or small business usage) and permitted by law.

Annual reporting data

An Audited financial statement would be required to be submitted to the FEA, annually.

Structure of Association/Members

There would be no restriction as to the number of associations that could participate.

Membership in an association would be restricted to 15 or fewer members so that the association would be able to maintain adequate oversight of its membership.

As part of an application package to the FEA, an association would submit a written certification that it and its membership are in compliance with all applicable state laws regarding the issuance of surety bonds. The association would also indicate for informational purposes the states in which it intended to do business.

Bonding Issues

The association would be limited to writing only those bonds required by a Federal agency pursuant to the Miller Act. The contracting officer would have the same right in dealing with an association as in dealing with an individual surety to decrease the bond if the project so warrants.

The task group decided against placing a cap on the premiums charged by an association and against having the Federal agent charge an administrative fee to the association. The FEA would have the right at the end of any pilot project to review this issue.

Mechanics of Program Development

Each surety association would be responsible for developing the rules and procedures governing the internal workings of the association provided that certain minimal standards as articulated by the FEA are met.

Association and member liability

An association would be completely liable for all obligations of the association. (The U.S. Government would not be liable for any obligations of an association.) In addition, each association member would be jointly and severally liable, up to the amount of the member's designated net worth, for all obligations an association incurred while that individual was a member.

National Market System Plan

Pursuant to Rule 11Aa3-2 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act"), notice is hereby given that on April 18, 1990, the Options Price Reporting Authority ("OPRA") submitted to the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") an amendment to the Plan for Reporting of Consolidated Options Last Sale Reports and Quotation Information,<sup>1</sup> which was submitted to the Commission pursuant to section 11A(a)(3)(B) of the Act.

OPRA has designated this proposal as one establishing or changing a fee pursuant to Rule 11Aa3-2(c)(3)(i) under the Act, which renders the fee effective upon the Commission's receipt of the filing. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the amendment from interested persons.

I. Description and Purpose of the Amendment

The amendment rule change will provide for a new, temporary surcharge of $300 payable by those persons (vendors, direct-connect subscribers, news services and exchanges) who have direct access to OPRA's processor, for each month or portion thereof, commencing May, 1990, during which such persons obtain such access by means of OPRA's old 2-line service, instead of the new 4-line service. ## II. Request for Comments

Pursuant to Rule 11Aa3-2(c)(3) under the Act, the amendment and the surcharge became effective upon filing with the Commission, except that OPRA has determined that delayed effectiveness shall apply, as described in Item I. The Commission, however, may summarily abrogate the amendment within 60 days of its filing and require refiling and approval of the amendment by Commission order pursuant to Rule 11Aa3-2(c)(2), if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors and maintenance of fair and orderly markets, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanisms of a National Market System, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC 20549. ## Self-Regulatory Organizations; Chicago Board Options Exchange, Inc.; Order Extending Exemptions Relating to Basket Trading

I. Introduction

On October 26, 1989, the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission" or "SEC"), approved a proposed rule change submitted by the Chicago Board Options Exchange, Inc. ("CBOE" or "Exchange") to trade

"market basket contracts," on the floor of the Exchange.<sup>1</sup> As part of the proposal, the Exchange requested certain exemptions under Rules 11Aa3-1 and 11Ac1-1 of the Exchange Act.<sup>2</sup> The Exchange requested, pursuant to Rule 11Aa3-1(g) exemptions from the Rule's requirements to report transactions in reported securities pursuant to an effective transaction reporting plan and to disseminate on a consolidated basis the total trading volume for each component stock of the market basket contracts.<sup>3</sup> The CBOE also requested, pursuant to Rule 11Ac1-1(d), an exemption from the Rule 11Ac1-1 requirement that disseminated quotations include the size associated with those quotations.<sup>4</sup> The Commission granted the first exemption, but only gave a six-month exemption for the dissemination on a consolidated basis of the total trading volume for each component stock, and for the dissemination of the size associated with those quotations.<sup>5</sup> The CBOE has now requested an extension of the temporary exemptions.<sup>6</sup>

II. Discussion

Pursuant to Rule 11Aa3-1<sup>7</sup> the CBOE is required to collect and disseminate transaction data on securities listed and traded on the Exchange. More specifically, Rule 11Aa3-1 requires that the Exchange disseminate transaction reports for individual reported securities traded on the Exchange,<sup>8</sup> and that the Exchange disseminate on a consolidated basis trading volume for each of the component stocks represented by market basket contracts.<sup>9</sup>

For the first six months of basket trading, the CBOE did not disseminate on a consolidated basis the total daily trading volume in individual securities represented by basket trades. Volume in market basket contracts has been reported over the Options Price Reporting Authority ("OPRA") system, as a result of reporting each market basket transaction as it takes place, and in an end-of-day message through OPRA.<sup>10</sup>

While the Commission is aware of the limited usefulness of price information on the underlying securities in the baskets, it believes that dissemination of the share volume in the underlying securities is important information and should be included in the daily consolidated volume for each of the underlying securities.<sup>11</sup> Because this presents a number of technological difficulties for CBOE, and because the volume in basket trading during the first six months has been low, the CBOE has requested an extension of the exemption for disseminating on a consolidated basis the total trading volume for each component stock. The Commission believes that it is appropriate to extend the conditional relief from Rule 11Aa3-1 through January 31, 1991.

CBOE also requested an extension of the exemption from Rule 11Ac1-1(b)(1), which requires that disseminated quotations on market basket contracts include the size associated with the quote. Because OPRA, the facility through which CBOE basket quotes are reported, cannot disseminate size, the Commission has agreed to extend the temporary exemption from the Rule through January 31, 1991.

The CBOE will be required, however, to file with the Commission a proposal describing how it will consolidate the total daily trading volume for component stocks with volume from the other markets trading those securities and to include the size associated with quotations in market basket contract, or submit to the Commission the reasons why its exemption should be extended on or before November 1, 1990.

III. Conclusion

The Commission believes that the transaction and quotation reporting mechanisms for trading market baskets on CBOE are designed to provide accurate, timely information on basket trading. Moreover, given the institutional character of stock portfolio trading for which market basket trading is designed, the Commission believes that the Exchange's chosen reporting mechanisms are consistent with the maintenance of fair and orderly markets and the protection of investors.

Accordingly, based upon the aforementioned factors, the Commission finds that the requested exemptions under Rules 11Aa3-1 and 11Ac1-1 are consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to section 11A of the Act and Rules 11Aa3-1(g) and 11Ac1-1(f) thereunder, that the following exemptions be, and hereby are, extended through January 31, 1991: (1) A temporary exemption from the requirement of paragraph (b)(2)(iv) of Rule 11Aa3-1 that the CBOE provide for the dissemination of the total daily trading volume of the component stocks in market basket contracts on a consolidated basis; and (2) a temporary exemption from the requirement of paragraph (b)(1) of Rule 11Ac1-1 that the CBOE disseminate the quotation sizes associated with quotations on market basket contracts.

Dated: April 27, 1990.

Secretary.

II. Description of the Service

The NASD requests that the Commission approve a one-year pilot program of the Bulletin Board Service. The Service is designed to capture and display quotation information (including unpriced indications of interest) entered by NASD member firms that function as market makers in non-NASDAQ securities. The Service will operate on a real-time basis (during market hours) allowing eligible member firms to view, enter, and update information on a real-time basis on certain non-NASDAQ securities. Market makers' participation in the Service will be voluntary, and those market makers who elect to participate will incur no minimum obligation as to time or the number of non-NASDAQ securities that they may select for inclusion in the Service.

Members will enter and update information displayed through the Service through NASDAQ terminal devices or Workstation units authorized for Level 3 NASDAQ service. NASD member firms will be able to retrieve Bulletin Board information, on a real-time basis, by means of NASDAQ terminal devices or Workstation units authorized either for Level 2 or Level 3 NASDAQ service. The NASD believes that providing access to Level 2 subscribers will facilitate the handling of retail orders in non-NASDAQ securities by member firms that do not function as market makers.

The NASD is to provide the Service for a pilot period of one year, with actual operations commencing 30 days after the date of the Commission's approval order. NASD members utilizing NASDAQ-authorized equipment will not incur a separate service charge for access to market makers' input captured in the Service data base.<sup>4</sup> NASD members that register as market makers in Bulletin Board securities ("Market Maker Participants" or "Participants") will incur a charge for displaying their trading interest through the Service. Specifically, a Market Maker Participant will pay $85 per month for the first 10 securities listings (or any part thereof), and $37 per month for each additional lot of five listings (or any part thereof) or $74 per month for each additional lot of ten listings (or any part thereof).<sup>5</sup>

The non-NASDAQ securities chosen for inclusion by participating market makers will be separately accessed and identified by utilization of the prefix "3" with the issue's four or five letter symbol code.<sup>6</sup> Market Maker Participants will be provided a scan function enabling them to view all securities in which they have registered. Initially, access to the Service will be limited to registered broker-dealers who are NASD members and subscribe to either Level 2 or Level 3 NASDAQ service. Participants will be permitted to enter two-sided or one-sided quotes for one unit of trading (i.e., 100 shares) at a specified price, to designate whether a priced bid or priced offer is firm, to solicit a bid or offer without stipulating a price, to advertise a general interest in trading a particular security without specifying a price, and to insert an indicator (UNS) next to a priced entry to identify it is an unsolicited customer indication of interest.<sup>7</sup>

The display of information contemplated by the Bulletin Board Service can be demonstrated by the following example.

P 3 ABCD ABC Development Corp.
BADR.....	10	F F11 F	800-250-1620
DBCC.....	10	F 11 F	212-646-1000
WALC.....	10%	F 11	202-898-1000
MATS.....	9.5	F 11.25	800-909-2100
BAGN.....	10	13	800-243-6120
BOTE.....	10%	11 1/2	303-525-4230
RJAA.....	b.w.		800-126-1423
DANI.....			641-202-2087

This hypothetical display reflects the trading interests of eight market makers who have elected to participate in the Bulletin Board Service by entering information on the stock of ABC Development Corp., a non-NASDAQ issue. The sequencing of market maker information shown on the screen display is determined by an algorithm incorporated into the system design.<sup>8</sup> For example, market makers BADR and DBCC appear at the top because they have entered two-sided, firm quotes. Market makers WALC and MATS appear next because both have firm bids, but non-firm offers. Because WALC's firm bid is superior in price, WALC is listed ahead of MATS.<sup>9</sup> BOTE and BAGN follow all market makers displaying a firm bid price because their priced bids are not designated as "firm." BAGN, however, ranks ahead of BOTE on the basis of time priority. Finally, RJAA and DANI are listed below all other market makers because neither firm has made a priced entry. Multiple firms with unpriced entries in a particular security will be listed by time priority. In this example, RJAA appears <sup>7</sup> The NASD stated that although designating quotations as "firm" is optional, once a Participant designates a quote as firm, it must honor the entry for at least 100 shares. The NASD also stated that failure to do so will constitute a violation of Article III, section 1 of the NASD Rules of Fair Practice, which requires that members conduct their business in accordance with just and equitable principles of trade. See Release 34-25949 at 2.

<sup>8</sup> The algorithm for ranking the display of market makers' entries will work in the following manner: (1) All two-sided firm quotes will be displayed first and ranked in price/time sequence; (2) all one-sided firm quotes will be displayed second and ranked in price/time sequence; (3) all quotations ranked by price will be sequenced according to the bid price; (4) all non-firm quotations will be displayed after the firm quotes (two-sided and one-sided) and will be sequenced solely on the basis of time; and (5) unpriced entries will appear last, and with entries of "bid wanted"/"offer wanted" being displayed ahead of other unpriced entries; multiple unpriced entries will be sequenced on the basis of time.

<sup>2</sup> See Securities Exchange Act Release No. 25949 (July 28, 1988), 53 FR 29096 ("Release 34-25949"). The NASD submitted three amendments. The first was a technical amendment submitted on August 10, 1988. Amendment No. 2 was submitted on February 2, 1989. (Securities Exchange Act Release No. 26545, February 14, 1989, 54 FR 7901), and Amendment No. 3 was submitted on July 20, 1989. (Securities Exchange Act Release No. 27062, July 20, 1989, 54 FR 31905). Amendment No. 4 expanded the update restriction to encompass all foreign securities/ADRs. Accordingly, the Bulletin Board will only provide a static display of market maker's quotations or indications of interest in these securities twice daily. See Amendment No. 4 submitted January 30, 1990.

The National Quotation Bureau submitted a letter after Amendment No. 2 was published. See letter from Harvey L. <sup>4</sup> Since the information will be available through standard NASDAQ terminals, the charges applicable to NASDAQ Level 3 service and equipment will continue to apply.

<sup>5</sup> In this context, "listing" refers to a line of quotations, priced or unpriced, firm or non-firm, one-sided or two-sided, or indications of interest entered by a Participant in a Bulletin Board security.

<sup>6</sup> The numeric prefix will differentiate a quotation display for a non-NASDAQ security from a quote display for a NASDAQ security. The universe of securities eligible for quotation through the Service will not include any security authorized for inclusion in the NASDAQ System or listed on a national securities exchange.

ahead of DANI solely because of the former's indication of "bid wanted" ("B.W."). Finally, it should be noted that all firms registering as market makers in non-NASDAQ securities must enter their respective telephone numbers. These will be displayed regardless of whether a firm inserts a priced entry.

The NASD stated that it would be able to ensure within its own systems that displays of Bulletin Board information can be differentiated from market data displays on NASDAQ issues by affixing a special identified to covered securities and assigning a special key (P) to retrieve information on non-NASDAQ securities included in the Service. The NASD will require vendors to implement comparable procedures as a condition of their receiving Bulletin Board information from the NASD.

Foreign securities/American Depositary Receipts ("ADRs"), including those of issuers that are exempt from the Act's reporting requirements pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) under the Act,<sup>10</sup> will be displayed in static form and market makers will only be permitted to update quotations for them twice daily. More specifically, market makers will be permitted to update their individual quotes/indications in foreign securities daily between 9 and 9:30 a.m. and 12 and 12:30 p.m. (ET).<sup>11</sup> Thus, each market maker in a foreign security will be allowed a maximum of two updates per day in each of those securities. The NASD will enforce compliance with this operational requirement through an automated surveillance report. The new report will identify every instance in which a market maker updates his quote in a foreign security outside the prescribed time periods or enters multiple updates within those periods in a particular foreign security. Such occurrences will be viewed as apparent violations of the Service's operational requirements and be forwarded to the NASD's Market Surveillance Committee for review and possible disciplinary action. The Market Surveillance Committee may place limitations on or suspend the market maker's quote update capability in the Bulletin Board Service, and/or a disciplinary sanction pursuant to Article III, section 1 of the NASD Rules of Fair Practice.<sup>12</sup>

To facilitate administration of the update restriction, the NASD will add an "F" or "Y" to the respective trading symbols of foreign securities and ADRs that are eligible for quotation in the Service.<sup>13</sup> The NASD stated that it has reviewed historical information furnished by the Commerce Clearing House/National Quotation Bureau ("CCH/NQB")<sup>14</sup> on securities quoted in the Pink Sheets<sup>15</sup> ("Pink Sheets") to locate issues/ADRs that had not been identified previously, and that it will monitor Rule 15c2-11 filings processed by CCH/NQB in connection with market maker registrations to quote foreign securities/ADRs. Finally, the NASD represented that, shortly after the Service commences operation, a letter will be sent to market makers that have registered to quote foreign securities/ADRs. The letter will request that they re-check their market-making positions against the automated directory and notify the NASD of any foreign issues/ADRs that have not been identified with an "F" or "Y," respectively, so the NASD may promptly amend the directory. The NASD believes that these efforts should ensure that the identified securities are appropriately distinguished with an "F" or "Y" appended to their Bulletin Board trading symbols.

During the pilot period, the NASD will provide CCH/NQB, twice daily, with a static transmission of data captured in the Service's data base.<sup>16</sup> The first just and equitable principles of trade. During the Service's pilot period, the standard contract governing market maker participation will reference the limitations applicable to quotation of foreign exempt securities.

<sup>13</sup> The NASD stated that it has already identified many of these securities in connection with its processing of price and volume information reported by member firms under Schedule H to the NASD By-laws and by reviewing the Commission's published listings of securities eligible for the Rule 12g3-2(b) exemption.

<sup>15</sup> The elements of information which will be transmitted to CCH/NQB from the Service's data base include, but need not be limited to: (1) Market maker identifications (including trading room telephone numbers, if authorized by the individual participants); (2) security identifications and symbols used by the NASD; (3) all priced entries as well as indications of interest inserted by participating market makers; and (4) any condition codes applicable to individual securities. The NASD will not assess CCH/NQB a charge for the static transmissions of data from the Service's data base. CCH/NQB, however, will bear all costs associated with the telecommunication line and any support equipment needed to receive or process the NASD's transmissions.

transmission will occur at approximately 12 noon Eastern time to be used for publication of the next day's Pink Sheets.<sup>16</sup> The second transmission, consisting of end-of-day information, will occur after the Service closes and be provided to subscribers of CCH/NQB's electronic delivery service the following morning.<sup>17</sup> As to both the Pink Sheets and CCH/NQB's electronic delivery system, the priced entries of Market Maker Participants will appear in the form of a stringline.<sup>18</sup>

During the twelve-month pilot, CCH/NQB will monitor, as the NASD's agent, Participants' compliance with Rule 15c2-11<sup>19</sup> under the Act and coordinate those functions with the NASD.<sup>20</sup> If the required information has not been filed on a security eligible for the Service, CCH/NQB will promptly notify the NASD. Upon such notification, the NASD will request that the market maker produce that information or justify the basis for claiming an exemption.<sup>21</sup> To compensate CCH/NQB for this and other services, the NASD will pay CCH/NQB an amount derived from the Participant fees proposed in this filing.<sup>22</sup> The proposed fees are

<sup>18</sup> The stringline will identify each Participant by a four character alpha symbol followed by the firm's bid and/or offered prices, and an indicator to designate whether the bid and/or offer price is firm. In instances where a Participant enters only a bid or an offer price, an alpha prefix designating the price as a bid or offer will appear.

<sup>20</sup> For example, CCH/NQB will verify that a market maker who seeks to place a new listing in the Service or Pink Sheets has furnished the information required by Rule 15c2-11(a)(5) with CCH/NQB.

<sup>21</sup> CCH/NQB will transmit a copy of the required information supplied by a Market Maker Participant to the Commission and the NASD at least two days prior to publication of a new listing in the Service. CCH/NQB will be capable of making Rule 15c2-11 information available to other broker-dealers upon request.

<sup>22</sup> The NASD will reimburse CCH/NQB for the cost of monitoring market makers' compliance with Rule 15c2-11 for quotations initiated in the Pink Sheets; the preparation, maintenance and distribution of CCH/NQB's historical database of price and issuer information to market professionals and the public; the provision of customary library and research services; and an agreement not to create a system in competition with the Service for up to three years.

<sup>11</sup> An update may consist of a market maker inserting a new priced quotation or substituting an unpriced indication for a priced entry. Market makers in foreign exempt securities (and in all other Bulletin Board Securities) will have the option of designating their priced entries as firm or non-firm quotations.

<sup>12</sup> Article III, section 1 requires NASD members to observe high standards of commercial honor and identical to those currently assessed by CCH/NQB for market maker listings in the Pink Sheets. At the conclusion of the Service's pilot period, the NASD will rebate to participants any Service revenue remaining after satisfaction of the NASD's obligations to CCH/NQB and recovery of costs incurred in developing and operating the pilot Service.

III. Comments

The Commission received 9 comment letters in response to its notice of the proposed rule change. With three exceptions, the commentators generally favored the implementation of the Service. The five commentators who favored the Service stated that they believe the proposal will benefit investors, market participants and firms by making trading in non-NASDAQ securities more effective and less costly.<sup>23</sup>

The Security Traders Association ("STA") stated that the Service represents a further step in the development of a national market system because it provides a uniform means of inter-dealer communication in the non-NASDAQ market.<sup>24</sup> The STA, however, expressed concern regarding the maintenance of historical records which reflect past market prices for Pink Sheets stocks. It therefore urged the NASD to assure that there be some form of preservation in "hard copy" of this information. The NASD subsequently addressed these concerns in its filing of Amendment No. 2.<sup>25</sup>

The New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") questioned whether foreign securities exempt from the registration requirements of the Act pursuant to the "information-supplying exemption" of Rule 12g3-2 may be included in the Service.<sup>26</sup> Currently, the Rule provides an exemption from registration pursuant to section 12(g) of the Act only for foreign securities not quoted in an "automated inter-dealer quotation system."<sup>27</sup>

The NYSE argued that the Service is an "automated interdealer quotation system" within the meaning of paragraph (d) of the Rule. Therefore, foreign securities quoted in the system should not be exempt from registration under section 12(g) pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b). The NYSE maintains that, should the Commission not specify that foreign exempt securities be excluded from the Service absent registration, a "loophole" would be created in the regulatory scheme developed in 1983 to ensure that investors have access to adequate information on securities quoted in automated systems.<sup>28</sup>

The American Stock Exchange ("Amex") also voiced concern regarding the application of Rule 12g3-2.<sup>29</sup> Like the NYSE, the Amex believes that to permit unregistered foreign issuers eligible to be quoted in the Service to qualify for the information-supplying exemption would undermine the policy adopted in the 1983 amendment.

In addition, the Amex raised concerns over the potential inclusion of domestic securities in the Service. Amex believes that the lack of regulatory requirements applicable to the Service, and the quality and quantity of issuer information available, raise significant concerns about the protection of investors. It further stated that the Service could be used to evade what may be perceived by some issuers to be burdensome exchange or NASDAQ listing requirements and the on-going regulatory framework that accompanies listing.

In its comment letter on Amendment No. 3, Amex reiterated its concern that the inclusion of unregistered foreign securities in the Service would discourage foreign issuers from registering with the Commission, listing on an exchange and complying with the various resultant requirements, since they would no longer have to do so to gain access to the U.S. markets.<sup>30</sup> The Amex stated that these concerns were underscored by the apparent proliferation of activity in sponsored and unsponsored ADRs, and urged the Commission to conduct a study of the ADR market before rendering its determination on this aspect of the proposal.

Although Amendment No. 3 limited the manner in which market makers would be permitted to quote foreign securities/ADRs, Amex does not believe the NASD explained how the limitation would negate the benefits the Service would provide in terms of heightened visibility, access and exposure, which led to the elimination of the information-supplying exemption for NASDAQ securities. Amex argued that the fact that market makers will not be able to update their quotes on a real-time basis does not negate the significant advantages inclusion in the Service will provide as compared to ordinary listing in the Pink Sheets.

IV. Discussion

The Commission has determined that it is appropriate to approve the implementation and operation of a one-year pilot program of the Bulletin Board Service. Implementation of the Service is consistent with sections 15A(b) (6) and (11),<sup>31</sup> and 11A(a)(1) <sup>32</sup> of the Act.

Section 15A(b)(6) requires, among other things, that the NASD's rules promote just and equitable principles of trade, facilitate transactions in securities, remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market, and protect investors and the public interest. In addition, section 11A(a)(1) articulates the Congressional findings and policy goals and objectives respecting the development of a national market system.<sup>33</sup> Essentially, the Congress found that new data processing and communication techniques should be applied to improve the efficiency of market operations, broaden the distribution of market information, enhance opportunities to achieve best execution and promote competition among market participants.

Implementation of the Bulletin Board Service will allow the market makers in non-NASDAQ securities to enter and

<sup>25</sup> Amendment No. 2 describes the agreement between the NASD and CCH/NQB that provides that CCH/NQB will continue to collect, process and maintain its historical records, library/research services and other market data publications covering OTC securities.

<sup>27</sup> As a general matter, paragraph (b) of Rule 12g3-2, which allows foreign private issuers to use an "information-supplying exemption" from the registration requirements of section 12(g) of the Act, applies if the issuer provides the Commission with whatever information the issuer must provide in its home country.

<sup>28</sup> In 1983, the Commission amended Rule 12g3-2 making the exemption unavailable for securities quoted in an "automated inter-dealer quotation system." Securities Exchange Act Release No. 20264 (October 6, 1983), 48 FR 46736 ("Amendment Order").

<sup>29</sup> See letter from Carrie E. Dwyer, Senior Vice President and General Counsel, Amex, dated October 14, 1988. The Amex further argued that inclusion of such securities would also be inconsistent with proposed Regulation S (Securities Act Release No. 6838, July 11, 1989, 54 FR 30063) and Rule 144A (Securities Act Release No. 6839, July 11, 1989, 54 FR 30076). This argument ignores the difference between secondary market reporting requirements and Securities Act registration requirements.

update quotation information on a real-time basis.<sup>34</sup> This capability should enhance the efficiency of pricing and foster competition within the interdealer market for a particular security. Similarly, order entry firms will have real-time access to the trading interest being displayed by market makers in each covered security. Such access will assist them in negotiating the execution of customer orders at the best available price. Because the Bulletin Board display includes the telephone numbers of participating market makers, this feature should expedite the retail firms' processing of market orders. Assuming that a sufficient number of market makers participate, the NASD envisions expanded access to Bulletin Board information through commercial services offered by vendors. That development will comport with the Congressional goal of broadening the distribution of market information to investors.<sup>35</sup>

Section 15A(b)(11) of the Act authorizes the NASD to adopt rules governing the form and content of quotations for securities traded over-the-counter. Such rules should produce fair and informative quotations, prevent misleading quotations, and promote orderly procedures for collecting and disseminating quotations. Essentially, the Service's design and display features achieve the regulatory purposes contemplated by section 15A(b)(11) of the Act. For example, the preferential ranking of market makers entering two-sided, firm quotes reflects the NASD's effort to display quotation information for non-NASDAQ securities in a fair and informative manner. Similarly, the NASD's commitment to take enforcement action against any market maker who fails to honor quotes designated as "firm" should deter the entry of misleading or fictitious quotations by participating member firms.

Because the pilot program includes the imposition of a fee upon Market Maker Participants, it is necessary to examine the fee in relation to the requirements of section 15A(b)(5) of the Act. That provision requires the equitable allocation of reasonable charges among members for the use of any facility or system that the NASD operates. The proposed fee structure tracks that of CCH/NQB for market maker listings in the Pink Sheets publication, which the Commission regards as a reasonable standard for establishing an interim fee applicable to the Service's pilot phase. Such a standard is appropriate because of the NASD's present inability to project the user population over which the Service's cost would be spread, the extent to which OTC market makers will elect to become Participants, or the additional subscriber population that may be interested in receiving Bulletin Board information after the pilot has terminated. Essentially, Market Maker Participants will be charged the same price they currently pay to display priced entries in OTC securities through a widely-recognized quotation medium. Thus, OTC market makers choosing the Service in lieu of the Pink Sheets will not incur additional costs unless they increase their respective market making commitments in eligible securities. Because participation in the Service is voluntary, individual market makers will assess whether the Service or one of the printed quotation mediums (including the Pink Sheets) is best suited to their needs.

To facilitate commencement of the Service, the NASD has requested that the Commission grant certain exemptions from Rule 15c2-11 under the Act.<sup>36</sup> Rule 15c2-11 is intended to prevent broker-dealers from furnishing initial quotations for over-the-counter securities in the absence of information about the issuer. Under the rule, a broker-dealer must have in its records certain information about the issuer prior to publication or submission of quotations in a quotation medium.

The NASD has requested an exemption from Rule 15c2-11 under the Act to permit a Market Maker Participant to initiate quotations in the Service<sup>37</sup> without furnishing to the NASD the information required by the rule for certain issuers.<sup>38</sup> Specifically, a Participant would be exempt from furnishing the information if it previously has submitted such information for that issuer to CCH/NQB and has been publishing quotations for the security without an interruption of more than four consecutive business days, or if it submits the information to CCH/NQB in connection with a provision of the working agreement between the NASD and CCH/NQB regarding review of Rule 15c2-11 information furnished by Participants. The NASD also has requested an exemption under Rule 15c2-11 to permit inter-system "piggybacking"<sup>39</sup> during the first 60 calendar days of the Service's operation. The NASD has sought the exemption to permit a Market Maker Participant during the start-up phase of the Service to look to another interdealer quotation system, i.e., the Pink Sheets, to determine whether the security satisfies the piggyback exception in that system and, if so, to permit the initiation of quotations in the Service without having the Rule's specified information.<sup>40</sup>

The Commission believes that the requested exemptions from Rule 15c2-11 are appropriate to avoid duplicative submissions and to facilitate start-up of <sup>34</sup> While the Commission hopes that use of the Bulletin Board will result in more accurate quotations for the securities quoted in the Service, the Commission believes that it is necessary to acknowledge the limited usefulness of those quotations. For example, in the context of mark-up calculations the Commission has repeatedly cautioned that quotations in many cases may not be acceptable evidence of "prevailing market price." In re Alstead, Dempsey & Strangis, Inc., 47 SEC 1034 (1984). This is particularly true, for quotations for inactive, non-firm dominant securities, which frequently are subject to negotiation and thus may have little value for markup determinations. Id. In fact, the Commission has made clear that quotations may be used to establish the prevailing market price only in the limited circumstances where: (1) There are no contemporaneous interdealer transactions (which are generally better evidence of the prevailing market price) and (2) the validity of the quotations to be used to determine markups can be shown by comparing them with actual inter-dealer transactions in that security. The Commission believes that these long-established principles will continue to be relevant for securities quoted in the Bulletin Board.

<sup>39</sup> Under Rule 15c2-11(f)(3), the "piggyback" exception, the rule's information gathering requirements are inapplicable when a security has been the subject of quotations in an interdealer quotation system for at least 12 business days during the previous 30 calendar days, with no more than four consecutive business days elapsing without a quotation. In addition, the Commission notes that the parameters of the relief granted to the NASD may be altered if the amendments to 15c2-11, as proposed in Securities Exchange Act Release No. 27247 (September 14, 1989), are adopted.

<sup>40</sup> After the initial 60 days of operations, the Service will have the capability to monitor entries daily for compliance with the rule's piggyback provision. If a security is not quoted for four consecutive business days, it will be dropped from the Service and require a Rule 15c2-11 submission prior to initiation or resumption of quotations.

the Service, and today has issued a separate letter granting the exemptions pursuant to paragraph (h) of Rule 15c2-11.<sup>41</sup> The Commission notes, however, that in all other respects a Market Maker Participant must comply with Rule 15c2-11 when submitting or publishing quotations in the Service. Accordingly, for a security that does not qualify for the limited Rule 15c2-11 exemption for inter-system piggybacking granted today, a Market Maker Participant must have in its records the information required by Rule 15c2-11 to initiate quotations in the Service.<sup>42</sup> Additionally, if a Participant has not previously furnished information to CCH/NQB respecting a particular issuer and cannot qualify for the inter-system piggybacking exemption granted today, it must furnish the information to the NASD pursuant to Rule 15c2-11(d). The NASD will provide a form for a Market Maker Participant's submission of paragraph (a)(5) information and will develop procedures for supplying the data to the Commission.

Moreover, the NASD's working agreement with CCH/NQB regarding review of Market Maker Participants' compliance with Rule 15c2-11 does not affect the NASD's responsibility as a self-regulatory organization to secure compliance with Rule 15c2-11 (including the information gathering requirements) by Market Maker Participants.<sup>43</sup> In this regard, the NASD recently submitted a proposed rule change amending Schedule H of the NASD's By-Laws.<sup>44</sup> The amendment would require that, before initiating or resuming quotations for securities covered by Rule 15c2-11, a member file with the NASD one copy of the information needed to comply with the rule at least three business days prior to publication of the quotation. The amendment, which must be filed with and approved by the Commission before the NASD can implement it, would apply to securities quoted in the Pink Sheets, the Service, or any other interdealer quotation system subject to the rule.

As part of its proposal, the NASD also proposed to allow the inclusion of foreign securities to be displayed in static form and be updated only twice daily, including those that are exempt from registration under section 12 of the Act pursuant to the information-supplying exemption under Rule 12g3-2(b) ("exempt foreign securities").<sup>45</sup> Generally, the exemption is available to certain issuers if the issuer provides the Commission with whatever information the issuer must provide in its home country. The exemption is not available, however, to issuers whose securities are quoted in an "automated inter-dealer quotation system."<sup>46</sup> The NASD has requested that the Commission find that its proposed Bulletin Board Service is not "an automated inter-dealer quotation system" as that term is used in Rule 12g3-2. As discussed above, however, the Amex and the NYSE argued against such a finding by the Commission.<sup>47</sup>

The Amex and NYSE argued that the language of Rule 12g3-2 should preclude application of the exemption for foreign securities included in the Service.<sup>48</sup> Both also note that when the Commission amended the Rule in 1983 it was recognizing that the introduction of NASDAQ to the OTC market resulted in a market for NASDAQ securities that was in significant respects the same as that for listed stocks.<sup>49</sup> Amex argues that the Bulletin Board Service is an equivalent change in the Pink Sheet market that the introduction of NASDAQ was to the OTC market. Moreover, the NYSE argues that access to the Service and the avoidance of the registration requirements under the Act provide significant incentives to issuers to have their securities quoted in the Service and as such create a loophole in Rule 12g3-2 that the 1983 amendment to the rule was intended to prevent. The NYSE believes that this provides the NASD a significant competitive advantage.

The Commission disagrees with the Amex and NYSE and has preliminarily concluded that the NASD may allow Participants to include exempt foreign securities in the Service in the limited way described above.<sup>50</sup> The Commission, however, will review this decision at the end of the one-year pilot period to determine whether its assumptions about how these securities trade will continue to hold true.

The Commission is basing its decision on a number of factors. First, the Commission disagrees with the NYSE and the Amex that the information contained in the NASD's proposed Bulletin Board Service for exempt foreign securities is essentially the same as that in NASDAQ and thus should not be available for issues exempt from registration under Rule 12g3-2(b).<sup>51</sup> Unlike NASDAQ, which allows real-time, unlimited quotation updates, Bulletin Board Participants can only update quotations on foreign securities twice daily, once between 9 and 9:30 a.m. and once between 12 and 12:30 p.m. (ET).<sup>52</sup> Thus, the quotation entered will generally be stale non-firm indications of interest, entirely different in nature from the real time dissemination of quotations through NASDAQ.

Accordingly, the Commission believes that its interpretation of Rule 12g3-2(d)(3) will not create a significant loophole in section 12 that will result in a significant competitive advantage for the NASD at the expense of the exchanges. As has been discussed above, there will be significant differences between being traded in the Bulletin Board Service and being traded in NASDAQ or on exchanges, including the fact that there will be no continuous market, mandatory firm quotations or

<sup>42</sup> 17 CFR 240.12g3-2(d)(3). In 1983 the Commission amended Rule 12g3-2 to delete the information-supplying exemption in Rule 12g3-2(b) "for securities quoted in an automated inter-dealer quotation system, i.e., NASDAQ." Securities Act Release No. 6493 (October 6, 1983), 48 FR 46736.

<sup>43</sup> Although Amendment No. 3 addressed these concerns by limiting the display of foreign securities and ADRs to static form, the Amex submitted a second letter stating that it still objected to their inclusion in the system. (See discussion infra.) The NYSE, however, did not submit a comment letter on Amendment No. 3.

<sup>44</sup> The NYSE surveyed other Commission rules and noted that in some, the terms "automated inter-dealer quotation system" or "inter-dealer quotation system" are used and, in others, the term "NASDAQ" is used. The NYSE thus concluded that when the Commission intended particular provisions to apply only to NASDAQ it expressly so stated. The Commission disagrees with this narrow reading. Although in some instances the Commission may specifically have focused on NASDAQ, it is inappropriate to automatically conclude that whenever an arguably broader term like "automated inter-dealer quotation system" is used the Commission had already decided its applicability to systems not yet in existence.

<sup>45</sup> The Amex believes that the fact that NASDAQ brought increased visibility, access and exposure to the OTC market was the basis for the elimination of the exemption.

<sup>50</sup> For purposes of all other rules, regulations, forms and schedules under the Securities Act and the Securities Exchange Act, the Bulletin Board Service will not be considered an "automated interdealer quotation system" or an "electronic interdealer quotation system."

<sup>51</sup> The NYSE argues that these two systems are the same because, in both, market makers can enter firm quotes and can suffer the same discipline if they fail to honor those quotes.

<sup>52</sup> The Commission disagrees with the Amex that this limitation on update capability does not represent "a significant difference in the treatment of these securities." Letter from Gordon L. Nash, Senior Executive Vice President, Amex, to Jonathan G. Katz, Secretary, SEC, dated August 30, 1989. On the contrary, the Commission believes that this is a significant limitation on market makers. Limiting market makers' ability to update their quotations for a security virtually guarantees that those market makers will always enter only non-firm quotations or indications of interest.

market maker obligations for securities quoted in the Bulletin Board Service. The Commission believes that those differences should provide incentives for issuers that wish to voluntarily enter the U.S. markets to list their securities on one or more national securities exchanges or NASDAQ. Accordingly, for these reasons the Commission does not believe the system as presently designed for foreign securities, is an automated quotation system for purposes of Rules 12g3-2(b). Again, the Commission emphasizes that these conclusions are preliminary and the Commission will review them at the end of the one-year pilot period.

Finally, the Commission finds good cause for approving the proposed rule change (Amendment No. 4) prior to the thirtieth day after the date of publication of the notice of filing. The instant filing does not raise any new substantive issues nor does it modify the basic operational features of the Service. Further, because the Commission approval of the Service will only permit a pilot operation for one year, interested parties will have an additional opportunity for comment when the NASD seeks authorization for permanent approval.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC 20549. Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communication relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying in the Commission's Public Reference Section, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the NASD. All submissions should refer to the file number in the caption above and should be submitted by May 31, 1990.

V. Conclusion

In view of the above, the Commission concludes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act, in particular, sections 15A and 11A, and that it is appropriate to grant the NASD approval of the one-year pilot program of the Bulletin Board Service.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act that the proposed rule change be, and hereby is, approved for a one-year pilot program, ending May 1, 1991.

By the Commission.

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Order Approving Proposed Rule Change by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. Relating to Late Trade Reporting

On March 8, 1990, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") a proposed rule change (File No. SR-NASD-90-14), pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act"), that codifies in Schedules D and G of the NASD By-Laws (pertaining to NASDAQ and listed securities, respectively) the requirement that trades be reported within 90 seconds after execution.

Notice of the proposed rule change was given in Securities Exchange Act Release No. 27827 (March 20, 1990), 55 FR 11283. The Commission received no comments on the proposal. This order approves the proposal.

In its filing with the Commission, the NASD stated that the NASD's transaction reporting plan for NASDAQ National Market System ("NMS") securities requires reporting of trades within 90 seconds after execution. Transactions by NASD members in listed securities are also required to be reported within 90 seconds pursuant to the Consolidated Tape Association ("CTA") plan. These requirements are codified in Schedules D and G of the NASD By-Laws (pertaining to NASDAQ and listed securities, respectively). The Schedules provide that members reporting executions in applicable securities after the 90 second time frame must indicate that the reports are late by attaching an identifier to each report.

The NASD, along with other participants of the CTA, have recently focused on the occurrences of late trade reporting in their markets. As a result, the NASD's Market Surveillance Department conducted a review of all transactions reported as late during a three month period December 22, 1988 through March 21, 1989. This study revealed that during the three months, 14 firms submitted a number of late trade reports ranging from 2.4% to 44.3% of their total trades. Although some of the late reports were due to the firms' experiencing temporary systems outages and difficulties in transmitting trade data to the tape, the Association believes that it is appropriate to remind NASD members of their trade reporting responsibilities, and to make the failure to report transactions in a timely manner a violation of the Rules of Fair Practice.

The NASD stated that the instances of late trade reporting in listed and NASDAQ/NMS securities, both during market hours and reports deferred until after the close, required revisions to Schedules D and G to clarify members' obligations. In addition to these amendments, the NASD Board of governors proposed adding an interpretation to explain the obligations of timely trade reporting and the consequences of a pattern or practice of later trade reporting.

The NASD believes that reminding NASD members of their obligations of timely trade reporting is appropriate and necessary, especially because the Automated Confirmation Transaction service ("ACT"), which has been approved by the Commission for self-clearing firms, requires participants to submit trade data to ACT in reportable securities within the same time frames as the trade reporting rules, i.e., within 90 seconds.

The Commission believes that the statutory basis for the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act, particularly section 15A(b)(6) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Section 15A(b)(6) requires that the rules of the Association be designed to "foster cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in regulating, clearing, settling, processing information with respect to, and facilitating transactions in securities, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market."

It is Therefore Ordered, pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that File No. SR-NASD-90-14, be, and hereby is, approved.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority, 17 CFR 200.30-3(12).

Self-Regulatory Organizations; New York Stock Exchange, Inc.; Order Approving Proposed Rule Change Relating to Specifications and Content Outline for the Modified Series 7-UK Representatives Examination

On August 10, 1989, the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. ("NYSE" or "Exchange") submitted to the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission"), pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act")<sup>1</sup> and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,<sup>2</sup> a proposed rule change to introduce specifications and a content outline for their modified Series 7 Examination for United Kingdom ("UK") representatives.

The proposed rule change was noticed in Securities Exchange Act Release No. 27168 (August 22, 1989), 54 FR 35959 (August 30, 1989). No comments were received on the proposal.

The NYSE has proposed that a qualified registered representative, in good standing, of The Securities Association ("TSA")<sup>3</sup> that is applying to become a registered representative with an Exchange member organization can satisfy the examination requirement under NYSE Rule 345.15 by obtaining a passing score of 70% on an abbreviated version of the Series 7 Examination.<sup>4</sup> Essentially, the modified Series 7 Examination deletes those substantive sections of the standard Series 7 which overlap with the TSA examination.

To become registered with the Exchange, such persons will be required to take a special ninety (90) question examination dealing with U.S. securities laws, regulations, sales practices and special products drawn from the standard Series 7 Examination.<sup>5</sup>

Furthermore, consideration will be given to the candidate's previous experience for the purpose of satisfying the Exchange's four-month training requirement pursuant to Exchange Rule 345.15.

Similarly, a U.S. Series 7 qualified registered representative will be able to satisfy TSA qualification requirements by either (1) passing TSA's equivalent version of the proposed modified Series 7 Examination or (2) meeting an experience criterion (e.g., if the candidate has been a registered person with "continuous relevant experience" since January 1, 1987, TSA will waive the examination requirement).

After careful review, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the regulations thereunder applicable to a national securities exchange, and, in particular, the requirements of section 6(b)(5) and 6(c)(3)(B) of the Act.<sup>6</sup>

The Commission believes that the proposal is consistent with the section 6(b)(5) requirement that the rules of the exchange "perfect the mechanism of a free and open market." Given the continuous increase in the internationalization of the securities markets, the Exchange's proposal is one attempt to answer the demand for ease of access between the U.S. and UK markets. In this regard, the modified Series 7 Examination is part of an examination approach whereby UK representatives can avoid taking partially duplicative examinations, yet still meet the same examination requirements as U.S. representatives. Thus, the Commission believes that the proposal will facilitate the registration of UK representatives with the Exchange, thereby promoting the competitiveness of the NYSE, both domestically and internationally. Moreover, U.S. representatives will receive substantially reciprocal treatment from TSA, thus easing their access to the UK market.

The Commission believes that the proposal also is consistent with the section 6(c)(3)(B) requirement that the Exchange establish standards of training, experience and competence for persons associated with Exchange members and member organizations. The modified Series 7 Examination provides a comprehensive coverage of the topics for the standard Series 7 Examination that are not covered on the TSA examination. Accordingly, the modified Series 7 Examination, along with the TSA examination, adequately measures the qualifications of UK representatives.<sup>7</sup>

It is Therefore Ordered, pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act,<sup>8</sup> that the proposed rule change is approved.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.<sup>9</sup>

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change by National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. Relating to Reduction in Service Charges for the Computer Assisted Execution Service

Pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1), notice is hereby given that on April 17, 1990, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the NASD. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The NASD is reducing the service charges for the Computer Assisted Execution Service ("CAES") from $.01 per share to $.005 per share.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the NASD included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed <sup>3</sup> TSA is a UK self-regulatory organization which regulates members of the UK exchanges and broker-dealer firms, and has rulemaking authority granted to it by the Securities and Investments Board.

<sup>4</sup> The proposed examination is a modified version of the General Securities Representative Examination ("Series 7"), a comprehensive examination covering the general securities industry, which is administered by the National Association of Securities Dealers ("NASD").

<sup>5</sup> The modified Series 7 Examination does not cover municipal securities and, therefore, a candidate who passes only the modified examination will not be eligible to sell municipal securities. Persons seeking municipal securities registration will be required to pass the standard Series 7 or the modified Series 7 plus the Series 52. Although registration under the modified Series 7 Examination may not be recognized by U.S. securities exchanges other than the NYSE, the NYSE has had discussions with the NASD concerning their adoption of the modified Series 7 Examination.

<sup>7</sup> The proposed Content Outline for the modified Series 7 Examination is a comprehensive guide to the topics to be included on the examination. It will familiarize examination candidates with the range of subjects covered by the examination as well as provide some indication as to the depth of knowledge required. The Content Outline also includes sample questions so that the candidates will be familiar with the types of questions used on the examination.

rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The NASD has prepared summaries, set forth in sections (A), (B), and (C) below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

The Association recently reviewed the background and current pricing structure for CAES. When CAES was first operational, the service charge to members utilizing the system was set at a level to recover development costs and to operate the system efficiently. That charge was $.005 per share. Subsequently, the fees were raised to $.01 per share to cover additional costs incurred by the Association in connection with the CAES service, and because of reductions in participant use of the service. The members using CAES understood that the $.01 fee was to be reduced to the original level upon recovery of development costs or increase in CAES usage. Although costs continue to be incurred by the Association in operating CAES, traffic through the service has increased and costs will be offset in part by transaction charges and in part by the revenues derived from the NASD's portion of Consolidated Tape Association revenues in listed securities.

The Association believes that the recent increase in CAES usage will continue and therefore, proposes to reduce the CAES rate from $.01 to $.005 per share and to monitor CAES traffic to determine whether further rate adjustments will be appropriate in the future. In determining to adjust the rate back to its original fee, the Association notes the potential benefit of a rate reduction upon utilization of CAES for the execution of transactions in listed securities. The NASD's CAES service should become increasingly competitive with the adjusted service charges and would offer members an alternative vehicle for effecting transactions other than on an exchange floor in listed securities.

The statutory basis for the proposed rule change is found in section 15A(b)(5) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Section 15A(b)(5) requires that the rules of the NASD "provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility or system which the association operates or controls." The reduction in CAES fees reflects the current costs of operating the system.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The NASD does not foresee any burden on competition by the proposed rule change not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received from Members, Participants, or Others

Comments were neither solicited nor received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The proposed rule change has become immediately effective pursuant to section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and subparagraph (e) of Securities Exchange Act Rule 19b-4 thereunder because the proposal is "establishing or changing a due, fee, or other charge," imposed by the Association upon its members. At any time within 60 days of the filing of such proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street NW., Washington, DC 20549. Copies of the submissions, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying in the Commission's Public Reference Room. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the NASD. All submissions should refer to the file number of the caption above and should be submitted by May 21, 1990.

Self-Regulatory Organizations; National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc.; Order Approving Proposed Rule Change Relating to Broker-Dealers' Compliance With Rule 15c2-11

The National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD") submitted on January 8, 1990, a proposed rule change pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934<sup>1</sup> ("Act") and Rule 19b-4<sup>2</sup> thereunder to amend Schedule H to the NASD By-Laws to require member firms, before initiating or resuming quotation of a non-NASDAQ over-the-counter security in any quotation medium, to file with the NASD a copy of the information needed to comply with Rule 15c2-11<sup>3</sup> under the Act and certain additional information.

Notice of the proposed rule change together with its terms of substance was given by the issuance of a Commission release (Securities Exchange Act Release No. 27694, February 8, 1990) and by publication in the Federal Register (55 FR 5532, February 15, 1990). The Commission received two comment letters with respect to the proposed rule change.<sup>4</sup> The NASD, in turn, responded to the SIA comment letter.<sup>5</sup>

The Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to the NASD and, in particular, the requirements of section 15A and the rules and regulations thereunder. Specifically, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change assists the NASD in fulfilling its statutory obligations under section 15A(b)(2) that requires a registered securities association to be so organized and have the capacity to enforce compliance by its members and associated persons with the provisions of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder. Further, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with sections 15A(b)(6) and (11) in that the rule change is designed to prevent fraudulent or manipulative acts and practices and promotes just and equitable principles of trade and that it assists the NASD in governing the form and content of quotations for securities.

As noted, the only significant comment the Commission received came from the SIA. The SIA objects to the proposed rule change because it believes that the proposed rule change unduly expands the responsibilities of a broker-dealer by requiring provision of information regarding the basis upon which an initial or resumed priced entry was made. According to the SIA, because of the burdensomeness of the increased responsibilities the SIA foresees in supplying the basis of the information for entering a price, the new requirement may deter market makers from entering quotations. Further, the SIA objects to the proposal because the NASD membership did not have the opportunity to comment on the proposed rule change prior to submission to the Commission and because the Commission has yet to adopt the proposed amendments to Commission Rule 15c2-11. Accordingly, the SIA requested that either the NASD send the proposal to the membership for comments or, the Commission delay approval until final action on the amendments to Rule 15c2-11.

In response to the SIA comments, the NASD stated that: (1) The requirement that market makers justify the pricing of "initial bids/offers is integral to its enhanced oversight of members' compliance with Rule 15c2-11 as well as with the NASD's efforts to curb abusive trading practices in so-called 'penny stocks'"; (2) implementation of the proposed changes to Schedule H before Commission adoption of the amendments to Rule 15c2-11 should not be delayed because the proposed changes have been drafted to recognize the possibility of future changes to the Rule and, if necessary, Schedule H can be amended to conform to any unforeseen changes to the Rule; and (3) the call for membership comment is unnecessary under the NASD's Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws and further, changes to NASD schedules to the By-Laws, including Schedule H, do not require a membership vote.

The Commission has considered the SIA's comment, together with the NASD's response thereto, and determined that the implementation of the changes to Schedule H should not be delayed. Although the SIA believes that the proposal may deter some market makers from making priced entries, the SIA has pointed to no evidence that such events will occur and, in any event, the Commission believes that when priced entries are made, information pertaining to the basis upon which the price was determined is critical to effective NASD surveillance of market making activity and is necessary to deter and detect unlawful activity in low-priced securities of little-known companies.

Further, with regard to the request for NASD member comment on the proposal, the Commission notes that NASD rules do not require any such comment period. Moreover, interested persons could have availed themselves of the comment period after Commission publication of notice of the proposed rule change in the Federal Register. Finally, although the Commission has not yet taken final action on the proposed amendments to Rule 15c2-11, the NASD proposal has been drafted to recognize that the Commission may adopt additional or modified information requirements upon final action with respect to Rule 15c2-11 and thus, the Commission does not believe it necessary to delay such an important surveillance tool as encompassed in the proposed changes to Schedule H.

It is Therefore Ordered, pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the above-mentioned proposed rule change be, and hereby is, approved.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority, 17 CFR 200.30-3(a)(12).

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Filing and Order Granting Accelerated Temporary Approval of Proposed Rule Change by New York Stock Exchange, Inc. Relating to Nine-month Extension of Rule 805 (Priority of Basket Bids and Offers) and Rule 806 (Taking or Supplying Baskets Named in Order)

Pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act"), 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1), notice is hereby given that on April 30, 1990, the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. ("NYSE" or "Exchange") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") the proposed rule change as described in Items I and II

<sup>4</sup> Letters from: (1) Alison Baur of San Francisco, California, to Jonathan G. Katz, Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission"), received March 13, 1990 ("Baur letter"); and (2) John T. Shinkle, Chairman, Federal Regulation Committee, Securities Industry Association ("SIA"), to Jonathan G. Katz, dated April 10, 1990. The SIA letter is discussed in the text.

The Baur letter poses several questions that reflect, in general, a misunderstanding of the application of the proposed rule change and of Rule 15c2-11. For example, the Baur letter inquires about the reason for the NASDAQ exemption from the new Schedule H requirements. Rule 15c2-11, of course, specifically excepts from its coverage publication or submission of a quotation in the over-the-counter market for a security admitted to trading on a national securities exchange (if traded on that exchange on the same day or on the day before submission or publication of the quotation) or a security authorized for quotation in an interdealer quotation system operated by a registered securities association, i.e., NASDAQ. See 17 CFR 15c2-11 (f)(1) and (f)(5).

Similarly, in response to the letter's third question inquiring about the applicability of Schedule H to quotation media other than the Pink Sheets, the Commission notes that Schedule H conforms to the scope of Rule 15c2-11 and, accordingly, the requirements are applicable to other interdealer quotation media to the extent that Rule 15c2-11 would apply.

The Baur letter also asks: (1) Whether broker-dealers must file the required Schedule H information with the Commission as well as with the NASD and (2) what constitutes full compliance with Rule 15c2-11. Rule 15c2-11 requires that a broker-dealer have and maintain in its records the required information about a security and make it reasonably available upon request to any person expressing an interest in a proposed transaction in the security. However, under paragraph (d) of Rule 15c2-11, a broker-dealer submitting a quotation for a security of an issuer included in paragraph (a)(5) must furnish to the interdealer quotation system, in the form prescribed by the system, the information regarding the security and the issuer specified in paragraph (a)(5) of the Rule. Finally, the Commission notes that a discussion of the elements constituting full compliance with Rule 15c2-11 exceeds the scope of this order and any such question is better directed to competent legal counsel.

below, which Items have been prepared by the self-regulatory organization. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The proposed rule change consists of a request to extend the effectiveness of Exchange Rule 805 (Priority of Basket Bids and Offers) and Rule 806 (Taking or Supplying Baskets Named in Order) to January 31, 1991.<sup>1</sup>

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the self-regulatory organization included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item III below and is set forth in sections A, B, and C below.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

The purpose of this filing is to extend the effectiveness of Rule 805 (Priority of Basket Bids and Offers) and Rule 806 (Taking or Supplying Baskets Named in Order) until January 31, 1991.

Rule 805 sets forth the rules of priority applicable to basket bids and offers. The highest bid or lowest offer has priority in all cases. At the same price, Tier 1 and Tier 2 bids and offers have priority over all other bids and offers, so as to enhance the opportunity for public customers in the component stock markets to participate. Next, priority at a price is determined by the time of entry on the Exchange Stock Portfolio ("ESP") display unit. Finally, a bid or offer from the trading crowd has priority over other bids or offers from the trading crowd at that price (though not over bids or offers on the display unit at that price) based on when the bid or offer was made. Where the sequence of trading crowd bids and offers cannot be determined, or where bids and offers in the trading crowd are made simultaneously, priority will be shared on a pro rata basis. The Rule also makes clear that, unlike stock trading, a basket sale does not remove all bids and offers.

Paragraph (d) of the Rule allows a member to cross two agency orders without exposing either side, but only at a price that is better than the ESP display unit's best bid and offer for the basket, and the cross price is announced to the trading crowd.

Rule 806 specifies that a Competitive Basket Market-Maker ("CBMM") may only facilitate a customer's order at a price that is better than the best bid or offer on the ESP display unit, and only after announcing the facilitation price to other members in the trading crowd. Rule 806(b) prohibits another Exchange member from interceding in the facilitation if the proposed facilitation price is only one "minimum variation" (i.e., .01 index points) better than the prevailing quote on the customer's side of the market. When a facilitation is more than the minimum variation from the prevailing quote, NYSE Rule 806(b) permits another member to intercede in a CBMM's facilitation trade by taking or supplying all of the baskets that the customer seeks at a price that is better for the customer than the facilitation price.

In response to a request from the Commission staff, the Exchange agreed to provide a six-month "sunset" provision to these rules. The Commission noted in its order granting temporary approval to Rules 805 and 806 that it would be difficult to predict whether the ESP market would expand and be characterized by active basket trading, or whether trading would be sporadic. Accordingly, the Commission determined that it was consistent with the Act for the Exchange to build in necessary incentives to ensure active market-making participation, at least in the initial stages of basket trading, and therefore the Commission gave temporary approval to Rules 805 and 806 for a six-month period.

Volume in basket trading has been low. In light of this low trading activity in baskets, the Exchange is requesting that the Commission extend the effectiveness of the current rules for nine months so that additional market experience can be gained. The Exchange expects to submit to the Commission by December 1, 1990 a report discussing the NYSE's basket market and experience in trading baskets.

For the first six months of basket trading, the Exchange has not disseminated on a consolidated basis the total trading volume for each of the component stocks represented by basket transactions either during or after the trading day. The Exchange had, however, committed to submit to the Commission, at the end of the first six months of basket trading, a proposed rule change that would provide for the inclusion of end-of-day transaction volume in the basket component stocks in the consolidated transaction volume figures. At that time, the Exchange reserved and continues to reserve the right to express its view that the addition of end-of-day transaction volume in the basket component stocks in the consolidated transaction volume figures would not be appropriate. The Exchange is requesting an extension for the submission of this proposed rule change until November 1, 1990.

Statutory Basis

The basis under the Act for this proposed rule change is Section 6(b)(5), which requires that rules of the Exchange be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants or Others

The Exchange has neither solicited nor received written comments on the proposed rule change.

III. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC 20549. Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying at the Commission's Public Reference Section, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC, 20549. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the NYSE. All submissions should refer to File No. SR-NYSE-90-23 and should be submitted by May 29, 1990.

IV. Commission's Findings and Order Granting Accelerated Approval of Proposed Rule Change

After careful consideration, the Commission has determined that the proposed rule change to extend the effectiveness of NYSE Rules 805 and 806 until January 31, 1991 is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to a national securities exchange.<sup>2</sup> In particular, the Commission believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the section 6(b)(5) requirement that an exchange have rules that are designed to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest.

The proposed extension of effectiveness of Rule 805 will permit the Exchange to continue allowing baskets to trade under a regime of strict price and time priority, with no distinction between proprietary and customer orders. The Commission believes that in light of the low basket volume to date, the Exchange should be able to continue employing rules of the time and price priority in order to provide an incentive that may attract upstairs capital to the basket market. The Commission believes that strict time and price priority in the current basket market is consistent with the Act. Accordingly, the Commission has determined to approve an extension of the effectiveness of Rule 805 on a temporary nine-month basis.

The proposed extension of effectiveness of Rule 806 will permit the Exchange to continue allowing only CBMMs to effect proprietary cross transactions. While the Commission remains concerned about the anti-competitive limitations on proprietary trading contained in Rule 806, the Commission believes that a nine-month extension of the effectiveness of the rule is consistent with the Act. As with the extension of Rule 805, the low basket volume to date justifies the continuation of Rule 806 as structured in order to attract upstairs market-making participation to the basket market.

Accordingly, the Commission has determined to approve, on a temporary nine-month basis, an extension of the effectiveness of the NYSE's limitations on proprietary trading contained in Rule 806. If during the next nine months, however, baskets become actively traded, no artificial market-making incentives should be necessary and the Commission would expect the NYSE to revise its rules to permit basket trading and facilitation by all member firms.

Because trading volume in the baskets has remained lower than previously anticipated, the Commission believes an extension of NYSE Rules 805 and 806 until January 31, 1991 would provide the Exchange with adequate time to evaluate the effects of basket trading on the market. The Commission, however, expects that during the extended time period of nine months, the Exchange will continue to assess the NYSE's basket market. The Commission also expects that by December 1, 1990 the Exchange will file a report detailing the NYSE's experience regarding the trading of baskets and will file a proposed rule change with the Commission either revising Rules 805 and 806 or extending the effectiveness of the rules for a further pilot period.

The Commission finds good cause for approving the proposed rule change prior to the thirtieth day after the date of publication of notice of filing thereof in order that the Exchange members may continue their current order priority and precedence and proprietary facilitation procedures for basket trading without disruption. In addition, accelerated approval is necessary because the effectiveness of the rules expires on April 30, 1990.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to section 19(b)(2) <sup>3</sup> of the Act, that the proposed rule change be, and hereby is, approved for a nine-month period ending on January 31, 1991.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.<sup>4</sup>

Self-Regulatory Organizations; New York Stock Exchange, Inc.; Order Extending Exemption Relating to Basket Trading

I. Introduction

On October 26, 1989, the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission" or "SEC"), approved a proposed rule change submitted by the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. ("NYSE" or "Exchange") to trade "Exchange Stock Portfolios" ("ESPs"), standardized baskets of stocks, on the floor of the Exchange ("ESP Service").<sup>1</sup> As part of the proposal, the Exchange requested certain exemptions under Rule 11Aa3-1 of the Exchange Act from the Rule's requirements to report transactions in reported securities and to disseminate on a consolidated basis the total trading volume for each component stock in ESP transactions.<sup>2</sup> The Commission granted the two exemptions, but only gave a six-month exemption for the dissemination on a consolidated basis of the total trading volume for each component stock in ESP transactions.<sup>3</sup> The NYSE requested an extension of the temporary exemption.<sup>4</sup>

II. Discussion

Pursuant to Rule 11Aa3-1 <sup>5</sup> the NYSE is required to collect and disseminate transaction data on securities listed and traded on the Exchange. More specifically, Rule 11Aa3-1 requires that the Exchange disseminate transaction reports for individual reported securities traded on the Exchange,<sup>6</sup> and that the Exchange disseminate on a consolidated basis trading volume for each of the component stocks represented by ESP transactions.<sup>7</sup>

The NYSE provides trading facilities through the ESP Service for reported securities (as components of baskets) but does not disseminate on a consolidated basis the total daily trading volume for each component stock. The NYSE believed that its proposal to exclude end-of-day transaction volume in the ESP component stocks from the consolidated transaction volume figures was appropriate to provide the Division and the Exchange with an opportunity to assess whether the absence of individual basket component stocks in the end-of-day consolidated volume figures merited modification in light of actual trading experience.<sup>8</sup>

<sup>2</sup> In addition, the Commission has issued an order which extends the Exchange's exemption from reporting transactions in reported securities and disseminating on a consolidated basis the total trading volume for each component stock in basket transactions, pursuant to Rule 11Aa3-1 under the Act, through January 31, 1991. See Securities Exchange Act Release No. 27962 (April 27, 1990).

Due to the low volume in basket trading during the first six months, the NYSE has requested an extension of the exemption for disseminating on a consolidated basis the total trading volume for each component stock. The Commission believes that it is appropriate to extend the conditional relief from Rule 11Aa3-1 through January 31, 1991. The NYSE, however, must file a proposed rule change that will provide for the inclusion of end-of-day transaction volume in the ESP component stocks in the consolidated transaction volume figures, or submit to the Commission the reasons why its exemption should be extended, on or before November 1, 1990.

III. Conclusion

The Commission believes that the ESP market structure balances appropriately the competing concerns of various Exchange constituencies and is consistent with the maintenance of fair and orderly markets and the protection of investors. Accordingly, based on the aforementioned factors, the Commission finds that the requested extension of exemption granted under Rule 11Aa3-1 is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to section 11A of the Act, and Rule 11Aa3-1(g) thereunder, that the following exemption from Rule 11Aa3-1 be, and hereby is, extended through January 31, 1991: A temporary exemption from the requirement of paragraph (b)(2)(iv) of Rule 11Aa3-1 that the Exchange provide for the consolidation of transaction reports.

Securities and Exchange Commission

[Release No. 34-27969; File No. SR-PSE-90-02]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Pacific Stock Exchange, Inc.; Order Approving Proposed Rule Change Relating to Formal Seat Market Procedures

On February 8, 1990, the Pacific Stock Exchange, Inc. ("PSE" or "Exchange") submitted to the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC" or "Commission"), pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act")<sup>1</sup> and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,<sup>2</sup> a proposed rule change to establish a policy and procedure to regulate bids and offers in the membership seat sale market of the PSE. Amendment No. 1, which made minor language changes to the seat market procedures, was submitted to the Commission on March 1, 1990.<sup>3</sup>

The proposed rule change was noticed in Securities Exchange Act Release No. 27799 (March 13, 1990), 55 FR 10341 (March 20, 1990). No comments were received on the proposal.

The PSE proposes to establish a written policy and formal Seat Market Procedures to regulate bids and offers in the membership seat sale market of the PSE. The proposal sets forth eight specific procedures which the Exchange will implement in its regulation of the seat sale market.<sup>4</sup>

The proposal regulates the bidding process for the Exchange and seat market participants in the following areas: Deposits, notification, verbal authorizations, priority at the opening, and disclosure of the depth of the market. First, the procedures provide that all first time buyers must submit a deposit—in the form of a cashier's, certified check, or a check from a

member firm—at the time the bid is entered in an amount no less than 20 percent of the bid. Second, the procedures provide for a notification process for changes in the best bid or offer. If the best bid or offer changes, the member services staff will notify the party with the previous best bid or offer. The party notified would have the opportunity to change his bid or offer. The notification will continue until a firm bid or offer is established. Third, the procedures provide that although first time buyers must submit initial bids or changes to their bids in writing, current seat holders may negotiate a sale or purchase, enter a bid or offer, or authorize a change in an existing bid or offer by telephone, followed by a written confirmation to the Exchange no later than the opening the following business day. Fourth, the procedures provide that if two or more parties are waiting at the opening to participate in the market, the parties will determine among themselves who is first. Correspondence received by mail will be time stamped and prioritized by time of receipt. Fifth, the procedures provide that the exchange staff may inform parties with the best bid or offer of the depth of the market within 15% of their price. Parties entering bids or offers where there are others at the same price will be told how many are ahead at that price; the identity of the parties in the market, however, will not be disclosed.

The proposal also governs the Exchange's authority to resolve disputes, to address unusual activity in the seat market, and to suspend seat market trading and procedures. First, the proposal provides that the failure to follow through on a verbal authorization that results in a negotiated sale by the opening the following day or the failure to pay the balance due on a negotiated seat purchase may result in a forfeiture of the bidder's deposit in the amount of the difference between the first negotiated price and the seller's final sale price, if it is less. Any dispute or failure to pay a member may result in arbitration proceedings. The dispute procedures also provide that a subcommittee of the membership committee will be established, consisting of the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, and staff, which will meet when necessary to solve disputes in the seat market. Next, the proposal establishes procedures to address unusual activity. The procedures provide that in the event of unusual activity or the announcement of major news which may impact the market, the Member Services Staff will contact the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Membership Committee, the Exchange's General Counsel, and the Executive Committee, if necessary. These parties will have the authority to interpret the seat market procedures in the best interests of all parties. Finally, the proposal provides that the Executive Committee or the Board of Governors of the Exchange, at all times, will have the authority to suspend trading in, and procedures governing regulation of, the seat market.

The PSE believes that it is necessary to establish the proposed written procedures in order to formalize its regulation of the seat sale market. The PSE also believes that the proposed procedures establish a policy which is fair and orderly and which provides for the prompt dissemination of market information. The PSE states that many of the proposed procedures have been followed by the PSE for a number of years on an informal basis.<sup>5</sup> The PSE also states that the proposal's new provision, which will allow verbal authorizations by existing seat holders who are participating in the seat sale market, is designed to give all members the same time advantage when entering bids, offers, or changes to bids or offers. The PSE believes that its new proposed rule regarding the disclosure of the depth of the market will aid market participants in making their trading decisions. The PSE also believes that the new proposed procedure for unusual activities will allow the Exchange to respond quickly to emergency situations which may occur in the seat market.<sup>6</sup>

The Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to a national securities exchange, and, in particular, the requirements of section 6(b)(5) of the Act.<sup>7</sup> The Commission believes that the proposal, which establishes formal seat market procedures, should result in clear and consistent rules governing the Exchange's regulation of bids and offers for Exchange seats. Because the seat market procedures will be available in written form and will be distributed to members and potential members of the Exchange who enter the seat market, the format of the proposed procedures should serve an important role in providing information regarding the bid and offer process, in general, as well as the seat market participant's obligations and the Exchange's role in the process. Moreover, the proposal defines the scope of the Exchange's authority with respect to dispute resolution, interpretation of procedures, and suspension of seat market trading and procedures. For these reasons, the Commission believes that the proposal improves the administration of the Exchange's seat market.

The Commission also believes that the proposal establishes fair and reasonable procedures for the regulation of the seat sale market. The Commission notes that the Exchange has utilized informally five of the eight proposed procedures for several years. The PSE's proposal with respect to deposits, notification, priority at the opening, disputes, and suspension of procedures are measures which have operated successfully, albeit informally, for some time. For the reasons discussed below, the Commission believes that the remaining three new procedures for verbal authorizations, disclosure of the depth of the market, and unusual activities complement the general purposes of the Exchange's current informal procedures. The proposal, therefore, should result in increased effectiveness and consistency in the PSE's regulation of its seat sale market.

First, the Commission believes that the deposit requirement is a reasonable method by which the Exchange can ensure the good faith of first time buyers in the market. Second, the proposed notification procedures represent a fair process of disseminating information with respect to changes in the best bid or offer which should result in a more competitive auction market for Exchange seats. Third, the proposed opening procedure is an acceptable means of determining priority of participation in the seat market. Fourth, the dispute proposal provides a fair means for the resolution of seat market disputes in that the proposal gives notice of when the forfeiture of a deposit may occur, provides for arbitration, and also establishes a subcommittee of the Exchange's membership committee which may meet to resolve disputes. This proposal should result in the utilization of consistent procedures to resolve disputes which may occur in the seat market. Lastly, the proposal for suspension of procedures is an acceptable method for the Exchange, when acting through its Executive Committee or Board of Governors, to preserve its authority to regulate the seat sale market.

The Commission also believes that it is acceptable for the PSE to allow verbal authorizations by existing seat holders to enter bids, offers, or changes to bids or offers. The Commission notes that this proposal parallels the purpose of the deposit requirement for first time buyers in the seat market. The Commission notes that the proposed procedures for disclosure of the depth of the market parallels the PSE's notification procedures for changes in the best bid or offer. The Commission believes that the depth of the market disclosure proposal should aid market participants in making their seat market decisions. This, in turn, should result in a more open and competitive market for Exchange seats. Finally, the Commission notes that the unusual activity proposal complements the proposal for suspension of procedures. The unusual activity proposal gives the Exchange additional flexibility to interpret the seat market procedures and may provide an alternative to suspension of trading and procedures, which requires the approval of the Executive Committee or the Board of Governors of the Exchange.

It Therefore is Ordered, pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act,<sup>15</sup> that the proposed rule change is approved.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Following is a summary of the application; the complete application is available for a fee from either the Commission's Public Reference Branch in person or the Commission's commercial copier (800) 231-3282 (in Maryland (301) 258-4300).

Applicants' Representations

1. Golden American Life Insurance Company is a stock life insurance company organized under the laws of the State of Minnesota. From January 2, 1973 through December 31, 1987, the name of the company was St. Paul Life Insurance Company. On December 31, 1987, after the sale of all of St. Paul Life Insurance Company's business, the name was changed to Golden American Life Insurance Company.

2. The Account, registered with the Commission as a unit investment trust, is a separate investment account of Golden American established in 1988 to act as a funding vehicle for Deferred Variable Annuity ("Deferred Annuity") and Immediate Variable Annuity Certain ("Annuity Certain") contracts (referred to collectively as the "Contracts").

3. The Account is divided into seven divisions. Each division invests in shares of a designated series of The Specialty Managers Trust (the "Trust"), an open-end management investment company registered with the Commission. The Trust is a series-type mutual fund that contains seven series, each of which pursues different investment objectives and policies. A Contract owner is also permitted to allocate up to 100% of the Contract's accumulation value to the Guaranteed Division of the general account.

4. Pursuant to a Distribution Agreement with Golden American, DSI has entered into and will continue to enter into a sales agreement with broker/dealers and Western Capital Financial Group, Inc. to solicit sales of the Contracts through registered representatives who are licensed to sell securities and variable insurance projects including variable annuities. The registered representatives will be appointed by Golden American to sell the Contracts. The offering of the Contracts will be continuous.

5. The Deferred Annuity is an individual flexible premium payment contract which provides for an initial premium payment and for subsequent premium payments if the Contract owner so desires. There is, however, no obligation to make additional payments.

6. The Annuity Certain is an immediate annuity which provides for payment of a single premium payment and allows for variable annuity payments to be made to the Annuitant over a fixed period of time.

7. For the Deferred Annuity, deferred loading at a maximum rate of 7.50 percent is deducted from each premium payment for premium related expenses. For the Annuity Certain, deferred loading at a maximum rate of 7.25 percent is deducted from each single premium payment for premium related expenses. For both the Deferred Annuity and Annuity Certain, in certain applications, the deferred loading may differ based on the size of the initial or single premium. For the Deferred Annuity, once determined, the deferred loading percentage is applicable to all subsequent premium payments. This charge is allocated to cover distribution expenses. All deferred loading applicable to initial, single, or additional premium payments is imposed at the time of payment but is advanced back to the divisions and recovered from the accumulation value in equal installments on the first and subsequent contract processing dates following the receipt and acceptance of the payment over a period specified in the Contracts. If the Contract owner surrenders a Contract, any remaining deferred loading will be deducted at that time. For purposes of the provisions of the 1940 Act applicable to sales load, the deferred loading is a front-end sales load, because the amount of the sales load is deducted from premium payments when they are made. Applicants are not relying on Rule 6c-8 in connection with this charge.

8. In the Deferred Annuity, an administrative charge of $40 annually is deducted in equal installments on each Contract processing date from the accumulation value of a Contract to reimburse Golden American for the anticipated actual cost of administrative expenses relating to the Contract. The amount of the administrative charge may be changed by Golden American but is guaranteed not to exceed $60 annually. Since Golden American expects to realize an administrative cost savings based on volume, the charge may be reduced by Golden American if the premium received at issue exceeds a specified limit.

9. In the Annuity Certain an administrative charge of 0.25 percent of single premiums of less than a specified minimum is deducted in the same manner and over the same time period as the deferred load. Since Golden American expects to realize an administrative cost savings based on volume, the charge may be reduced by Golden American if the premium received at issue exceeds a specified limit. This charge is to cover Golden American's ongoing administrative expenses and will not exceed the cost of services to be provided over the life of the Contract.

10. The Contracts provide that a maximum mortality and expense risk charge equal to 0.002477 percent of the asset values in each division of the Account will be deducted on a daily basis. This is equivalent to an annual charge of 0.90 percent. For the Deferred Annuity, approximately 0.55 percent is for assuming the mortality risk and 0.35 percent is for assuming the expense risk. In the Annuity Certain, approximately 0.45 percent is for assuming the mortality risk and 0.45 percent is for assuming the expense risk. The mortality risk under the Deferred Annuity is the risk that, after annuitization or upon selection of the annuity option with a life contingency, annuitants will probably live longer than Golden American's actuarial projections indicate, resulting in higher than expected payments during the payout phase, since the payment options are guaranteed not to be less than the tables discussed in the Deferred Annuity. In the Annuity Certain, the mortality risk assumed by Golden American relates to the fact that, at all times, Golden American will offer the option to convert the Annuity Certain, which does not provide for payments based on life contingencies, to one or more annuity contracts that provide for payments based on life contingencies. The mortality risk assumed by Golden American is the risk that annuitants, or beneficiaries after the death of the annuitant, will choose one such option and will possibly live longer than Golden American's actuarial projections indicate, resulting in higher than expected payments during the payment phase, since any payment option is guaranteed not to be less than the tables discussed in the Annuity Certain. In the Deferred Annuity, Golden American also assumes a risk to pay out a guaranteed death benefit if in excess of the accumulation value. In addition, Golden American assumes a risk that the charges for the administrative expenses may not be adequate to cover such expenses.

11. In the Deferred Annuity Contract, Golden American guarantees a death benefit payable to the beneficiary if the Contract owner (or the annuitant) dies prior to the annuity commencement date. The guaranteed death benefit charge is at a rate of $1.20 per $1,000 of guaranteed death benefit per year. In the future, the Account may offer other variable annuity contracts that may make a guaranteed death benefit charge of up to $1.20 per $1,000 of guaranteed death benefit per year. The guaranteed death benefit charge is based on the amount of the guaranteed death benefit and is approximately equal to 0.10 percent of net assets, assuming hypothetical gross return of 5 percent.

12. Applicants represent that they have reviewed publicly available information regarding the level of the mortality and expense risk and guaranteed death benefit charges under comparable variable annuity contracts currently being offered in the industry, taking into consideration such factors as current charge level or annuity rate guarantees and the markets in which the Contracts are offered. Based upon the foregoing, Applicants further represent that the maximum charges under the Contracts are within the range of industry practice for comparable contracts. Applicants will maintain and make available to the Commission, upon request, a memorandum outlining the methodology underlying this representation.

13. Applicants do not believe that the deferred load imposed under the Contracts will necessarily cover the expected costs of distributing the Contracts. Any "shortfall" will be made up from the general account assets which will include amounts derived from risk charges. Golden American has concluded that there is a reasonable likelihood that the distribution financing arrangement being used in connection with the Contracts will benefit the Account and the Contract owners. Golden American will keep and make available to the Commission, upon request, a memorandum setting forth the basis for this representation.

14. Applicants further represent that the Account will only invest in underlying funds which have undertaken to have a board of directors/trustees, a majority of whom are not interested persons of the funds, formulate and approve any plan under Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act to finance distribution expenses.

For the Commission, by the Division of Investment Management, pursuant to delegated authority.

Jonathan G. Katz,

Secretary.

[Release No. 34-27957; File No. S7-9-90]

Application for Registration as a Securities Information Processor and Order Granting a Temporary Exemption From Registration to the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc.

Pursuant to section 11A(b)(3) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act"),<sup>1</sup> notice is hereby given that on March 28, 1990, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") an application for registration of its subsidiary, Market Services, Inc. ("MSI"), as an "exclusive securities information processor" ("ESIP")<sup>2</sup> for the operation of the PORTAL Market.<sup>3</sup> pursuant to section 11A(b)(2) of the Act and Rule 11Ab2-1 thereunder.<sup>4</sup>

In its filing, the NASD also requested a temporary exemption under section 11A(b)(2) for a period of 90 days from the date of the Commission's approval of the proposed rule change implementing the PORTAL Market to allow the NASD to operate the PORTAL Market in the interim until the Commission has completed its review of the securities information processor application. Rule 11Ab2-1(c) provides the Commission with the authority to conditionally or unconditionally exempt any securities information processor from the registration requirement under the Rule.

The Commission has determined that it is appropriate to grant the NASD a 90-day exemption from the registration requirement in section 11A from the date of this order. The Commission has comprehensively reviewed the NASD's proposed PORTAL system and, as part of its proposal, the NASD has represented that it has considered the implications of the new system on the capacity of the NASD's other systems, the adequacy of the PORTAL system's capacity to process the expected traffic in PORTAL itself, and the adequacy of the PORTAL system's protections against hackers, computer viruses and other internal or external intrusions. The NASD has represented that its capacity and security plans are designed to provide adequate protections that are comparable to those generally in use for similar systems. While the PORTAL proposal is not a substitute for the registration of MSI as an ESIP, the Commission believes that it provides an adequate basis for granting a limited exemption at this time. In addition, the operation of the PORTAL Market while the Commission is reviewing the ESIP registration application will provide the Commission the opportunity to observe how well the PORTAL Market actually functions from a system's perspective.

As a condition to the grant of the exemption, the Commission believes it is appropriate to require the NASD to comply with certain sections of the Act that will apply if the Commission ultimately approves MSI's ESIP registration. MSI would be subject to the requirements of section 17 (a) and (b) of the Act (requirement to make and keep prescribed records, and authorization of inspection of any records kept) and section 11A(b)(5) of the Act (notice of prohibition or limitation of access to services). To implement the statutory purposes of section 11A(b) during the term of this exemption, the grant of this exemption is conditioned on MSI's compliance with the provisions of section 17 (a) and (b) of the Act. In addition, if MSI were to prohibit or limit any person access to services offered, directly or indirectly, MSI would be required to file notice of its action with the Commission within 15 days and to send a copy of the notice to the aggrieved party.<sup>5</sup>

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing.<sup>6</sup> Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 5th Street, NW., Washington, DC 20549. Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the application that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the application between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552 will be available for inspection and copying the Commission's Public Reference Section, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC. Copies of such filing also will be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the NASD. All submissions should refer to the file number in the caption above and should be submitted by May 29, 1990.

The Commission finds, for the reasons discussed above, that the requested temporary exemption from registration is consistent with the public interest, the protection of investors and the purposes of section 11A, including the maintenance of fair and orderly markets in securities and the removal of impediments to and perfection of the mechanism of a national market system.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to section 11A(b)(1) of the Act, that the NASD be granted and exemption from registration for 90 days from the date of this order.

By the Commission.

<sup>5</sup> This requirement should not be read to include any applicant to become a PORTAL broker, dealer or investor that did not meet the qualification standards in the PORTAL Rules.

<sup>6</sup> The NASD stated in its submission that it believes that it may be contrary to the purposes of section 15A(b)(2) and the private nature of the exemption from registration under section 5 of the Securities Act provided by Rule 144A for the NASD to provide quotation or transaction information to any vendor or other person. The Commission specifically requests commentators to address this issue.

<sup>2</sup> Section 3(a)(22)(B) under the Act defines an exclusive securities information processor as a securities information processor or self-regulatory organization engaged, on an exclusive basis, in collecting, processing, or preparing for distribution or publication information regarding transactions or quotations made by such facility or exchange. 15 U.S.C. 78c(a)(22) (1987).

<sup>3</sup> The PORTAL Market is a screen-based system for primary placements and secondary trading of Rule 144A securities. The Commission, in separate releases, adopted Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933 and approved a NASD proposed rule change to implement the PORTAL Market under the Exchange Act. See Securities Act Release No. 6862, April 23, 1990; and Securities Exchange Act Release No. 27956, April 27, 1990.

Dated: April 27, 1990.

Secretary.

Federal Highway Administration

Environmental Impact Statement: Orange County, CA

AGENCY: Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of intent.

SUMMARY: The FHWA is issuing this notice to advise the public that an environmental impact statement will be prepared for a proposed highway widening project in Orange County, California.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. James J. Bednar, District Engineer,
Federal Highway Administration, P.O.

Box 1915, Sacramento, California 95812-1915, Telephone (916) 551-1310.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The FHWA, in cooperation with the California Department of Transportation (CALTRANS) will prepare an environmental impact statement (EIS) on a proposal to widen State Route 55 (the Costa Mesa Freeway) between the Interstate 5 (the Santa Ana Freeway) and State Route 91 (the Riverside Freeway) for a distance of about 5.8 miles. Transportation improvements are considered necessary to relieve current congestion and provide additional capacity for the projected future traffic demand on the existing Route 55 freeway. The limits of the proposed improvements are: 0.1 mile south of the Seventeenth Street overcrossing in Sanata Ana to 0.3 mile south of the Route 91 Freeway.

Alternatives being considered for the Freeway Widening Project are: (1) Taking no action; (2) Develop one additional general purpose travel lane in each direction. Auxiliary lanes will be added between 17th Street and State Route 22, between State Route 22 and Chapman Avenue, and between Lincoln Avenue and State Route 91. The project will also modify the freeway to achieve full design standards for the existing High Occupancy Vehicle (HOV) lane, the general purpose lanes, the median areas and the shoulders.

As an integral component of preparing the Draft EIS, CALTRANS will conduct an Agency Scoping Meeting in spring of 1990. Agency notice will be given of the time and place of the meeting. In addition, Public Information Meetings (open houses) will be held shortly after the Agency Scoping Meeting, in order to get the citizens input. Public notice will be given of the time and place of these open houses. The draft EIS will subsequently be available for public and agency review and comments.

To insure that the full ranges of issues related to this proposed action are addressed and all significant issues identified, comments and suggestions are invited from all interested parties. Comments and questions concerning this proposed action and the EIS should be directed to the FHWA at the address provided.

Fee Collection Program

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Commission's rules relating to the procedures for implementation of a fee collection program under 47 U.S.C. 158 (1989), are amended to implement changes in that program under the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989. The Act increased the amount of fees and created new fees. The rules being adopted implement those new and increased fees. Also, to comply with congressional directives and Department of Treasury regulations regarding handling of monies, the new rules require payment of fees at a lockbox bank, the Mellon Bank in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The new rules will increase the amount of fees collected by the Commission and make the collection process more efficient.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 21, 1990.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Memorandum Opinion and Order

Adopted: April 19, 1990.

Released: April 20, 1990.

By the Commission:

In the matter of establishment of a fee collection program to implement the provisions of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989.

I. Introduction

1. By this Order, the Commission amends certain of its rules to implement section 3001 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989 (hereinafter referred to as the Budget Act), which was signed into law on December 19, 1989.<sup>1</sup> This legislation amends section 8 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, by revising the Schedule of Charges (fees) now collected by the Commission.

2. Section 3001(c) of the Budget Act directs that the amendments to the Schedule of Charges take effect on the date of enactment. The law also provides that the Commission implement the amended Schedule of Charges within 150 days of its enactment.<sup>2</sup> Further, with the 1989 amendment to section 8, Congress directed the Commission to avoid a "full-blown" rulemaking prior to implementing the new charges. Conference Report at 433. Consistent with that guidance and our 150-day deadline, we have determined not to conduct a notice and comment rulemaking to implement the new fee schedule.<sup>3</sup>

3. We recognize that a News Release of December 21, 1989 indicated that the public would have the opportunity to comment on any changes resulting from the 1989 Budget Act.<sup>4</sup> See News Release, "President Signs Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989 Creating New and Revised FCC Fees," December 21, 1989. That News Release also indicated that the public would be given sufficient advance notice of the implementation date for the new fees and any new fee collection procedures. As the new rules must be implemented by May 21, 1990 (150 days from the enactment, as required by Congress), it does not appear that it will be possible for us to both afford an opportunity for public comment and give the public

<sup>2</sup> The Conference Report indicates a congressional intent for the public to continue to pay existing fees until the Commission has revised its rules to incorporate these fees and any other changes into its procedures in order to collect these charges. Conference Report at 433.

<sup>3</sup> The new rules adopted herein do not require prior notice and comment under the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. 553. The rule amendments reflecting the new fee amounts are mandated by Congress in the new Schedule of Charges in section 8. Thus, affording an opportunity for public comment on the new fee amounts would serve no purpose and is unnecessary. 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(3). Implementation of the new fees will also require some adjustments in the manner in which the Commission collects fee. Those changes, however, involve rules of "agency organization, procedure, or practice," and a notice and comment rulemaking is not required before they are put into effect. 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(1).

<sup>4</sup> The preliminary indication that we would proceed by notice and comment rulemaking was based in large part on the fact that we proceeded in that manner in Establishment of a Fee Collection Program to Implement the Provisions of the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (Fee Program), 2 FCC Rcd 947 (1987).

advance notice of the new rules. In these circumstances, and given Congress' preference that we avoid using rulemaking procedures, we believe that the best resolution is to proceed directly to adoption of new rules. However, any party will have the opportunity to seek reconsideration of any particular procedure adopted herein, and we will carefully review any petitions for reconsideration to determine if any matters raised by commenters require an adjustment to these new rules.

Background

4. The Commission began collecting fees under the statutory authority conferred by section 8 on April 1, 1987.<sup>5</sup> As of December 1, 1989, the Commission had collected $107.2 million from approximately 941,000 applicants and other filers. These totals include fees associated with initial filings of low power television and rural cellular authorizations. Excluding the nonrecurring filings, the Commission collected $50.9 million in the first 30 months of the program. That is, an average of $20.4 million per year from 259,000 applicants. During this same period, approximately 60 percent of all revenues collected were filed with and processed through Mellon Bank, a Treasury Department lockbox bank in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

5. The 1989 Budget Act increases the dollar amount of all existing fees and creates new fees for other regulatory services or filing requirements.<sup>6</sup> New fees include those for Ship Stations, Aircraft Stations, Specialized Mobile Radio Systems, Private Carrier Licenses, Restricted Radio Telephone Operator Permits, Experimental Radio Services, FM/TV Boosters, International Broadcast Stations, mobile Satellite Earth Stations, Radio Determination Satellite Earth Stations, Recognized Private Operating Status, Accounting and Audits, International Telecommunications Settlements, Radio Operator Examinations and License Renewals and Ship Inspections. New fees were also created for Commission actions on requests for Special Temporary Authority, Waivers, Call Sign Changes, and Extensions or Reinstatements of Construction Permits.

<sup>5</sup> Fee Program, 2 FCC Rcd. 947 (1987), 52 F.R. 5285 (February 20, 1987); Supplemental Order on the Establishment of a Fee Collection Program, 2 FCC Rcd. 1682 (1987), 52 F.R. 10226 (March 31, 1987); reconsideration granted in part, Memorandum Opinion and Order (Fee Reconsideration Order), 3 FCC Rcd. 5987 (1988), 53 F.R. 40884 (October 19, 1988).

<sup>6</sup> Originally, the Commission had planned to increase all fees in 1989 by 12.6 percent, based upon the percentage change in the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers (CPI-U). See 47 U.S.C. 158(b). However, as Congress was considering a completely revised Schedule of Charges, including a 12.6 percent fee increase and many entirely new fees, we decided to forego the scheduled 1989 CPI-based increase. Pursuant to section 8(b), as modified in the 1989 Budget Act, the next periodic CPI-based adjustment in the Schedule of Charges will take place on October 1, 1993.

6. The amended Schedule of Charges will have a dramatic impact on our collection efforts. We expect additional revenues of approximately $20 million per year—effectively doubling the current program. The number of applications subject to fees would increase from approximately 268,000 to 749,000 per year—almost tripling the number of transactions the Commission must process. At the same time, the administrative costs of creating and operating this expanded fee program are not included in the Commission's FY90 budget.<sup>7</sup> Therefore, we must utilize the most cost-efficient method of cash management in collecting fees, in order to minimize adverse effects on other critical Commission responsibilities such as the actual review and processing of applications. In addition, we must be mindful of existing law and Treasury Department regulations that require federal agencies to use prescribed cash management techniques that ensure the rapid deposit of funds.<sup>8</sup>

II. Fee Collection Procedures

7. Section 8(f) of the Communications Act directs the Commission to "prescribe appropriate rules and regulations to carry out the provisions . . . related to the collection of fees. Our decisions as to how to collect these fees must be based upon a realistic assessment of the funds, personnel, equipment and time available to establish a workable program that conforms to cash management laws. As the resources available to this and other agencies decrease in real terms, we must ensure that we use all possible methods to limit government expenditures that will otherwise be diverted from other areas. This is particularly true when a program almost doubles in size. The collection procedures adopted herein are, again, designed to accommodate the new fee program in the most efficient and practical manner possible, without the need to divert resources from our other regulatory programs.

A. Payment/Filing Locations

8. Our current rules require that applications with fees be filed either at the Mellon Bank in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania or the Commission's headquarters in Washington, DC.<sup>9</sup> Private Radio applications, including those filed by frequency coordinators, are filed in Pittsburgh, while Mass Media, Common Carrier and equipment authorization services are filed in Washington. However, we previously noted that we would consider changing our filing locations if we experienced problems with cash management in Washington.<sup>10</sup>

9. Recently, fee processing in Washington has resulted in significant delays in forwarding applications to the processing offices and bureaus. For example, as of December 1989 it required approximately 15 workdays from the date of filing to complete processing in the Fee Section. Because of chronic difficulties in filling low paying administrative positions in Washington, DC, compounded by recent appropriations that have decreased the ability of the Commission to replace lost employees, we see no end in sight to unacceptable delays in our Washington Fee Section. These delays will be magnified if we continue to receive Mass Media, Common Carrier and equipment authorization fees in Washington.<sup>11</sup> An effort to at least stabilize speeds of service with the new fees would require almost a tripling of current staff and space to continue processing fees in Washington.<sup>12</sup> We are unwilling to accept this deterioration in the Commission's service to the public. We are also unable to support the level of resources needed to continue processing these applications in Washington, especially when a cost-effective alternative exists. Therefore, we have decided to use the Treasury

<sup>9</sup> Mellon is one of several banks nationwide under a master lockbox contract with the Treasury. It was originally selected by the FCC, in consultation with the Treasury, because of its closeness to Washington and outstanding reputation in the cash management field. The Commission signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Treasury Department and Mellon Bank to meet its specific needs. The Treasury Department is responsible for all reimbursements to the lockbox banks.

<sup>11</sup> The number of mass media, common carrier, and equipment authorization filings subject to a fee will increase from an average of 39,000 per year to almost 80,000 per year. This does not include special "window" filings that could cause this level to be much higher.

<sup>12</sup> Approximately 32 workyears are now devoted to fee processing in Washington and Gettysburg. We estimate that an additional 53 workyears would be required to maintain the current, unacceptable speed of service.

Department Lockbox collection program for all fees. By using the lockbox, we will be able to provide fee processing in three days.

10. We are amending the filing location rules to take full advantage of the lockbox services provided under the auspices of the Department of the Treasury. Under the new rules, with a very few exceptions discussed below, submissions with fees will be filed only with the lockbox bank in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Submissions with fees that are filed elsewhere will be returned to the sender without further processing. However, filings that do not require fees, including those submitted by applicants that claim a fee exemption under 47 U.S.C. 158(d)(1), will continue to be filed at the appropriate Commission office.

11. This action is taken in response to the congressional suggestion that we use "the most cost-effective cash management techniques, as jointly determined by the Department of the Treasury and the FCC, to assure that government revenues are maximized and collection costs minimized." Conference Report at 433; see also 31 U.S.C. 3302, 31 CFR 206.2, 206.4, 206.5 (relating to the timing and method of depositing money with the Treasury). In 1987, we consulted with the Treasury in the design of our fee collection procedures. At that time, the relatively small number of filings expected in Washington did not justify use of the lockbox. Now, with the almost twofold increase in expected feeable applications directed to Washington and the estimated threefold increase in staff and space required to meet this workload, our consultations with the staff at the Department of the Treasury indicate that a lockbox would be the only viable collection method that could ensure timely deposits consistent with law.

12. Before arriving at this conclusion, we considered the disruption it would cause to the normal filing habits of Washington-based entities. In this regard, the Federal Communications Bar Association (FCBA) has, through informal contacts, expressed objections to the requirement that applications be filed with the lockbox bank in Pittsburgh. The FCBA is concerned that the filer may lose full control over the application when it is put in the hands of an express carrier or courier for delivery to the bank, and, even when the application is sent in sufficient time to normally expect timely delivery, unexpected intervening events may result in its loss or late delivery to the bank.

13. We believe that the FCBA's concerns are valid with respect to all time critical broadcast and common carrier applications that previously have been accepted for filing in Washington. By time critical applications, we refer to those requests for FCC authorizations that must be filed by a specific deadline or be dismissed as untimely. That is, applications filed in response to a "window" or a "cut-off" list established by the Commission. Where such time critical applications were previously filed in Washington, the Pittsburgh filing requirement could impose a hardship.<sup>13</sup> We believe that, with respect to those time critical applications whose location of filing has been shifted from Washington to Pittsburgh, we can alleviate the FCBA's concerns, as well as those of its clients, without imposing unreasonable costs on the Government.<sup>14</sup>

14. Accordingly, we are implementing a procedure under which an unofficial copy of such applications, together with evidence of timely shipment to Pittsburgh, may be submitted to the Commission in Washington to be date stamped and retained by the Secretary's office. If submitted, that copy may be used as evidence of timely submission should the official copy be lost or delayed. To establish timely filing, the application must have been submitted to the Secretary's office by close of business on the established deadline date, and it must have been submitted

<sup>13</sup> For example, because applications filed in response to FM windows, the nationwide paging window, AM cut-off lists, and TV cut-off lists were filed in Washington, we share the FCBA's concern with the potential disruptions that may result from the requirement that they now be filed in Pittsburgh. On the other hand, other time critical applications like those filed in response to low power television and rural cellular "windows" have been submitted in Pittsburgh, and, as we perceive no problem with continuing that requirement, we do not believe that any special procedures are warranted for such filings.

<sup>14</sup> In addition to the date stamp/receipt procedure outlined in paragraph 14, we have also considered other alternatives, including: transporting Washington receipts to Pittsburgh for fee processing; and permitting split filings with the fees going to Pittsburgh while the application is filed in Washington. However, the former alternative would impose substantial costs on the Government, including the cost of shipping the materials to Pittsburgh, salaries and space for the required staff in Washington, and the maintenance of records on the materials accepted here and shipped to Pittsburgh. Similarly, the latter alternative would require the matching of fee receipts against application receipts, thereby delaying the processing of applications. A detailed analysis of the costs associated with these options, as well as the date stamp/receipt procedure being adopted herein, is set forth in appendix C. In our judgment, the costs of either the shipping or matching alternatives outweigh their benefits, but it appears that the date stamp/receipt alternative can alleviate the FCBA's concerns without similar high costs or long delays.

with a copy of a receipt from an express carrier or commercial courier service offering delivery of packages to Pittsburgh. The receipt must indicate that the package was put in the hands of the express carrier or commercial courier in a manner and in sufficient time to normally expect delivery to the lockbox bank before midnight on the next business day of the Commission.<sup>15</sup> The delivery of the application to the lockbox bank on the next business day after the deadline date shall constitute a timely filing of the application in accordance with the deadline established by the Commission.<sup>16</sup> In any case in which the application transmitted to Pittsburgh is lost or delayed, and the filer has availed itself of the date stamp/receipt option, the Secretary's date stamped copy will provide evidence that the filing was made or was made in a timely fashion.<sup>17</sup>

15. Although we realize that some inconvenience may still result from our determination to require all fees to be filed with the lockbox, we also believe that cash management requirements cannot be met in any continuation of our current procedures. The Congress has recognized, as have thousands of private companies with large numbers of receivables, that lockbox banks are invaluable tools in speeding the availability of funds and reducing collection costs.<sup>18</sup> Where, as here, the full utilization of lockbox services will permit the Commission to devote more of its scarce staff resources to substantive processing and eliminate the unacceptable delays, we believe that any inconvenience caused thereby is insignificant when balanced against the advantages.

16. The following description is provided for those filers that may be unfamiliar with lockbox services. A

<sup>15</sup> In submitting the application and receipt to the Secretary's office in Washington, the filer will be representing that the receipt is for a package containing the original and file copies of the same application, and that package is being shipped to the lockbox bank.

<sup>16</sup> The filing procedure being implemented herein for a limited class of mass media and common carrier time critical applications is similar to a "mail box" filing rule that has been used by some courts. In the future, we will consider the extension of this procedure to other time critical application filings.

<sup>17</sup> The applications will be maintained in a chronological file so that the staff or any interested parties can confirm that a particular application was, or was not, submitted in this manner, if the need to do so should arise.

lockbox bank serves as the filing and processing agent for a corporation or government entity. Instead of delivering payments to the entity, accounts receivable and identifying information are sent directly to the lockbox. The bank maintains several post office boxes that act as a pre-sort for the payments. Mail is picked up at frequent intervals beginning in the evening and continuing throughout the day. Processing continues 24 hours a day, including weekends. Additional staff is brought in during peak periods to avoid delays. The lockbox opens the mail, processes the funds, records remittance data and forwards remaining materials to the client entity, usually within 24 hours of its receipt by the bank. Funds are deposited to the client's account several times per day to permit immediate crediting of revenues. The FCC has used the lockbox services of the Mellon Bank in Pittsburgh.

17. Under the lockbox filing rule adopted herein, the public will mail their applications or other filings subject to a fee to one of several designated post office boxes in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.<sup>19</sup> Hand or courier deliveries will also be accepted by the bank 24 hours per day, every day. The bank will date stamp all materials on the date of their receipt. Mail picked up by the bank after 5:30 p.m. or on weekends or holidays and hand delivered or couriered materials received after 5:30 p.m. or on weekends or holidays will be stamped with the actual date and time of receipt. As previously noted, materials submitted to the bank before midnight on any Commission business day will be treated as having been filed on that business day.<sup>20</sup> As the bank makes mail pick-ups after 5:30 p.m., this practice will provide some additional time for entities that file by mail as well as those that file by hand.<sup>21</sup> Materials submitted on weekends or holidays will be treated as having been filed on the next business day.

<sup>20</sup> Entities submitting "mass" filings should note that the bank's loading dock will not be available after 5:30 p.m., and any such filings would have to be hand carried to the lockbox office.

<sup>21</sup> We realize that this procedure may slightly disadvantage fee exempt applicants like noncommercial educational broadcasters that may file mutually exclusive applications in response to a cut-off date for facilities that are also available to commercial applicants. However, such instances will be rare, and, with a little planning, the fee exempt filers should have no trouble meeting the deadline by 5:30 p.m. in Washington. Materials submitted on weekends or holidays will be treated as having been filed on the next business day.

18. The bank will also date stamp and return a courtesy copy of a filing if requested to do so and provided with a copy of the submission for that purpose. Date stamped courtesy copies are also available by mail to applicants who provide an extra copy of the submission together with a stamped, self-addressed envelope. If the lockbox processor has reason to believe that an incorrect fee has been paid, the application will receive a second review by a Commission employee before it is rejected and returned to the filer. Upon completion of fee processing, the lockbox will express mail applications to the Commission's headquarters or designated locations. We expect that a submission will be in the possession of the bureau or office responsible for its processing within three (3) days of its receipt by the lockbox bank.

19. Many submissions contain competitively sensitive information. The lockbox bank understands the importance of and serious consequences that could result from premature public disclosure of information in these submissions. Although we are unaware of any such disclosure with regard to the more than 800,000 FCC applications processed by the lockbox bank to date, we are in the process of strengthening the disclosure prohibition in the current Memorandum of Understanding. The new language will be in effect upon the effective date of these rules. In addition, each lockbox employee who comes in contact with an FCC document will be bonded and will sign an individual disclosure prohibition. The bank will not be permitted to discuss even the existence of an application without prior approval of the FCC.<sup>22</sup> The lockbox will not process classified materials. These will be filed in accordance with existing procedures. The lockbox bank will not return applications or filings to the submitter for any reason.

20. There will be a limited number of exceptions to the requirement that the submission and fee be filed at the lockbox bank. The first such exception involves tariffs where timing and other considerations lead us to modify the procedure. We will require that the tariff submissions be split, and only the official transmittal letter or application for special permission be transmitted with the fee payment and the fee form to the lockbox bank. The attachments will be filed at the Commission through the Secretary's Office under a copy of the transmittal letter. We will not accept the fee payment in Washington. A further exception will be made for that class of fees that are not paid with the actual submission to the FCC, but are billed at a later date. See §§ 26-27, infra. Here again, the fee payment, appropriately identified, will be submitted to the lockbox, although the underlying request was received elsewhere in the Commission. The billing statement will identify the appropriate payment location. Notices of appearance accompanied by hearing fees will be filed at our lockbox bank, but parties should also file a copy of the notice of appearance with the presiding judge.

B. Form Requirement

21. The current fee collection program does not require the use of any standardized form in addition to the form or filing format for the authorization requested. However, expeditious handling of the new fee program requires the use of a new Fee Form in addition to the service related form or filing format now submitted. A copy of the new form, FCC Form 155, is attached as appendix A. As FCC forms are revised in the future, the informational requirements of the Fee Form will be incorporated into the revised forms, and a separate Fee Form will no longer be required for filing using the revised application forms.

22. This new procedure is necessary to avoid the extremely difficult and time consuming task of examining the myriad of FCC forms or other filings to determine the correct fee. Some fees are required on a per station or per frequency basis, but the information necessary to calculate the fee is not readily available on the first page of the form. Other submissions do not require an application form, and these must be read to determine what fee is due. With the expected threefold increase in feeable applications, it is necessary for us to streamline the system for processing fees. The FCC Form 155 will accomplish this. Moreover, it will make it easier for the lockbox bank to make the initial determination of whether the correct fee has been paid without reading the underlying materials, and it will permit the bank to keystroke the information from the Fee Form to create a fee data base. Without this standard Fee Form, we could not ensure that the Commission received enough information to permit us to retain a complete record of payments.

23. We recognize that the Fee Form will cause an additional paperwork burden to the public. However, the minimal additional burden on each filer is more than offset by the improvements to the fee collection process that should occur through the use of the form. We have sought and received Office of Management and Budget (OMB) approval of this form to ensure that it is ready for distribution well before the new Schedule of Charges takes effect. We expect to have these forms ready for the public approximately two weeks prior to that date. Filers may submit reproductions of the form.

24. In addition to information identifying the applicant, the form will require the entry of a fee code, a unique identifier for each FCC fee. The fee codes will be listed in the FCC-produced guides to paying fees as well as in the rules specifying the appropriate fees (§§ 1.1102-1.1105), and the applicant will be required to enter the appropriate fee code on the Fee Form. The Fee Form provides space for listing up to five different fee codes. A review of our filing procedures indicates that this is the maximum number of different feeable requests that can be filed on any application form. Multiples of each feeable request can also be noted on the form. A separate Fee Form will be required for each distinct application, but, where a single application can be used to request multiple licenses, stations, or frequencies, a single Fee Form, accompanied by a single payment, will suffice.

25. Because the Fee Form is essential to the efficient processing of fees, the failure to submit the form will result in the dismissal of the underlying application. Similarly, if the fee associated with the code(s) entered on the form do not match the fee paid, the submission will be dismissed. Generally, one payment instrument should be submitted with each Fee Form, and the amount of that payment must match the total fee as reflected on the form.<sup>23</sup> We will require that the Fee Form be attached firmly to each application or filing.<sup>24</sup> However, for the present, the Fee Form will not be required for filings on FCC Forms 574, 753, 755, 404, and 506. As a condition of OMB's approval of the Fee Form, we agreed to an early revision these applications, and, in cooperation with OMB, we plan on incorporating the Fee Form data elements in the revised application forms.

<sup>24</sup> Frequency coordinators filing land mobile radio services applications are required to forward applicants' fee payments when the application is filed. At this time, we will not impose any additional duties on frequency coordinators to review the Fee Form. Rather, the primary responsibility for the Fee Form lies with the applicant, and the frequency coordinator need only forward that form, together with the applicant's fee payment and the underlying application, to the appropriate lockbox address.

<sup>22</sup> Thus, the bank will not respond to inquiries on the status of applications. Any such requests, even by the filer itself, should be made to the bureau or office responsible for processing the submission.

C. Billing Procedures

26. As noted above, we have made an exception to the rule that fees must accompany the submission to provide for limited instances in which a billing process will be used. The Fee Program generally rejected the notion that fees could be collected efficiently through a billing process. However, the 1989 Budget Act imposes fees on requests for Ship Inspections, the SMRS Waiting List, audits, and International Telecommunications Settlements. In these instances, because of time sensitivity or because the Commission, not the requester, initiates the fee causing action, the general simultaneous filing rule for fee submission is inappropriate. Moreover, although many requests for Special Temporary Authority (STA) can and should be filed in the normal course, through the lockbox bank, there will be instances in which the applicant believes that the STA being requested is of such an urgent or emergency nature that there is not sufficient time to file in with the lockbox bank. In such circumstances, the requests may be filed with the appropriate FCC Bureau or Office as established in the Commission's rules.

27. For these situations (Ship Inspections, the SMRS Waiting List, audits, International Telecommunications Settlements, and STAs), we are now adopting a billing process for collection of fees. Bills will be issued to the affected parties reflecting the amount due and the deadline for payment. Bills that are not paid when due will be subject to a 25 percent penalty and all procedures permitted by our Debt Collection rules.<sup>25</sup> We also retain the authority to dismiss an application or filing or rescind a grant where the applicant has not paid a charge and/or penalty in a timely manner. 47 U.S.C. 158(c)(2).

D. Additional Procedures for Failed Payments

28. Under our current rules, a request dismissed for the failure of the paying bank to honor the payment instrument may be reinstated upon request, "based on a convincing showing, including a statement by the bank, that the failure to honor the check was entirely due to an error on the part of the bank." Fee Reconsideration Order, 3 FCC Rcd at 5992. Our experience under the existing rule indicates that the procedure can be streamlined and delay eliminated if we require the bank's statement to be in the form of an affidavit from an officer of the bank.<sup>26</sup>

29. We are also adopting a new rule permitting the Commission, on its own motion, to require an applicant or group of applicants to make fee payments by cashier's check. This procedure will be useful where, as has happened in the past, certain applicants repeatedly submit payment instruments that failed due to insufficient funds, stop payment orders, or closed accounts. These failed payments impose significant processing costs on the Government, and we can see no reason why the FCC should permit repeated instances of an action that is a violation of most state laws. This rule permits the staff to require a cashier's check for all future submissions from any person that has two or more instances of failed payments. Moreover, the rule could also be invoked where applications are submitted in filing windows. A cashier's check would ensure the Commission of final payment before it expends significant resources in processing an application.<sup>27</sup> In either instance, the applicant would receive prior notice from the Commission that a cashier's check is required.<sup>28</sup>

30. The new fees for Special Temporary Authorities (STAs) and other time sensitive requests require adoption of a new procedure to apply in those instances where it is impractical to condition Commission actions upon final payment and timely payment of bills. For example, an STA may expire by its own terms before the Commission learns of a failed payment or a bill becomes due. In such circumstances, where existing procedures are inadequate, our procedure will be to defer processing and/or grant of any other application or request made by a person or company who has failed to make full payment of a fee due until the matter is resolved.

<sup>25</sup> In lieu of an affidavit, the bank officer may submit an unsworn statement subscribed to as true under penalty of perjury. See 47 CFR 1.16.

<sup>28</sup> Applicants with multiple failed payment instruments will be notified by letter, specifying the reason for the requirement and its duration. Where a cashier's check is required from all applicants responding to a particular filing window, the requirement will be specified in the "Public Notice" of the window.

E. Procedures for Fee Waivers and Requests for Reconsideration and Applications for Review of Fee Decisions

31. The Commission considers requests for fee waivers on a case by case basis when such requests are submitted with the application or filing that otherwise requires a fee and when the applicant demonstrates that waiver would be in the public interest. Our current rules do not require payment of the underlying fee with the waiver request, but, if a fee waiver request submitted without the fee is denied, the underlying application will be dismissed. Thus, the staff has encouraged applicants seeking fee waivers to submit a provisional fee with their request.

32. We believe that this process is unnecessarily time consuming and the ability to request a waiver without submitting the fee may, in some cases, encourage the filing of speculative fee waiver requests. Thus, we are amending the rules to require payment of the underlying fee with any fee waiver request.<sup>29</sup> Fee waiver requests received without the correct fee will be returned without consideration and the underlying filing will be dismissed. If a properly filed waiver request is granted, we will refund the fee to the applicant. If the waiver request is denied, we will retain the fee and continue substantive processing. Requests for fee waivers will be submitted as part of the underlying application, in accordance with the procedures governing the filing of that application. The fee waiver request, the application, and fee will be filed at the lockbox bank in Pittsburgh.

33. Our rules provide that reconsideration or review of fee decisions will only be available where the applicant has made the full and proper payment of the underlying fee. 47 CFR 1.1116(b). In a situation where a fee payment instrument accompanies a Petition for Reconsideration or Application for Review under that provision, it will be filed with the lockbox bank in Pittsburgh.

F. Fee Exemptions

34. The 1989 Budget Act preserves all existing fee exemptions for noncommercial educational broadcast applicants and governmental entities. However, section 8(d)(1) is amended to include an exemption for "nonprofit entities licensed in the following radio services: Local Government, Police, Fire, Highway Maintenance, Forestry-Conservation, Public Safety, and Special Emergency Radio, * * * 47 U.S.C. 158(d)(1).<sup>30</sup> We believe Congress intended "nonprofit entities" to mean entities that receive nonprofit, tax exempt status under the Internal Revenue Code. See 26 U.S.C. 501. An entity can request nonprofit, tax exempt status by filing a Form 1023 with the Internal Revenue Service. If the entity qualifies, the Service will send it a "Determination Letter." We will require a copy of the "Determination Letter" as proof of nonprofit status. Moreover, we interpret the exemption granted in 47 U.S.C. 158(d)(1) to include exempt applicants requesting authorizations in the Operational Fixed Microwave Services where those authorizations are to be used in conjunction with a Special Emergency or Public Safety Radio Service.

<sup>29</sup> Applicants seeking deferrals will not be required to submit a provisional fee as the very nature of the request is based on an inability to do so. Should a deferral be denied, the application or filing will be dismissed. If a deferral is granted, the applicant will be billed.

<sup>25</sup> 47 CFR 1.1901 et seq. The 25 percent penalty provided for in 47 U.S.C. 158(c)(1) will be added to the account of an applicant that qualifies for billing but does not pay in full by the due date of the first notice. The penalty is included in the principal that is then subject to debt collection and statutory interest rates.

III. New and Increased Fees

35. We are adopting the Schedule of Charges into our rules exactly as approved by Congress and the President. This includes the language that establishes multiples of a fee based upon the number of frequencies, stations, call signs, waivers, etc. that may be requested by an applicant. Any future changes to these fees will be made through the mechanism created by section 8(b) of the Communications Act (the CPI increase or decrease) or future statutory changes by Congress. As necessary, we will propose new charges or revisions to current charges to Congress for their consideration.

36. The Schedule of Charges results from a determination by the Congress that the fees represent a fair approximation as to how the Commission's costs should be distributed. Conference Report at 433. Members of the affected telecommunications industries have had an opportunity to comment upon and suggest changes to the Schedule of Charges through the legislative process. We have worked with Congress to ensure that, to the best extent possible, fees reflect only the direct cost of processing the typical application or filing. We note, however, that Congress did adopt a minimum fee of $35 that may not reflect the actual cost of processing.<sup>31</sup>

37. Those requests for regulatory action or required filings that are not listed in the Schedule of Charges are not subject to a fee. The public should carefully review these fees to acquaint themselves with amounts and multipliers. The fees are described in detail in the Congressional Record for November 21, 1989, H9610-16. For the convenience of the public, the same description, together with rule citations and information on the appropriate filing form is supplied in Appendix B.

IV. Effective Date for New Procedures and Fees

38. As previously noted, the revised section 8 directs the Commission to implement the modified Schedule of Charges not later than 150 days after the date of enactment. Thus, the new procedures and fees will go into effect on May 21, 1990. On that day and thereafter, submissions must be filed at the appropriate location and the new FCC Form 155 must accompany the filings. We do not expect to permit a "grace period" for improperly filed applications. The public has been on notice since November 1989 that these fees have changed, and we expect to provide our filers with additional notification through a public relations campaign.

39. Generally, applications or other filings that are received prior to May 21, 1990 would be subject to the prior Schedule of Charges and fee collection procedures, and members of the public with pending applications or requests will not be required to submit an additional fee. However, if a pending application is dismissed and refiled on or after May 21, 1990, or a change in status requires the payment of an additional fee on or after May 21, 1990, the new Schedule of Charges will apply. Applicants designated for hearing on or after May 21, 1990, will pay the revised fee ($6,760), but an applicant designated for hearing prior to May 21, 1990 will have the opportunity to pay the old fee ($6,000), provided that payment is made before May 21, 1990.

V. Procedural Matters

40. The proposal contained herein has been analyzed with respect to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 and found to impose a new or modified information collection requirement on the public. The proposal has been submitted to and approved by the OMB as prescribed by the Act.

41. The procedures being implemented herein are intended to accomplish the efficient receipt of filings and collection of fees consistent with applicable laws and regulations and with the minimum of inconvenience to those that make filings with the Commission. Although we believe that we have succeeded in this respect, we also recognize that experience with these procedures may reveal that certain adjustments are warranted, and, where appropriate, we will make those adjustments in future proceedings.

42. Accordingly, it is ordered, That, pursuant to authority contained in section 3001 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989 (Pub. L. Number, 101-239), and in sections 4(i), 4(j), 8(f) and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, (47 U.S.C. 154(i), 154(j), 158(f) and 303(r)), effective on May 21, 1990, parts 0, 1, 5, and 61 of the Commission's rules are amended as set forth below.

43. It is further ordered, That FCC Form 155 (attached hereto as appendix A) is adopted, and, with the exception of the applications listed at paragraph 25, above, said form will be required for all fee submissions tendered on or after May 21, 1990.

Appendix

PART 0—[AMENDED]

1. The authority citation for part 0 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 47 U.S.C. 154, 303 unless otherwise noted. Implement 5 U.S.C. 552, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 0.401 is amended by revising the introductory paragraph and <sup>30</sup> The specific radio services listed by section 8(d)(1) fall under the general rubric of either Special Emergency Radio or Public Safety Radio. See 47 CFR 90.15 and 90.33 for a complete description of these services.

The Commission maintains several offices and receipt locations. Applications and other filings not submitted in accordance with the addresses or locations set forth below will be returned to the applicant without processing. When an application or other filing does not involve the payment of a fee, the appropriate filing address or location is established elsewhere in the rules for the various types of submissions made to the Commission. The public should identify the correct filing location by reference to these rules. Applications or submissions requiring fees must be submitted in accordance with § 0.401(b) of the rules irrespective of the addresses that may be set out elsewhere in the rules for other submissions.

(b) Applications or filings requiring the fees set forth at part 1, subpart G of the rules must be delivered to the Commission's lockbox bank in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania with the correct fee and completed Fee Form attached to the application or filing, unless otherwise directed by the Commission. In the case of any conflict between this rule subpart and other rules establishing filing locations for submissions subject to a fee, this subpart shall govern.

Note: Applicants seeking a waiver or deferral of fees must submit their application or filing in accordance with the addresses set forth below. Applicants claiming a statutory exemption from the fees should file their applications in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section.

(1) Applications and filings submitted by mail shall be addressed to the Mellon Bank in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The bank maintains separate post office boxes for the receipt of different types of applications. It will also establish special post office boxes to receive responses to special filings such as applications filed in response to "filing windows" established by the Commission. The address for the submission of such filings will be established in the Public Notice announcing the filing dates. In all other cases, applications and filings submitted by mail should be sent to the addresses listed in the appropriate fee rules: § 1.1102 for Private Radio Services, § 1.1103 for Equipment Approvals, Experimental Radio Applications, Radio Operator Examinations, and Ship Inspections; § 1.1104 for Mass Media Services; and § 1.1105 for Common Carrier Services.

Note: Private radio applications that require frequency coordination must be submitted to the appropriate certified frequency coordinator before filing with the Commission. After coordination, the applications are filed with the Commission as set forth herein. (See §§ 90.127 and 90.175 of the rules)

(2) Applications and other filings may also be hand carried, in person or by courier, to the Mellon Bank, Three Mellon Bank Center, 525 William Penn Way, 27th Floor, room 153-2713, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. All applications and filings delivered in this manner must be in an envelope clearly marked for the "Federal Communications Commission," addressed to the attention of "Wholesale Lockbox Shift Supervisor," and identified with the appropriate Post Office Box address as set out in the fee schedule (§§ 1.1102-1.1105). Applications should be enclosed in a separate envelope for each Post Office Box. Hand-carried or couriered applications and filings may be delivered at any time on any day. Applications or filings received by the bank before midnight on any Commission business day will be treated as having been filed on that day. Materials received by the bank after midnight, Monday through Friday, or on weekends or holidays, will be treated as having been filed on the next Commission business day.

3. Section 0.482 is revised to read as follows:

§ 0.482 Application for waiver of private radio rules.

All requests for waiver of the rules governing the Private Radio Services that require a fee (see § 1.1102) shall be submitted to the Mellon Bank, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania at the address set forth in § 1.1102. Waiver requests that do not require a fee shall be addressed to: Federal Communications Commission, Gettysburg, PA 17326. Waiver requests attached to applications must be submitted in accordance with § 0.401(b) of the rules.

PART 1 —[AMENDED]

4. The authority citation for part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: Secs. 4, 303, 48 Stat. 1066, 1082, as amended; 47 U.S.C. 154, 303; Implement. 5 U.S.C. 552, unless otherwise noted.

5. Section 1.221 is amended by revising paragraphs (f) and (g) and the following Note to read as follows:

§ 1.221 Notice of hearing; appearances.

(f) A fee must accompany each written appearance filed with the Commission in certain cases designated for hearing. See subpart G, part 1 for the amount due. The fee is required for each applicant designated for hearing in the private radio services in a comparative new or modification proceeding; for each applicant designated for hearing in a common carrier service in comparative new, major/minor change or renewal proceeding; or for each applicant designated for hearing in a case involving the comparative review of applicants for a new commercial television, radio, or Direct Broadcasting Satellite construction permit, a major/minor change construction permit for a previously authorized commercial facility or comparative renewal license proceeding for these facilities. The fee must accompany each written appearance at the time of its filing and must be in conformance with the requirements of subpart G of the rules.

(g) A written appearance that does not contain the proper fee, or is not accompanied by a deferral request as per § 1.1115 of the rules, shall be dismissed and returned to the applicant by the fee processing staff. The presiding judge will be notified of this action and may dismiss the applicant with prejudice for failure to prosecute if the written appearance is not resubmitted with the correct fee within the original 20 day filing period.

Note: If the parties file a settlement agreement prior to filing the Notice of Appearance or simultaneously with it, the hearing fee need not accompany the Notice of Appearance. In filing the Notice of Appearance, the applicant should clearly indicate that a settlement agreement has been filed. (The fact that there are ongoing negotiations that may lead to a settlement does not affect the requirement to pay the fee.) If a settlement agreement is not effectuated, the Presiding Judge will require immediate payment of the fee.

6. Section 1.931 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.931 Requests for waiver of private radio rules.

(a) All requests for waiver of the rules governing the Private Radio Services that require a fee (see § 1.1102) shall be submitted to the Mellon Bank, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania at the address set forth in § 1.1102. Waiver requests that do not require a fee shall be addressed to: Federal Communications Commission, Gettysburg, PA 17326. Waiver requests attached to applications must be submitted in accordance with § 0.401(b) of the rules.

7. The authority citation for part 1, subpart G is revised to read as follows:

Authority: Sec. 3001(a), Pub. L. 101-239, 103 Stat. 2106, 47 U.S.C. 158.

8. Section 1.1101 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.1101 Authority.

Authority to impose and collect these charges is contained in title III, section 3001 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989 (Pub. L. 101-239), revising 47 U.S.C. 158, which directs the Commission to prescribe charges for certain of the regulatory services it provides to many of the communications entities within its jurisdiction. This law revises section 8 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which contains a Schedule of Charges as well as procedures for modifying and collecting these charges.

9. Section 1.1102 is revised in its entirety to read as follows:

§ 1.1102 Schedule of charges for private radio service.

13. Section 1.1107 is amended by revising paragraph (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.1107 Payment of charges.

(a) Each application or other filing submitted to the Commission on or after May 21, 1990, for which a fee is prescribed by §§ 1.1102 through 1.1105 of this subpart must be accompanied by a remittance in the full amount of the fee due and FCC Form 155. Except that a separate Fee Form (FCC Form 155) will not be required once the information requirements of that form (the Fee Code, fee amount, and total fee remitted) are incorporated into the underlying application form.

Note: This requirement for the simultaneous submission of fees with applications or other filings does not apply to the payment of fees for which the Commission has established a billing process. See § 1.1117 of this subpart.

(1) A single FCC Form 155 may be used when paying multiples of a single type of fee for authorizations that may be requested in one application or request and/or for up to five different authorizations (with different fee codes) that may be requested in the same application or request.

(2) Applications or requests subject to fees that are submitted without the FCC Form 155 will be dismissed. Improperly completed FCC Forms 155 may subject the underlying filing to dismissal under paragraph (b).

(b) Filings subject to a fee under this subpart that are submitted without a fee, with an insufficient fee, with a fee payment in an improper form (see § 1.1108), or with a payment instrument that is uncollectable shall be dismissed and the application returned to the applicant or its designated agent without processing. See also § 1.1114.

14. Section 1.1108 is amended by revising paragraph (b); redesignating existing paragraphs (c) and (d) as (e) and (f); and adding new paragraphs (c) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.1108 Form of payment.

(b) Applicants are required to submit one payment instrument (check, bank draft or money order) and FCC Form 155 with each application or filing. Multiple payment instruments for a single application or filing are not permitted. Except that a separate Fee Form (FCC Form 155) will not be required once the information requirements of that form (the Fee Code, fee amount, and total fee remitted) are incorporated into the underlying application form.

(c) The Commission may accept multiple money orders in payment of a fee for a single application where the fee exceeds the maximum amount for a money order established by the issuing agency and the use of multiple money orders is the only practical method available for fee payment.

(d) The Commission may require payment of fees with a cashier's check upon notification to an applicant or filer or prospective group of applicants under the conditions set forth below. This method of payment will be required only after an applicant has received a letter from the Commission detailing the terms and conditions of payment or the Commission has released a Public Notice requiring this method of payment for a future filing period.

(1) Payment by cashier's check may be required when

(i) A person or organization has, on two or more occasions made payment with a payment instrument on which the Commission does not receive final payment, as defined by § 1.1110, and such failure is not excused by bank error or;

(ii) The numbers of expected receipts for a particular filing window or time frame justifies the use of a cashier's check to ensure final payment before the Commission expends resources in processing the submissions.

15. Section 1.1109 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.1109 Filing locations.

(a) Except as noted herein, applications or other filings, with attached fees and FCC Form 155 must be submitted to the locations and addresses set forth in §§ 1.1102 through 1.1105 of the Commission's rules.

(1) Tariff filings shall be filed with the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, DC. On the same day, the filer should submit a copy of the cover letter, the FCC Form 155, and the appropriate fee to the Mellon Bank at the address established in § 1.1105.

(2) Fee Bills will be paid at the Mellon Bank at the address for the appropriate service as established in §§ 1.1102 through 1.1105, as set forth on the bill sent by the Commission. Payments must be accompanied by a copy of the bill sent by the Commission.

(3) Fees submitted with petitions for reconsideration or applications for review of fee decisions pursuant to § 1.1116(b) of this subpart will be paid at the Fee Section, Federal Communications Commission, Washington, DC 20554.

(4) Applicants claiming an exemption from otherwise applicable fees under 47 U.S.C. 158(d)(1) or § 1.1112 of this subpart shall file their applications in the appropriate location as set forth in the rules for the service for which they are applying. Such applications should not be filed at the Mellon Bank.

(b) All materials must be submitted as one package. The Commission will not take responsibility for matching fees, forms and applications submitted at different times or locations. Materials submitted at other than the location and address required by § 0.401(b) and paragraph (a) of this section will be returned to the applicant or filer.

16. Section 1.1110 is amended by revising the introductory text of paragraphs (a) and (b) and adding a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.1110 Conditionality of Commission or staff authorizations.

(a) Any instrument of authorization granted by the Commission, or by its staff under delegated authority, will be conditioned upon final payment of the applicable fee and timely payment of bills issued by the Commission. As applied to checks, bank drafts and money orders, final payment shall mean receipt by the Treasury of funds cleared by the financial institution on which the check, bank draft or money order is drawn.

(b) In those instances where the Commission has granted a request for deferred payment of a fee or issued a bill payable at a future date, further processing of the application or filing, or the grant of authority, shall be conditioned upon final payment of the fee, plus other required payments for late payments, by the date prescribed by the deferral decision or bill. Failure to comply with the terms of the deferral decision or bill shall result in the automatic dismissal of the submission or rescission of the Commission authorization for failure to meet the condition imposed by this subpart. The Commission reserves the right to return payments received after the date established on the bill and exercise the conditions attached to the application. The Commission shall:

(c) Where the procedures outlined in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section would not provide a meaningful incentive to pay a fee that is due or would not be a meaningful sanction for failure to pay such a fee, in the alternative to those procedures, the Commission may, in its discretion, withhold processing and/or grant of any other application or filing made by a person or organization who has failed to make full payment of any fee due under this subpart.

(1) Before taking such action, the staff will make a written request for the fee, together with any penalties that may be due under this subpart. Such request shall inform the applicant/filer that failure to pay will result in the Commission's withholding action on any other application or request filed by the applicant. The staff shall also inform the applicant of the procedures for seeking Commission review of the staff's fee determination.

(2) If, after final determination that the fee is due, the applicant fails to pay the fee in a timely manner, the staff may terminate the processing and/or withhold a grant of any other application or filing pending or later filed by the applicant, until the matter is resolved.

17. Section 1.1112 is amended by revising paragraph (b) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.1112 General exemptions to charges.

(b) Applicants in the Special Emergency Radio and Public Safety Radio Services that are government entities or nonprofit entities. Applicants claiming nonprofit status must include a current Internal Revenue Service Determination Letter documenting this nonprofit status.

(d) Applicants, permittees, or licensees qualifying under § 1.1112(c) requesting Commission authorization in any other mass media radio service (except the international broadcast (HF) service) private radio service, or common carrier radio communications service otherwise requiring a fee, if the radio service is used in conjunction with the noncommercial educational broadcast station on a noncommercial educational basis.

18. Section 1.1113 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.1113 Adjustments to charges.

(a) The Schedule of Charges established by sections 1.1102 through 1.1105 of this subpart shall be adjusted by the Commission on October 1, 1993 and every two years thereafter.

(1) The fees will be adjusted by the Commission to reflect the percentage change in the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers (CPI-U) from the date of enactment of the authorizing legislation (December 19, 1989) to the date of adjustment, and every two years thereafter, to reflect the percentage change in the CPI-U in the period between the enactment date and the adjustment date.

(2) Adjustments based upon the percentage change in the CPI-U will be applied against the base fees as enacted or amended by Congress. Adjustments will not be calculated by using the previously adjusted fee as the base.

19. Section 1.1114 is amended by revising paragraph (a)(2) to read as follows:

§ 1.1114 Penalty for late or insufficient payments.

(a) * * *

(2) For purposes of determining whether the filing is timely, the date of resubmission with the correct fee will be considered the date of filing. However, in cases where the fee payment fails due to error of the applicant's bank, as evidenced by an affidavit of an officer of the bank, the date of the original submission will be considered the date of filing.

20. Section 1.1115 is amended by removing paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) and adding a new paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.1115 Waivers and deferrals.

(d) Applicants seeking waivers must submit the request for waiver with the application or filing, required fee and FCC Form 155. Waiver requests that do not include these materials will be dismissed in accordance with § 1.1107 of this subpart. Submitted fees will be returned if a waiver is granted. The Commission will not be responsible for delays in acting upon these requests.

21. A new section 1.1117 is added to read as follows:

§ 1.1117 Billing procedures.

(a) The fees required for the SMRS waiting list (§ 1.1102(g)(4) of this subpart), International Telecommunications Settlements (§ 1.1103(i) of this subpart), Ship Inspections (§ 1.1103(k)(1-5) of this subpart), and Common Carrier Field Audits (§ 1.1105(u)(1) of this subpart) should not be paid with the filing or submission of the request. The fees required for requests for Special Temporary Authority (see generally §§ 1.1102, 1.1104, 1.1105 of this subpart) that the applicant believes is of an urgent or emergency nature and are filed directly with the appropriate Bureau or Office should not be paid with the filing of the request with that Bureau or Office.

(b) In these cases, the appropriate fee will be determined by the Commission and the filer will be billed for that fee. The bill will set forth the amount to be paid, the date on which payment is due, and the address to which the payment should be submitted. See also § 1.1110 of this subpart.

22. The authority citation for part 5 continues to read as follows:

23. Section 5.53 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 5.53 Filing of applications.

(b) Any application for radio station authorization and all correspondence relating thereto shall be submitted to the Commission's office at Washington, DC. (Applications requiring fees as set forth at part 1, subpart G of this chapter must be filed in accordance with § 0.401(b) of the rules.)

24. The authority citation for part 61 continues to read as follows:

25. Section 61.32 is revised to read as follows:

§ 61.32 Method of filing publications.

(a) Publications sent for filing must be addressed to "Secretary, Federal Communications Commission, Washington, DC 20554." The date on which the publication is received by the Secretary of the Commission (or the Mail Room were submitted by mail) is considered the official filing date.

(b) In addition, for all tariff publications requiring fees as set forth in part 1, subpart G of this chapter, issuing carriers must submit the original of the transmittal letter (without attachments), FCC Form 155, and the appropriate fee to the Mellon Bank, Pittsburgh, PA, at the address set forth in § 1.1105. Issuing carriers should submit these fee materials on the same date as the submission in paragraph (a).

(c) In addition to the requirements set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the issuing carrier must send a copy of the transmittal letter with two copies of the proposed tariff pages and all attachments, including the supporting information specified in § 61.38, or § 61.49, as appropriate, to the Secretary, Federal Communications Commission. The issuing carrier must file the copies required by this paragraph so they will be received on the same date as the filings in paragraph (a).

26. Section 61.33 is revised to read as follows:

§ 61.33 Letters of transmittal.

(a) Except as specified in § 61.32(b), all publications filed with the Commission must be accompanied by a letter of transmittal, 8½ by 11 inches in size. All letters of transmittal must (1) concisely explain the nature and purpose of the filing; (2) specify whether supporting information under § 61.38 is required; (3) state whether copies have been delivered to the Commercial Contractor and Chief, Tariff Review Branch as required by § 61.32, and (4) contain a statement indicating the date and method of filing of the original of the transmittal letter as required by § 61.32(b), and the date and method of filing the copies as required by § 61.32 (a) and (c).

In the Matter of Establishment of a Fee Collection Program To Implement the Provisions of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989

I write separately to express my concern that one aspect of the fee collection plan may unnecessarily burden many parties who deal with this agency. Specifically, I remain unpersuaded that our mandate to employ the most cost-effective cash management techniques requires that applicants submit not only application fees, but also the applications themselves, to the lockbox bank in Pittsburgh.

Our plan responds to some of the concerns of the communications bar by offering to accept and retain file copies of applications submitted to the Secretary together with evidence of timely mailing to Pittsburgh.

However, I believe we could have devised a low-cost approach allowing the continued filing of applications at Commission headquarters, with fees going separately to Pittsburgh. I suspect this could be accomplished without a significantly greater expenditure of Commission resources, while sparing the public (and not merely their attorneys) the expense of filing applications in both Pittsburgh and Washington.

Yet the time left for implementation of this program has now run short, and I shall accept the judgment of the Chairman and his Managing Director on this matter of Commission administration. But if public comment or implementation should prove our double-filing plan less than optimal even within existing fiscal constraints, I, for one, would be prepared to reconsider our decision today.

How To Submit Applications and Filings

• Each application or filing should be assembled with the Fee Processing Form stapled to the top of the application with the check placed on top of the Fee Processing Form. DO NOT STAPLE THE CHECK TO THE APPLICATION OR FEE PROCESSING FORM. Required copies of applications should be clearly identified as "duplicate copy" and placed behind the original package. A copy of an application or filing submitted for receipt purposes only should be placed at the bottom of the submission. Extraneous material and extra copies should be avoided at all times. Failure to abide by these instructions will delay the processing of your submission.

• Completed applications or filings should be mailed to the proper address shown in the Fee Filing Guide for the particular service for which you are applying or making a filing. Applications and filings which are properly addressed to the appropriate P.O. box number may also be hand delivered to the following address. Applications received before midnight on a normal business day will receive that day's date as the receipt date. Deliveries made after midnight on Fridays will not be "officially" receipted until the next Monday. Applications received on weekends and government holidays are dated the next regular business day.

Federal Communications Commission, c/o Mellon Bank, Three Mellon Bank Center, 525 William Penn Way, 27th Floor, Rm. 153-2713, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, (Attention: Wholesale Lockbox Shift Supervisor)

• A single check, bank draft or money order made payable to the Federal Communications Commission and denominated in U.S. dollars and drawn upon a U.S. financial institution must be included with each application or filing requiring a fee. No postdated, altered or third-party checks will be accepted. Do not send cash.

• Parties hand delivering applications or filings may receive dated receipt copies by presenting copies of the applications or filings to the acceptance clerk at the time of delivery. Receipts will be provided for mail-in applications or filings if an extra copy of the application or filing is provided along with a self-addressed stamped envelope. Only one piece of paper per application or filing will be stamped for receipt purposes.

Remember

• A separate completed Fee Processing Form is required with each application or filing except in certain circumstances. Please refer to the appropriate Fee Filing Guide for additional information.

• A wrong Fee Type Code or incorrect remittance may result in your application or filing being returned without processing, or result in the dismissal of your application or filing. Please ensure that FEE TYPE CODES are correct and that your check or money order equals the amount shown in the TOTAL AMOUNT REMITTED WITH THIS APPLICATION OR FILING block before submitting your application or filing.

• If you have any questions completing this form, please call the Fees Hotline, 202/632-FEES.

International Broadcast Station

Note: Although many international broadcasters are noncommercial, Congress did not specifically exempt such licensees from these fees, and the rationale in the Fee Reconsideration Order for exempting noncommercial educational LPTV and translators would not apply to these stations. 3 FCC Rcd at 5988. Thus, we do not believe that Congress intended the Commission to exempt noncommercial educational international broadcasters from these fees.

83. New Construction Permit and Facilities Change CP. Each request for permission to construct a new international station or to make changes to an existing station will require a fee of $1.05 per application. The request is made on FCC Form 309.

86. Renewal. Each request for the renewal of an existing license will require a fee of $95. The request is done on the FCC Form 311.

87. Frequency Assignment and Coordination. Frequencies are assigned based on frequency-hour requests submitted by applicants. A frequency-hour is a specific hour (or fraction thereof) of the day during which a station may broadcast on a specific frequency during a particular season. There are four seasons of varying lengths during the year. Applicants make tentative and final frequency-hour requests for each season, and these requests are coordinated with foreign governments in order to avoid mutual interference. The fee of $35 will be charged for each final frequency-hour requested for each season. The total fee will be determined by adding all of the frequency-hours requested for one season, rounding that total off to the next higher whole number of hours, and then multiplying the number of whole frequency hours by $35. The following is an example of this calculation for a hypothetical station requesting frequency-hours for a particular season.

Frequency (kHz)	Time (UTC)	Number of Hours
6185	0230 to 1200	9.5
9715	1200 to 1400	2
11965	1400 to 1630	2.5
15420	1630 to 2115	4.75
15440	2115 to 2145	0.5
Total Frequency-Hours		19.25

The 19.25 is rounded up to 20 frequency-hours and multiplied by the $35 fee, resulting in a total fee of $700 for the season. If the request is for a six month period (two seasons), the total fee would be twice that amount ($1400). Moreover, an additional $35 per frequency-hour will be charged for additional or changed frequency-hour requests submitted by applicants after the final request has been submitted or after the season has started. However, if such additions or changes are requested by the Commission, no fee will be charged for them.

Miscellaneous Charges

International Telecommunications Settlements Administrative Fee for Collections

216. The FCC acts as a clearinghouse in processing international telecommunications settlements in the maritime mobile and maritime mobile satellite services. The administrative fee is $2 per line item charged to the FCC and subsequently billed to its licensees (except governmental licensees). A line item represents the total charge billed to the Commission by a foreign country for a single radiocommunication or transmission by an FCC licensee. The administrative fee will be billed to licensees of record on FCC Form 99.

Radio Operator Examinations

217. Commercial Radio Operator Examination. Applicants for the Marine Radio Operator Permit, General Radiotelephone Operator License, Third Class Radiotelegraph Operator's Certificate, Second Class Radiotelegraph Operator's Certificate and First Class Radiotelegraph Operator's Certificate (and ship radar endorsement) must pass an examination before being issued a license, permit or certificate. A fee of $35 is required with the application for any of these examinations. The request for examination is made on FCC Form 756. The fee would be retained if the applicant fails to take the examination or does not pass the examination. In those instances where the ship radar endorsement test is taken in conjunction with another examination, there would be no additional charge for the endorsement examination. If the ship radar endorsement examination is taken alone, there would be a charge of $35.

218. Renewal of Commercial Radio Operator License, Permit, or Certificate. Each request for the renewal of a commercial radio operator's license, permit or certificate will require a fee of $35. These requests are made on FCC Form 756. At the current time only the Marine Radio Operator Permit and the three classes of Radiotelegraph Operator's Certificates must be renewed.

Chairman.

Amendments to the Sentencing Guidelines

Pursuant to section 994(p) of title 28, United States Code, as amended by section 7109 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (Pub. L. 100-690, Nov. 18, 1988), the United States Sentencing Commission reports to the Congress the following amendments to the sentencing guidelines, and the reasons therefor. As authorized by this section, the Commission specifies an effective date of November 1, 1990, for these amendments.

Conversion of Temporary Amendments Effective November 1, 1989 to Permanent Amendments

Pursuant to section 21 of the Sentencing Act of 1987, the Commission exercised its authority to promulgate, effective November 1, 1989, two temporary amendments to the sentencing guidelines. The temporary amendments were published in the Federal Register of October 31, 1989 (54 FR 46032), as was a policy statement concerning the reduction of a term of imprisonment under 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(2) where the guideline range applicable to a defendant has subsequently been lowered as a result of an amendment to the guidelines. The Commission hereby incorporates those amendments and the accompanying reasons by reference and now submits them to the Congress as permanent amendments pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 994(p).

Additional Permanent Amendments

Pursuant to section 994(p) of title 28, United States Code, the United States Sentencing Commission reports to the Congress the following additional permanent amendments to the sentencing guidelines, policy statements, and official commentary, and the reasons therefor:

Additional Permanent Amendments to the Sentencing Guidelines, Policy Statements, and Official Commentary

Chapter One, Part A (Introduction)

1. Amendment: Chapter One, part A, is amended by deleting subparts 2-5 in their entirety and inserting in lieu thereof:

"2. The Statutory Mission

The Sentencing Reform Act of 1984 (title II of the Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984) provides for the development of guidelines that will further the basic purposes of criminal punishment: Deterrence, incapacitation, just punishment, and rehabilitation. The Act delegates broad authority to the Commission to review and rationalize the federal sentencing process.

The Act contains detailed instructions as to how this determination should be made, the most important of which directs the Commission to create categories of offense behavior and offender characteristics. An offense behavior category might consist, for example, of 'bank robbery/committed with a gun/$2500 taken.' An offender characteristic category might be 'offender with one prior conviction not resulting in imprisonment.' The Commission is required to prescribe guideline ranges that specify an appropriate sentence for each class of convicted persons determined by coordinating the offense behavior categories with the offender characteristic categories. Where the guidelines call for imprisonment, the range must be narrow: the maximum of the range cannot exceed the minimum by more than the greater of 25 percent or six months. 28 U.S.C. 994(b)(2).

Pursuant to the Act, the sentencing court must select a sentence from within the guideline range. If, however, a particular case presents atypical features, the Act allows the court to depart from the guidelines and sentence outside the prescribed range. In that case, the court must specify reasons for departure. 18 U.S.C. 3553(b). If the court sentences within the guideline range, an appellate court may review the sentence to determine whether the guidelines were correctly applied. If the court departs from the guideline range, an appellate court may review the reasonableness of the departure. 18 U.S.C. 3742. The Act also abolishes parole, and substantially reduces and restructures good behavior adjustments.

The Commission's initial guidelines were submitted to Congress on April 13, 1987. After the prescribed period of Congressional review, the guidelines took effect on November 1, 1987, and apply to all offenses committed on or after that date. The Commission has the authority to submit guideline amendments each year to Congress between the beginning of a regular Congressional session and May 1. Such amendments automatically take effect 180 days after submission unless a law is enacted to the contrary. 28 U.S.C. 994(p).

The initial sentencing guidelines and policy statements were developed after extensive hearings, deliberation, and consideration of substantial public comment. The Commission emphasizes, however, that it views the guideline-writing process as evolutionary. It expects, and the governing statute anticipates, that continuing research, experience, and analysis will result in modifications and revisions to the guidelines through submission of amendments to Congress. To this end, the Commission is established as a permanent agency to monitor sentencing practices in the federal courts.

3. The Basic Approach (Policy Statement)

To understand the guidelines and their underlying rationale, it is important to focus on the three objectives that Congress sought to achieve in enacting the Sentencing Reform Act of 1984. The Act's basic objective was to enhance the ability of the criminal justice system to combat crime through an effective, fair sentencing system. To achieve this end, Congress first sought honesty in sentencing. It sought to avoid the confusion and implicit deception that arose out of the pre-guidelines sentencing system which required the court to impose an indeterminate sentence of imprisonment and empowered the parole commission to determine how much of the sentence an offender actually would serve in prison. This practice usually resulted in a substantial reduction in the effective length of the sentence imposed, with defendants often serving only about one-third of the sentence imposed by the court.

Second, Congress sought reasonable uniformity in sentencing by narrowing the wide disparity in sentences imposed for similar criminal offenses committed by similar offenders. Third, Congress sought proportionality in sentencing through a system that imposes appropriately different sentences for criminal conduct of differing severity.

Honesty is easy to achieve: The abolition of parole makes the sentence imposed by the court the sentence the offender will serve, less approximately fifteen percent for good behavior. There is a tension, however, between the mandate of uniformity and the mandate of proportionality. Simple uniformity—sentencing every offender to five years—destroys proportionality. Having only a few simple categories of crimes would make the guidelines uniform and easy to administer, but might lump together offenses that are different in important respects. For example, a single category for robbery that included armed and unarmed robberies, robberies with and without injuries, robberies of a few dollars and robberies of millions, would be far too broad.

A sentencing system tailored to fit every conceivable wrinkle of each case would quickly become unworkable and seriously compromise the certainty of punishment and its deterrent effect. For example: A bank robber with (or without) a gun, which the robber kept hidden (or brandished), might have frightened (or merely warned), injured seriously (or less seriously), tied up (or simply pushed) a guard, teller, or customer, at night (or at noon), in an effort to obtain money for other crimes (or for other purposes), in the company of a few (or many) other robbers, for the first (or fourth) time.

The list of potentially relevant features of criminal behavior is long; the fact that they can occur in multiple combinations means that the list of possible permutations of factors is virtually endless. The appropriate relationships among these different factors are exceedingly difficult to establish, for they are often context specific. Sentencing courts do not treat the occurrence of a simple bruise identically in all cases, irrespective of whether that bruise occurred in the context of a bank robbery or in the context of a breach of peace. This is so, in part, because the risk that such a harm will occur differs depending on the underlying offense with which it is connected; and also because, in part, the relationship between punishment and multiple harms is not simply additive. The relation varies depending on how much other harm has occurred. Thus, it would not be proper to assign points for each kind of harm and simply add them up, irrespective of context and total amounts.

The larger the number of subcategories of offense and offender characteristics included in the guidelines, the greater the complexity and the less workable the system.

Moreover, complex combinations of offense and offender characteristics would apply and interact in unforeseen ways to unforeseen situations, thus failing to cure the unfairness of a simple, broad category system. Finally, and perhaps most importantly, probation officers and courts, in applying a complex system having numerous subcategories, would be required to make a host of decisions regarding whether the underlying facts were sufficient to bring the case within a particular subcategory. The greater the number of decisions required and the greater their complexity, the greater the risk that different courts would apply the guidelines differently to situations that, in fact, are similar, thereby reintroducing the very disparity that the guidelines were designed to reduce.

In view of the arguments, it would have been tempting to retreat to the simple, broad-category approach and to grant courts the discretion to select the proper point along a broad sentencing range. Granting such broad discretion, however, would have risked correspondingly broad disparity in sentencing, for different courts may exercise their discretionary powers in different ways. Such an approach would have risked a return to the wide disparity that Congress established the Commission to reduce and would have been contrary to the Commission's mandate set forth in the Sentencing Reform Act of 1984.

In the end, there was no completely satisfying solution to this problem. The Commission had to balance the comparative virtues and vices of broad, simple categorization and detailed, complex subcategorization, and within the constraints established by that balance, minimize the discretionary powers of the sentencing court. Any system will, to a degree, enjoy the benefits and suffer from the drawbacks of each approach.

A philosophical problem arose when the Commission attempted to reconcile the differing perceptions of the purposes of criminal punishment. Most observers of the criminal law agree that the ultimate aim of the law itself, and of punishment in particular, is the control of crime. Beyond this point, however, the consensus seems to break down. Some argue that appropriate punishment should be defined primarily on the basis of the principle of "just deserts." Under this principle, punishment should be scaled to the offender's culpability and the resulting harms. Others argue that punishment should be imposed primarily on the basis of practical "crime control" considerations. This theory calls for sentences that most effectively lessen the likelihood of future crime, either by deterring others or incapacitating the defendant.

Adherents of each of these points of view urged the Commission to choose between them and accord one primacy over the other. As a practical matter, however, this choice was unnecessary because in most sentencing decisions the application of either philosophy will produce the same or similar results.

In its initial set of guidelines, the Commission sought to solve both the practical and philosophical problems of developing a coherent sentencing system by taking an empirical approach that used as a starting point data estimating pre-guidelines sentencing practice. It analyzed data drawn from 10,000 presentence investigations, the differing elements of various crimes as distinguished in substantive criminal statutes, the United States Parole Commission's guidelines and statistics, and data from other relevant sources in order to determine which distinctions were important in pre-guidelines practice. After consideration, the Commission accepted, modified, or rationalized these distinctions.

This empirical approach helped the Commission resolve its practical problem by defining a list of relevant distinctions that, although of considerable length, was short enough to create a manageable set of guidelines. Existing categories are relatively broad and omit distinctions that some may believe important, yet they include most of the major distinctions that statutes and data suggest made a significant difference in sentencing decisions. Relevant distinctions not reflected in the guidelines probably will occur rarely and sentencing courts may take such unusual cases into account by departing from the guidelines.

The Commission's empirical approach also helped resolve its philosophical dilemma. Those who adhere to a just deserts philosophy may concede that the lack of consensus might make it difficult to say exactly what punishment is deserved for a particular crime. Likewise, those who subscribe to a philosophy of crime control may acknowledge that the lack of sufficient data might make it difficult to determine exactly the punishment that will best prevent that crime. Both groups might therefore recognize the wisdom of looking to those distinctions that judges and legislators have in fact made over the course of time. These established distinctions are ones that the community believes, or has found over time, to be important from either a just deserts or crime control perspective.

The Commission did not simply copy estimates of pre-guidelines practice as revealed by the data, even though establishing offense values on this basis would help eliminate disparity because the data represent averages. Rather, it departed from the data at different points for various important reasons. Congressional statutes, for example, suggested or required departure, as in the case of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986 that imposed increased and mandatory minimum sentences. In addition, the data revealed inconsistencies in treatment, such as punishing economic crime less severely than other apparently equivalent behavior.

Despite these policy-oriented departures from pre-guidelines practice, the guidelines represent an approach that begins with, and builds upon, empirical data. The guidelines will not please those who wish the Commission to adopt a single philosophical theory and then work deductively to establish a simple and perfect set of categorizations and distinctions. The guidelines may prove acceptable, however, to those who seek more modest, incremental improvements in the status quo, who believe the best is often the enemy of the good, and who recognize that these guidelines are, as the Act contemplates, but the first step in an evolutionary process. After spending considerable time and resources exploring alternative approaches, the Commission developed these guidelines as a practical effort toward the achievement of a more honest, uniform, equitable, proportional, and therefore effective sentencing system.

4. The Guidelines' Resolution of Major Issues (Policy Statement)

The guideline-drafting process required the Commission to resolve a host of important policy questions typically involving rather evenly balanced sets of competing considerations. As an aid to understanding the guidelines, this introduction briefly discusses several of those issues; commentary in the guidelines explains others.

(a) Real Offense vs. Charge Offense Sentencing. One of the most important questions for the Commission to decide was whether to base sentences upon the actual conduct in which the defendant engaged regardless of the charges for which he was indicted or convicted ('real offense' sentencing), or upon the conduct that constitutes the elements of the offense for which the defendant was charged and of which he was convicted ('charge offense' sentencing). A bank robber, for example, might have used a gun, frightened bystanders, taken $50,000, injured a teller, refused to stop when ordered, and raced away damaging property during his escape. A pure real offense system would sentence on the basis of all identifiable conduct. A pure charge offense system would overlook some of the harms that did not constitute statutory elements of the offenses of which the defendant was convicted.

The Commission initially sought to develop a pure real offense system. After all, the pre-guidelines sentencing system was, in a sense, this type of system. The sentencing court and the parole commission took account of the conduct in which the defendant actually engaged, as determined in a presentence report, at the sentencing hearing, or before a parole commission hearing officer. The Commission's initial efforts in this direction, carried out in the spring and early summer of 1986, proved unproductive, mostly for practical reasons. To make such a system work, even to formalize and rationalize the status quo, would have required the Commission to decide precisely which harms to take into account, how to add them up, and what kinds of procedures the courts should use to determine the presence or absence of disputed factual elements. The Commission found no practical way to combine and account for the large number of diverse harms arising in different circumstances; nor did it find a practical way to reconcile the need for a fair adjudicatory procedure with the need for a speedy sentencing process given the potential existence of hosts of adjudicated 'real harm' facts in many typical cases. The effort proposed as a solution to these problems required the use of, for example, quadratic roots and other mathematical operations that the Commission considered too complex to be workable. In the Commission's view, such a system risked return to wide disparity in sentencing practice.

In its initial set of guidelines submitted to Congress in April 1987, the Commission moved closer to a 'charge offense' system. This system, however, does contain a significant number of real offense elements. For one thing, the hundreds of overlapping and duplicative statutory provisions that make up the federal criminal law forced the Commission to write guidelines that are descriptive of generic conduct rather than guidelines that track purely statutory language. For another, the guidelines take account of a number of important, commonly occurring real offense elements such as role in the offense, the presence of a gun, or the amount of money actually taken, through alternative base offense levels, specific offense characteristics, cross references, and adjustments.

The Commission recognized that a charge offense system has drawbacks of its own. One of the most important is the potential it affords prosecutors to influence sentences by increasing or decreasing the number of counts in an indictment. Of course, the defendant's actual conduct (that which the prosecutor can prove in court) imposes a natural limit upon the prosecutor's ability to increase a defendant's sentence. Moreover, the Commission has written its rules for the treatment of multicount convictions with an eye toward eliminating unfair treatment that might flow from count manipulation. For example, the guidelines treat a three-count indictment, each count of which charges sale of 100 grams of heroin or theft of $10,000, the same as a single-count indictment charging sale of 300 grams of heroin or theft of $30,000. Furthermore, a sentencing court may control any inappropriate manipulation of the indictment through use of its departure power. Finally, the Commission will closely monitor charging and plea agreement practices and will make appropriate adjustments should they become necessary.

(b) Departures. The sentencing statute permits a court to depart from a guideline-specified sentence only when it finds "an aggravating or mitigating circumstance of a kind, or to a degree, not adequately taken into consideration by the Sentencing Commission in formulating the guidelines that should result in a sentence different from that described." 18 U.S.C. 3553(b). The Commission intends the sentencing courts to treat each guideline as carving out a "heartland," a set of typical cases embodying the conduct that each guideline describes. When a court finds an atypical case, one to which a particular guideline linguistically applies but where conduct significantly differs from the norm, the court may consider whether a departure is warranted. section 5H1.10 (Race, Sex, National Origin, Creed, Religion, and Socio-Economic Status), the third sentence of section 5H1.4 (Physical Condition, Including Drug Dependence and Alcohol Abuse), and the last sentence of section 5K2.12 (Coercion and Duress), list several factors that the court cannot take into account as grounds for departure. With those specific exceptions, however, the Commission does not intend to limit the kinds of factors, whether or not mentioned anywhere else in the guidelines, that could constitute grounds for departure in an unusual case.

The Commission has adopted this departure policy for two reasons. First, it is difficult to prescribe a single set of guidelines that encompasses the vast range of human conduct potentially relevant to a sentencing decision. The Commission also recognizes that the initial set of guidelines need not do so. The Commission is a permanent body, empowered by law to write and rewrite guidelines, with progressive changes, over many years. By monitoring when courts depart from the guidelines and by analyzing their stated reasons for doing so and court decisions with references thereto, the Commission, over time, will be able to refine the guidelines to specify more precisely when departures should and should not be permitted.

Second, the Commission believes that despite the courts' legal freedom to depart from the guidelines, they will not do so very often. This is because the guidelines, offense by offense, seek to take account of those factors that the Commission's data indicate made a significant difference in pre-guidelines sentencing practice. Thus, for example, where the presence of physical injury made an important difference in pre-guidelines sentencing practice (as in the case of robbery, assault, or arson), the guidelines specifically include this factor to enhance the sentence. Where the guidelines do not specify an augmentation or diminution, this is generally because the sentencing data did not permit the Commission to conclude that the factor was empirically important in relation to the particular offense. Of course, an important factor (e.g., physical injury) may infrequently occur in connection with a particular crime (e.g., fraud). Such rare occurrences are precisely the type of events that the courts' departure powers were designed to cover—unusual cases outside the range of the more typical offenses for which the guidelines were designed.

It is important to note that the guidelines refer to two different kinds of departure. The first involves instances in which the guidelines provide specific guidance for departure by analogy or by other numerical or non-numerical suggestions. For example, the Commentary to section 2G1.1 (Transportation for the Purpose of Prostitution or Prohibited Sexual Conduct) recommends a downward departure of eight levels where a commercial purpose was not involved. The Commission intends such suggestions as policy guidance for the courts. The Commission expects that most departures will reflect the suggestions and that the courts of appeals may prove more likely to find departures 'unreasonable' where they fall outside suggested levels.

A second type of departure will remain unguided. It may rest upon grounds referred to in chapter Five, part K (Departures), or on grounds not mentioned in the guidelines. While chapter Five, part K lists factors that the Commission believes may constitute grounds for departure, the list is not exhaustive. The Commission recognizes that there may be other grounds for departure that are not mentioned; it also believes there may be cases in which a departure outside suggested levels is warranted. In its view, however, such cases will be highly infrequent.

(c) Plea Agreements. Nearly ninety percent of all federal criminal cases involve guilty pleas and many of these cases involve some form of plea agreement. Some commentators on early Commission guideline drafts urged the Commission not to attempt any major reforms of the plea agreement process on the grounds that any set of guidelines that threatened to change pre-guidelines practice radically also threatened to make the federal system unmanageable. Others argued that guidelines that failed to control and limit plea agreements would leave untouched a 'loophole' large enough to undo the good that sentencing guidelines would bring.

The Commission decided not to make major changes in plea agreement practices in the initial guidelines, but rather to provide guidance by issuing general policy statements concerning the acceptance of plea agreements in chapter Six, part B (Plea Agreements). The rules set forth in Fed. R. Crim. P. 11(e) govern the acceptance or rejection of such agreements. The Commission will collect data on the courts' plea practices and will analyze this information to determine when and why the courts accept or reject plea agreements and whether plea agreement practices are undermining the intent of the Sentencing Reform Act. In light of this information and analysis, the Commission will seek to further regulate the plea agreement process as appropriate. Importantly, if the policy statements relating to plea agreements are followed, circumvention of the Sentencing Reform Act and the guidelines should not occur.

The Commission expects the guidelines to have a positive, rationalizing impact upon plea agreements for two reasons. First, the guidelines create a clear, definite expectation in respect to the sentence that a court will impose if a trial takes place. In the event a prosecutor and defense attorney explore the possibility of a negotiated plea, they will no longer work in the dark. This fact alone should help to reduce irrationality in respect to actual sentencing outcomes. Second, the guidelines create a norm to which courts will likely refer when they decide whether, under Rule 11(e), to accept or to reject a plea agreement or recommendation.

(d) Probation and Split Sentences. The statute provides that the guidelines are to "reflect the general appropriateness of imposing a sentence other than imprisonment in cases in which the defendant is a first offender who has not been convicted of a crime of violence or an otherwise serious offense * * *." 28 U.S.C. 994(j). Under pre-guidelines sentencing practice, courts sentenced to probation an inappropriately high percentage of offenders guilty of certain economic crimes, such as theft, tax evasion, antitrust offenses, insider trading, fraud, and embezzlement, that in the Commission's view are "serious."

The Commission's solution to this problem has been to write guidelines that classify as serious many offenses for which probation previously was frequently given and provide for at least a short period of imprisonment in such cases. The Commission concluded that the definite prospect of prison, even though the term may be short, will serve as a significant deterrent, particularly when compared with pre-guidelines practice where probation, not prison, was the norm.

More specifically, the guidelines work as follows in respect to a first offender. For offense levels one through six, the sentencing court may elect to sentence the offender to probation (with or without confinement conditions) or to a prison term. For offense levels seven through ten, the court may substitute probation for a prison term, but the probation must include confinement conditions (community confinement, intermittent confinement, or home detention). For offense levels eleven and twelve, the court must impose at least one-half the minimum confinement sentence in the form of prison confinement, the remainder to be served on supervised release with a condition of community confinement or home detention. The Commission, of course, has not dealt with the single acts of aberrant behavior that still may justify probation at higher offense levels through departures.

(e) Multi-Count Convictions. The Commission, like several state sentencing commissions, has found it particularly difficult to develop guidelines for sentencing defendants convicted of multiple violations of law, each of which makes up a separate count in an indictment. The difficulty is that when a defendant engages in conduct that causes several harms, each additional harm, even if it increases the extent to which punishment is warranted, does not necessarily warrant a proportionate increase in punishment. A defendant who assaults others during a fight, for example, may warrant more punishment if he injures ten people than if he injures one, but his conduct does not necessarily warrant ten times the punishment. If it did, many of the simplest offenses, for reasons that are often fortuitous, would lead to sentences of life imprisonment—sentences that neither "just deserts" nor "crime control" theories of punishment would justify.

Several individual guidelines provide special instructions for increasing punishment when the conduct that is the subject of that count involves multiple occurrences or has caused several harms. The guidelines also provide general rules for aggravating punishment in light of multiple harms charged separately in separate counts. These rules may produce occasional anomalies, but normally they will permit an appropriate degree of aggravation of punishment for multiple offenses that are the subjects of separate counts.

These rules are set out in Chapter Three, Part D (Multiple Counts). They essentially provide: (1) When the conduct involves fungible items (e.g., separate drug transactions or thefts of money), the amounts are added and the guidelines apply to the total amount; (2) when nonfungible harms are involved, the offense level for the most serious count is increased (according to a diminishing scale) to reflect the existence of other counts of conviction. The guidelines have been written in order to minimize the possibility that an arbitrary casting of a single transaction into several counts will produce a longer sentence. In addition, the sentencing court will have adequate power to prevent such a result through departures.

(f) Regulatory Offenses. Regulatory statutes, though primarily civil in nature, sometimes contain criminal provisions in respect to particularly harmful activity. Such criminal provisions often describe not only substantive offenses, but also more technical, administratively-related offenses such as failure to keep accurate records or to provide requested information. These statutes pose two problems: First, which criminal regulatory provisions should the Commission initially consider, and second, how should it treat technical or administratively-related criminal violations?

In respect to the first problem, the Commission found that it could not comprehensively treat all regulatory violations in the initial set of guidelines. There are hundreds of such provisions scattered throughout the United States Code. To find all potential violations would involve examination of each individual federal regulation. Because of this practical difficulty, the Commission sought to determine, with the assistance of the Department of Justice and several regulatory agencies, which criminal regulatory offenses were particularly important in light of the need for enforcement of the general regulatory scheme. The Commission addressed these offenses in the initial guidelines.

In respect to the second problem, the Commission has developed a system for treating technical recordkeeping and reporting offenses that divides them into four categories. First, in the simplest of cases, the offender may have failed to fill out a form intentionally; but without knowledge or intent that substantive harm would likely follow. He might fail, for example, to keep an accurate record of toxic substance transport, but that failure may not lead, nor be likely to lead, to the release or improper handling of any toxic substance. Second, the same failure may be accompanied by a significant likelihood that substantive harm will occur; it may make a release of a toxic substance more likely. Third, the same failure may have led to substantive harm. Fourth, the failure may represent an effort to conceal a substantive harm that has occurred.

The structure of a typical guideline for a regulatory offense provides a low base offense level (e.g., 6) aimed at the first type of recordkeeping or reporting offense. Specific offense characteristics designed to reflect substantive harms that do occur in respect to some regulatory offenses, or that are likely to occur, increase the offense level. A specific offense characteristic also provides that a recordkeeping or reporting offense that conceals a substantive offense will have the same offense level as the substantive offense.

(g) Sentencing Ranges. In determining the appropriate sentencing ranges for each offense, the Commission estimated the average sentences served within each category under the pre-guidelines sentencing system. It also examined the sentences specified in federal statutes, in the parole guidelines, and in other relevant, analogous sources. The Commission's Supplementary Report on the Initial Sentencing Guidelines (1987) contains a comparison between estimates of pre-guidelines sentencing practice and sentences under the guidelines.

While the Commission has not considered itself bound by pre-guidelines sentencing practice, it has not attempted to develop an entirely new system of sentencing on the basis of theory alone. Guideline sentences, in many instances, will approximate average pre-guidelines practice and adherence to the guidelines will help to eliminate wide disparity. For example, where a high percentage of persons received probation under pre-guidelines practice, a guideline may include one or more specific offense characteristics in an effort to distinguish those types of defendants who received probation from those who received more severe sentences. In some instances, short sentences of incarceration for all offenders in a category have been substituted for a pre-guidelines sentencing practice of very wide variability in which some defendants received probation while others received several years in prison for the same offense. Moreover, inasmuch as those who pleaded guilty under pre-guidelines practice often received lesser sentences, the guidelines permit the court to impose lesser sentences on those defendants who accept responsibility for their misconduct. For defendants who provide substantial assistance to the government in the investigation or prosecution of others, a downward departure may be warranted.

The Commission has also examined its sentencing ranges in light of their likely impact upon prison population. Specific legislation, such as the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986 and the career offender provisions of the Sentencing Reform Act of 1984 (28 U.S.C. 994(h)), required the Commission to promulgate guidelines that will lead to substantial prison population increases. These increases will occur irrespective of the guidelines. The guidelines themselves, insofar as they reflect policy decisions made by the Commission (rather than legislated mandatory minimum or career offender sentences), are projected to lead to an increase in prison population that computer models, produced by the Commission and the Bureau of Prisons in 1987, estimated at approximately 10 percent over a period of ten years.

(h) The Sentencing Table. The Commission has established a sentencing table that for technical and practical reasons contains 43 levels. Each level in the table prescribes ranges that overlap with the ranges in the preceding and succeeding levels. By overlapping the ranges, the table should discourage unnecessary litigation. Both prosecution and defense will realize that the difference between one level and another will not necessarily make a difference in the sentence that the court imposes. Thus, little purpose will be served in protracted litigation trying to determine, for example, whether $10,000 or $11,000 was obtained as a result of a fraud. At the same time, the levels work to increase a sentence proportionately. A change of six levels roughly doubles the sentence irrespective of the level at which one starts. The guidelines, in keeping with the statutory requirement that the maximum of any range cannot exceed the minimum by more than the greater of 25 percent or six months (28 U.S.C. 994(b)(2)), permit courts to exercise the greatest permissible range of sentencing discretion. The table overlaps offense levels meaningfully, works proportionately, and at the same time preserves the maximum degree of allowable discretion for the court within each level.

Similarly, many of the individual guidelines refer to tables that correlate amounts of money with offense levels. These tables often have many rather than a few levels. Again, the reason is to minimize the likelihood of unnecessary litigation. If a money table were to make only a few distinctions, each distinction would become more important and litigation over which category an offender fell within would become more likely. Where a table has many small monetary distinctions, it minimizes the likelihood of litigation because the precise amount of money involved is of considerably less importance.

5. A Concluding Note

The Commission emphasizes that it drafted the initial guidelines with considerable caution. It examined the many hundreds of criminal statutes in the United States Code. It began with those that were the basis for a significant number of prosecutions and sought to place them in a rational order. It developed additional distinctions relevant to the application of these provisions and it applied sentencing ranges to each resulting category. In doing so, it relied upon pre-guidelines sentencing practice as revealed by its own statistical analyses based on summary reports of some 40,000 convictions, a sample of 10,000 augmented presentence reports, the parole guidelines, and policy judgments.

The Commission recognizes that some will criticize this approach as overly cautious, as representing too little a departure from pre-guidelines sentencing practice. Yet, it will cure wide disparity. The Commission is a permanent body that can amend the guidelines each year. Although the data available to it, like all data, are imperfect, experience with the guidelines will lead to additional information and provide a firm empirical basis for consideration of revisions.

Finally, the guidelines will apply to more than 90 percent of all felony and Class A misdemeanor cases in the federal courts. Because of time constraints and the nonexistence of statistical information, some offenses that occur infrequently are not considered in the guidelines. Their exclusion does not reflect any judgment regarding their seriousness and they will be addressed as the Commission refines the guidelines over time."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment updates this part to reflect the implementation of guideline sentencing on November 1, 1987, and makes various clarifying and editorial changes to enhance the usefulness of this part both as a historical overview and as an introduction to the structure and operation of the guidelines. For example, in the discussion of departures in subpart 4(b), language concerning what the Commission, in principle, might have done is deleted as unnecessary, but no substantive change is made.

Chapter One, Part B (General Application Principles)

2. Amendment: Section 1B1.8(a) is amended by inserting "as part of that cooperation agreement" immediately following "unlawful activities of others, and", and by deleting "so provided" and inserting in lieu thereof "provided pursuant to the agreement".

Section 1B1.8(b)(3) is amended by inserting "by the defendant" immediately before the period at the end of the sentence.

Section 1B1.8(b) is amended by renumbering subdivisions (2) and (3) as (3) and (4) respectively, and by inserting the following as subdivision (2):

"(2) concerning the existence of prior convictions and sentences in determining § 4A1.1 (Criminal History Category) and § 4B1.1 (Career Offender)."

The Commentary to § 1B1.8 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 2 by deleting "The Commission does not intend this guideline to interfere with determining adjustments under chapter Four, part A (Criminal History) or § 4B1.1 (Career Offender) (e.g., information concerning the defendant's prior convictions)." and inserting in lieu thereof "Subsection (b)(2) prohibits any cooperation agreement from restricting the use of information as to the existence of prior convictions and sentences in determining adjustments under § 4A1.1 (Criminal History Category) and § 4B1.1 (Career Offender).", and in Note 3 by deleting "408" and inserting in lieu thereof "410".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the Commission's intention that the use of information concerning the defendant's prior criminal convictions and sentences not be restricted by a cooperation agreement, makes several additional clarifying changes, and corrects a clerical error.

3. Amendment: The Commentary to section 1B1.3 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 2 by deleting the last sentence and inserting in lieu thereof:

"Offenses of a character for which section 3D1.2(d) would require grouping of multiple counts," as used in subsection (a)(2), applies to offenses for which grouping of counts would be required under section 3D1.2(d) had the defendant been convicted of multiple counts. Application of this provision does not require the defendant, in fact, to have been convicted of multiple counts. For example, where the defendant engaged in three drug sales of 10, 15, and 20 grams of cocaine, as part of the same course of conduct or common scheme or plan, subsection (a)(2) provides that the total quantity of cocaine involved (45 grams) is to be used to determine the offense level even if the defendant is convicted of a single count charging only one of the sales. If the defendant is convicted of multiple counts for the above noted sales, the grouping rules of chapter three, part D (Multiple Counts) provide that the counts are grouped together. Although chapter three, part D (Multiple Counts) applies to multiple counts of conviction, it does not limit the scope of subsection (a)(2). Subsection (a)(2) merely incorporates by reference the types of offenses set forth in section 3D1.2(d); thus, as discussed above, multiple counts of conviction are not required for subsection (a)(2) to apply."

The Commentary to section 3D1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 4 by renumbering example (4) as (5), and by inserting the following immediately before "But":

"(4) The defendant is convicted of two counts of distributing a controlled substance, each count involving a separate sale of 10 grams of cocaine that is part of a common scheme or plan. In addition, a finding is made that there are two other sales, also part of the common scheme or plan, each involving 10 grams of cocaine. The total amount of all four sales (40 grams of cocaine) will be used to determine the offense level for each count under section 1B1.3(a)(2). The two counts will then be grouped together under this subsection to avoid double counting."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the intended scope of section 1B1.3(a)(2) in conjunction with chapter three, part D (Multiple Counts) to ensure that the latter is not read to limit the former only to conduct of which the defendant was convicted.

Chapter Two, part A (Offenses Against the Person)

4. Amendment: The Commentary to section 2A1.1 captioned "Statutory Provisions" is amended by deleting "§" and inserting in lieu thereof "§§", and by inserting ", 2113(e), 2118(c)(2)" immediately following "18 U.S.C. 1111".

The Commentary to section 2A1.1 is amended in Application Note 1 by deleting "the 'willful, deliberate, malicious and premeditated killing' to which 18 U.S.C. 1111 applies" and inserting in lieu thereof: "premeditated killing", and by deleting the second sentence in its entirety and inserting in lieu thereof: "However, this guideline also applies when death results from the commission of certain felonies."

The Commentary to section 2A1.1 captioned "Background" is amended in the first paragraph by deleting all after the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Whether a mandatory minimum term of life imprisonment is applicable to every defendant convicted of first degree murder under 18 U.S.C. 1111 is a matter of statutory interpretation for the courts. The discussion in Application Note 1, supra, regarding circumstances in which a downward departure may be warranted is relevant in the event the penalty provisions of 18 U.S.C. 1111 are construed to permit a sentence less than life imprisonment, or in the event the defendant is convicted under a statute that expressly authorizes a sentence of less than life imprisonment (e.g., 18 U.S.C. 2113(e), 2118(c)(2), 21 U.S.C. 848(e))."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the commentary with respect to circumstances that may warrant a departure below the guideline range for offenses to which this guideline applies. This amendment also reserves for the courts the issue of whether life imprisonment is the mandatory minimum sentence for first degree murder under 18 U.S.C. 1111.

5. Amendment: Section 2A2.1 is amended in the title by deleting "Conspiracy or Solicitation to Commit Murder"; and by deleting subsections (a) and (b) in their entirety, and inserting the following in lieu thereof:

"(a) Base Offense Level:

"(1) 28, if the object of the offense would have constituted first degree murder; or

"(2) 22, otherwise.

"(b) Specific Offense Characteristics

"(1)(A) If the victim sustained permanent or life-threatening bodily injury, increase by 4 levels; (B) if the victim sustained serious bodily injury, increase by 2 levels; or (C) if the degree of injury is between that specified in subdivisions (A) and (B), increase by 3 levels.

"(2) If the offense involved the offer or the receipt of anything of pecuniary value for undertaking the murder, increase by 4 levels."

The Commentary to section 2A2.1 captioned "Statutory Provisions" is amended by deleting "(d), 373,"; by deleting "1117,"; and by deleting "(d)," immediately following "1751(c)".

The Commentary to section 2A2.1 captioned "Application Note" is amended in Note 1 by deleting "more than minimal planning," "firearm," "dangerous weapon," "brandished," "otherwise used," "bodily injury," ", and by deleting the comma immediately following "serious bodily injury".

The Commentary to section 2A2.1 captioned "Application Note" is amended by inserting the following additional note:

"2. 'First degree murder,' as used in subsection (a)(1), means conduct that, if committed within the special maritime and territorial jurisdiction of the United States, would constitute first degree murder under 18 U.S.C. 1111."

and by deleting "Note" and inserting in lieu thereof "Notes".

The Commentary to section 2A2.1 captioned "Background" is amended in the first paragraph by deleting "conspiracy to commit murder, solicitation to commit murder," and by inserting the following sentence at the end:

"An attempted manslaughter, or assault with intent to commit manslaughter, is covered under § 2A2.2 (Aggravated Assault)."

The Commentary to section 2A2.1 captioned "Background" is amended by deleting the second and third paragraphs.

The Commentary to section 2A2.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 3 by inserting the following additional sentence as the first sentence: "This guideline also covers attempted manslaughter and assault with intent to commit manslaughter."

The Commentary to section 2A2.2 captioned "Background" is amended in the first sentence of the first paragraph by deleting "where there is no intent to kill".

Chapter two, part A, subpart 1, is amended by inserting the following additional guideline:

"§ 2A1.5. Conspiracy or Solicitation to Commit Murder

(a) Base Offense Level: 28

(b) Specific Offense Characteristic

(1) If the offense involved the offer or the receipt of anything of pecuniary value for undertaking the murder, increase by 4 levels.
(c) Cross References

(1) If the offense resulted in the death of a victim, apply § 2A1.1 (First Degree Murder).

(2) If the offense resulted in an attempted murder or assault with intent to commit murder, apply § 2A2.1 (Assault With Intent to Commit Murder; Attempted Murder).

Commentary

Statutory Provisions: 18 U.S.C. 351(d), 371, 373, 1117, 1751(d)."

Section 2E1.4(a)(1) is amended by deleting "23" and inserting in lieu thereof "32".

The Commentary to section 2E1.4(a)(1) captioned "Application Notes" is amended by deleting Note 2, and in the caption by deleting "Notes" and inserting in lieu thereof "Note".

The Commentary to section 2X1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 1 in the paragraph beginning "Offense guidelines that expressly cover attempts" by deleting "Conspiracy or Solicitation to Commit Murder"; in the paragraph beginning "Offense guidelines that expressly cover conspiracies" by deleting "Section 2A2.1 (Assault With Intent to Commit Murder; Conspiracy or Solicitation to Commit Murder; Attempted Murder)" and inserting in lieu thereof "Section 2A1.5 (Conspiracy or Solicitation to Commit Murder)"; and in the paragraph beginning "Offense guidelines that expressly cover solicitations" by deleting "Section 2A2.1 (Assault With Intent to Commit Murder; Conspiracy or Solicitation to Commit Murder; Attempted Murder)" and inserting in lieu thereof "Section 2A1.5 (Conspiracy or Solicitation to Commit Murder)".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment restructures section 2A2.1, and increases the offense level for attempted murder and assault with intent to commit murder where the intended offense, if successful, would have constituted first degree murder to better reflect the seriousness of this conduct. For the same reason, the enhancement for an offense involving the offer or receipt of anything of pecuniary value for undertaking the murder is increased. For greater clarity, an additional guideline (section 2A1.5) is inserted to cover conspiracy or solicitation to commit murder. Section 2E1.4 is amended to conform the offense level to that of section 2A1.5.

Chapter Two, part B (Offenses Involving Property)

6. Amendment: Section 2B1.1 is amended by renumbering subsection (b)(5) as (b)(4), and by renumbering the current subsection (b)(4) as (b)(5).

Section 2B1.2 is amended by renumbering subsection (b)(4) as (b)(3), and by renumbering the current subsection (b)(3) as (b)(4).

Section 2B1.3 is amended by renumbering subsection (b)(3) as (b)(2), and by renumbering the current subsection (b)(2) as (b)(3).

Reason for Amendment: In cases involving the theft or destruction of U.S. mail, the theft guideline (section 2B1.1), stolen property guideline (section 2B1.2), property destruction guideline (section 2B1.3), and forgery guideline (section 2B5.2) produce identical results if the amount involved more than $1,000, or if the offense did not involve more than minimal planning. However, because of the ordering of the specific offense characteristics, there is a 1 or 2-level difference between sections 2B1.1, 2B1.2 and 2B1.3 on the one hand, and section 2B5.2 on the other, in cases of stolen or destroyed mail involving more than minimal planning and a loss of $1,000 or less. In these cases, sections 2B1.1, 2B1.2 and 2B1.3 produce a result that is 1 or 2-levels lower than section 2B5.2. This amendment corrects this anomaly by conforming the offense levels in sections 2B1.1, 2B1.2, and 2B1.3 to that of section 2B5.2 in such cases.

7. Amendment: Section 2B1.3 is amended in the title by deleting "(Other than by Arson or Explosives)"; and by inserting the following:

"(c) Cross Reference

(1) If the offense involved arson, or property damage by use of explosives, apply § 2K1.4 (Arson; Property Damage by Use of Explosives)."

The Commentary to section 2B1.3 captioned "Statutory Provisions" is amended by deleting the last sentence.

The Commentary to section 2H1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 1 by deleting "(Other than by Arson or Explosives)".

Section 2H3.3(a)(3) is amended by deleting "(Other than by Arson or Explosives)".

The Commentary to section 2H3.3 captioned "Background" is amended by deleting "(Other than by Arson or Explosives)".

Section 2Q1.6(a)(2) is amended by deleting "(Other Than by Arson or Explosives)".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment inserts a cross reference providing that offense conduct constituting arson or property destruction by explosives is to be treated under section 2K1.4 (Arson, Property Destruction by Explosives). Because arson or property damage by use of explosives is an aggravated form of property destruction, just as armed robbery is an aggravated form of robbery, the use of the same "relevant conduct" standard to determine the offense level is appropriate.

8. Amendment: Section 2B3.1(b)(1) is amended by deleting "offense involved robbery or attempted robbery of the"; and by inserting "was taken, or if the taking of such property was an object of the offense" immediately before "increase".

The Commentary to section 2B3.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 6 by deleting "actually", and by inserting "; Attempted Murder" immediately following "Assault With Intent to Commit Murder".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the guideline and Commentary.

9. Amendment: Section 2B3.1(b)(5) is amended by deleting "obtaining", and by deleting "the object" and inserting in lieu thereof "taken, or if the taking of such item was an object".

The Commentary to section 2B3.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by deleting Note 5, and by renumbering Notes 6, 7, and 8 as 5, 6, and 7 respectively.

The Commentary to section 2B3.1 captioned "Background" is amended by deleting the second paragraph in its entirety.

Section 2B2.1(b)(3) is amended by deleting "obtaining", and by deleting "an object" and inserting in lieu thereof "taken, or if the taking of such item was an object".

The Commentary to section 2B2.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by deleting Note 2, and by renumbering Notes 3 and 4 as 2 and 3, respectively.

Section 2B2.2 (b)(3) is amended by deleting "obtaining", and by deleting "an object" and inserting in lieu thereof "taken, or if the taking of such item was an object".

The Commentary to section 2B2.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by deleting Note 2, and by renumbering Notes 3 and 4 as 2 and 3, respectively.

Reason for Amendment: This amendment provides that the specific offense characteristic related to the taking of a firearm or controlled substance applies whenever such item is taken or is an object of the offense.

10. Amendment: Section 2B3.2(b)(1) is amended by deleting "§ 2B3.1" and inserting in lieu thereof "section 2B2.1(b)(2)".

Reason for Amendment: The amendment to section 2B3.1 effective

November 1, 1989 inadvertently reduced the offense level for certain cases under this guideline by one level. This amendment restores the offense levels in this guideline to those existing prior to November 1, 1989.

Chapter Two, Part B (Offenses Involving Property) and Part F (Offenses Involving Fraud or Deceit)

11. Amendment: Section 2B1.1(b) is amended by inserting the following additional specific offense characteristic:

"(7) If the offense substantially jeopardized the safety and soundness of a financial institution, increase by 4 levels. If the resulting offense level is less than level 24, increase to level 24."

The Commentary to § 2B1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by inserting the following additional notes:

"9. 'Financial institution,' as used in this guideline, is defined to include any institution described in 18 U.S.C. 215, 656, 657, 1005, 1006, 1007, 1008, 1014, and 1344; any state or foreign bank, trust company, credit union, insurance company, investment company, mutual fund, savings (building and loan) association, union or employee pension fund; any health, medical or hospital insurance association; brokers and dealers registered, or required to be registered, with the Securities and Exchange Commission; futures commodity merchants and commodity pool operators registered, or required to be registered, with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission; and any similar entity, whether or not insured by the Federal government. 'Union or employee pension fund' and 'any health, medical, or hospital insurance association,' as used above, primarily include large pension funds that serve many individuals (e.g., pension funds of large national and international organizations, unions, and corporations doing substantial interstate business), and associations that undertake to provide pension, disability, or other benefits (e.g., medical or hospitalization insurance) to large numbers of persons.

10. An offense shall be deemed to have 'substantially jeopardized the safety and soundness of a financial institution' if as a consequence of the offense the institution became insolvent, substantially reduced benefits to pensioners or insureds, was unable on demand to refund fully any deposit, payment or investment, or was so depleted of its assets as to be forced to merge with another institution in order to continue active operations."

The Commentary to section 2B1.1 captioned "Background" is amended by inserting the following additional paragraph at the end:

"Subsection (b)(7) implements, in a broader form, the statutory directive to the Commission in section 961(m) of Public Law 101-73."

Section 2B4.1(b) is amended by deleting "Characteristic" and inserting in lieu thereof "Characteristics", and by inserting the following additional specific offense characteristic:

"(2) If the offense substantially jeopardized the safety and soundness of a financial institution, increase by 4 levels. If the resulting offense level is less than level 24, increase to level 24."

The Commentary to section 2B4.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by inserting the following additional notes:

"3. 'Financial institution,' as used in this guideline, is defined to include any institution described in 18 U.S.C. 215, 656, 657, 1005, 1006, 1007, 1008, 1014, and 1344; any state or foreign bank, trust company, credit union, insurance company, investment company, mutual fund, savings (building and loan) association, union or employee pension fund; any health, medical or hospital insurance association; brokers and dealers registered, or required to be registered, with the Securities and Exchange Commission; futures commodity merchants and commodity pool operators registered, or required to be registered, with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission; and any similar entity, whether or not insured by the Federal government. 'Union or employee pension fund' and 'any health, medical, or hospital insurance association,' as used above, primarily include large pension funds that serve many individuals (e.g., pension funds of large national and international organizations, unions, and corporations doing substantial interstate business), and associations that undertake to provide pension, disability, or other benefits (e.g., medical or hospitalization insurance) to large numbers of persons.

4. An offense shall be deemed to have 'substantially jeopardized the safety and soundness of a financial institution' if as a consequence of the offense the institution became insolvent, substantially reduced benefits to pensioners or insureds, was unable on demand to refund fully any deposit, payment or investment, or was so depleted of its assets as to be forced to merge with another institution in order to continue active operations."

The Commentary to section 2B4.1 captioned "Background" is amended by inserting the following additional paragraph at the end:

"Subsection (b)(2) implements, in a broader form, the statutory directive to the Commission in section 961(m) of Public Law 101-73."

Section 2F1.1(b) is amended by inserting the following additional specific offense characteristic:

"(6) If the offense substantially jeopardized the safety and soundness of a financial institution, increase by 4 levels. If the resulting offense level is less than level 24, increase to level 24."

The Commentary to section 2F1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by inserting the following additional notes:

"14. 'Financial institution,' as used in this guideline, is defined to include any institution described in 18 U.S.C. 215, 656, 657, 1005, 1006, 1007, 1008, 1014, and 1344; any state or foreign bank, trust company, credit union, insurance company, investment company, mutual fund, savings (building and loan) association, union or employee pension fund; any health, medical or hospital insurance association; brokers and dealers registered, or required to be registered, with the Securities and Exchange Commission; futures commodity merchants and commodity pool operators registered, or required to be registered, with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission; and any similar entity, whether or not insured by the federal government. 'Union or employee pension fund' and 'any health, medical, or hospital insurance association,' as used above, primarily include large pension funds that serve many individuals (e.g., pension funds of large national and international organizations, unions, and corporations doing substantial interstate business), and associations that undertake to provide pension, disability, or other benefits (e.g., medical or hospitalization insurance) to large numbers of persons.

15. An offense shall be deemed to have 'substantially jeopardized the safety and soundness of a financial institution' if as a consequence of the offense the institution became insolvent, substantially reduced benefits to pensioners or insureds, was unable on demand to refund fully any deposit, payment or investment, or was so depleted of its assets as to be forced to merge with another institution in order to continue active operations."

The Commentary to section 2F1.1 captioned "Background" is amended by inserting the following additional paragraph at the end:

"Subsection (b)(6) implements, in a broader form, the statutory directive to the Commission in section 961(m) of Public Law 101-73."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment implements, in a broader form, the following statutory directive in section 961(m) of Public Law 101-73: "Pursuant to section 994 of title 28, United States Code, and section 21 of the Sentencing Act of 1987, the United States Sentencing Commission shall promulgate guidelines, or amend existing guidelines, to provide for a substantial period of incarceration for a violation of, or a conspiracy to violate, section 215, 656, 657, 1005, 1006, 1007, 1014, 1341, 1343, or 1344 of title 18, United States Code, that substantially jeopardizes the safety and soundness of a federally insured financial institution."

Chapter Two, Part D (Offenses Involving Drugs)

12. Amendment: The Commentary to section 2D1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 11 by inserting "in the table below" immediately before "to estimate", by deleting "Bufotenine at 1 mg per dose=100 mg of Bufotenine" and inserting in lieu thereof "Mescaline at 500 mg per dose=50 gms of mescaline", and by deleting "common controlled substances" and inserting in lieu thereof "certain controlled substances. Do not use this table if any more reliable estimate of the total weight is available from case specific information".

The Commentary to § 2D1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 11 by deleting the following from the table captioned "Typical Weight Per Unit (Dose, Pill, or Capsule) Table":

"Bufotenine.....	1 mg
Diethyltryptamine.....	60 mg
Dimethyltryptamine.....	50 mg",
"Barbiturates.....	100 mg
Glutethimide (Doriden).....	500 mg",
"Thiobarbital.....	50 mg",

by inserting an asterisk immediately after each of the following:

"LSD (Lysergic acid diethylamide)", "MDA", "PCP", "Psilocin", "Psilocybin", "2,5-Dimethoxy-4-methylamphetamine (STP, DOM)", "Methaqualone", "Amphetamine", "Methamphetamine", "Phenmetrazine (Preludin)", and by inserting the following at the end:

"For controlled substances marked with an asterisk, the weight per unit shown is the weight of the actual controlled substance, and not generally the weight of the mixture or substance containing the controlled substance. Therefore, use of this table provides a very conservative estimate of the total weight."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies that the "Typical Weight Per Unit Table" in Note 11 of the Commentary to § 2D1.1 is not to be used where a more reliable estimate of the weight of the mixture or substance containing the controlled substance is available from case-specific information. This amendment also makes clear that for certain controlled substances this table provides an estimate of the weight of the actual controlled substance, not necessarily the weight of the mixture or substance containing the controlled substance, and therefore use of this table in such cases will provide a very conservative estimate. Finally, this amendment deletes listings for several controlled substances that are generally legitimately manufactured and then unlawfully diverted; in such cases, more accurate weight estimates can be obtained from other sources (e.g., from the Drug Enforcement Administration or the manufacturer).

13. Amendment: Section 2D1.2(a)(1) is amended by inserting "applicable to the quantity of controlled substances directly involving a protected location or an underage or pregnant individual" immediately following "section 2D1.1".

Subsections (a) (2) and (3) of section 2D1.2 are redesignated as subsections (3) and (4) respectively, and the following is inserted as a new subsection (a)(2):

"(2) 1 plus the offense level from section 2D1.1 applicable to the total quantity of controlled substances involved in the offense; or".

The Commentary to section 2D1.2 is amended by inserting immediately before "Background" the following:

"Application Note:

1. Where only part of the relevant offense conduct directly involved a protected location or an underage or pregnant individual, subsections (a)(1) and (a)(2) may result in different offense levels. For example, if the defendant, as part of the same course of conduct or common scheme or plan, sold 5 grams of heroin near a protected location and 10 grams of heroin elsewhere, the offense level from subsection (a)(1) would be level 16 (2 plus the offense level for the sale of 5 grams of heroin, the amount sold near the protected location); the offense level from subsection (a)(2) would be level 17 (1 plus the offense level for the sale of 15 grams of heroin, the total amount of heroin involved in the offense)."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment provides for the determination of the offense level in cases in which only part of the relevant offense conduct involves a protected location or an underage or pregnant individual.

14. Amendment: Section 2D1.6 is amended by deleting "12" and inserting in lieu thereof: "the offense level applicable to the underlying offense".

The Commentary to section 2D1.6 is amended by inserting immediately before "Background" the following:

"Application Note:

1. Where the offense level for the underlying offense is to be determined by reference to § 2D1.1, see Application Note 12 of the Commentary to § 2D1.1, and Application Notes 1 and 2 of the Commentary to § 2D1.4, for guidance in determining the scale of the offense. Note that the Drug Quantity Table in § 2D1.1 provides a minimum offense level of 12 where the offense involves heroin (or other Schedule I or II Opiates) cocaine (or other Schedule I or II Stimulants), cocaine base, PCP,

Methamphetamine, LSD (or other Schedule I or II Hallucinogens), Fentanyl, or Fentanyl Analogue (section 2D1.1(c)(16)); and a minimum offense level of 6 otherwise (section 2D1.1(c)(19))."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment is designed to reduce unwarranted disparity by requiring consideration in the guideline of the amount of the controlled substance involved in the offense, thus conforming this guideline section to the structure of section 2D1.1, 2D1.2, 2D1.4, and 2D1.5. The statute to which this guideline applies (21 U.S.C. 843(b)) prohibits the use of a communications facility to commit, cause, or facilitate a felony controlled substance offense. Frequently, a conviction under this statute is the result of a plea bargain because the statute has a low maximum (four years with no prior felony drug conviction; eight years with a prior felony drug conviction) and no mandatory minimum. The current guideline has a base offense level of 12 and no specific offense characteristics. Therefore, the scale of the underlying drug offense is not reflected in the guideline. This results in a departure from the guideline range frequently being warranted. Without guidance as to whether or how far to depart, the potential for unwarranted disparity is substantial. Under this amendment, the guideline itself will take into account the scale of the underlying offense.

15. Amendment: Section 2D2.1(a)(1) is amended by deleting "or an analogue of these" and inserting in lieu thereof "an analogue of these, or cocaine base".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment specifies the appropriate offense level for possession of cocaine base ("crack") in cases not covered by the enhanced penalties created by section 6371 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988.

Chapter Two, Part G (Offenses Involving Prostitution, Sexual Exploitation of Minors, and Obscenity)

16. Amendment: Section 2G1.1(c)(1) is amended by deleting "involves" and inserting in lieu thereof "involved".

The Commentary to section 2G1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 3 by inserting the following at the end thereof:

"This factor would apply, for example, where the ability of the person being transported to appraise or control conduct was substantially impaired by drugs or alcohol. In the case of transportation involving an adult, rather than a minor, this characteristic generally will not apply where the alcohol or drug was voluntarily taken."

The Commentary to section 2G1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 5 by deleting ", distinct offense, even if several persons are transported in a single act" and inserting the following in lieu thereof:

"victim. Consequently, multiple counts involving the transportation of different persons are not to be grouped together under section 3D1.2 (Groups of Closely-Related Counts). Special instruction (c)(1) directs that if the relevant conduct of an offense of conviction includes more than one person being transported, whether specifically cited in the count of conviction or not, each such person shall be treated as if contained in a separate count of conviction."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the application of this guideline and corrects a clerical error.

17. Amendment: Section 2G1.2(c)(1) is amended by deleting "involves" and inserting in lieu thereof "involved".

Section 2G1.2 is amended by inserting the following at the end thereof:

"(d) Cross Reference"

(1) If the offense involved the defendant causing, transporting, permitting, or offering or seeking by notice or advertisement, a minor to engage in sexually explicit conduct for the purpose of producing a visual depiction of such conduct, apply section 2G2.1 (Sexually Exploiting a Minor by Production of Sexually Explicit Visual or Printed Material; Custodian Permitting Minor to Engage in Sexually Explicit Conduct; Advertisement for Minors to Engage in Production)."

The Commentary to § 2G1.2 captioned "Statutory Provisions" is amended by deleting "section 2423" and inserting in lieu thereof sections 2421, 2422, 2423".

The Commentary to section 2G1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 1 by deleting ", distinct offense, even if several persons are transported in a single act" and inserting the following in lieu thereof:

"victim. Consequently, multiple counts involving the transportation of different persons are not to be grouped together under section 3D1.2 (Groups of Closely-Related Counts). Special instruction (c)(1) directs that if the relevant conduct of an offense of conviction includes more than one person being transported, whether specifically cited in the count of conviction or not, each such person shall be treated as if contained in a separate count of conviction."

The Commentary to section 2G1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 3 by inserting the following at the end thereof:

"This factor would apply, for example, where the ability of the person being transported to appraise or control conduct was substantially impaired by drugs or alcohol."

The Commentary to § 2G1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by inserting the following at the end thereof:

"4. 'Sexually explicit conduct,' as used in this guideline, has the meaning set forth in 18 U.S.C. 2256.

5. The cross reference in (d)(1) is to be construed broadly to include all instances where the offense involved employing, using, persuading, inducing, enticing, coercing, transporting, permitting, or offering or seeking by notice or advertisement, a minor to engage in sexually explicit conduct for the purpose of producing any visual depiction of such conduct."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the application of this guideline and corrects a clerical error. In addition, a cross reference to section 2G2.1 is inserted where the offense involves conduct that is more appropriately covered by that guideline to provide an offense level that more appropriately reflects the seriousness of such conduct.

18. Amendment: Section 2G2.1 is amended in the title by inserting "; Custodian Permitting Minor to Engage in Sexually Explicit Conduct; Advertisement for Minors to Engage in Production" immediately following "Printed Material".

Section 2G2.1(b) is amended by deleting "Characteristic" and inserting in lieu thereof "Characteristics", and by deleting subdivision (1) in its entirety and inserting the following:

"(1) If the offense involved a minor under the age of twelve years, increase by 4 levels; otherwise, if the offense involved a minor under the age of sixteen years, increase by 2 levels.

(2) If the defendant was a parent, relative, or legal guardian of the minor involved in the offense, or if the minor was otherwise in the custody, care, or supervisory control of the defendant, increase by 2 levels.

(c) Special Instruction

(1) If the offense involved the exploitation of more than one minor, Chapter Three, Part D (Multiple Counts) shall be applied as if the exploitation of each minor had been contained in a separate count of conviction."

The Commentary to section 2G2.1 captioned "Statutory Provisions" is amended by deleting "Provisions" and inserting in lieu thereof "Provision", and by deleting "8 U.S.C. 1328", and by inserting "(a), (b), (c)(1)(8)" immediately following "18 U.S.C. 2251".

The Commentary to section 2G2.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 1 by inserting at the end:

"Special instruction (c)(1) directs that if the relevant conduct of an offense of conviction includes more than one minor being exploited, whether specifically cited in the count of conviction or not, each such minor shall be treated as if contained in a separate count of conviction."

The Commentary to section 2G2.1 captioned "Application Note" is amended by deleting "Note" and inserting in lieu thereof "Notes", and by inserting the following additional notes:

"2. Specific offense characteristic (b)(2) is intended to have broad application and includes offenses involving a minor entrusted to the defendant, whether temporarily or permanently. For example, teachers, day care providers, baby-sitters, or other temporary caretakers are among those who would be subject to this enhancement. In determining whether to apply this adjustment, the court should look to the actual relationship that existed between the defendant and the child and not simply to the legal status of the defendant-child relationship.

3. If specific offense characteristic (b)(2) applies, no adjustment is to be made under § 3B1.3 (Abuse of Position of Trust or Use of Special Skill)."

The Commentary to section 2G2.1 captioned "Background" is deleted in its entirety.

Reason for Amendment: This amendment revises subsection (b)(1) to provide distinctions for the age of the victim consistent with section 2G1.2, and adds subsection (b)(2) to provide an increase for defendants who abuse a position of trust in exploiting minor children. A special instruction is added to conform the operation of the multiple count rule in this guideline with sections 2G1.1 and 2G1.2. A revision to the statutory provisions removes 8 U.S.C. 1328; such offenses are now brought under this guideline by the cross reference appearing in section 2G1.2. In addition, the reference in the statutory provisions to 18 U.S.C. 2251 is made specific to the appropriate subsections.

19. Amendment: Section 2G2.2 is amended by inserting the following additional subsections:

"(3) If the offense involved material that portrays sadistic or masochistic conduct or other depictions of violence, increase by 4 levels.

(c) Cross Reference

(1) If the offense involved causing, transporting, permitting, or offering or seeking by notice or advertisement, a minor to engage in sexually explicit conduct for the purpose of producing a visual depiction of such conduct, apply § 2G2.1 (Sexually Exploiting a Minor by Production of Sexually Explicit Visual or Printed Material; Custodian Permitting Minor to Engage in Sexually Explicit Conduct; Advertisement for Minors to Engage in Production) if the resulting offense level is greater than that determined above."

The Commentary to section 2G2.2 captioned "Statutory Provisions" is amended by inserting "section 1460, 2251(c)(1)(A).", immediately before "2252".

The Commentary to section 2G2.2 captioned "Application Note" is amended by deleting "Note" and inserting in lieu thereof "Notes", and by inserting the following additional notes:

"2. 'Sexually explicit conduct,' as used in this guideline, has the meaning set forth in 18 U.S.C. 2256.

3. The cross reference in (c)(1) is to be construed broadly to include all instances where the offense involved employing, using, persuading, inducing, enticing, coercing, transporting, permitting, or offering or seeking by notice or advertisement, a minor to engage in sexually explicit conduct for the purpose of producing any visual depiction of such conduct.

4. If the defendant sexually abused a minor at any time, whether or not such sexual abuse occurred during the course of the offense, an upward departure is warranted. In determining the extent of such a departure, the court should take into consideration the offense levels provided in sections 2A3.1, 2A3.2, and 2A3.4 most commensurate with the defendant's conduct."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment provides a specific offense characteristic for materials involving depictions of sadistic or masochistic conduct or other violence, and a cross reference for offenses more appropriately treated under section 2G2.1. It also provides Commentary recommending consideration of an upward departure in cases in which the defendant has sexually abused a minor at any time, whether or not such sexual abuse occurred during the course of the instant offense.

20. Amendment: Section 2G3.1(b)(2) is amended by deleting "sodomasochistic" and inserting in lieu thereof "sadistic or masochistic".

Section 2G3.1 is amended by deleting subsection (c)(1) and inserting in lieu thereof:

"(1) If the offense involved transporting, distributing, receiving, possessing, or advertising to receive material involving the sexual exploitation of a minor, apply § 2G2.2 (Transporting, Receiving, or Trafficking in Material Involving the Sexual Exploitation of a Minor)."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment inserts a cross reference to § 2G2.2 for offenses involving materials which, in fact, depict children to ensure that the penalties for such offenses adequately reflect their seriousness. The current cross reference at subsection (c)(1) is deleted. In addition, the amendment conforms the terminology of specific offense characteristic (b)(2) to that used in other offense guidelines.

Chapter Two, part H (Offenses Involving Individual Rights)

21. Amendment: Section 2H1.1 is amended in the title by inserting "Conspiracy to Interfere with Civil Rights;" immediately before "Going".

Section 2H1.2 is amended by deleting the guideline and accompanying commentary.

The Commentary to section 2X1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 1 in the paragraph beginning "Offense guidelines that expressly cover conspiracies" by deleting "section 2H1.2 (Conspiracy to Interfere with Civil Rights)" and inserting in lieu thereof "section 2H1.1 (Conspiracy to Interfere With Civil Rights; Going in Disguise to Deprive of Rights)".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment consolidates two guidelines and raises the minimum base offense level from level 13 to level 15 for cases currently covered under section 2H1.2 to better reflect the seriousness of this offense.

22. Amendment: The Commentary to section 2H1.5 captioned "Statutory Provisions" is amended by deleting "Provisions" and inserting in lieu thereof "Provision", and by deleting "; 42 U.S.C. 3631".

The Commentary to section 2H1.5 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by deleting Note 3 in its entirety.

Chapter Two, part J (Offenses Involving the Administration of Justice)

23. Amendment: Section 2J1.6 is amended by deleting subsections (a) and (b) in their entirety and inserting in lieu thereof:

"(a) Base Offense Level:

(1) 11, if the offense constituted a failure to report for service of sentence; or

(2) 6, otherwise.

(b) Specific Offense Characteristics

(1) If the base offense level is determined under subsection (a)(1), and the defendant—

(A) Voluntarily surrendered within 96 hours of the time he was originally scheduled to report, decrease by 5 levels; or

(B) Was ordered to report to a community corrections center, community treatment center, "halfway house," or similar facility, and subdivision (A) above does not apply, decrease by 2 levels;

Provided, however, that this reduction shall not apply if the defendant, while away from the facility, committed any federal, state, or local offense punishable by a term of imprisonment of one year or more.

(2) If the base offense level is determined under subsection (a)(2), and the underlying offense is—

(A) Punishable by death or imprisonment for a term of fifteen years or more, increase by 9 levels; or

(B) Punishable by a term of imprisonment of five years or more, but less than fifteen years, increase by 8 levels; or

(C) A felony punishable by a term of imprisonment of less than five years, increase by 3 levels."

The Commentary to section 2J1.6 captioned "Background" is amended by deleting "The offense level for this offense" and inserting in lieu thereof "Where the base offense level is determined under subsection (a)(2), the offense level".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment provides greater differentiation in the guideline offense levels for the various types of conduct covered by this guideline.

Chapter Two, part K (Offenses Involving Public Safety)

24. Amendment: section 2K1.4 is deleted in its entirety, including title and accompanying commentary, and the following inserted in lieu thereof:

"Section 2K1.4. Arson; Property Damage by Use of Explosives

(a) Base Offense Level (Apply the Greatest):

(1) 24, if the offense (A) created a substantial risk of death or serious bodily injury to any person other than a participant in the offense, and that risk was created knowingly; or (B) involved the destruction or attempted destruction of a dwelling;

(2) 20, if the offense (A) created a substantial risk of death or serious bodily injury to any person other than a participant in the offense; (B) involved the destruction or attempted destruction of a structure other than a dwelling; or (C) endangered a dwelling, or a structure other than a dwelling;

(3) 2 plus the offense level from section 2F1.1 (Fraud and Deceit) if the offense was committed in connection with a scheme to defraud; or

(4) 2 plus the offense level from section 2B1.3 (Property Damage or Destruction).

(b) Specific Offense Characteristics

(1) If the offense was committed to conceal another offense, increase by 2 levels.

(c) Cross Reference

(1) If death resulted, or the offense was intended to cause death or serious bodily injury, apply the most analogous guideline from chapter Two, part A (Offenses Against the Person), if the resulting offense level is greater than that determined above.

Commentary

Statutory Provisions: 18 U.S.C. 32 (a), (b), 33, 81, 844 (f), (h) (only in the case of an offense committed prior to November 18, 1988), (i), 1153, 1855, 2275.

Application Notes

1. If bodily injury resulted, an upward departure may be warranted. See Chapter Five, part K (Departures).

2. Creating a substantial risk of death or serious bodily injury includes creating that risk to fire fighters and other emergency and law enforcement personnel who respond to or investigate an offense."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment restructures this guideline to provide more appropriate offense levels for the conduct covered. The Commission has determined that the offense levels provided in the current guideline do not adequately reflect the seriousness of the offenses that are covered under this section.

25. Amendment: Section 2K1.6(a) is amended by deleting "greater" and inserting in lieu thereof "greatest" and by inserting the following additional subdivision:

"(3) If death resulted, apply the most analogous guideline from chapter two, part A, subpart 1 (Homicide)."

Section 2K1.6(a)(2) is amended by deleting the period at the end and inserting in lieu thereof "; or".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment adds an additional alternative base offense level to cover the situation in which the commission of this offense results in death.

26. Amendment: Section 2K1.7 is amended by inserting "(a)" immediately before "If", and by inserting the following additional subsection:

"(b) Special Instruction for Fines

(1) Where there is a federal conviction for the underlying offense, the fine guideline shall be the fine guideline that would have been applicable had there only been a conviction for the underlying offense. This guideline shall be used as a consolidated fine guideline for both the underlying offense and the conviction underlying this section."

The Commentary to section 2K1.7 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by inserting the following additional notes:

"3. Where a sentence under this section is imposed in conjunction with a sentence for an underlying offense, any specific offense characteristic for the use of fire or explosives is not to be applied in respect to the guideline for the underlying offense.

4. Subsection (b) sets forth special provisions concerning the imposition of fines. Where there is also a conviction for the underlying offense, a consolidated fine guideline is determined by the offense level that would have applied to the underlying offense absent a conviction under 18 U.S.C. 844(h). This is because, in such cases, the offense level for the underlying offense may be reduced in that any specific offense characteristic for use of fire or explosives would not be applied (see Application Note

3). The Commission has not established a fine guideline range for the unusual case in which there is no conviction for the underlying offense, although a fine is authorized under 18 U.S.C. 3571."

The Commentary to section 2K2.4 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 4 by inserting ", although a fine is authorized under 18 U.S.C. 3571" immediately before the period at the end of the last sentence.

Reason for Amendment: This amendment conforms section 2K1.7 to section 2K2.4, which includes specific instructions concerning treatment of fines and double counting. Both sections are based upon similarly written statutes that provide for a fixed mandatory, consecutive sentence of imprisonment. In addition, the last sentence of Application Note 4 of the Commentary to section 2K2.4 is expanded for greater clarity.

27. Amendment: Section 2K2.1(a)(1) is amended by deleting "16" and inserting in lieu thereof "18".

Section 2K2.1(b)(1) is amended by inserting ", other than a firearm covered in 26 U.S.C. 5845(a)," immediately following "ammunition".

Section 2K2.2(a)(1) is amended by deleting "16" and inserting in lieu thereof "18".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment provides that the reduction in offense level under subsection (b)(1) for possession of a weapon for sporting purposes or collection may not be applied in the case of any weapon described in 26 U.S.C. 5845(a). In addition, the amendment increases the base offense level in subsection (a)(1) of sections 2K2.1 and 2K2.2 from 16 to 18 to better reflect the seriousness of the conduct covered.

28. Amendment: Chapter two, part K, subpart 3 is amended by inserting the following additional guideline:

"Section 2K3.2. Feloniously Mailing Injurious Articles

(a) Base Offense Level (Apply the greater):

(1) If the offense was committed with intent (A) to kill or injure any person, or (B) to injure the mails or other property, apply section 2X1.1 (Attempt, Solicitation, or Conspiracy) in respect to the intended offense; or

(2) If death resulted, apply the most analogous offense guideline from chapter two, part A, subpart 1 (Homicide).

Commentary

Statutory Provision: 18 U.S.C. 1716 (felony provisions only).

Background: This guideline applies only to the felony provisions of 18 U.S.C. 1716. The Commission has not promulgated a guideline for the misdemeanor provisions of this statute."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment adds an additional guideline covering the felony provisions of 18 U.S.C. 1716.

Chapter Two, Part L (Offenses Involving Immigration, Naturalization, and Passports)

29. Amendment: Section 2L1.1(b)(1) is amended by deleting "and without knowledge that the alien was excludable under 8 U.S.C. 1182(a) (27), (28), (29),".

The Commentary to section 2L1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by deleting Application Note 7 and inserting in lieu thereof:

"7. Where the defendant smuggled, transported, or harbored an alien knowing that the alien intended to enter the United States to engage in subversive activity, an upward departure may be warranted."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment deletes a portion of specific offense characteristic (b)(1) that is unclear in application, and in any event rarely occurs, and replaces it with an application note indicating that an upward departure may be warranted in the circumstances specified.

Chapter Two, Part M (Offenses Involving National Defense)

30. Amendment: Section 2M4.1(b)(1) is amended by deleting "while" and inserting in lieu thereof "at a time when", and by deleting "into the armed services, other than in time of war or armed conflict" and inserting in lieu thereof "for compulsory military service".

The Commentary to section 2M4.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in the caption by deleting "Notes" and inserting in lieu thereof "Note", and by deleting Notes 1 and 2 in their entirety and inserting in lieu thereof:

"1. Subsection (b)(1) does not distinguish between whether the offense was committed in peacetime or during time of war or armed conflict. If the offense was committed when persons were being inducted for compulsory military service during time of war or armed conflict, an upward departure may be warranted."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies this guideline and deletes language that produced the anomalous result of a lower offense level for failure to register and evasion of military service in time of war or armed conflict than during a peacetime draft. In addition, the amendment makes a technical correction to the language of the guideline that enables the elimination of current Application Note 1.

31. Amendment: Section 2M5.2 is amended by deleting subsection (a) and inserting in lieu thereof:

"(a) Base Offense Level:

(1) 22, except as provided in subdivision (2) below;

(2) 14, if the offense involved only non-fully-automatic small arms (rifles, handguns, or shotguns), and the number of weapons did not exceed ten."

The Commentary to section 2M5.2 captioned "Statutory Provision" is amended by deleting "Provision" and inserting in lieu thereof "Provisions", and by deleting "section 2778" and inserting in lieu thereof "sections 2778, 2780".

The Commentary to section 2M5.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 1 by inserting the following immediately before "In the case of a violation":

"Under 22 U.S.C. 2778, the President is authorized, through a licensing system administered by the Department of State, to control exports of defense articles and defense services that he deems critical to a security or foreign policy interest of the United States. The items subject to control constitute the United States Munitions List, which is set out in 22 CFR 121.1. Included in this list are such things as military aircraft, helicopters, artillery, shells, missiles, rockets, bombs, vessels of war, explosives, military and space electronics, and certain firearms.

The base offense level assumes that the offense conduct was harmful or had the potential to be harmful to a security or foreign policy interest of the United States. In the unusual case where the offense conduct posed no such risk, a downward departure may be warranted."

The Commentary to section 2M5.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in the first sentence of Note 2 by inserting "or foreign policy" immediately before "interest".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment revises this guideline to better distinguish the more and less serious forms of offense conduct covered.

chapter two, part N (Offenses Involving Food, Drugs, Agricultural Products, and Odometer Laws)

32. Amendment: Section 2N1.1 is amended by inserting the following additional subsection:

"(b) Cross Reference

(1) If the offense involved extortion, apply section 2B3.2 (Extortion by Force or Threat of Injury or Serious Damage) if the resulting offense level is greater than that determined above."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment adds a cross reference to ensure that in the case of an offense involving extortion, the offense level will not be lower than that under section 2B3.2.

33. Amendment: Section 2N1.2 is amended by deleting subsection (a) in its entirety and inserting in lieu thereof:

"(a) Base Offense Level: 16

(b) Cross Reference

(1) If the offense involved extortion, apply section 2B3.2 (Extortion by Force or Threat of Injury or Serious Damage)."

The Commentary to section 2N1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by deleting "Notes" and inserting in lieu thereof "Note", by deleting Note 1 in its entirety, and by redesignating Note 2 as Note 1.

Reason for Amendment: This amendment conforms the structure of this guideline to that used in other guidelines. No substantive change results.

34. Amendment: The Commentary to section 2N2.1 captioned "Statutory Provisions" is amended by inserting "(a)(1), (a)(2), (b)" immediately after "333".

The Commentary to section 2N2.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by inserting the following additional note:

"4. The Commission has not promulgated a guideline for violations of 21 U.S.C. 333(e) (offenses involving anabolic steroids)."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment provides that section 2N2.1 does not apply to convictions under 21 U.S.C. 333(e).

Chapter Two, Part P (Offenses Involving Prisons and Correctional Facilities)

35. Amendment: Section 2P1.1(b)(2) is amended by inserting the following at the end:

"Provided, however, that this reduction shall not apply if the defendant, while away from the facility, committed any federal, state, or local offense punishable by a term of imprisonment of one year or more."

Section 2P1.1(b) is amended by renumbering subdivision (3) as (4), and by inserting the following as subdivision (3):

"(3) If the defendant escaped from the non-secure custody of a community corrections center, community treatment center, 'halfway house,' or similar facility, and subsection (b)(2) is not applicable, decrease the offense level under subsection (a)(1) by 4 levels or the offense level under subsection (a)(2) by 2 levels. Provided, however, that this reduction shall not apply if the defendant, while away from the facility, committed any federal, state, or local offense punishable by a term of imprisonment of one year or more."

The Commentary to section 2P1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 3 by deleting "section 2P1.1(b)(3)" and inserting in lieu thereof "subsection (b)(4)".

The Commentary to section 2P1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by the insertion of the following additional note:

"5. Criminal history points under chapter four, part A (Criminal History) are to be determined independently of the application of this guideline. For example, in the case of a defendant serving a one-year sentence of imprisonment at the time of the escape, criminal history points from section 4A1.1(b) (for the sentence being served at the time of the escape), section 4A1.1(d) (custody status), and section 4A1.1(e) (recency) would be applicable."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment provides greater differentiation in the guideline offense levels for the various types of conduct covered by this guideline. In addition, it clarifies that, where the instant offense is escape, criminal history points from section 4A1.1 (d) or (e), or both, may be applicable and that the addition of such points does not constitute unintended double counting.

Chapter Two, Part S (Money Laundering and Monetary Transaction Reporting)

36. Amendment: The Introductory Commentary to chapter two, part S, is deleted in its entirety.

Reason for Amendment: This amendment deletes the introductory commentary to this part as outdated, inconsistent with the commentaries to other sections, and better covered in the individual commentaries to the offenses contained in the part.

Chapter Two, Part T (Offenses Involving Taxation)

37. Amendment: The Commentary to section 2T1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 5 by deleting:

" 'racketeering activity' as defined in 18 U.S.C. 1961. If section 2T1.2(b)(1) applies, do not apply section 4B1.3 (Criminal Livelihood), which is substantially duplicative", and inserting in lieu thereof:

"conduct constituting a criminal offense under federal, state, or local law".

The Commentary to section 2T1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 1 by deleting:

" 'racketeering activity' as defined in 18 U.S.C. 1961. If section 2T1.2(b)(1) applies, do not apply section 4B1.3 (Criminal Livelihood), which is substantially duplicative", and inserting in lieu thereof:

"conduct constituting a criminal offense under federal, state, or local law".

The Commentary to section 2T1.3 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 1 by deleting:

"'racketeering activity' as defined in 18 U.S.C. 1961. If section 2T1.3(b)(1) applies, do not apply section 4B1.3 (Criminal Livelihood), which is substantially duplicative", and inserting in lieu thereof:

"conduct constituting a criminal offense under federal, state, or local law".

The Commentary to section 2T1.4 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 1 by deleting "If this subsection applies, do not apply section 4B1.3 (Criminal Livelihood) which is substantially duplicative."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment deletes the portion of these application notes concerning application of section 4B1.3 (Criminal Livelihood) because this commentary conflicts with the principle expressed in Application Note 5 of the Commentary to section 1B1.1 (when two guideline provisions are equally applicable, the one producing the greater offense level controls). In addition, this amendment broadens the definition of "criminal activity" to cover any criminal violation of federal, state, or local law.

Chapter three, part A (Victim-Related Adjustments)

38. Amendment: The Introductory Commentary to chapter three, part A is amended by deleting the second sentence as follows: "They are to be treated as specific offense characteristics."

The commentary to section 3A1.1 (Vulnerable Victim) captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 2 by inserting the following at the end:

"For example, where the offense guideline provides an enhancement for the age of the victim, this guideline should not be applied unless the victim was unusually vulnerable for reasons unrelated to age."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the application of this guideline and eliminates an unnecessary and confusing sentence.

Chapter three, part B (Role in the Offense)

39. Amendment: The Introductory commentary to chapter three, part B, is amended by beginning a new paragraph with the second sentence, and by inserting the following immediately after the first sentence:

"The determination of a defendant's role in the offense is to be made on the basis of all conduct within the scope of section 1B1.3 (Relevant Conduct), i.e., all conduct included under section 1B1.3(a) (1)-(4), and not solely on the basis of elements and acts cited in the count of conviction. However, where the defendant has received mitigation by virtue of being convicted of an offense significantly less serious than his actual criminal conduct, e.g., the defendant is convicted of unlawful possession of a controlled substance but his actual conduct involved drug trafficking, a further reduction in the offense level under section 3B1.2 (Mitigating Role) ordinarily is not warranted because the defendant is not substantially less culpable than a defendant whose only conduct involved the less serious offense."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the conduct that is relevant to the determination of chapter three, part B, and clarifies the operation of section 3B1.2 in certain cases.

40. Amendment: Section 3B1.3 is amended by deleting "in addition to that provided for in section 3B1.1, nor may it be employed", and by inserting the following additional sentence at the end:

"If this adjustment is based upon an abuse of a position of trust, it may be employed in addition to an adjustment under section 3B1.1 (Aggravating Role); if this adjustment is based solely on the use of a special skill, it may not be employed in addition to an adjustment under section 3B1.1 (Aggravating Role)."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment provides that the enhancement for abuse of a position of trust may apply in addition to an enhancement for an aggravating role under section 3B1.1.

Chapter three, part C (Obstruction)

41. Amendment: Section 3C1.1 is amended in the title by deleting "Willfully Obstructing or Impeding Proceedings" and inserting in lieu thereof "Obstructing or Impeding the Administration of Justice".

Section 3C1.1 is amended by deleting "impeded or obstructed, or attempted to impede or obstruct" and inserting in lieu thereof "obstructed or impeded, or attempted to obstruct or impede," and by deleting "or prosecution" and inserting in lieu thereof ", prosecution, or sentencing".

The Commentary to section 3C1.1 is amended by deleting the introductory paragraph immediately before "Application Notes".

The Commentary to section 3C1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by deleting Notes 1-4 and inserting in lieu thereof:

"1. This provision is not intended to punish a defendant for the exercise of a constitutional right. A defendant's denial of guilt (other than a denial of guilt under oath that constitutes perjury), refusal to admit guilt or provide information to a probation officer, or refusal to enter a plea of guilty is not a basis for application of this provision. In applying this provision, the defendant's testimony and statements should be evaluated in a light most favorable to the defendant.

2. Obstructive conduct can vary widely in nature, degree of planning, and seriousness. In addition to conduct prohibited by 18 U.S.C. 1501-1516, Application Note 3 sets forth examples of the types of conduct to which this enhancement is intended to apply. Application Note 4 sets forth examples of less serious forms of conduct to which this enhancement is not intended to apply, but that ordinarily can appropriately be sanctioned by the determination of the particular sentence within the otherwise applicable guideline range. Although the conduct to which this enhancement applies is not subject to precise definition, comparison of the examples set forth in Application Notes 3 and 4 should assist the court in determining whether application of this enhancement is warranted in a particular case.

3. The following is a non-exhaustive list of examples of the types of conduct to which this enhancement applies:

(a) Threatening, intimidating, or otherwise unlawfully influencing a co-defendant, witness, or juror, directly or indirectly, or attempting to do so;

(b) Committing, suborning, or attempting to suborn perjury;

(c) Producing or attempting to produce a false, altered, or counterfeit document or record during an official investigation or judicial proceeding;

(d) Destroying or concealing or directing or procuring another person to destroy or conceal evidence that is material to an official investigation or judicial proceeding (e.g., shredding a document or destroying ledgers upon learning that an official investigation has commenced or is about to commence), or attempting to do so; however, if such conduct occurs contemporaneously with arrest (e.g., attempting to swallow or throw away a controlled substance), it shall not, standing alone, be sufficient to warrant an adjustment for obstruction unless it results in a material hindrance to the official investigation or prosecution of the instant offense or the sentencing of the offender;

(e) Escaping or attempting to escape from custody before trial or sentencing; or willfully failing to appear, as ordered, for a judicial proceeding;

(f) Providing materially false information to a judge or magistrate;

(g) Providing a materially false statement to a law enforcement officer that significantly obstructed or impeded the official investigation or prosecution of the instant offense;

(h) Providing materially false information to a probation officer in respect to a presentence or other investigation for the court.

This adjustment also applies to any other obstructive conduct in respect to the official investigation, prosecution, or sentencing of the instant offense where there is a separate count of conviction for such conduct.

4. The following is a non-exhaustive list of examples of the types of conduct that, absent a separate count of conviction for such conduct, do not warrant application of this enhancement, but ordinarily can appropriately be sanctioned by the determination of the particular sentence within the otherwise applicable guideline range:

(a) Providing a false name or identification document at arrest, except where such conduct actually resulted in a significant hindrance to the investigation or prosecution of the instant offense;

(b) Making false statements, not under oath, to law enforcement officers, unless Application Note 3(g) above applies;

(c) Providing incomplete or misleading information, not amounting to a material falsehood, in respect to a presentence investigation;

(d) Avoiding or fleeing from arrest (see, however, section 3C1.2) (Reckless Endangerment During Flight).

5. 'Material' evidence, fact, statement, or information, as used in this section, means evidence, fact, statement, or information that, if believed, would tend to influence or affect the issue under determination.

6. Where the defendant is convicted for an offense covered by section 2J1.1 (contempt), section 2J1.2 (Obstruction of Justice), section 2J1.3 (Perjury or Subornation of Perjury), section 2J1.5 (Failure to Appear by Material Witness), section 2J1.6 (Failure to Appear by Defendant), section 2J1.8 (Bribery of Witness), or section 2J1.9 (Payment to Witness), this adjustment is not to be applied to the offense level for that offense except where a significant further obstruction occurred during the investigation or prosecution of the obstruction offense itself (e.g., where the defendant threatened a witness during the course of the prosecution for the obstruction offense). Where the defendant is convicted both of the obstruction offense and the underlying offense, the count for the obstruction offense will be grouped with the count for the underlying offense under subsection (c) of section 3D1.2 (Groups of Closely-Related Counts). The offense level for that group of closely-related counts will be the offense level for the underlying offense increased by the 2-level adjustment specified by this section, or the offense level for the obstruction offense, whichever is greater."

Chapter three, part C, is amended by inserting the following additional guideline:

"Section 3C1.2. Reckless Endangerment During Flight

If the defendant recklessly created a substantial risk of death or serious bodily injury to another person in the course of fleeing from a law enforcement officer, increase by 2 levels.

Commentary

Application Notes:

1. 'Reckless' is defined in the commentary to section 2A1.4 (Involuntary Manslaughter). For the purposes of this guideline, 'reckless' means that the conduct was at least reckless and includes any higher level of culpability. However, where a higher degree of culpability was involved (e.g., a fleeing defendant discharged a weapon at a pursuing officer), an upward departure above the 2-level increase provided in this section may be warranted.

2. 'Another person' includes any person, except a participant in the offense who willingly participated in the flight."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the operation of section 3C1.1 and inserts an additional guideline to address reckless endangerment during flight. The Commission believes that reckless endangerment during flight is sufficiently different from other forms of obstructive conduct to warrant a separate enhancement.

Chapter three, part D (Multiple Counts)

42. Amendment: Section 3D1.1 is amended by inserting "(a)" immediately before "When"; by deleting "(a)", "(b)", and "(c)", and inserting in lieu thereof "(1)", "(2)", and "(3)" respectively; and by inserting the following additional subsection:

"(b) Any count for which the statute mandates imposition of a consecutive sentence is excluded from the operation of sections 3D1.2-3D1.5. Sentences for such counts are governed by the provisions of section 5G1.2(a)."

The Commentary to section 3D1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 1 by deleting:

"Certain offenses, e.g., 18 U.S.C. 924(c) (use of a deadly or dangerous weapon in relation to a crime of violence or drug trafficking) by law carry mandatory consecutive sentences. Such offenses are exempted from the operation of these rules. See section 3D1.2.", and inserting in lieu thereof:

"Counts for which a statute mandates imposition of a consecutive sentence are excepted from application of the multiple count rules. Convictions on such counts are not used in the determination of a combined offense level under this part, but may affect the offense level for other counts. A conviction for 18 U.S.C. 924(c) (use of firearm in commission of a crime of violence) provides a common example. In the case of a conviction under 18 U.S.C. 924(c), the specific offense characteristic for weapon use in the primary offense is to be disregarded to avoid double counting. See Commentary to section 2K2.4. Example: The defendant is convicted of one count of bank robbery (18 U.S.C. 2113), and one count of use of a firearm in the commission of a crime of violence (18 U.S.C. 924(c)). The two counts are not grouped together, and the offense level for the bank robbery count is computed without application of an enhancement for weapon possession or use. The mandatory five-year sentence on the weapon-use count runs consecutively, as required by law. See section 5G1.2(a)."

Section 3D1.2 is amended by deleting:

"A count for which the statute mandates imposition of a consecutive sentence is excluded from such Groups for purposes of sections 3D1.2-3D1.5."

The Commentary to section 3D1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by deleting Note 1 in its entirety.

Reason for Amendment: This amendment consolidates the provisions dealing with statutorily required consecutive sentences in section 3D1.1 for greater clarity.

43. Amendment: Section 3D1.2(b) is amended by deleting:

"including, but not limited to:

(1) A count charging conspiracy or solicitation and a count charging any substantive offense that was the sole object of the conspiracy or solicitation. 28 U.S.C. 994(l)(2).

(2) A count charging an attempt to commit an offense and a count charging the commission of the offense. 18 U.S.C. 3584(a).

(3) A count charging an offense based on a general prohibition and a count charging violation of a specific prohibition encompassed in the general prohibition. 28 U.S.C. 994(v)".

Section 3D1.2(d) is amended by deleting "Counts are grouped together if" and inserting in lieu thereof "When".

Section 3D1.2(d) is amended by deleting "specifically included" and inserting in lieu thereof "to be grouped".

Section 3D1.2(d) is amended in the second paragraph by inserting in the appropriate place: "section 2K2.2".

Section 3D1.2(d) is amended in the third paragraph by inserting "Chapter Two," immediately before "Part A".

The Commentary to section 3D1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by inserting the following as Note 1:

"1. Subsections (a)-(d) set forth circumstances in which counts are to be grouped together into a single Group. Counts are to be grouped together into a single Group if any one or more of the subsections provide for such grouping. Counts for which the statute mandates imposition of a consecutive sentence are excepted from application of the multiple count rules. See section 3D1.1(b)."

The Commentary to section 3D1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 3 by inserting the following as the second paragraph:

"When one count charges an attempt to commit an offense and the other charges the commission of that offense, or when one count charges an offense based on a general prohibition and the other charges violation of a specific prohibition encompassed in the general prohibition, the counts will be grouped together under subsection (a)."

The Commentary to section 3D1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 4 in the first sentence by deleting "states the principle" and inserting in lieu thereof "provides".

The Commentary to section 3D1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 4 by inserting the following as the second sentence:

"This provision does not authorize the grouping of offenses that cannot be considered to represent essentially one composite harm (e.g., robbery of the same victim on different occasions involves multiple, separate instances of fear and risk of harm, not one composite harm)."

The Commentary to section 3D1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 4 by inserting the following as the second paragraph:

"When one count charges a conspiracy or solicitation and the other charges a substantive offense that was the sole object of the conspiracy or solicitation, the counts will be grouped together under subsection (b)."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the operation of section 3D1.2(b), makes editorial improvements in section 3D1.2(d), makes the listing of offenses in section 3D1.2(d) more comprehensive, corrects a clerical error, and clarifies the Commentary of section 3D1.2 by making explicit that offenses such as multiple robberies do not fit within the parameters of section 3D1.2(b).

44. Amendment: Section 3D1.4 is amended in the fourth line of the Unit table by inserting "2½-" immediately before "3" the first time "3" appears, and in the fifth line of the Unit table by deleting "4 or" and inserting in lieu thereof "3½-".

Section 3D1.4 is amended by deleting:

"(d) Except when the total number of Units is 1½, round up to the next large whole number."

The Commentary to section 3D1.4 captioned "Background" is amended in the first paragraph by deleting "When this approach produces a fraction in the total Units, other than 1½, it is rounded up to the nearest whole number."

The "Illustrations of the Operation of the Multiple-Count Rules" following section 3D1.5 are amended in example 1 by deleting "(rounded up to 3)", and by deleting "18" and "4-" and inserting in lieu thereof "20" and "2-" respectively.

The "Illustrations of the Operation of the Multiple-Count Rules" following section 3D1.5 are amended in example 3 by deleting "Obstruction" and inserting in lieu thereof "Obstructing or Impeding the Administration of Justice".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment simplifies the operation of section 3D1.4. In addition, the amendment conforms the illustrations of the operation of the multiple-count rules.

Chapter three part E (Acceptance of Responsibility)

45. Amendment: The Commentary to section 3E1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by deleting Notes 2 and 3 and inserting in lieu thereof:

"2. This adjustment is not intended to apply to a defendant who puts the government to its burden of proof at trial by denying the essential factual elements of guilt, is convicted, and only then admits guilt and expresses remorse. Conviction by trial, however, does not automatically preclude a defendant from consideration for such a reduction. In rare situations a defendant may clearly demonstrate an acceptance of responsibility for his criminal conduct even though he exercises his constitutional right to a trial. This may occur, for example, where a defendant goes to trial to assert and preserve issues that do not relate to factual guilt (e.g., to make a constitutional challenge to a statute or a challenge to the applicability of a statute to his conduct). In each such instance, however, a determination that a defendant has accepted responsibility will be based primarily upon pre-trial statements and conduct.

3. Entry of a plea of guilty prior to the commencement of trial combined with truthful admission of involvement in the offense and related conduct will constitute significant evidence of acceptance of responsibility for the purposes of this section. However, this evidence may be outweighed by conduct of the defendant that is inconsistent with such acceptance of responsibility."

The Commentary to section 3E1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 4 by deleting "Willfully Obstructing or Impeding Proceedings" and inserting in lieu thereof "Obstructing or Impeding the Administration of Justice".

The Commentary to section 3E1.1 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 5 by deleting "and should not be distributed unless it is without foundation".

The Commentary to section 3E1.1 captioned "Background" is amended in the first paragraph by inserting "and related conduct" immediately before "by taking", by deleting "lesser sentence" and inserting in lieu thereof "lower offense level", and by deleting "sincere remorse" and inserting in lieu thereof "acceptance of responsibility".

The Commentary to section 3E1.1 captioned "Background" is amended by deleting the second paragraph in its entirety.

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the operation of this guideline and conforms the title of a reference to another guideline.

Chapter four, part A (Criminal History)

46. Amendment: Section 4A1.2(a)(3) is amended by inserting "or execution" immediately following "imposition".

Section 4A1.2(c)(1) is amended by inserting in the appropriate place by alphabetical order:

"Careless or reckless driving", "Insufficient funds check".

Section 4A1.2(c)(1) is amended by inserting "(excluding local ordinance violations that are also criminal offenses under state law)" immediately following "Local ordinance violations".

Section 4A1.2(c)(2) is amended by inserting "(e.g., speeding)" immediately following "minor traffic infractions".

The Commentary to section 4A1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended by inserting the following additional notes:

"12. Local ordinance violations. A number of local jurisdictions have enacted ordinances covering certain offenses (e.g., larceny and assault misdemeanors) that are also violations of state criminal law. This enables a local court (e.g., a municipal court) to exercise jurisdiction over such offenses. Such offenses are excluded from the definition of local ordinance violations in section 4A1.2(c)(1) and, therefore, sentences for such offenses are to be treated as if the defendant had been convicted under state law.

13. 'Insufficient funds check,' as used in section 4A1.2(c)(1), does not include any conviction establishing that the defendant used a false name or non-existent account."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies that, for the purpose of computing criminal history points, there is no difference between the suspension of the "imposition" and "execution" of a prior sentence. This amendment also makes the provisions of section 4A1.2(c)(1) more comprehensive in respect to certain vehicular offenses and clarifies the application of section 4A1.2(c)(1) in respect to certain offenses prosecuted in municipal courts. In addition, this amendment expands the coverage of section 4A1.2(c)(1) to include a misdemeanor or petty offense conviction for an insufficient funds check.

47. Amendment: The Commentary to section 4A1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 6 by deleting all after the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof:

"Also, sentences resulting from convictions that a defendant shows to have been previously ruled constitutionally invalid are not to be counted. Nonetheless, the criminal conduct underlying any conviction that is not counted in the criminal history score may be considered pursuant to section 4A1.3 (Adequacy of Criminal History Category)."

The Commentary to section 4A1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in the caption of Note 6 by deleting "Invalid" and inserting in lieu thereof "Reversed, Vacated, or Invalidated".

The Commentary to section 4A1.2 is amended by inserting at the end:

"Background: Prior sentences, not otherwise excluded, are to be counted in the criminal history score, including uncounseled misdemeanor sentences where imprisonment was not imposed.

The Commission leaves for court determination the issue of whether a defendant may collaterally attack at sentencing a prior conviction."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the circumstances under which prior sentences are excluded from the criminal history score. In particular, the amendment clarifies the Commission's intent regarding the counting of uncounseled misdemeanor convictions for which counsel constitutionally is not required because the defendant was not imprisoned. Lack of clarity regarding whether these prior sentences are to be counted may result not only in considerable disparity in guideline application, but also in the criminal history score not adequately reflecting the defendant's failure to learn from the application of previous sanctions and his potential for recidivism. This amendment expressly states the Commission's position that such convictions are to be counted for the purposes of criminal history under chapter four, part A.

Chapter four, part B (Career Offenders and Criminal Livelihood)

48. Amendment: The Commentary to section 4B1.3 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 2 by deleting "[currently 2000x the hourly minimum wage under Federal law is $6,700]".

Reason for Amendment: This amendment deletes a reference to the federal minimum wage that is now outdated.

49. Amendment: Chapter four, part B, is amended by inserting the following additional section:

"Section 4B1.4. Armed Career Criminal

(a) A defendant who is subject to an enhanced sentence under the provisions of 18 U.S.C. 924(e) is an armed career criminal.

(b) The offense level for an armed career criminal is the greatest of:

- (1) The offense level applicable from Chapters two and three; or
- (2) The offense level from section 4B1.1 (Career Offender) if applicable; or

(3) (A) 34, if the defendant used or possessed the firearm or ammunition in connection with a crime of violence or controlled substance offense, as defined in section 4B1.2(1), or if the firearm possessed by the defendant was of a type described in 26 U.S.C. 5845(a) *; or
(B) 33, otherwise.*

* If section 3E1.1 (Acceptance of Responsibility) applies, reduce by 2 levels.

(c) The criminal history category for an armed career criminal is the greatest of:

(1) The criminal history category from chapter four, part A (Criminal History), or section 4B1.1 (Career Offender) if applicable; or

(2) Category VI, if the defendant used or possessed the firearm or ammunition in connection with a crime of violence or controlled substance offense, as defined in section 4B1.2(1), or if the firearm possessed by the defendant was of a type described in 26 U.S.C. 5845(a); or

(3) Category IV.

Commentary

Background: This section implements 18 U.S.C. 924(e), which requires a minimum sentence of imprisonment of fifteen years for a defendant who violates 18 U.S.C. 922(g) and has three previous convictions for a violent felony or a serious drug offense. If the offense level determined under this section is greater than the offense level otherwise applicable, the offense level determined under this section shall be applied. A minimum criminal history category (Category IV) is provided, reflecting that each defendant to whom this section applies will have at least three prior convictions for serious offenses. In some cases, the criminal history category may not adequately reflect the defendant's criminal history; see section 4A1.3 (Adequacy of Criminal History Category)."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment adds a new section to address cases subject to a sentence enhancement under 18 U.S.C. 924(e).

Chapter Five, Part E (Restitution, Fines, Assessments, Forfeitures)

50. Section 5E1.2(a) is amended by striking the subsection in its entirety and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(a) The court shall impose a fine in all cases, except where the defendant establishes that he is unable to pay and is not likely to become able to pay any fine."

Section 5E1.2(d)(2) is amended by deleting "the ability of the defendant" and inserting in lieu thereof "any evidence presented as to the defendant's ability".

The Commentary to section 5E1.2 captioned "Application Notes" is amended in Note 3 by striking the fourth sentence and inserting the following additional paragraphs at the end:

"Where it is readily ascertainable that the defendant cannot, and is not likely to become able to, pay a fine greater than the maximum fine set forth in Column B of the Fine Table in subsection (c)(3), calculation of the alternative maximum fines under subsections (c)(2)(B) (twice the gross pecuniary loss caused by the offense) and (c)(2)(C) (three times the gross pecuniary gain to all participants in the offense) is unnecessary. In such cases, a statement that 'the alternative maximums of the fine table were not calculated because it is readily ascertainable that the defendant cannot, and is not likely to become able to, pay a fine greater than the maximum set forth in the fine table' is recommended in lieu of such calculations.

"The determination of the fine guideline range may be dispensed with entirely upon a court determination of present and future inability to pay any fine. The inability of a defendant to post bail bond (having otherwise been determined eligible for release) and the fact that a defendant is represented by (or was determined eligible for) assigned counsel are significant indicators of present inability to pay any fine. In conjunction with other factors, they may also indicate that the defendant is not likely to become able to pay any fine."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the operation of this guideline.

Chapter Five, Part H

51. Amendment: The Introductory Commentary to chapter five, part H is amended by inserting the following additional paragraph at the end:

"In addition, 28 U.S.C. 994(e) requires the Commission to assure that its guidelines and policy statements reflect the general inappropriateness of considering the defendant's education, vocational skills, employment record, family ties and responsibilities, and community ties in determining whether a term of imprisonment should be imposed or the length of a term of imprisonment."

Reason for Amendment: This amendment clarifies the relationship of 28 U.S.C. 994(e) to certain of the policy statements contained in this part.

Chapter Five, Part K (Departures)

52. Amendment: Chapter five, part K, subpart 2, is amended in the title by deleting "GENERAL PROVISIONS:" and inserting in lieu thereof "OTHER GROUNDS FOR DEPARTURE".

Section 5K2.0 is amended in the first sentence of the first paragraph by inserting a comma immediately following "degree", and by inserting "that should result in a sentence different from that described" immediately following "the guidelines"; in the third sentence of the first paragraph by deleting "court at the time of sentencing" and inserting in lieu thereof "courts"; in the fourth sentence of the first paragraph by deleting "the present section" and inserting in lieu thereof "this subpart", by deleting "fully" immediately before "take", by inserting "fully" immediately following "account", and by deleting "precise" and inserting in lieu thereof "the"; and in the sixth sentence of the first paragraph by deleting "judge" and inserting in lieu thereof "court".

Section 5K2.0 is amended in the first sentence of the second paragraph by inserting "for example," immediately following "Where", by deleting "guidelines, specific offense characteristics," and inserting in lieu thereof "offense guideline", by deleting "part" and inserting in lieu thereof "subpart", by deleting "guideline" and inserting in lieu thereof "applicable guideline range", and by deleting "of conviction" immediately following "offense"; in the second sentence of the second paragraph by deleting "offense of conviction" and inserting in lieu thereof "applicable offense guideline"; in the third sentence of the second paragraph by deleting "offense of conviction is theft" and inserting in lieu thereof "theft offense guideline is applicable", by deleting "when" immediately before "the theft", and by inserting "range" immediately before "more readily"; and in the fourth sentence of the second paragraph by deleting "offense of conviction is robbery" and inserting in lieu thereof "robbery offense guideline is applicable", and by deleting "sentence" immediately before "adjustment".

Section 5K2.0 is amended by deleting the fourth paragraph.

Reason for Amendment: This amendment makes various editorial and clarifying changes. In addition, the last paragraph is deleted as unclear and overly restrictive.

Direct Route Transportation of Radioactive MaterialsAGENCY: Research and Special Programs
Administration (RSPA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This final rule amends 49 CFR 177.825 to require, with certain exceptions, that motor carriers of highway route controlled quantity (HRCQ) radioactive materials transport those materials directly from pickup points to preferred routes and directly from preferred routes to delivery points using a shortest distance criterion. This action is necessary to ensure that HRCQ radioactive materials are transported on pickup and delivery routes in a manner consistent with the intent of § 177.825. The intended effect is to enhance the safe transportation of HRCQ radioactive materials by limiting the length of pickup and delivery routes to the shortest distance. Other changes are included to clarify the requirements of that section.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 1, 1990.FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Edward H. Bonekemper, III, Senior Attorney, Office of the Chief Counsel, or Ray Gassaway, Transportation Specialist, Office of Hazardous Materials Transportation, Research and Special Programs Administration, U.S. Department of Transportation, Washington, DC 20590, (202) 366-4400 or 366-4488.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:*Background

On September 29, 1989, RSPA published a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) in the Federal Register under Docket HM-164C (54 FR 40272; September 29, 1989). The NPRM contained proposals to enhance the safety of highway route controlled quantity (HRCQ) radioactive materials transportation by requiring carriers to select pickup and delivery routes to and from preferred routes using a shortest distance criterion.

The proposal was developed primarily in response to an enforcement case involving 49 CFR 177.825 in which DOT's Chief Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) ruled that § 177.825(b)(2) provides a carrier with broad discretion (within the parameters of § 177.825(a)) in selecting a route to carry HRCQ radioactive materials from a pickup point to a preferred route or from a preferred route to a delivery point. The ruling made evident the fact that carriers could transport HRCQ radioactive materials for long distances on non-preferred routes on the pickup and delivery legs of such transport. However, the intent of the requirements in § 177.825(b) is to restrict HRCQ transportation to preferred routes wherever possible. Therefore, this final rule is necessary to ensure that HRCQ radioactive materials are transported on pickup or delivery routes in a manner consistent with the intent of § 177.825.

The NPRM also proposed to clarify many existing requirements within § 177.825 (a) and (b). This document will address the substantive comments received regarding shortest-distance pickup and delivery routes and other topics for clarification proposed in the NPRM which also prompted substantive comments. Comments received but not addressed in this document were either non-substantive or beyond the scope of the docket.

Summary of Comments

RSPA received seventeen comments to the NPRM under Docket HM-164C. Comments were received from chemical companies, public utilities, universities, and Federal and State agencies. No HRCQ radioactive materials carriers submitted comments to the docket. The shortest-distance pickup or delivery route concept was generally accepted by commenters with some reservations. It is believed that provision of a permissible deviation (PD) in this final rule allays many of those reservations expressed by commenters.

A. Permissible Deviation (PD)

The NPRM proposed two methods that would permit an HRCQ carrier to select a pickup or delivery route longer than the shortest-distance pickup or delivery route available. RSPA believes the use of a PD will result in an increase in shipment safety, because the PD will be related to the reduction in risks associated with the shipment of HRCQ radioactive materials.

A minority of commenters opposed the PD concepts for various reasons. A few commenters indicated that carriers would neither make the comparisons necessary for determining "k" factors nor try to apply either methodology. Others maintained that the use of either proposed method could lead to disagreements over the correct quantification of radiological risk criteria. Some felt that the calculations necessary to utilize method I were too complicated and would require carriers to apply variables to conditions that lack predictability. Two commenters opposed the permissible deviation concept because they believed that it would provide HRCQ radioactive materials carriers with too much discretion, and conversely states with too little discretion, in selecting routes.

Proposed PD method I was developed to enable an HRCQ radioactive materials carrier to avoid a base (shortest-distance) pickup or delivery route that would require the carrier to select a more time-consuming overall shipment route. This method would provide the carrier discretion to select a shorter preferred route among two or more preferred routes by using an alternate pickup or delivery route that was longer than the shortest distance pickup or delivery route, as proposed in the NPRM.

In situations where a state may find carrier discretion regarding the PD undesirable, the routing authority within that state could exercise its authority and designate a preferred route, thus limiting the carrier's discretion. On the other hand, carrier discretion through a PD would reduce the need for state designations to address small-scale routing decisions.

RSPA agrees with the commenters regarding the potential difficulties associated with using PD method I. The use of a PD must enhance transport safety and be easily quantifiable and readily enforceable to be of regulatory value. PD method I would not provide the latter two qualities. For the reasons cited above, PD method I is of limited value to the safe transportation of HRCQ radioactive materials and will not receive further consideration in this document.

RSPA also agrees with those commenters who favored inclusion of a PD to enhance HRCQ radioactive materials shipment safety and believes a limited PD from the base pickup or delivery route should be made available to HRCQ radioactive materials carriers. PD method II would allow the carrier discretion to deviate from the shortest distance base pickup or delivery route, using § 177.825(a) safety criteria, whenever the shortest distance pickup or delivery route may be the safest route. These safety criteria are described in the "Guidelines for Selecting Preferred Routes for Highway Route Controlled Quantity Shipments of Radioactive Materials."

The NPRM described PD method II as having two hypothetical delivery routes, X and Y, where X was 12 miles long and passed through the middle of a densely-populated town that included several traffic lights, heavy traffic, and dilapidated roads. Route Y was 20 miles long, consisted of well-maintained roads and passed through sparsely-populated countryside. The PD was then derived by multiplying the length of route X (12) by 2, thereby yielding a product of 24 miles. Using this method, the HRCQ radioactive materials carrier would be allowed to take route Y because its length was 20 miles, less than the calculated PD of 24 miles. Although simple to calculate and enforce, this method may require the carrier to use the shorter pickup or delivery route where the mileage difference among pickup or delivery routes is small, regardless of safety considerations. For example, if route X as described above, is 2 miles long and route Y, as described above, is 5 miles long, doubling the length of route X will yield a product of 4 miles. PD method II will not allow a carrier to take route Y in this case. Another PD method appears to be necessary that will allow a carrier to deviate from a base pickup or delivery route in accordance with the safety criteria in § 177.825(a).

Although more than half of the commenters favored inclusion of PD method II in a final rule, few suggestions were provided to RSPA regarding the tolerances which might be used to calculate such a PD. RSPA believes a more effective and simpler method for calculating a PD would be to add 25 miles to the shortest distance base pickup or delivery route; however, the PD could not exceed 5 times the length of the base pickup or delivery route. Twenty-five miles was selected as a reasonable distance for a carrier to travel off of the shortest distance route to enhance overall HRCQ radioactive materials shipment safety. In addition, a percentage limitation of 5 times the length of the base pickup or delivery route is believed adequate to limit PD's in situations where the length of the base pickup or delivery route is a relatively small fraction of 25 miles. For example, if the length of the shortest-distance base pickup or delivery route A is 2 miles, the carrier may select a route, using § 177.825(a) radiological risk minimization criteria, with a length up to 10 miles. The carrier in this case may not add a 25-mile deviation to the length of the base pickup or delivery route since the product of 5 times the length of the base pickup or delivery route may not be exceeded. RSPA believes this PD method offers the HRCQ radioactive materials carrier a reasonable amount of discretion in selecting base pickup or delivery routes and ensures that HRCQ radioactive materials are transported in a manner consistent with the intent of § 177.825. Carriers may, of course, petition the appropriate state authority to have a particular pickup or delivery route designated as a preferred route, or may pursue the exemption procedure available in 49 CFR 107.103 if using this PD method is not feasible.

B. Applicability Statement

One commenter stated the proposed phrase "a carrier, driver, or person operating a motor vehicle" is redundant. In order to ensure enforceability, all parties who may violate the requirements in § 177.825 must be identified. RSPA agrees that the word "driver" is redundant. In this final rule, the phrase "a carrier or any person operating a motor vehicle" is used in paragraph (b).

C. Radiological Risk Minimization

One commenter indicated that the phrase "the State routing agency shall select routes that minimize radiological risk," proposed in § 177.825(b)(1)(i), would limit the states' flexibility in designating preferred routes. The comment is based on the premise that radiological risk should not be the sole determinant in routing decisions. The docket does not propose any substantive changes regarding the criteria to be used by states in designating preferred routes for HRCQ radioactive materials transportation. Language in the NPRM simply reiterates the primary objective of the routing analysis provided in the "Guidelines for Selecting Preferred Highway Routes for Highway Route Controlled Quantity Shipments of Radioactive Materials."

Review by Sections

Section 177.825(a) requires that placarded radioactive materials shipments, other than HRCQ shipments, be transported on routes that minimize radiological risk and sets forth criteria for consideration in making risk minimization determinations. Paragraph (a) is revised to clarify existing requirements and eliminate ambiguities. The three explicit duties imposed on operators of motor vehicles carrying radioactive materials for which placards are required now appear in subparagraphs (1)–(3) of paragraph (a). The third of the three operator duties is clarified by revising the phrase "tell the driver that the motor vehicle contains radioactive materials and shall indicate the general route to be taken" to read "tell the driver which route to take and that the motor vehicle contains radioactive materials." A reference to part 172 for placarding requirements is added. The last sentence of the introductory text of paragraph (a) is amended to refer to the "requirements" of paragraph (a) instead of the "requirement" of paragraph (a). In paragraph (a)(2) the phrase "preferred highway" is removed because it is redundant.

Paragraph (b) of § 177.825 requires HRCQ radioactive materials to be transported over "preferred routes selected to reduce time in transit" except that an Interstate System bypass or beltway around a city must be used when available. "Preferred routes" consist of Interstate System highways for which alternative routes have not been designated by a State and State-designated routes. The practices and standards by which a State routing agency determines a preferred route, as stated in paragraph (b), is expanded from two to three subparagraphs to improve overall readability.

Section 177.825(b)(2) authorizes deviations from a preferred route for emergency conditions, necessary rest, fuel, vehicle repair stops, and "to the extent necessary to pick up, deliver or transfer a highway route controlled quantity package of radioactive materials." It also provides that the general requirements of paragraph (a) apply when any of these deviations from a preferred route is authorized.

The ALJ's opinion described above stated that the phrase "selected to reduce time in transit" in paragraph (b) is ambiguous. The opinion states that this phrase might be a requirement imposed by a government agency upon a carrier or person operating an HRCQ-carrying vehicle, might be a direction to State authorities concerning how to select alternative routes, or might be merely an introduction to the bypass or beltway language immediately following that phrase. To eliminate any ambiguity, additional language is added to indicate specifically that it is the carrier's responsibility to select those preferred routes that reduce time in transit.

The previous text in § 177.825(b) was not clear as to whether a State routing agency may designate a preferred route "in addition to," as well as "as an alternative to," one or more Interstate System highways. To eliminate any ambiguity, paragraph (b)(1)(ii) is amended to provide that a State routing agency may designate a route as an alternative to, or in addition to, one or more Interstate System highways. In addition, the first sentence in paragraph (b) as proposed in the NPRM under Docket HM-164C (54 FR 40272 at 40274) is broken into two sentences to improve overall readability.

Paragraph (b) is amended by removing the phrase "a package of" preceding the phrase "a highway route controlled quantity of radioactive materials" because it is redundant since the definition in § 173.403(1) incorporates the term "package." Paragraph (b) is also amended to clarify that State-designated routes are effective when those State-designated routes are acknowledged in writing by the Director, OHMT. Also, a statement is included to indicate that the list of State-designated preferred routes and the "Guidelines for Selecting Preferred Highway Routes for Highway Route Controlled Quantity Shipments of Radioactive Materials" are available from the RSPA Dockets Unit upon request.

Consistent with changes to paragraph (a), the phrase "a carrier or any person operating a motor vehicle" is used in paragraph (b). RSPA also is adding the words "Interstate System" prior to "beltway" in the introductory text of paragraph (b) to make it clear that only Interstate System beltways, as well as Interstate System bypasses, around cities are required (and authorized) for use. The phrase "shall be used in place of a preferred route through a city, unless a State routing agency has designated an alternative route" is added to the introductory text of paragraph (b) to acknowledge State routing agency selections of preferred routes which are not Interstate System beltways or Interstate System bypasses.

Editorial changes are included in the first sentence in paragraph (b) to identify the specific exceptions to the general requirement for using preferred routes. Also, editorial changes are included in the first and sixth sentences in paragraph (b) to enhance clarity and reduce usage of the passive voice.

Paragraphs (b)(2)(i) and (b)(2)(ii) are revised to clarify the authorized deviations from a preferred route and for pickup and delivery not over preferred routes. Paragraph (b)(2)(iii) characterizes the provisions of paragraph (a) as "radiological risk minimization criteria." Paragraph (b)(1)(i) states specifically that the "State routing agency shall select routes to minimize radiological risk." This addition reemphasizes that the underlying principle of paragraph (a) applies to state designations under paragraph (b); this concept already exists in the current requirement that designating states use DOT "Guidelines" or an equivalent routing analysis considering overall risk to the public.

Administrative Notices

This final rule affects carriers that transport highway route controlled quantities of radioactive materials. This provisions of this final rule will have minimal impact on these entities. Over the two (2) year period from January 1987 through December 1989, a total of 301 HRCQ radioactive materials shipments were reported by 14 carriers. Based on available information concerning the size and nature of entities likely to be affected, I certify that this final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. Also, in view of the type of changes, RSPA has further determined that this final rule: (1) Is not "major" under Executive Order 12291; (2) is not "significant" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); (3) will not affect not-for-profit enterprises or small governmental jurisdictions; and (4) does not require an environmental impact statement under the National Environmental Policy Act (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.). A regulatory evaluation is available for review in the Docket.

I have reviewed this regulation in accordance with Executive Order 12612 ("Federalism"). It has no substantial direct effects on the States, on the current Federal-State relationship, or the current distribution of power and responsibilities among levels of government. Thus, this final rule contains no policies that have Federalism implications, as defined in Executive Order 12612, and no Federalism Assessment is required.

List of Subjects in 49 CFR Part 177

PART 177—CARRIAGE BY PUBLIC HIGHWAY

1. The authority citation for part 177 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 App. U.S.C. 1803, 1804, 1805, 49 CFR part 1, unless otherwise noted.

§ 177.825 Routing and training requirements for radioactive materials.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, a carrier or any person operating a motor vehicle that contains a radioactive material for which placarding is required under part 172 of this subchapter shall—

(1) Ensure that the motor vehicle is operated on routes that minimize radiological risk;

(2) In determining the level of radiological risk, consider available information on accident rates, transit time, population density and activities, and the time of day and the day of week during which transportation will occur; and

(3) Tell the driver which route to take and that the motor vehicle contains radioactive materials.

The requirements of this paragraph do not apply when there is only one practicable highway route available, considering operating necessity and safety, or when the routing of the motor vehicle is subject to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Except as otherwise permitted in this paragraph and in paragraph (e) of this section, a carrier or any person operating a motor vehicle containing a highway route controlled quantity of radioactive materials, as defined in § 173.403(l) of this subchapter, shall operate the motor vehicle only over preferred routes. Those routes must be selected by the carrier or that person operating a motor vehicle containing a highway route controlled quantity of radioactive materials to reduce time in transit over the preferred route segment of the trip. An Interstate System bypass or Interstate System beltway around a city, when available, shall be used in place of a preferred route through a city, unless a State routing agency has designated an alternative route.

(1) A preferred route is either or both an Interstate System highway for which an alternative route is not designated by a State routing agency as provided in this section, or a State-designated route selected by a State routing agency (see § 171.8 of this subchapter) in accordance with the following conditions:

(i) The State routing agency shall select routes to minimize radiological risk using "Guidelines for Selecting Preferred Highway Routes for Highway Route Controlled Quantity Shipments of Radioactive Materials", or an equivalent routing analysis which adequately considers overall risk to the public. Designations must be preceded by substantive consultation with affected local jurisdictions and with any other affected States to ensure consideration of all impacts and continuity of designated routes.

(ii) State routing agencies may designate preferred routes as an alternative to, or in addition to, one or more Interstate System highways, including an Interstate System bypass or an Interstate System beltway.

(iii) A State-designated route is effective when—

(A) The State gives written notice by certified mail, return receipt requested to the Director, OHMT, Research and Special Programs Administration, U.S. Department of Transportation, Washington, DC 20590 (Attention: Registry of State-designated Routes, Docket HM-164A); and

(B) Receipt thereof is acknowledged in writing by the Director, OHMT.

(iv) Upon request, the Dockets Unit will provide a list of State-designated preferred routes and a copy of the "Guidelines for Selecting Preferred Highway Routes for Highway Route Controlled Quantity Shipments of Radioactive Materials."

(2) A motor vehicle may be operated over a route, other than a preferred route, only under the following conditions:

(i) The deviation from the preferred route is necessary to pick up or deliver a highway route controlled quantity of radioactive materials, to make necessary rest, fuel or motor vehicle repair stops, or because emergency conditions make continued use of the preferred route unsafe or impossible;

(ii) For pickup and delivery not over preferred routes, the route selected must be the shortest-distance route from the pickup location to the nearest preferred route entry location, and the shortest-distance route to the delivery location from the nearest preferred route exit location. Deviation from the shortest-distance pickup or delivery route is authorized if such deviation:

(A) Is based upon the radiological risk minimization criteria of paragraph (a) of this section; and

(B) Does not exceed the shortest-distance pickup or delivery route by more than 25 miles and does not exceed 5 times the length of the shortest-distance pickup or delivery route.

(iii) Deviations from preferred routes, or pickup or delivery routes other than preferred routes, which are necessary for rest, fuel, or motor vehicle repair stops or because of emergency conditions, shall be made in accordance with the radiological risk minimization criteria of paragraph (a) of this section unless, due to emergency conditions, time does not permit use of those criteria.

Issued in Washington, DC, on May 2, 1990, under authority delegated in 49 CFR part 1.

Travis P. Dungan,
Administrator, Research and Special Programs Administration.

Electronic Records Management

AGENCY: National Archives and Records Administration.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This final rule revises NARA regulations concerning Federal agencies' electronic records. This revision mandates procedures to manage electronic records, to provide for the selection and maintenance of electronic storage media, and to follow the legal requirements for the disposition of such records. As a result, regulations will more effectively deal with the issues associated with data base management systems and office automation technologies. Identical regulations will be issued simultaneously by the General Services Administration and published at FIRM 201-45.2.

EFFECTIVE DATES: This rule is effective June 7, 1990, but may be observed earlier.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: John Constance or Nancy Allard at 202-501-5110 (FTS 241-5110).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On December 5, 1988, NARA published a notice of proposed rulemaking in the Federal Register (53 FR 48936). On December 27, 1988 (53 FR 52202), NARA formally extended the comment period to February 3, 1989, in order to allow Federal agencies and the public more time to comment. By March 20, 1989, NARA had received comments from 18 Federal agencies, two private organizations, and one Member of Congress. NARA believes that the rule as now revised accommodates valid criticisms and suggestions.

General Comments

Most of the commenters expressed support for the regulation as they offered recommendations for clarification. These recommendations are addressed in the section-by-section analysis below. Several commenters expressed reservations about what they considered excessive detail in portions of the regulation. NARA has revised the rule in several places to eliminate unnecessary detail and redundancy. NARA believes that the detail remaining, primarily in § 1234.28, is essential to ensure the proper maintenance of records that must be preserved indefinitely.

The remaining detailed maintenance requirements apply only to permanent or unscheduled records. The potential burden on agencies can be reduced significantly by promptly scheduling all electronic records, thus limiting the application of these requirements to the very small percentage of records that are scheduled as permanent. Furthermore, NARA urges agencies to transfer permanent electronic records to NARA as soon as possible after their creation, thus providing another means of reducing the management burden for agencies.

One commenter suggested adding a section outlining NARA and GSA responsibilities for electronic records management. NARA believes this is unnecessary since these responsibilities are already enumerated in records management laws.

A concern of some agencies was the repetition of existing standards or requirements (FIPS and FIRM) in the NARA regulation. To the extent that these requirements are repetitive, they should not be burdensome, but they are necessary to make this rule comprehensive and coherent.

One commenter suggested several additions to the regulations in regard to the Freedom of Information Act. These recommendations have not been adopted because they are outside the scope of this rule.

One commenter suggested a phase-in of the requirements, beginning with the most important new records systems. NARA believes this is inappropriate and impractical since the requirements are so interrelated. NARA recognizes, however, that it will take time to apply some of the maintenance requirements to existing records systems and endorses the concept of proceeding in priority order.

Section-by-Section Analysis

Section 1234.1 Scope of Part

In response to several comments, NARA has added a section of definitions, which should make clear what documentary materials are covered by the rule. Other records management terms are defined in 36 CFR 1220.14. Section 1234.1 was also revised to clarify the application of the regulation, particularly to optical disks. NARA does not agree with one recommendation to provide separate regulations for systems created on mainframe computers in agency computer centers and for documents created on personal computers in an office. NARA believes the more meaningful distinction is between "data files" and "text documents" as explained in §§ 1234.20 and 1234.22.

Section 1234.10 Agency Responsibilities

NARA adopted a suggested change in the introductory sentence of this section to recognize that agencies are already required to have a program for managing electronic records.

Section 1234.10 (a) and (b) (Assigning Responsibility for Program)

Five comments were made on these paragraphs. There was no consensus among the commenters. Two recommended that the responsibility for electronic records management should be assigned directly to the agency's existing records management office, while another observed that such a decision should be the agency's prerogative. NARA has revised these two sections to emphasize the importance of assigning overall responsibility and integrating the management of electronic records with related management programs.

Section 1234.10(c) (Program Directive)

NARA has revised this section as suggested by one commenter in order to emphasize incorporation of electronic records management into existing directives to keep from divorcing electronic records management from other records management. NARA has rejected a recommendation to add more detailed guidance about defining electronic records. NARA has added such a definition to this rule, and further guidance about applying that definition more properly belongs in a supplemental handbook, which NARA is now preparing.

Section 1234.10(d) (Records Management Participation in Approval of ADP Systems)

This section has been reworded to reflect the recommendations of several commenters to emphasize the importance of considering records management issues when designing new or enhanced electronic information systems. NARA has not added a suggested requirement for a Standard Form checklist to use when reviewing new systems. NARA believes that such a requirement would be too detailed and prescriptive.

Section 1234.10(e) (Training)

As recommended by one commenter, the word "appropriate" has been substituted for "all."

Section 1234.10(f) (Inventory of Systems)

Five commenters raised concerns about the excessive detail of this provision. NARA has substituted more general requirements for system-level documentation and added a general requirement to maintain inventories in § 1234.10(g). NARA has used the word "maintaining" to indicate that agency compliance with other inventorying requirements, such as those imposed by GSA and OMB, will satisfy this requirement. More detailed advice about inventorying electronic records systems will be provided in a forthcoming NARA handbook.

Section 1234.10(g) (Specify Location, Manner, and Media in Which Records Are To Be Maintained)

One commenter questioned the need for references to both operational and archival requirements. NARA has specified both because operational requirements and archival requirements may differ as, for example, in the case of storage media. Agencies must specify procedures for satisfying archival requirements, pursuant to the guidance in this rule, in order to fulfill their statutory responsibility to preserve adequate and proper documentation (44 USC 3101).

Section 1234.10(h) (Secure NARA Approval of Schedules)

NARA rejected a recommendation to add specific time limits for NARA review of records schedules because it does not believe that such procedural details are appropriate for a rule. Also, because of the enormous variety of schedules submitted to NARA, arbitrary time limits for review are not realistic.

Section 1234.10(i) (Issue Internal Procedures for System Documentation)

One commenter found this paragraph confusing when taken in conjunction with §§ 1234.20 and 1234.22, and another found it too detailed. NARA has rewritten this section to emphasize the distinction between these general, system-level documentation requirements and the more specific documentation requirements in § 1234.20 and § 1234.22. As rewritten, this section has been redesignated as § 1234.10(f).

Section 1234.10(j) (Contractor Records)

This section has been rewritten to clarify the primary emphasis that agencies should maintain control over electronic records created or maintained by contractors. One commenter's questions about the use of data deliverable and rights-in-data clauses are addressed in NARA Bulletin 88-8, Data Created or Maintained for the Government by Contractors, and will be addressed in a forthcoming NARA handbook. The question of another commenter is answered by § 1234.30, which specifically requires the scheduling of information in electronic records systems operated for the Government by a contractor.

Section 1234.10(k) (Compliance with Governmentwide Policies)

NARA adopted a suggestion to add GAO to the list of agencies issuing Governmentwide directives in the records management area.

Section 1234.20 Creation and Use of Data Files

NARA has retitled this section and § 1234.22, and defined the terms used, in order to clarify the intended distinction between data files created as part of an electronic information system and word processing documents. NARA believes that the minimal requirements for technical documentation in § 1234.20(b) are not too detailed and are essential for all electronic records systems, regardless of their disposition. NARA believes that these requirements apply to information such as recorded voice messages, if they are part of an electronic records system.

Section 1234.22 Creation and Use of Text Documents

The new definitions in § 1234.2 should clarify any questions about the applicability of this section. Two commenters questioned the meaning of paragraph (a)(3) requiring a standard interchange format. This requirement is meant to apply only to records systems that maintain the official file copy of documents on electronic media and only when the agency determines that it needs to exchange documents between different systems within the agency. NARA is not prescribing the use of any specific standard interchange format. NARA does not agree with the single commenter who felt that the procedures in paragraphs (a)(3) and (b) are too detailed.

Section 1234.24 Judicial Use of Electronic Records

Two commenters questioned the relevance of paragraph (c) concerning vital records. NARA agrees that it is not necessary to include vital records procedures in this rule since they are already summarized in 36 CFR part 1236.

Section 1234.26 Security of Electronic Records

One commenter recommended adding a new paragraph related to electronic signatures. NARA believes it is premature to issue regulatory guidance on this subject at the present time. NARA has revised paragraph (d) as recommended by one commentator to substitute the phrase "Minimizes the risk of" for "Prevents".

Section 1234.28 General

Several commenters questioned whether the maintenance requirements of paragraphs (f), (g), and (h) should apply to unscheduled records as well as permanent ones. NARA believes this is necessary because all unscheduled records are potentially permanent. While these requirements do not apply to temporary records, NARA agrees with one commenter that it would be advisable to apply these standards to temporary records with longer retention periods as well as permanent or unscheduled records.

Section 1234.28(a) (Selection of Media)

NARA has added a new subparagraph (3) as a reminder to agencies that they should exercise care to keep electronic records separate from nonrecord material.

Section 1234.28(b) (Factors in Selecting Storage Medium)

One commenter asked why the requirements should be imposed if the records have been scheduled as disposable. NARA believes that consideration of these factors will improve the effectiveness of all information systems. Also, paragraph (b)(1) states specifically that the authorized disposition is one factor to consider. NARA has incorporated modified language suggested by one commenter for paragraph (b)(6).

Section 1234.28(c) (Ban on Floppy Disks for Long-term Storage of Permanent Records)

Four commenters objected to the ban on floppy disks. NARA continues to believe that this is a prudent and flexible precaution but has modified the language to give agencies more discretion. While there are disagreements about the longevity of floppy disks, experience shows that careless handling is more likely with this medium than with magnetic tapes. If agencies schedule their electronic records promptly, this warning will apply to only a small percentage of electronic records. This paragraph also does not prohibit the temporary storage of permanent records on floppy disks. Finally, it permits the use of floppy disks for reference purposes if one copy is stored on magnetic tape, which is the recommended storage medium for permanent records.

Section 1234.28(f) (Back Up Records Maintained at a Separate Location)

NARA has revised this paragraph to clarify that it requires storage of backup copies of permanent and unscheduled records in a storage area separate from the working copies, but not necessarily off-site storage. NARA provides off-site storage, at its Federal records centers, for agencies that prefer off-site storage.

Section 1234.28(g) (Maintenance of Magnetic Computer Tape)

NARA has indicated clearly in every paragraph of this section that these requirements do not apply to records systems that have been approved by NARA as disposable. Nor do they apply to tapes retained by agencies after copies have been accessioned into the National Archives.

Section 1234.28(g)(1) (Testing Tapes)

One commenter disagreed with this requirement because most equipment automatically tests tape at the time of use. NARA does not believe that this paragraph would prevent agencies from testing tapes at the time of use. The comment that NIST does not have standards for error-free tape was based on a misreading of the paragraph.

Section 1234.28(g)(2) (Temperature/Humidity Standards)

NARA does not agree with the comment that upper levels of temperature and humidity should be raised slightly. They are based on standards established by NIST and they apply to NARA's Federal records centers.

Section 1234.28(g)(4) (Read 3% Sample of Tapes)

NARA revised this paragraph as suggested by one commenter to ensure a statistically valid sample.

Section 1234.28(g)(5) (Recopy Records Onto New Tapes Before Present Tapes Are 10 Years Old)

One commenter noted that this requirement could be expensive for an agency. NARA agrees and, for that reason, encourages agencies to transfer permanent tapes to the National Archives before they are ten years old.

Section 1234.28(g)(6) (External Labels)

Several commenters noted the difficulty, if not impossibility, of including all the required information on external labels. NARA has revised this paragraph to limit the information on the label to that required for unique identification of the reel. The additional information needed for permanent and unscheduled tapes, which may be included in the system's technical documentation, may be maintained separately by the agency. NARA agreed with the recommendation of one commenter to add the element of security classification to this paragraph and to § 1234.28(h)(2).

Section 1234.30 (Retention of Electronic Records)

One commenter suggested that paragraph (b) might also need to contain a requirement to transfer a copy of the software and operating system in order for the records to be read at the Archives. NARA believes it is unnecessary to add such language to this rule because the transfer of the software and operating system, whenever necessary, will be specified by NARA when approving a records schedule.

Section 1234.32 (Destruction of Electronic Records)

NARA adopted the suggestion of one commenter to include a reference to the General Records Schedules in the introductory paragraph.

This rule is not a major rule for the purposes of Executive Order 12291 of February 17, 1981. As required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act, it is hereby certified that this rule will not have a significant impact on small business entities.

Electronic records system means any information system that produces, manipulates, or stores Federal records by using a computer.

Information system has the meaning given to it by the Office of Management and Budget in Circular No. A-130: "the organized collection, processing, transmission, and dissemination of information in accordance with defined procedures, whether automated or manual."

Text documents means narrative or tabular documents, such as letters, memorandums, and reports, in loosely prescribed form and format.

Subpart B—Program Requirements

§ 1234.10 Agency responsibilities.

The head of each Federal agency shall ensure that the management of electronic records incorporates the following elements:

(a) Assigning responsibility to develop and implement an agencywide program for the management of all records created, received, maintained, used, or stored on electronic media; and notifying the National Archives and Records Administration, Office of Records Administration (NI), Washington, DC 20408 and the General Services Administration, Regulations Branch (KMPR), Washington, DC 20405, of the name and title of the person assigned the responsibility.

(b) Integrating the management of electronic records with other records and information resources management programs of the agency.

(c) Incorporating electronic records management objectives, responsibilities, and authorities in pertinent agency directives and disseminating them throughout the agency as appropriate.

(d) Establishing procedures for addressing records management requirements, including recordkeeping requirements and disposition, before approving new electronic records systems or enhancements to existing systems.

(e) Ensuring that adequate training is provided for users of electronic records systems in the operation, care, and handling of the equipment, software, and media used in the system.

(f) Developing and maintaining up-to-date documentation about all electronic records systems that is adequate to: Specify all technical characteristics necessary for reading or processing the records; identify all defined inputs and outputs of the system; define the contents of the files and records; determine restrictions on access and use; understand the purpose(s) and function(s) of the system; describe update cycles or conditions and rules for adding information to the system, changing information in it, or deleting information; and ensure the timely, authorized disposition of the records.

(g) Specifying the location, manner, and media in which electronic records will be maintained to meet operational and archival requirements, and maintaining inventories of electronic records systems to facilitate disposition.

(h) Developing and securing NARA approval of records disposition schedules, and ensuring implementation of their provisions.

(i) Specifying the methods of implementing controls over national security-classified sensitive proprietary, and Privacy Act records stored and used electronically.

(j) Establishing procedures to ensure that the requirements of this part are applied to those electronic records that are created or maintained by contractors.

(k) Ensuring compliance with applicable Governmentwide policies, procedures, and standards such as those issued by the Office of Management and Budget, the General Accounting Office, the General Services Administration, the National Archives and Records Administration, and the National Institute of Standards and Technology.

(l) Reviewing electronic records systems periodically for conformance to established agency procedures, standards, and policies as part of the periodic reviews required by 44 U.S.C. 3506. The review should determine if the records have been properly identified and described, and whether the schedule descriptions and retention periods reflect the current informational content and use. If not, or if substantive changes have been made in the structure, design, codes, purposes, or uses of the system, submit an SF 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, to NARA.

Subpart C—Standards for the Creation, Preservation, and Disposition of Electronic Records

§ 1234.20 Creation and use of data files.

(a) For electronic records systems that produce, use, or store data files, disposition instructions for the data shall be incorporated into the system's design.

(b) Agencies shall maintain adequate and up-to-date technical documentation for each electronic records system that produces, uses, or stores data files. Minimum documentation required is a narrative description of the system; physical and technical characteristics of the records, including a record layout that describes each field including its name, size, starting or relative position, and a description of the form of the data (such as alphabetic, zoned decimal, packed decimal, or numeric), or a data dictionary or the equivalent information associated with a data base management system including a description of the relationship between data elements in data bases; and any other technical information needed to read or process the records.

§ 1234.22 Creation and use of text documents.

(a) Electronic records systems that maintain the official file copy of text documents on electronic media shall meet the following minimum requirements:

(1) Provide a method for all authorized users of the system to retrieve desired documents, such as an indexing or text search system;

(2) Provide an appropriate level of security to ensure integrity of the documents;

(3) Provide a standard interchange format when necessary to permit the exchange of documents on electronic media between agency computers using different software/operating systems and the conversion or migration of documents on electronic media from one system to another; and

(4) Provide for the disposition of the documents including, when necessary, the requirements for transferring permanent records to NARA (see § 1228.188 of this chapter).

(b) Before a document is created electronically on electronic records systems that will maintain the official file copy on electronic media, each document shall be identified sufficiently to enable authorized personnel to retrieve, protect, and carry out the disposition of documents in the system. Appropriate identifying information for each document maintained on the electronic media may include: office of origin, file code, key words for retrieval, addressee (if any), signator, author, date, authorized disposition (coded or otherwise), and security classification (if applicable). Agencies shall ensure that records maintained in such systems can be correlated with related records on paper, microform, or other media.

§ 1234.24 Judicial use of electronic records.

Electronic records may be admitted in evidence to Federal courts for use in court proceedings (Federal Rules of Evidence 803(8)) if trustworthiness is established by thoroughly documenting the recordkeeping system's operation and the controls imposed upon it. Agencies should implement the following procedures to enhance the legal admissibility of electronic records.

(a) Document that similar kinds of records generated and stored electronically are created by the same processes each time and have a standardized retrieval approach.

(b) Substantiate that security procedures prevent unauthorized addition, modification or deletion of a record and ensure system protection against such problems as power interruptions.

(c) Identify the electronic media on which records are stored throughout their life cycle, the maximum time span that records remain on each storage medium, and the NARA-approved disposition of all records.

(d) Coordinate all of the above with legal counsel and senior IRM and records management staff.

§ 1234.26 Security of electronic records.

Agencies shall implement and maintain an effective records security program that incorporates the following:

(a) Ensures that only authorized personnel have access to electronic records.

(b) Provides for backup and recovery of records to protect against information loss.

(c) Ensures that appropriate agency personnel are trained to safeguard sensitive or classified electronic records.

(d) Minimizes the risk of unauthorized alteration or erasure of electronic records.

(e) Ensures that electronic records security is included in computer systems security plans prepared pursuant to the Computer Security Act of 1987 (40 USC 759 note).

§ 1234.28 Selection and maintenance of electronic records storage media.

(a) Agencies shall select appropriate media and systems for storing agency records throughout their life, which meet the following requirements:

(1) Permit easy retrieval in a timely fashion;

(2) Facilitate distinction between record and nonrecord material;

(3) Retain the records in a usable format until their authorized disposition date; and

(4) When appropriate, meet requirements for transferring permanent records to NARA (see § 1228.188 of this chapter).

(b) The following factors shall be considered before selecting a storage medium or converting from one medium to another:

(1) The authorized life of the records, as determined during the scheduling process;

(2) The maintenance necessary to retain the records;

(3) The cost of storing and retrieving the records;

(4) The records density;

(5) The access time to retrieve stored records;

(6) The portability of the medium (that is, selecting a medium that will run on equipment offered by multiple manufacturers) and the ability to transfer the information from one medium to another (such as from optical disk to magnetic tape); and

(7) Whether the medium meets current applicable Federal Information Processing Standards.

(c) Agencies should avoid the use of floppy disks for the exclusive long-term storage of permanent or unscheduled electronic records.

(d) Agencies shall ensure that all authorized users can identify and retrieve information stored on diskettes, removable disks, or tapes by establishing or adopting procedures for external labeling.

(e) Agencies shall ensure that information is not lost because of changing technology or deterioration by converting storage media to provide compatibility with the agency's current hardware and software. Before conversion to a different medium, agencies must determine that the authorized disposition of the electronic records can be implemented after conversion.

(f) Agencies shall back up electronic records on a regular basis to safeguard against the loss of information due to equipment malfunctions or human error. Duplicate copies of permanent or unscheduled records shall be maintained in storage areas separate from the location of the records that have been copied.

(g) Maintenance of magnetic computer tape.—(1) Agencies shall test magnetic computer tapes no more than 6 months prior to using them to store electronic records that are unscheduled or scheduled for permanent retention. This test should verify that the tape is free of permanent errors and in compliance with National Institute of Standards and Technology or industry standards.

(2) Agencies shall maintain the storage and test areas for computer magnetic tapes containing permanent and unscheduled records at the following temperatures and relative humidities:

Constant temperature—62 to 68 °F.
Constant relative humidity—35% to 45%

(3) Agencies shall rewind under controlled tension all tapes containing unscheduled and permanent records every 3½ years.

(4) Agencies shall annually read a statistical sample of all reels of magnetic computer tape containing permanent and unscheduled records to identify any loss of data and to discover and correct the causes of data loss. In tape libraries with 1800 or fewer reels, a 20% sample or a sample size of 50 reels, whichever is larger, should be read. In tape libraries with more than 1800 reels, a sample of 384 reels should be read. Tapes with 10 or more errors should be replaced and, when possible, lost data shall be restored. All other tapes which might have been affected by the same cause (i.e., poor quality tape, high usage, poor environment, improper handling) shall be read and corrected as appropriate.

(5) Agencies shall copy permanent or unscheduled data on magnetic tapes before the tapes are 10 years old onto tested and verified new tapes.

(6) External labels (or the equivalent automated tape management system) for magnetic tapes used to store permanent or unscheduled electronic records shall provide unique identification for each reel, including the name of the organizational unit responsible for the data, system title, and security classification, if applicable.

Additionally, the following information shall be maintained for (but not necessarily attached to) each reel used to store permanent or unscheduled electronic records: file title(s); dates of creation; dates of coverage; the recording density; type of internal labels; volume serial number, if applicable; number of tracks; character code/software dependency; information about block size; and reel sequence number, if the file is part of a multi-reel set. For numeric data files, include record format and logical record length, if applicable; data set name(s) and sequence, if applicable; and number of records for each data set.

(7) Agencies shall prohibit smoking and eating in magnetic computer tape storage libraries and test or evaluation areas that contain permanent or unscheduled records.

(h) Maintenance of direct access storage media.

(1) Agencies shall issue written procedures for the care and handling of direct access storage media which draw upon the recommendations of the manufacturers.

(2) External labels for diskettes or removable disks used when processing or temporarily storing permanent or unscheduled records shall include the following information: name of the organizational unit responsible for the records, descriptive title of the contents, dates of creation, security classification, if applicable, and identification of the software and hardware used.

Agencies shall establish policies and procedures to ensure that electronic records and their documentation are retained as long as needed by the Government. These retention procedures shall include provisions for:

(a) Scheduling the disposition of all electronic records, as well as related documentation and indexes, by applying General Records Schedules (particularly GRS 20 or GRS 23) as appropriate or submitting an SF 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, to NARA (see part 1228 of this chapter). The information in electronic records systems, including those operated for the Government by a contractor, shall be scheduled as soon as possible but no later than one year after implementation of the system.

(b) Transferring a copy of the electronic records and any related documentation and indexes to the National Archives at the time specified in the records disposition schedule in accordance with instructions found in § 1228.188 of this chapter. Transfer may take place at an earlier date if convenient for both the agency and the National Archives and Records Administration.

(c) Establishing procedures for regular recopying, reformatting, and other necessary maintenance to ensure the retention and usability of electronic records throughout their authorized life cycle (see § 1234.28).

Electronic records may be destroyed only in accordance with a records disposition schedule approved by the Archivist of the United States, including General Records Schedules. At a minimum each agency shall ensure that:

(a) Electronic records scheduled for destruction are disposed of in a manner that ensures protection of any sensitive, proprietary, or national security information.

(b) Magnetic recording media previously used for electronic records containing sensitive, proprietary, or national security information are not reused if the previously recorded information can be compromised by reuse in any way.

Electronic Records Management

AGENCY: Information Resources Management Service, GSA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This regulation establishes Governmentwide policies and procedures for the management of electronic records. Specifically, agency responsibilities for the creation, maintenance, use and disposition of electronic records are prescribed. The intent is to increase economy and efficiency in the management of electronic records. Identical regulations will be issued simultaneously by the National Archives and Records Administration and published in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) at 36 CFR chapter XII, part 1234.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This rule is effective June 7, 1990, but may be observed earlier.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: R. Stewart Randall, Jr., Regulations Branch, Office of Information Resources Management, telephone (202) 501-3194 or FTS, 241-3194.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A notice of proposed rulemaking regarding this section was published in the Federal Register on December 5, 1988 (53 FR 48947). All comments have been considered. The General Services Administration has determined that this is not a major rule for purposes of Executive Order 12291 of February 17, 1981. GSA decisions are based on adequate information concerning the need for, and the consequences of the rule. The rule is written to ensure maximum benefits to Federal agencies. This is an Governmentwide management regulation that will have little or no net cost effect on society. It is therefore certified that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.).

Guidance on electronic records management and related issues may be obtained from the General Services Administration, Office of Innovative Office Systems (KO), Washington, DC 20405 and the National Archives and Records Administration, Agency Services Division (NIA), Washington, DC 20408.

§ 201-45.201 Definitions.

Basic records management terms are defined in 41 CFR 201-2.001. As used in part 201-45.2—"Data base" means a set of data, consisting of at least one data file, that is sufficient for a given purpose.

Data base management system means a software system used to access and retrieve data stored in a data base.

Data file means related numeric, textual, or graphic information that is organized in a strictly form and format.

Electronic record means any information that is recorded in a form that only a computer can process and that satisfies the definition of a Federal record in 44 U.S.C. 3301.

(j) Establishing procedures to ensure that the requirements of this part are applied to those electronic records that are created or maintained by contractors.

(k) Ensuring compliance with applicable Government-wide policies, procedures, and standards such as those issued by the Office of Management and Budget, the General Accounting Office, the General Services Administration, the National Archives and Records Administration, and the National Institute of Standards and Technology.

(l) Reviewing electronic records systems periodically for conformance to established agency procedures, standards, and policies as part of the periodic reviews required by 44 U.S.C. 3506. The review should determine if the records have been properly identified and described, and whether the schedule descriptions and retention periods reflect the current informational content and use. If not, or if substantive changes have been made in the structure, design, codes, purposes, or uses of the system, submit an SF 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, to NARA.

201-45.203 Creation and use of data files.

(a) For electronic records systems that produce, use, or store data files, disposition instructions for the data shall be incorporated into the system's design.

(b) Agencies shall maintain adequate and up-to-date technical documentation for each electronic records system that produces, uses, or stores data files. Minimum documentation required is a narrative description of the system; physical and technical characteristics of the records, including a record layout that describes each field including its name, size, starting or relative position, and a description of the form of the data (such as alphabetic, zoned decimal, packed decimal, or numeric), or a data dictionary or the equivalent information associated with a data base management system including a description of the relationship between data elements in data bases; and any other technical information needed to read or process the records.

201-45.204 Creation and use of text documents.

(a) Electronic records systems that maintain the official file copy of text documents on electronic media shall meet the following minimum requirements:

(1) Provide a method for all authorized users of the system to retrieve desired documents, such as an indexing or text search system;

(2) Provide an appropriate level of security to ensure integrity of the documents;

(3) Provide a standard interchange format when necessary to permit the exchange of documents on electronic media between agency computers using different software/operating systems and the conversion or migration of documents on electronic media from one system to another; and

(4) Provide for the disposition of the documents including when necessary, the requirements for transferring permanent records to NARA (see 36 CFR 1228.188).

(b) Before a document is created electronically on electronic records systems that will maintain the official file copy on electronic media, each document shall be identified sufficiently to enable authorized personnel to retrieve, protect, and carry out the disposition of documents in the system. Appropriate identifying information for each document maintained on the electronic media may include: office of origin, file code, key words for retrieval, addressee (if any), signator, author, date, authorized disposition (coded or otherwise), and security classification (if applicable). Agencies shall ensure that records maintained on such systems can be correlated with related records on paper, microform, or other media.

201-45.205 Judicial use of electronic records.

Electronic records may be admitted in evidence to Federal courts for use in court proceedings (Federal Rules of Evidence 803(8)) if trustworthiness is established by thoroughly documenting the recordkeeping system's operation and the controls imposed upon it. Agencies should implement the following procedures to enhance the legal admissibility of electronic records.

(a) Document that similar kinds of records generated and stored electronically are created by the same processes each time and have a standardized retrieval approach.

(b) Substantiate that security procedures prevent unauthorized addition, modification, or deletion of a record and ensure system protection against such problems as power interruptions.

(c) Identify the electronic media on which records are stored throughout their life cycle, the maximum time span that records remain on each storage media, and the NARA-approved disposition of all records.

(d) Coordinate all of the above with legal counsel and senior IRM and records management staff.

201-45.206 Security of electronic records.

Agencies shall implement and maintain an effective records security program which incorporates the following:

(a) Ensures that only authorized personnel have access to electronic records.

(b) Provides for back up and recovery of records to protect against information loss.

(c) Ensures that appropriate agency personnel are trained to safeguard sensitive or classified electronic records.

(d) Minimizes the risk of unauthorized alteration or erasure of electronic records.

(e) Ensures that electronic records security is included in computer systems security plans prepared pursuant to the Computer Security Act of 1987 (40 U.S.C. 759).

§ 201-45.207 Selection and maintenance of electronic records storage media.

(a) Agencies shall select appropriate media and systems for storing agency records throughout their life cycle, which meet the following requirements:

(1) Permit easy retrieval in a timely fashion;

(2) Facilitate distinction between record and nonrecord material;

(3) Retain the records in a usable format until their authorized disposition date; and

(4) When appropriate, meet requirements for transferring permanent records to NARA (see 36 CFR 1228.188).

(b) The following factors shall be considered before selecting a storage medium or converting from one medium to another:

(1) The authorized life of the records, as determined during the scheduling process;

(2) The maintenance necessary to retain the records;

(3) The cost of storing and retrieving the records;

(4) The records density;

(5) The access time to retrieve stored records;

(6) The portability of the medium (that is, selecting a medium that will run on equipment offered by multiple manufacturers) and the ability to transfer the information from one medium to another (such as from optical disk to magnetic tape); and

(7) Whether the medium meets the current applicable Federal Information Processing Standards.

(c) Agencies should avoid the use of floppy disks for the exclusive long-term storage of permanent or unscheduled electronic records.

(d) Agencies shall ensure that all authorized users can identify and retrieve the information stored on diskettes, removable disks, or tapes by establishing or adopting procedures for external labeling.

(e) Agencies shall ensure that information is not lost because of changing technology or deterioration by converting storage media to provide compatibility with the agency's current hardware and software. Before conversion to a different medium, agencies must determine that the authorized disposition of the electronic records can be implemented after conversion.

(f) Agencies shall back up electronic records on a regular basis to safeguard against the loss of information due to equipment malfunctions or human error. Duplicate copies of permanent or unscheduled records shall be maintained in storage areas separate from the location of the records that have been copied.

(g) Maintenance of magnetic computer tape.

(1) Agencies shall test magnetic computer tapes no more than 6 months prior to using them to store electronic records that are unscheduled or scheduled for permanent retention. This test should verify that the tape is free of permanent errors and in compliance with National Institute of Standards and Technology or industry standards.

(2) Agencies shall maintain the storage and test areas for computer magnetic tapes containing permanent and unscheduled records at the following temperatures and relative humidities:

Constant temperature—62 to 68 degrees F.
Constant relative humidity—35% to 45%

(3) Agencies shall rewind under controlled tension all tapes containing unscheduled and permanent records every 3½ years.

(4) Agencies shall annually read a statistical sample of all reels of magnetic computer tape containing permanent and unscheduled records to identify any loss of data and to discover and correct the causes of data loss. In tape libraries with 1800 or fewer reels, a 20% sample or a sample size of 50 reels, whichever is larger, should be read. In tape libraries with more than 1800 reels, a sample of 384 reels should be read. Tapes with 10 or more errors shall be replaced and, when possible, lost data shall be restored. All other tapes which might have been affected by the same cause (i.e., poor quality tape, high usage, poor environment, improper handling) shall be read and corrected as appropriate.

(5) Agencies shall copy permanent or unscheduled data on magnetic tapes before the tapes are 10 years old onto tested and verified new tapes.

(6) External labels (or the equivalent automated tape management system) for magnetic tapes used to store permanent or unscheduled electronic records shall provide unique identification for each reel, including the name of the organizational unit responsible for the data, system title, and security classification, if applicable. Additionally, the following information shall be maintained for (but not necessarily attached to) each reel used to store permanent or unscheduled electronic records: file title(s); dates of creation; dates of coverage; the recording density; type of internal labels; volume serial number, if applicable; number of tracks; character code/software dependency; information about block size; and reel sequence number, if the file is part of a multi-reel set. For numeric data files, include record format and logical record length, if applicable; data set name(s) and sequence, if applicable; and number of records for each data set.

(7) Agencies shall prohibit smoking and eating in magnetic computer tape storage libraries and test or evaluation areas that contain permanent or unscheduled records.

(h) Maintenance of direct access storage devices. (1) Agencies shall issue written procedures for the care and handling of direct access storage devices which draw upon the recommendations of the manufacturers.

(2) External labels for diskettes or removable disks used when processing or temporarily storing permanent or unscheduled records shall include the following information: name of the organizational unit responsible for the records; descriptive title of the contents; dates of creation; security classification, if applicable; and identification of the software and hardware used.

§ 201-45.208 Retention of electronic records.

Agencies shall establish policies and procedures to ensure that electronic records and their documentation are retained as long as needed by the Government. These retention procedures shall include provisions for:

(a) Scheduling the disposition of all electronic records, as well as related documentation and indexes, by applying General Records Schedules (particularly GRS 20 or 23) as appropriate or submitting an SF 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, to NARA (see 36 CFR 1228). The information in electronic records systems, including those operated for the Government by a contractor, shall be scheduled as soon as possible but no later than one year after implementation of the system.

(b) Transferring a copy of the electronic records and any related documentation and indexes to the National Archives at the time specified in the records disposition schedule in accordance with instructions found in 36 CFR 1228.188. Transfer may take place at an earlier date if convenient for both the agency and the National Archives and Records Administration.

(c) Establishing procedures for regular recopying, reformatting, and other necessary maintenance to ensure the retention and usability of electronic records throughout their authorized life cycle (see 201-45.206).

§ 201-45.209 Destruction of electronic records.

Electronic records may be destroyed only in accordance with a records disposition schedule approved by the Archivist of the United States, including General Records Schedules. At a minimum each agency shall ensure that:

(a) Electronic records scheduled for destruction are disposed of in a manner that ensures protection of any sensitive, proprietary, or national security information.

(b) Magnetic recording media previously used for electronic records containing sensitive, proprietary, or national security information are not reused if the previously recorded information can be compromised by reuse in any way.

[Airspace Docket No. 89-AWA-12]

RIN 2120-AD07

Establishment of the Tampa Terminal Control Area and Revocation of the Tampa International Airport Radar Service Area; FL*AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment establishes a Terminal Control Area (TCA) at Tampa, FL. The TCA will consist of airspace from the surface or higher within a 25-nautical mile radius of the Tampa International Airport up to and including 10,000 feet above mean sea level (MSL). This action will increase the capability of the air traffic control (ATC) system to separate aircraft in the terminal airspace around the Tampa International Airport. Tampa International Airport is currently served by an Airport Radar Service Area (ARSA) which is rescinded concurrent with the establishment of this TCA.

EFFECTIVE DATE: 0901 utc, September 20, 1990.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Lewis W. Still, Airspace and Obstruction Evaluation Branch (ATP-240), Airspace-Rules and Aeronautical Information Division, Air Traffic Rules and Procedures Service, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20591; telephone: (202) 267-9250.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:*Background

The TCA program was developed to reduce the midair collision potential in the congested airspace surrounding airports with high density air traffic by providing an area in which all aircraft will be subject to certain operating rules and equipment requirements.

The density of traffic and the type of operations being conducted in the airspace surrounding major terminals increase the probability of midair collisions. In 1970, an extensive study found that the majority of midair collisions occurred between a general aviation (GA) aircraft and an air carrier, military or another GA aircraft. The basic causal factor common to these conflicts was the mix of uncontrolled aircraft operating under visual flight rules (VFR) and controlled aircraft operating under instrument flight rules (IFR). TCAs provide a method to accommodate the increasing number of IFR and VFR operations. The regulatory requirements of TCA airspace afford the greatest protection for the greatest number of people by providing ATC with an increased capability to provide aircraft separation service, thereby minimizing the mix of controlled and uncontrolled aircraft.

Tampa International Airport qualifies for TCA status by meeting the criteria published in FAA Handbook 7400.2C, "Procedures for Handling Airspace Matters." The criteria for establishing a TCA are based on factors which include the number of aircraft and people using that airspace, the traffic density, and the type or nature of operations being conducted. Accordingly, guidelines have been established to identify TCA locations based on two elements—the number of enplaned passengers and the number of aircraft operations.

To date, the FAA has established a total of 27 TCAs. The FAA is proposing to take action to modify or implement the application of these proven safety techniques on more airports so as to provide greater protection of air traffic in the airspace regions most commonly used by passenger-carrying aircraft.

User Group Participation

The TCA established by this amendment is being adopted after discussions with a broad representation of the aviation community. In conjunction with this action, the FAA will continue to work cooperatively with local user groups to ensure that the TCA is effective for all users by identifying any adjustments or modifications that appear necessary. Through joint FAA and user cooperation, any problems that arise can then be identified and corrective action taken when necessary.

The TCA configuration established in this final rule has been developed through substantial public participation. Initially, informal airspace meetings were held in St. Petersburg, on August 24, and in Sarasota, on August 25, 1988, to allow local aviation interests and airspace users an opportunity to provide input for the design of the proposed TCA. In addition, the Florida Airspace Planning Utilization Committee (FAPUC) appointed a special task group to make recommendations on designing a TCA to meet the needs of the flying community while providing the greatest safety. Technical assistance and support were provided by Tampa ATC personnel.

After those initial meetings and further coordination with FAPUC representatives, a tentative TCA configuration was prepared for public discussion. As a result of those efforts, further adjustments to the TCA configuration were made and were reflected in the FAA's modified configuration proposed formally for adoption. An additional opportunity for public participation was provided by a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) published in the Federal Register on October 17, 1989 (54 FR 42694). Fourteen comments were received in response to the Notice. Due consideration has been given to these comments as well as the comments received at the various meetings.

Discussion of Comments

The FAA received fourteen comments pertaining to the TCA proposal. All comments were considered fully before developing the final design contained in this rule. The FAA believes that the final TCA design best meets ATC and user requirements and promotes the safe and efficient use of airspace.

A Sunshine Flying Club member suggested that a special type of chart should be developed for the TCA's in the Central Florida area.

The FAA has developed a single chart that depicts both the Orlando and Tampa TCA's because of their proximity to each other. The first chart will show Tampa on one side and Orlando on the other side. The later chart will depict both TCA's on one side of the chart.

The Board of County Commissioners of Pinellas County, FL, recommended modifying Area C to provide a floor of 4,000 feet MSL in the Pinellas County area, and modifying Area B to provide a floor 2,100 feet MSL in the vicinity of the St. Petersburg-Clearwater International Airport Traffic Area, extended to include arrival routes from the north.

The FAA has decided not to adopt the 4,000-foot MSL floor in the Pinellas County area because those altitudes are not used for ARSA separation and radar vectoring; therefore, we found no justification for the higher altitude. Also, the altitude requested for 2,100 feet MSL in Area B was not adopted because the intent of the TCA to increase air safety would be compromised by permitting operations above 1,200 feet AGL so close to Tampa's arrival/departure area.

The Board of County Commissioners also recommended establishing a VFR Corridor in the vicinity of V-579 between St. Petersburg and Sarasota.

During discussions at the public meetings, this recommendation was discussed by the attendees. The user group members noted that this area was a military training area used by MacDill AFB for a considerable number of low altitude, high speed operations in the vicinity of Skyway Bridge. The FAA has determined that a VFR corridor in that area would render military training flights less effective by requiring them to pass through a VFR corridor while en route to/from the Gulf of Mexico flight operations area.

The Tampa Bay Soaring Society, Inc., was concerned that the floor of 3,000 feet MSL will restrict their operations to 2,932 feet of airspace which makes it impossible to fly cross country. They recommended a 2-mile wide corridor along State Road 54; however, they would welcome a compromise proposal.

The FAA agrees with the Tampa Bay Soaring Society, Inc., and has incorporated a design change in the floor of the TCA to provide additional and adequate operational flexibility to meet their requirements. This design change includes extending a portion of Area D of the proposed Tampa TCA upward from a floor of 3,000 feet MSL to a floor of 6,000 feet MSL and moving the boundary east of Highway 54 to Interstate 75. This change was suggested in Tampa Bay Soaring Society's comment.

One commenter was concerned about the traffic pattern altitude at the Manatee Airport, and has submitted a number of signatures from the users in that area. The 1,200-foot MSL floor makes it impossible to operate VFR in that area.

The FAA manager of Tampa Tower will evaluate the traffic situation at the Manatee Airport, and will develop, if appropriate, a Letter of Agreement or a flight procedure to accommodate these operations.

Another commenter wrote that the Tampa TCA design is not bad, but it has some problems. He believes that there is no way for north/southbound aircraft to fly past the TCA without penetrating the TCA. He also admitted he lives in California and could be wrong in his assessment.

The FAA believes that the design of the TCA provides adequate references by which VFR pilots can operate north and southbound while remaining clear of the TCA. Furthermore, the FAA recommends that VFR pilots contact Tampa Approach Control and take advantage of the radar service for flight safety enhancement.

One commenter objected to the TCA layout because it infringes on V-7 in the vicinity of Lakeland, FL, does penetrate the outer edge of the Tampa TCA. However, the user group found that this area, which has a floor of 6,000 feet MSL, would not have a significant impact on VFR operations, because the majority of VFR operations are below 6,000 feet MSL.

The U.S. Coast Guard objected to the extra communication and coordination required to penetrate the TCA in an area where the floor is 1,200 feet MSL.

The FAA is aware of the required communications and coordination; however, these requirements are necessary to increase the capability of ATC to separate all aircraft in the terminal airspace around Tampa International Airport.

A pilot, based at the Hernando County Airport, was concerned about pilots who will attempt to avoid the TCA when taking off from a runway that is under the outer ring of the TCA.

The FAA notes that the floor of the TCA in that area is 6,000 feet MSL which we consider more than adequate for local operations at that airport. The FAA recommends that this pilot contact the manager of the Tampa Tower to resolve operational problems through a Letter of Agreement or a change in flight procedures, if appropriate.

The owner of a private airport located 5 miles northwest of Tampa International Airport stated that the establishment of a TCA could make operations at that airport impossible.

The FAA manager at Tampa International Airport is aware of the situation at this private airport; a procedure will be developed that will accommodate operations from that airport.

The Air Line Pilots Association was concerned about the lack of a VOR/DME located on the Tampa Airport. Much of the TCA is described by landmarks, therefore, ALPA contends that a NAVAID on the primary airport is an essential tool for the pilot to determine the location of the TCA.

The FAA is aware that a VOR/DME would be beneficial. However, we believe that the landmarks which describe the TCA are easily identifiable and will be adequate for the VFR pilot to determine the location of the TCA boundaries. Furthermore, existing NAVAID's to the south and east of Tampa International Airport provide an acceptable means by which pilots can identify their location in the area. The FAA notes that a VOR is planned for location on the Tampa Airport after establishment of the TCA.

The Rule

This amendment to part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations designates a Terminal Control Area (TCA) at the Tampa International Airport, FL. In 1987, the total number of annual enplaned passengers at Tampa International Airport was 5,002,812 which exceeds the 3.5 million necessary for consideration as a TCA candidate. The total number of airport operations was 522,787 of which 177,999 were air carrier. Consequently, the FAA has determined that establishment of a TCA at Tampa International Airport is in the interest of flight safety and would result in a greater degree of protection for the greatest number of people during flight in that terminal area. Tampa International Airport is currently served by an ARSA which is rescinded concurrent with the establishment of this TCA. Sections 71.401(b) and 71.501 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations were republished in FAA Handbook 7400.6F dated January 2, 1990.

Regulatory Evaluation Summary

This section summarizes the full regulatory evaluation prepared by the FAA that provides more detailed estimates of the economic consequences of this regulatory action. This summary and the full evaluation quantify, to the extent practicable, estimated costs to the private sector, consumers, Federal, State and local governments, as well as anticipated benefits.

Executive Order 12291, dated February 17, 1981, directs Federal agencies to promulgate new regulations or modify existing regulations only if potential benefits to society for each regulatory change outweigh potential costs. The order also requires the preparation of a Regulatory Impact Analysis of all "major" rules except those responding to emergency situations or other narrowly defined exigencies. A "major" rule is one that is likely to result in an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more, a major increase in consumer costs, a significant adverse effect on competition, or is highly controversial.

The FAA has determined that this rule is not "major" as defined in the executive order, therefore a full regulatory analysis, which includes the identification and evaluation of cost-reducing alternatives to this rule, has not been prepared. Instead, the agency has prepared a more concise document termed a regulatory evaluation that analyzes only this rule without identifying alternatives. In addition to a summary of the regulatory evaluation, this section also contains a regulatory flexibility determination required by the 1980 Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354) and an international trade impact assessment. If more detailed economic information is desired than is contained in this summary, the reader is referred to the full regulatory evaluation contained in the docket.

This rule is intended to reduce the chance of midair collisions by increasing the capability of the air traffic control (ATC) system to separate all aircraft in the terminal airspace around Tampa International Airport. This action was prompted by data indicating that a high percentage of near midair collisions reported to the FAA in terminal areas involve visual flight rules (VFR) aircraft are not required to be under the control of ATC. Thus, the overall objective of this rule is to substantially increase safety while accommodating the legitimate concerns of airspace users.

Cost-Benefit Analysis

Costs

The FAA estimates the total cost of implementing this rule will be $311,000 in 1987 dollars, discounted at 10 percent over 15 years. Approximately $107,000 (or 34 percent) of this cost will be incurred by the FAA primarily for additional equipment. Small general aviation (GA) aircraft operators will incur the remaining costs. They will be required to equip their aircraft with Mode C transponders sooner than they would be if the Tampa Terminal Control Area (TCA) had remained an airport radar service area (ARSA) under the previous FAA rule: "Transponder With Automatic Altitude Reporting Capability Requirement (Mode C)" (53 FR 23356, June 21, 1988). The Mode C rule was issued on June 17, 1988, and it will be implemented in two phases. Phase I, which became effective on July 1, 1989, requires a transponder with Mode C at and above 10,000 feet MSL in the vicinity (30 nautical miles) of TCA-primary airports. There are currently 27 TCA's. Phase II will require a Mode C transponder in the airspace in the vicinity (10 nautical miles) of ARSA-primary airports. Phase II becomes effective on December 30, 1990, and will affect over 135 ARSA's. Also in Phase II, a transponder with Mode C will be required at other designated airports for which either a TCA or ARSA has not been adopted. Consequently, most aircraft without Mode C transponders will need ATC authorization to fly within 30 nautical miles of a TCA-primary airport, within 10 nautical miles of a ARSA-primary airport, or within the controlled airspace of other designated airports that will also require Mode C transponders. The FAA assumes in this evaluation that all affected aircraft without Mode C transponders will acquire such equipment rather than circumnavigate the subject airport. The only aircraft without this equipment are non-electrical and antique types. Costs to these types of aircraft operators will already been accounted for by the Mode C rule. As a result, aircraft operators affected by this rule will only incur the opportunity cost of capital by requiring them to acquire, install, and maintain Mode C transponders one year earlier than they would have been required to in accordance with Phase II of the Mode C rule.

Benefits

This rule is expected to generate potential benefits primarily in the form of enhanced safety to the aviation community and the flying public. Such safety, for instance, will take the form of reduced casualty losses (namely, aviation fatalities and property damage) resulting from a reduced chance of midair collisions because of the increased positive control in Tampa airspace by establishing the TCA. In addition, potential benefits are expected to accrue in the form of improved operational efficiency on the part of FAA air traffic controllers.

Ordinarily, the potential benefits of this rule would be the reduction in the probability of midair collisions resulting from converting the former ARSA to a TCA. However, because of the recent Mode C rule (and to some extent, the rule for Traffic Alert and Collision Avoidance System (TCAS), 54 FR 940, January 10, 1989), the number of potential midair collisions avoided by this rule is expected to be lower. Nevertheless, this rule is still expected to accrue benefits in terms of enhanced safety, though on a much smaller scale.

The improved safety benefit can be illustrated with the use of statistical models based on actual and projected critical near midair collision (CNMAC) incidents in lieu of actual midair collisions. (A critical near midair collision is an event involving two aircraft coming within 100 feet of each other; the fact that they do not collide is not due to an action on the part of either pilot; but, rather, it is due purely to chance.) Since midair collisions involving part 135 aircraft and especially part 121 aircraft are rare, the use of CNMAC's will serve to illustrate, to some degree, the potential improvements in aviation safety of implementing this rule.

Simple regression analyses were prepared for this evaluation which focus on CNMAC's and aircraft operations in 23 TCA's and in a random sample of 23 of the existing 79 ARSA's (as of 1986 and 1987). The results of these analyses indicated that TCA's have 68 percent fewer CNMAC's per year, on average, than ARSA's. While there is no demonstrated relationship between CNMAC's and actual midair collisions, this lower CNMAC rate does indicate a more efficient separation of aircraft in congested airspace.

As the result of these findings, if the Tampa TCA has remained an ARSA (and the recent Mode C and TCAS rules were not in effect), the Tampa terminal area would have been expected to experience 1.6 CNMAC's annually (or 24 CNMAC's over the next 15 years). Since, however, the former Tampa ARSA has become a TCA, this figure could reduce to 0.5 CNMAC's annually (or 7 CNMAC's over the next 15 years). Thus, over the next 15 years, this rule could result in the reduction of 17 (24-7) CNMAC's. However, it is important to note that many of these potential CNMAC's will not materialize as predicted primarily because of the Mode C rules and, to some extent, the TCAS rule.

According to Phase II of the Mode C rule, all aircraft operating within 10 nautical miles (except for flights under the outer 5-mile "shelf") of an ARSA-primary airport must be equipped with a Mode C transponder by December 30, 1990. Phase I of the Mode C rule requires, as of July 1, 1989, aircraft operating within 30 nautical miles of a TCA to be equipped with a Mode C transponder. These requirements are expected to reduce the risk of midair collisions in ARSA's and TCA's. For this reason, the primary safety benefit of creating a TCA in March 1990 at Tampa is that the safety enhancements of the Mode C (and TCAS) requirements will occur approximately one year earlier than they otherwise would without this rule. A second safety benefit will be in terms of the reduced chance of midair collisions as a result of expanding the lateral boundaries of positive ATC, by 20 nautical miles, through the establishment of the Tampa TCA.

The safety benefits of the establishment of a new TCA, while positive, will be less than would otherwise accrue in the absence of the Mode C (and TCAS) rules. Since this rule essentially extends the effects of the Mode C rule, a large portion of its potential safety benefits are assumed to be part of the Mode C rule. Such benefits cannot be estimated separately and, therefore, are considered to be inextricably linked primarily to the Mode C rule. Over a 15-year period, the Mode C rule is expected to generate total potential safety benefits of $344 million (discounted, in 1987 dollars). (The Mode C rule benefits estimate of $310 for 10 years has been adjusted to a 15-year period for the purpose of comparability with the TCAS rule and other FAA rulemaking actions.) It is important to note that part of these potential safety benefits are attributed to the TCAS rule. Thus, the potential safety benefits of this rule, and the Mode C and TCAS rules, are considered to be inextricably linked.

Another potential benefit of this rule will be improved operational efficiency on the part of FAA air traffic controllers. Under this rule, Mode C transponder requirements will ease controller workload per aircraft being controlled because of the reduction in radio communications. The rule will also make potential traffic conflicts more readily apparent to the controller. As the result of improved operational efficiency, the impact of controller workload, increased by separation requirements in the TCA, will be somewhat offset because of the controller's ability to adjust the volume of VFR traffic in any given portion of the TCA. Improved operational efficiency should generate other types of benefits in the form of significant reductions in the number of VFR aircraft requests denied and VFR aircraft delayed during busy periods. As a result of converting the former Tampa ARSA to a TCA, improved operational efficiency will accrue because of the availability of additional air traffic equipment. If the former Tampa ARSA had remained intact, such additional equipment would not be required. Therefore, potential benefits of improved operational efficiency, which is not considered to be quantifiable in monetary terms in this evaluation, will be attributed to this rule rather than either the Mode C rule or TCAS rule.

Comparison of Costs and Benefits

The total cost that is expected to accrue from implementation of this rule is estimated to be $311,000 (discounted, in 1987 dollars). Approximately 66 percent of this cost will fall on those GA aircraft operators without Mode C transponders in the form of opportunity costs. They will have to acquire such avionics equipment approximately one year sooner than they otherwise would have under the status quo. The typical individual GA aircraft operator impacted will incur an estimated one-time cost ranging from $86 to $191 (discounted) under this rule. (The reader should refer to the detailed regulatory evaluation, which is contained in the docket, for a full explanation of the method by which these cost estimates were derived.)

The potential benefits of this rule will be the reduced chance of midair collisions as a result of converting the former Tampa ARSA to a TCA. The FAA believes that the risk of such collisions will be substantially reduced. An FAA analysis prepared for this evaluation has shown that critical near midair collisions (CNMAC's) occur approximately two-thirds less frequently in a TCA than in an ARSA. The FAA believes that even after the aviation community complies with the Mode C and TCAS rules, locations converting from ARSA's to TCA's will continue to experience reduced CNMAC's. In addition, this rule will generate improved operational efficiency benefits on the part of FAA air traffic controllers, though they are not considered to be quantifiable in monetary terms.

Clearly, in view of the low cost of compliance relative to the reduction in the likelihood of midair collisions as well as improved operational efficiency in the Tampa terminal area, the FAA believes that this rule is cost-beneficial.

Final Regulatory Flexibility Determination

The Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (RFA) was enacted to ensure that small entities are not unnecessarily and disproportionately burdened by Government regulations. The RFA requires agencies to review rules which may have "a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities."

The small entities which could be potentially affected by the implementation of this rule are unscheduled operators of aircraft for hire owning nine or fewer aircraft. Virtually all of the aircraft operators impacted by this rule will be those who acquire Mode C transponder capability. The FAA believes that all unscheduled aircraft operators (namely, air taxi operators) potentially impacted by this rule already have Mode C transponders due to the fact that such operators fly regularly in or near airports where radar approach control service has been established. Even if some of these operators were to acquire, install, and maintain Mode C transponders, the cost would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of them. The annual FAA threshold for significant economic impact is $3,700 (1987 dollars) for a small entity. According to FAA Order 2100.14A (Regulatory Flexibility Criteria and Guidance), the definition of a small entity, in terms of an air taxi operator, is one with nine aircraft owned, but not necessarily operated.

If we were to assume that a particular aircraft operator had nine aircraft without transponders, then the annual one-time cost per impacted aircraft would be approximately $210 (undiscounted, for the purpose of comparability with the figure of $3,700). The total annual one-time cost per small entity would amount to an estimated $1,890. Thus, the annual worst case cost for a small entity would fall far below the FAA's annual threshold of $3,700. Therefore, the FAA believes that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

International Trade Impact Assessment

This rule will neither have an effect on the sale of foreign aviation products or services in the United States, nor will it have an effect on the sale of U.S. products or services in foreign countries. This is because the rule will only potentially impact small GA aircraft operators without Mode C, and not aircraft manufacturers. The average cost of acquiring Mode C capability is estimated to range from $900 (to upgrade from a Mode A transponder) to $2,000 (to acquire a Mode C transponder). The cost of acquiring Mode C capability is not considered to be high enough to discourage potential buyers of small GA airplanes.

Federalism Implications

This regulation will not have substantial direct effects on the states, on the relationship between the national government and the states, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12612, preparation of a Federalism assessment is not warranted.

Conclusion

For the reasons discussed under "Regulatory Evaluation," the FAA has determined that this regulation (1) is not a "major rule" under Executive Order 12291; and (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979). It is certified that this regulation will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

The United States Government Manual 1989/90

As the official handbook of the Federal Government, the Manual is the best source of information on the activities, functions, organization, and principal officials of the agencies of the legislative, judicial, and executive branches. It also includes information on quasi-official agencies and international organizations in which the United States participates.

Particularly helpful for those interested in where to go and who to see about a subject of particular concern is each agency's "Sources of Information" section, which provides addresses and telephone numbers for use in obtaining specifics on consumer activities, contracts and grants, employment, publications and films, and many other areas of citizen interest. The Manual also includes comprehensive name and agency/subject indexes.

Of significant historical interest is Appendix C, which lists the agencies and functions of the Federal Government abolished, transferred, or changed in name subsequent to March 4, 1933.

The Manual is published by the Office of the Federal Register, National Archives and Records Administration.
